Pure Unadulterated Brandies,

DIRECT FROM THE GROWERS.

ONE of the principal and great causes of the high price of Brandy in this market, is the indirect source from which it is derived. Nine-tenths of that article is received from merchants in New Orleans, who buy of the farmers in that district and ship it to the United States, at much advanced prices, and frequently in an adulterated state. In view of these facts, and for the purpose of securing a fair price for their product, a union of brandy growers in France has been accomplished, with a view of shipment to the United States.

The name of the consolidation is the Central Society of Vineyard Proprietors of Cognac, under the general management and the direction of E. Reddon, President—a Vice agent and the direction of E. Reddon, President—a Vice President, and a Committee of Inspection of eight members. The society itself numbers five hundred vineyard proprietors, amongst them some of the most influential noblemen in the neighborhood of Cognac, who contribute according to their by-laws, the entire growth of their vineyards to the general fund of the society, the present capital of which is three million francs. The advantages to be obtained from this combination are so apparent as to render unnecessary any further comment on the subject. Its benefits, it may be worthy of observation that few features in this society possess a more startling claim to public attention than the fusion of interest effected between buyer and seller. Since all are shareholders, interestedly, because the interest of each individual forms a contribute by every means in his power to uphold the reputation which the society is endeavoring to earn, for shipment of the best qualities of brandies. For this purpose a clause introduced in the statutes (article 40) renders it imperative that shareholders shall supply the society with the very best Cognac brandies, otherwise they incur the liability of an entire forfeiture of their shares.

The undersigned, sole agents in the United States for the Central Society of Vineyard Proprietors of Cognac, would solicit the attention of merchants, hotel keepers, grocers and others to the vintages now on hand, confident that they will compare more favorably than without any in the market, and at prices far below the standard of even ordinary Cognacs.
