PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

PUBLISHED BY D. N. WHITE.

PITTSBURGH:

SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 2, 1855.

Removal.

THE OFFICE of the Pittsburgh Gazette has been removed to the new building on Fifth street, first above Smithfield, and immediately adjoining the Methodist Protestant Church.

☞ To Advertisers.—Neither the Editorial Room or Printing Establishment of the Daily Gazette, are opened on Sunday. Advertisers who desire their notices to appear in the paper on Monday morning, will please hand them in before 5 o'clock, on Saturday.

Advance Payments.—Hereafter no subscription will be taken for the Daily or Weekly Gazette, unless payment is made in advance. Whenever the time is up to which the subscription is paid, the paper will be invariably stopped, unless the subscription is renewed by advance payment. All transient advertising, of every description, will be required to be paid in advance. The only exceptions will be where special month ly or yearly contracts are made. sep1d&w

☞ Pittsburgh Weekly Gazette.—The extensive circulation of our Weekly Gazette offers to our business men most desirable medium of making their business known Our circulation is between four and five thousand, reaching almost every merchant, manufacturer and shop-keeper in Western Pennsylvania, and Eastern Ohio.

☞ Mr. H. P. MUELLER, late editor of the Staats Zeitung and now connected with the Pittsburgh Courier, is authorized to solicit subscriptions and advertisements for the Pittsburgh Gazette, according to our published terms Pittsburgh March 1, 1855.

Heading Matter on each page of this paper

The Kansas Herald of Freedom, extra of May 28 has been received. It says:

"The special election for representatives to the Legislature, to fill the vacancy made such by informal proceedings on the 30th of March, was held on the 22nd inst, aggreeably to the Governor's proclamation, which resulted in the election of the Free State ticket in the Lawrence district as follows:

Philip P. Fowler,	288 votes,
John Hutchinson,	283 "
Erastus D. Ladd,	286 "
Scattering about,	20 "

Everything passed off quietly, and without interruption from non-residents.

At Leavenworth the pro-slavery ticket was chosen by a vote of 553 to 141. The Missorians appear to have attended here in force.

On Sunday, the 20th, the Steamer Emma Harmon arrived at Lawrence, being the first steamer ever up the Kansas river to that point. The Financier arrived on Monday morning, and the Hartford on the afternoon of the same day. The two latter boats will be recognized as old Pittsburgh steamers. The Kansas river was in good condition.

The meeting at Leavenworth on the 28th of April, at which Clark was killed, was the one called by the bogus proclamation to select a new governor in place of Reeder. It was a failure in that respect, and was turned into a squatters' meeting, the result of which was the fight in which Clark got killed by McCrea. Philips, the friend of McCrea, who was subsequently kidnapped from Kansas and lynched in Missouri, was warned never to be found in Kansas again, on pain of being hung. The next morning he was in Leavenworth running balls, and had taken a solemn resolve that he was done with boy's play. This is what he and his friends should have done at first. If they had killed a few of the border ruffians at first there would have been no trouble.

The St. Louis Republican calls attention to the fact that the people of Lawrence were not molested at the election on the 22d, and begs the northern press to make note of the fact. Having conquered the territory at the first election the Republican thinks it very much to the credit of the Missourians that they suffered the second one to go by default. It would have been much more to their credit if they had given no occasion for complaints against them in the first instance.

There being no law in Kansas, just now, the people are legislating for themselves on a small scale. The Herald says:

Our people enforced the principles of the Maine law last night, and "crushed out" two petty grog shops which had made their appearance among us during the past few weeks.—"Down with the liquor traffic" was the universal response. A public meeting is to be held on Tuesday evening to take more effective means for preventing the future traffic in the rum-fiend in Lawrence.

THE EDINBURGH QUARTERLY REVIEW for April, possesses remarkable interest, even for that able and always interesting periodical. It contains ten articles, most of them of general interest, among which "Travels in Liberia," "Travels in China," "Pascal Paoli," "The Chemistry of Common Life," and the "Autocracy of the Czars," are, either of them, worth the price of the number. The leading article, however, is entitled "Slavery in the United States." It is written with great ability, candor and fairness, and evinces a very accurate knowledge of the true condition of our country on that subject.—There are, it is true, some slight errors, but they are immaterial. Some facts are stated of Uncle Tom's Cabin, which are almost marvellous. It asserts that the sale of "Uncle Tom" "is the most marvellous literary phenomena the world has ever expressed. Leaving out of view the hundreds of thousands of copies sold in America, it states that by the end of 1852 more than one million of copies had been sold in England—ten times as many as have been sold of any work, except the Bible and Prayer Book. In France "Uncle Tom" still covers the shop windows of the Boulevards, and one publisher alone has sent out five different editions, in different forms. Before the end of 1852 it had been translated into Italian, Spanish, Danish, Swedish, Dutch, Flemish, German, Polish and Magyar. There are two different Dutch translations, and twelve different German ones, and the Italian translation enjoys the honor of the Pope's prohibition. It has been dramatised in twenty different forms, and acted in every capital of Europe and the Free States of America. The cause of the Pope's prohibition is thus hinted at by the Reviewer:

"It's defect, in the eyes of his Holiness, was perhaps the omission of the especial object of his adoration, the Madonna. If Mrs. Stowe had been a Romanist, the Madonna would have taken the place of Jesus Christ: the majestic vision, 'as of one crowned with thorns, buffeted and bleeding,' which to Protestants seems a bold, almost rash, invention, would have been turned into the Queen of Heaven, glorious and triumphant; and would have passed among Roman Catholic readers as a real and probable incident.

"It is possible, too, that the Papal authorities were alarmed by hearing of one of the effects produced by the work in Paris—a general demand, among the ouvriers, for bibles. The bouquinists have assured us, that during the year 1853, they were the books most in request. All the stalls were full of them; and the purchasers, to most of whom the book was unknown, asked anxiously whether what they were buying was the 'real Bible,'—'Uncle Tom's Bible!'"

Its moral influence, the Review remarks, has been little less wonderful than its literary popularity. It has rendered the complete execution of the Fugitive Slave Law in America, impossible.

The Review gives an excellent synopsis of the Fugitive law, and adds the following comment:

"America calls herself free, but such oppression is not to be found in Naples or in Russia. What security has any colored person, what security indeed has any white person, under such a law as this? Under a law by which he can be declared a slave in his absence, or on an ex parte application, and receive the first notice that his freedom has been questioned from those who handcuff him as a slave?

"It is said that the Southern States frightened the Northern States into acquiescence, by threatening, if their monstrous bill were rejected, to renounce the Union. We cannot understand how such a threat should have been effectual. Had we been Northerns, we should have acted on it, instead of submitting to it. We should have said, 'Rather than be the accomplices and the victims of such a tyranny, we separate. We are already a great nation, in a few years we shall be a great empire, free from a stain which debases us at home and disgraces us abroad.'

"We say the victims, as well as the accomplices, for under the provisions of this law on what tenor does an American hold his freedom? What stands between him and slavery? Not a trial, not a regularly constituted court, not the verdict of a jury, not an appeal, not even a writ of habeas corpus. He may be torn from his home, from his friends, and from his family, and subjected to a punishment far worse than the scaffold of Robespierre or the knout of Nicholas, by a procedure, and on evidence, which in England, we should not think sufficient to decide the title to a dog, or to warrant the stopping up of a footpath."

The Review also gives a synopsis of the laws regulating slavery, as they exist in the Slave States, and then adds:

"We have said that such oppression is not to be found in Naples, in Turkey, or in Russia.—We do not believe that such oppression is to be found in any other part of the world, civilised or uncivilised. We do not believe that such oppression ever existed before. The slavery of Greece, as well as that of Rome, was atrocious. We have no doubt that it was far more cruel—using the word cruel to signify the infliction of torture or death,—than that of America. It was characterised by the indifference to human life and to human suffering which belongs to Paganism. But its oppression was less degrading, less systematic, less unrelenting. It deprived the slave of liberty, but it left him hope. It gave to the master full power to ill-treat his slaves, but it also gave to him full power to benefit them.—The slave might be instructed, he might have his peculium, he might have his freedom.

'Et spes libertatis erat, et cura peculi.'

Republican America has elaborated a tyranny such as no democracy, no aristocracy, no monarchy, no despotism ever perpetrated, or, as far as we know, ever imagined."

The writer has but little hope of any amelioration of this curse to America in the present or any near succeeding generation. He says that it brings small men to the surface, and to the head of public affairs, while the best men retire into the shades of private life. He consoles himself however with the hope, that an inferior to Mr. Pierce will never sit in the White House, or that American Diplomatists on the continent will never be followed by men of less tact, temper or good sense. The Anti-Slavery sentiment is inaugurating a better day—bringing up better men, and the "distinguished Senator from Massachusetts," Mr. Sumner, is referred to as a hopeful sign. He closes the article as follows:

"That Providence will, in its own way and in its own time, work out a cure, we believe; because we believe improvement, progressive, though always slow and often interrupted, to be among the laws by which this earth is governed. But we do not venture to hope that we, or our sons, or our grandsons, will see American slavery extirpated from the earth."

The Review can be obtained at Miner's or Gildenfenny's.

OUR BOOK TABLE.

THE MISSING BRIDE, or Miriam the Avenger. By Mrs. Southworth. This is one of the latest and best of Mrs. Southworth's popular works of fiction. T. B. Peterson, of Philadelphia, has just published it in one volume, in beautiful style as to printing paper and binding. For sale by Gildenfenny & Co. and Miner & Co., of this city.

THE WATCHMAN. By J. A. M. This is a story of humble life, the scenes laid in New York.—The author tells us that his aim has been to inculcate a love of truth and benevolence, and to convey lessons of virtue. Long & Brother have brought it out in beautiful style. For sale by B. T. C. Morgan, Wood street, Pittsburgh.

ADELAIDE WALDGRAVE. By the author of "Minnie Gray." This is a novel by a favorite English author. Published by Long & Brother and sold by B. T. C. Morgan.

THE PRESBYTERIAN QUARTERLY REVIEW, for June. This is a capital number. This work grows in interest and is really one of our most valuable periodicals. The article in this number, by the editor, entitled "Is Effective Writing necessarily volcanic," is worth the price of the whole number. Published at the Presbyterian House, Philadelphia, at $3 per annum.

The iron trade in England seems to be very much depressed. A late Birmingham circular says:

"Owing to the recent extensive strike amongst the men, it was deemed necessary that a number of the ironmasters should receive a deputation from the operatives on Friday last, with the view of adjusting the difference existing between them, arising out of the proposed reduction of wages. The conference took place on the above day, and was attended by the representatives of some of the largest firms in the trade.

Mr. Blackwell and Mr. Mathews entered into explanation justifying the proposed reduction on the part of the masters. From the observations of the former gentlemen, it appeared that out of one hundred and forty-four furnaces which were in full blast at the commencement of this year, not less than upwards of fifty have been blown out, and others are certain ere long to be added to the list. Pig iron which six months ago realized 5*l.* 10*s.* per ton, is now selling at 2*l.* 15*s.* and not one-half the quantity of the former consumption at that reduced price is being sold. Manufactured iron, which was sold at 12*l.* per ton, is now eagerly disposed of at from 7*l.* 10*s.* to 8*l.* per ton. Mills and forges throughout the district have been stopped, or are only partially worked. These details were fully corroborated by Mr. Matthews and several other gentlemen. The men, impressed with the conviction of the necessity of submitting to a reduction, assented to the proposal, and on Monday last, many of them resumed their work. Few, if any, additional orders have been received during the past week, and the general depression occasioned by the failure of our negotiations at Vienna, the unsatisfactory intelligence from the seat of war, and what is now considered inevitable, the upset of the present ministry, has been felt throughout our entire commercial circle to a serious extent.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—Last night, about half-past 9, a fire broke out in the extensive printing house of John F. Trow, Nos. 49 and 51 Ann street, and was not extinguished until the building, with all its contents, was in ruins.

Workmen were in the building at the time, engaged in burying out the Directory for 1855, on which the energies of the office have been expended since the first of May. The fire caught in the room in the third story in which the damp sheets from the presses are hung to dry. It is supposed that one or more of these sheets when dry came in contact with a gas light. The flames spread with inconceivable rapidity, and those employed in the fourth story were obliged to seek safety by ascending to the roof, and descending through an adjoining building.

It is quite impracticable to estimate the loss with any degree of certainty. Mr. Trow's assortment of types was probably the most extensive in the country, as regards the capacity to print different languages—including: Sanscrit, and other oriental tongues. A large number of superior ADAMS Presses were in the third story, which were all destroyed.—There was apparently a quantity of paper on the first floor of No. 49, which was all destroyed. The copy of the Directory was nearly all lost, which will involve the necessity of a second canvass of the city, for the purpose of re-collecting it. On the whole, the total loss to Mr. Trow, cannot be less than $50,000, exclusive of the building, which we believe, also, belonged to him, and which was worth, perhaps, $10,000.

There was a report also, that there had been some difficulty between Mr. Trow and his employees, and that some one of the latter had taken vengeance by setting the building on fire, but our account of the origin of the fire as above is undoubtedly correct.—N. Y. Cour. 31*st.*

NOT MUCH DIFFERENCE.—The Providence Journal relates that a lady in Newport, while sitting at the window of her own house, narrowly escaped being shot by a blundering "sportsman" —that is the word, we believe—who was trying to kill a poor robin. Some of the shot passed through the window and came very near her but none of them hit her. We suppose it was an accident, but we do not see why a man who can take pleasure in shooting a robin should feel great compunction in firing at a woman.—Buff. Cour.

The Samaritans have a manuscript copy of the Pentateuch, which their rabbis do not scruple to declare belongs to the period of Moses, having been written thirteen years after the death of Moses, by Abishua, the son of Phinees, who was a grandson of Aaron. It is kept in a tin case, like a large synagogue roll of parchment; enveloped in a costly covering of crimson silk, with embroidered golden letters. It is the opinion, however, of competent judges, who have examined the manuscripts, that its antiquity does not reach farther back than the sixth century.

A Congregational Clergyman in Massachusetts "is said" to have closed a sermon recently, with this epigram—

"When Saul, the handsome son of Kish,
Was seeking for his cattle,
He found a kingdom which he won
Without a single battle,
In David now the things reversed,
(This are the old surpasses)
We, seeking for a government, find legislative asses.

ENCLOSE POSTAGE STAMPS.—The duty and expediency of enclosing postage stamps cannot be too generally known or too strongly enforced among all who write on business. Much disappointment will be experienced by those who, through inadvertence or indifference, neglect the precaution, for many who would willingly give any information sought, will not be content to pay for sending to those who want it.

TWELVE HUNDRED WATCHMAKERS.—The Houston Telegraph states that 1,200 Swiss Watchmakers will compose part of the new colony which Mons. Considerant is about to establish in the neighborhood of Dallas, Texas. They will carry on the watchmaking business on an extensive scale.

NATIVISM IN THE SANDWICH ISLANDS.—The Honolulu (S. I.) Polynesian complains of the American Foreigners in the Sandwich Islands.—Of 3,178 convictions for crime 1,200 were such foreigners. This looks significant.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge.—Always Restored to when every other remedy fails.—New York, September 15, 1852.—This is to certify that my child, three years old, was troubled with worms some six months. I had tried several kinds of medicine, but none of them done any good, and it was not until I tried Dr. M'Lane's celebrated Vermifuge that she found any relief. I gave her the contents of one bottle, which brought from her a very large quantity of worms, but they were so completely cut to pieces it was impossible to count them. My daughter is now doing well; indeed she is completely restored to health. I therefore take pleasure in recommending it to parents. I would say, by all means keep a supply of this valuable medicine constantly in your houses, I have known many children to die suddenly from the effects of worms. It also not unfrequently happens that children are treated for croup, when the choking and coughing is caused altogether by the irritation of worms. Therefore, we say again, keep it always in the house; it costs but little and may be the means of saving life, and at any rate it will save physicians' bills.

MRS. LANE, No. 333 Eighth street.

☞ Purchasers will be careful to ask for DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, and take none else. All other Vermifuges, in comparison, are worthless. Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in the United States and from the sole proprietors,

A Reprieve—We do not refer to a reprieve from Capital Punishment. There is a slow torture from which a sentence is rarely desired. We refer to dyspepsia—a word in which all the horrors of indigestion are summed up. To the sufferers by this painful and harrassing disease, we can hold out fact only bright hopes, but the certainty of immediate relief and permanent cure. There is a tonic, cordial and alterative principle in Hostetter's German Bitters, which inevitably arrests and changes the morbid action of the stomach and the secretive organs, removes the disease, and restores to health.—Prepared by Dr. G. M. Jackson, Philadelphia. See advertisement. my31 d&w2w8

A Substitute for the New Liquor Law.—DR. URBAN'S ANTI-BACCHANALIAN ELIXIR, a safe and sure remedy for the cure of INTEMPERANCE.

A concentrated vegetable extract, and as a tonic is unequalled. For the following complaints it is a most valuable medicine: Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, Piles, Fevers of all kinds, Delirium Tremens, General Debility. This medicine is intended to produce a change in the system, and a distaste for alcoholic drinks. Several instances where we have sold it, we have had the most gratifying results; so, to persons who are really desirous of breaking off the indulgence in intoxicating beverages this elixir will be a great benefit. A Secret for the Ladies—How to preserve BEAUTY—Don't use Chalk, Lilly White, or any of the so-called cosmetics, to conceal a faded or sallow complexion If you would have the roses brought back to your cheek a clear, healthy and transparent skin, and the light and vigor of health restored to your system, get a bottle or Carter's Spanish Mixture, and take it according to directions. It does not taste quite as well as your sweet-meats; but, if after a few doses you do not find your health and beauty restored, your constitution and vigorous habits of body given to you refreshed and invigorated like a Spring morning, then your case is hopeless, and all the valuable certificates we possess, go for naught. It is the greatest purifier of the blood known; it perfectly harmless, and at the same time powerfully efficacious.

Statement from Canada.—Quebec, Feb. 7th, 1854.—Messrs. R. A. Fahnestock & Co.:—We had the pleasure of receiving, this morning, the written certificate of your Vermifuge which will be very gratifying to you, to it was sent voluntarily. We are, gentlemen, yours very truly, J. MUDSON & CO.

GENTLEMEN—My little daughter, 4 years old, and my son, older, were for a considerable time afflicted with worms. I purchased two bottles of your Vermifuge, of which I gave them three doses, according to directions, and strange to say, in less than three hours they passed us less than FIVE HUNDRED WORMS, some of the size of a shoe string and from 12 to 16 inches.

Having experienced so much of the beneficial effects of your Vermifuge, I feel it my duty to recommend it to the public as, in my opinion, one of the most efficacious remedies for worms ever yet offered to the public.

Gentlemen, believe me to be your much obliged and humble servant, NATHANIEL LEATERS.

So CRISTADORO'S HAIR DYE turneth
To black the hair that time hath withereth.
The cuttle fish cunningly blackens the foam
When an enemy darts at the queer little gnome:
But as quick CRISTADORO will darken the Hair,
With his Dye of all dyes most efficient and rare
Cristadoro's Excelsior HAIR Dye is sold wholesale and retail at DR. KEYSER'S, 140 Wood street, at the sign of the Golden Mortar.

The Greatest Medical Discovery OF THE AGE.

Mr. Kennedy, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures every kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula to a common Pimple.

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a scurvy sore on the face.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples of the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruption of the skin.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum.

Five to six bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing in the pastures, and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system; yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor of any kind. There are no ifs nor ands, hums or ha's about it quiting some cases and not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know its effects in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I have it to children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, scrawny looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief to catarrh and dizziness. Some who have been costive for years, have taken and been regulated by it. Where the body is sound, it will work quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular revelings, but you must not be alarmed—they always disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it. On the contrary, when that feeling is gone you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums on it that man ever listened to. No change of diet is ever necessary—eat the best you can get. I have likewise an herb, which, when simmered in sweet oil, dissolves scrofulous swelling of the neck and under the ears. Price 50 cents. Price of the Medical Discovery $1 per bottle.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE—Adult, one table-spoonful per day. Children over eight years, dessert spoonful; children from five to eight years, teaspoonful. No direction can be made applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

Mr. KENNEDY gives personal attendance in bad cases of scrofula.

Sold, wholesale and retail, at Dr. KEYSER'S, 140 Wood street, corner of Virgin alley.

Notice.—Boerhave's Holland Bitters is not, as some persons suppose, a substitute for brandy. It contains merely sufficient spirit to preserve it. We offer it to the public simply as a remedy which can be depended upon, in most cases of Dyspepsia. Headache, and Indigestion. It will be found an excellent remedy for the many unpleasant effects attending a change of climate and water.
