FROM EUROPE.—The news by the Atlantic is of the most interesting and important character. The allies have commenced the spring campaign with vigor, and have achieved important success. We confess the news has given us no little pleasure, as, whatever the sympathies in favor of Russia of a portion of the American press may be, our inclinations and feelings are with the allies in this mighty struggle, and we ardently hope that victory may perch on the banners of the Western Powers.

KERTSCH, the port and town captured by the allies, is on the strait or arm of the sea connecting the Black sea with the Sea of Azof, and gives the allies the command of the latter sea, and of the narrow peninsula connecting the Crimea with the main land, and will enable them to land an army to cut off Russian reinforcement, and supplies. If this plan is carried out with vigor and success, Sebastopol must soon fall, and the immense force shut up in the Crimea must surrender, or cut their way out with immense loss. The allies commanding both seas, and possessing the only land communication, the Russian army will soon be starved out.

It is no wonder, in this state of affairs, that the Allies have declined further negotiations. We shall look for further intelligence from the seat of war with intense interest.

REPORT OF THE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE OF THE OHIO AND PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD COMPANY.—The committee appointed to investigate the affairs and accounts of the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad Company, by the stock-holders at the meeting in January, have completed their labors, and published the result in pamphlet form. After spending about four months, and examining all the transactions of the officers from the inception of the enterprise, the committee report that there is nothing affecting the honor, integrity, and fidelity of any officer of the company, excepting the defalcation of the late Treasurer. The committee complain of some confusion of accounts, which they attribute to a defective system of book keeping, and express the opinion that some things would have been done better, or better left undone, but as it is easier to discover error after time has revealed it, than to foresee it when it is hidden, this does not amount to much, and by no means affects the character of the officers or agents of the company. Mr. James Robinson, the late secretary, comes out of the ordeal with an increased reputation. After a most severe and prolonged investigation, the committee say "there is certainly no room for the slightest imputation against either the integrity or honor of the late secretary Mr. James Robinson." As Mr. Robinson was de facto Treasurer as well as Secretary, settling all accounts, and making all payments by checks on the Treasury, this tells the whole story.

When we consider the great and numerous defalcations and signal and extraordinary errors of Railroad officers and agents, as developed during the past year, we may be permitted to express our gratulation that our pet Pittsburgh Railroad, the pioneer of the whole series, has been conducted in so honorable and upright a manner. It now stands fair before the world, as a sound and safely conducted institution, and its earnings exhibit it to be one of the most profitable and prosperous roads in the country.

THE HORTICULTURAL EXHIBITION.—We enjoyed the pleasure of a visit to the Horticultural Fair, yesterday afternoon. This is the first Spring fair we ever attended, and we believe the first ever attempted in this city, and it shows what steady advances Horticulture is making among us, when such an enterprize can be ventured upon. The collection is not as large, of course, as in autumn exhibitions, but it has the rare interest of presenting fruits and flowers not seen in ordinary fairs, and shows to what perfection the raising of early vegetables in hot beds has been brought. The principal ripe fruits at this season, are cherries and strawberries. The latter are in their perfection—the former are yet scarcely ripe. The collection of both on exhibition is very good, especially of strawberries. We have never seen finer specimens of the various choice varieties than are exhibited. M'Aboy's Superior, for size and richness bears off the palm. It is in every respect a splendid strawberry Buist's Prize is probably the next best. Quite a variety of fine cherries were displayed, and give evidence of a great improvement in this respect. Our market has hitherto been confined to two or three sorts. In a few years we will have all the varieties of this delicious fruit in abundance.

There is a fine display of roses, that glorious and lovely ornament of the early summer, among which are some charming specimens.

In early vegetables there is a handsome display of such as peas, beets, cabbage, cucumbers, lettuce, radishes, etc., and a few ripe tomatoes. Also green gooseberries and currants.

The Hall is finely ornamented with green-house plants, principally from the Cemetery, and the fine private collections of Mr. Spang, Mr. Shoenberger, and Mr. M'Kain. Among the attractions is a sight-blooming Cereus and a Victoria Regina, from Mr. Spang's collection.

We hope all our readers will take pleasure in patronizing this exhibition, both for their own benefit and the encouragement of useful and ornamental horticulture. By this the whole community is benefitted in the plentiful production of choice vegetables and fruits and in the promotion of an elevated taste and a love of the beautiful, both in nature and art.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Gazette.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of Allegheny College held on the 2nd of June 1855, it was Resolved, Unanimously That the Rev. Wm. Hunter be and hereby is elected Kramer Professor of the Hebrew language and Biblical Literature.

Extract from the Records.

H. L. RICHARDSON, Sec'y Board.

The election of Mr. Hunter to this elevated and responsible position will give much pleasure to his numerous friends and acquaintances in this region. Mr. Hunter has made the Hebrew Language and Biblical Literature his study for a number of years, devoting all his leisure time to a pursuit that appeared to possess a sort of fascination to wile him away from any lighter literature, and to woo him to the solitude of his study. His sermons on almost every subject revealed the prevailing cast of his mind, and discovered that he reveled in Hebrew images, and was at home in all the customs and usages of God's ancient people. His selection for the new professorship in Allegheny College is therefore peculiarly happy, as he will bring to the discharge of his important duties that ardent love for the kind of knowledge he is to impart, which will kindle a corresponding enthusiasm in the mind of the pupil, and thus fix impressions indelibly on his memory. Under Mr. Hunter's direction and control, we look for the Kramer Professorship of Allegheny College to become extensively useful and highly popular.

"OLD VIRGINIA NEVER TIRE."—Hon. Jno. M. Botts, in a late letter says that one half of the 100,000 persons who listened to the speeches of Mr. Wise during the late campaign, never see a newspaper, and a very large portion of them could not read one if they did! They are natural Know Nothings. Ignorance is not the mother of devotion, but slavery is undoubtedly the mother of ignorance.

OHIO AND PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.—We learn from the proper authority that the injuries to the track of the Ohio and Pennsylvania road from the late rains and floods, have all been repaired, and that the trains are now running regularly. The disturbance to the regularity of the trains only lasted during part of two days, Monday and Tuesday. On Tuesday evening all was right again. The damage will not exceed $2,500.

Hon. John M. Botts, in a speech recently delivered at Richmond, Virginia, as we learn from the Penny Post, expressed himself decidedly in favor of so modifying the admission of persons into the Know Nothing Party, as to embrace all native born Catholics, who acknowledge no allegiance to the temporal supremacy of the Pope.

The Jefferson Co. (Pa.) Star says that the rain there last week was so heavy and the rise in Redbank creek so sudden that large quantities of lumber were carried off, and considerable injury done to millsdams.

ILLINOIS.—We find in the Chicago Tribune returns from the greater part of the State, which show a majority of 2,084 against the Prohibitory Law. Twenty-eight counties remain to be heard from, which will increase this majority.

We give in full the information communicated to the N. Y. Tribune relative to the K. N. National Convention. In addition to what may there be found the following paragraphs are extracted—the first from the N. York correspondence of the Philadelphia Ledger, the other from the N. York Express;

NEW YORK, JUNE 11, 1855.—The Know Nothings here are in a great ferment to-day. This evening's Express has an account from Philadelphia, which no doubt comes from its editor, Mr. James Brooks, who is there, announcing the annihilation of "Sam" by the Northern and Southern "Sambo." "The "niggers," he says have got into the Convention, and if they can't pull will kick "Sam" out; that is to say, the youngster will be sacrificed upon the altar of Pro and Anti-Slavery, with which he, in his origin, had nothing to do. Poor Sam! Sambo ruins every-body that courts him. The despatches from Philadelphia are watched with great interest, and the newspaper bulletins are crowded with folks waiting for the latest news.

From the New York Express, June 11th.

The Vermont delegation, which has acted hitherto with the Massachusetts delegation, begin now to be dissatisfied with Mr. Wilson & Co., who, they fear, have come here only to create disturbance and to break up the convention. Do. Connecticut.

Gov. Johnston of Penn., has been giving some snubs, so it is said—but the Pennsylvania delegation have met together, and passed certain resolutions for his guidance. It is hoped that they will modify his views, as their representative on the platform committee.

But all the indications to-day are, that "Sam" will split upon the rock of Slavery, and thus be knocked to pieces.

Well, that's a fine Abolition consummation to secede,—and their secession would be useful, but that a few Northern men, incapable of appreciating that state of things, will then proffer a platform of no use South; and not maintainable in the North, after such succession.—The Council is not in working condition, and is not likely to be. Many of the materials, perhaps most, are of the intractable and indocile species.

The failing of the effort to agree upon what no party ever agreed, or in this country ever can agree, "Slavery," is hourly demonstrated. The touching of the subject at all is death to the American Organization, but in spasmodic outbreaks.

Though the Convention is made up of ultras and extremes on slavery, and in destroying the party by touching the subject in any form—as it is doing—it is also made up of a large majority of upright and capable, though in the main, theoretical men.

They are honest and straightforward men generally, and the great damage they are doing to their principles, comes only from mixing up as relevant matters with them. The probability is to-day, then, is, that they will leave an American party, not maintainable, generally, on matters that are adjudicating, and that they will carry no more elections of importance, North or South.

The Pittsburgh Gazette is edited with considerable ability, and for a few months back has seemed to be a very efficient advocate of the overthrow of the slave power. We should have more confidence in its sincerity if it were a little more consistent. For instance, it is unsparing of its condemnation of the Know Nothings, because as it alleges they are endeavoring to dodge the slavery issue, and yet it endorses the address of the Whig committee of Philadelphia as a manly and encouraging document—which address is as mum on the slavery question as if Kansas was not a subjugated territory.—Potter Co. Journal.

This is more nice than wise. The Philadelphia Whig Address was not intended as a platform or an enunciation of principles. It was a reply to a preceding address from a Know Nothing committee, and was simply designed as an exposure of Know Nothing trickery, baseness and duplicity. As such, and only as such, we commended it.

OUR BOOK TABLE.

STAR PAPERS; OR EXPERIENCES OF ART AND NATURE. By Henry Ward Beecher. New York: J. C. Derby, 1855. The articles composing this volume were published in the New-York Independent with the signature of a star; hence the title of the volume—"Star Papers." The style of the author is well known, and is of a very popular character. The volume will be extensively read. For sale by J. L. Read, 78 Fourth st.

The London Quarterly for April, has been received by the agents in this city, Miner & Co. and Gildenfenny & Co. It contains several articles of much interest.

The late heavy rains have proved quite disastrous to the public works of Ohio. The Cleveland Leader says:

"We hear of numerous breaks in the canals occasioned by the late freshets. Near "Johnny Cake Lock," twenty-seven miles south of this city, there is a serious break; and two miles east of Akron, on the O. & P. Canal there is a break. It is rumored that there is a break between Akron and Massilon; but we could get no particulars."

The Zanesville Courier says:

"We are sorry to learn, as we do, from a gentleman who was over a portion of the road, that the Steubenville and Indiana Railroad has been a heavy sufferer from the late heavy rains. Large portions of the road have been washed away, in many places nearly the entire length of the road. No train has gone through since Thursday last, and our informant thinks none can get through before the last of this week. He fears the cost of repairs will not fall short of $50,000. The S. M. & N. Railroad bridge, over Owl creek, at Mt. Vernon, was also washed away, on Thursday, we think. Trains run to that point from both ends, and passengers are conveyed around the break in carriages."

Modern Progress in the Medical Profession.

The public have latterly had presented to them rather a novel feature in the journalism of the day, in the shape of elaborate scientific treatises on medical subjects appearing in consecutive chapters in the advertising and news columns of the daily and weekly newspapers of this city. These articles are from the pen of Dr. Hunter, No. 828 Broadway, the well known practitioner in pulmonary and bronchial diseases, and are distinguished from the empyrical programmes usually put forth through the same medium, by their thorough acquaintance with the subjects treated of, the simplicity and clearness of their language, and the demonstrative force of the arguments employed.

With these qualities to recommend them to our attention, we cannot but welcome the appearance of these articles as heralding an important and beneficial revolution in the traditions and practice of the medical profession. There is no pursuit in which the spirit of old fogyism has, in spite of the enlightenment of the age, managed more completely to trammel and subdue the human intellect. With a view to unity, like the Roman Catholic Church, it main'tains its hold upon the almost superstitious awe and reverence of ignorant and unreasoning minds by involving the little of truth that it possesses in technical phraseology, derived from classical sources, and consequently incomprehensible to the multitude.

But few men belonging to the craft—for such more correctly may be designated the medical profession—have had courage to emancipate themselves from the code of conventional as well as collegiate regulations which has been built up for its protection. Like the novitiate of the Egyptian priesthood, its mysteries and its privileges could only become accessible by a prescribed track, and after a long, and often painful probation. There has been hitherto no short cut to professional success and fame recognised within its canons. Any man departing from the beaten road laid down for his guidance has been inevitably treated as an outcast, and stigmatised as a quack. The result has been, that whilst the medical profession has been reduced to a close monopoly, it has extended but little its sphere of knowledge, and has consequently conferred less benefits upon the human race than it might otherwise have done.

One of the barriers by which the profession has endevored to fence itself around, has been the prohibition or discouragement, held out to all attempts on the part of its members to enter into direct communication with the public. A medical man may address himself through the medium of a book, and under the cover of technicalities to his own profession, but he must not appeal to the common sense and natural intelligence of the uninitiated members of the community, lest the arcana of the healing art should cease to be, like the Eleusynian mysteries, an exclusive and profitable possession. The effect of this jealous and narrow minded system on philanthropic and high spirited men may be readily conceived. They have had to chafe in silent indignation under restraints, the direct bearing of which has been to protect the privileges of the senior members of the profession, and to keep down and discourage as much as possible all evidences of rising talent.

We are rejoiced to find that one man, and that a practitioner, whose professional merits and skill cannot for a moment be questioned has had the moral courage to break through the trammels imposed upon him by the old routin of his art, and to publish through the transmedia of his press conclusion that if such acquirements as he possessed were worth anything, the more extensive the circulation he gave to the results of his researches and experience the greater the benefits he would not only confer upon himself but upon the community. Between the limited publicity afford him by the usual professional resource of book publication and that offered by the newspapers it is not surprising that he chose the latter. It presented the advantages of rapidity, comprehensiveness and popularity, objects which to a man ambitious of fame in his profession, were the readiest and surest elements of success.

We have had personal experience of the happy results of the Doctor's mode of treatment, and can vouch for its success. Owing to the severe drudgery incident to our pursuits, and that tendency to bronchial diseases with which the peculiarity of our climate afflicts such a large proportion of our population, we have been suffering for several years past from a throat affection, which all the medical remedies that we had formerly applied failed to cure. We are truly say that we have at last found relief and greater hope of ultimately getting rid of the malady from Dr. Hunter's mode of treatment than from that of any other medical man to whom we had previously submitted our case.

The lesson afforded by this brief sketch of Dr. Hunter's career is calculated to be useful to the medical profession. Here is a man who, chained down by the conventional prejudices and usages of his medical brethren, might have toiled on for half his life without arriving at the results to which his acquirements entitled him to aspire. It cost him an effort of moral courage; and no doubt a sacrifice of some professional pride, to emancipate himself from the thraldom of associations in which they bound him. By having sufficient independence of character to shake off these ties, and devote his talents to the general good of the community, he has, within an unprecedentedly short space of time, won the highest prizes within the reach of a medical practitioner.

Crops.

A traveler who returned this morning from a visit throughout the State of Ohio speaks of the appearance of the growing crops as very healthy and fine. Late rains have fallen with great immediate benefit to the plants, and farmers speak confidently of their harvest returns.—Cincinnati Gazette.

THE WHEAT CROP.—We learn from an intelligent gentleman from Kalamazoo, Michigan, who was in town yesterday, that the wheat crop in many counties of Michigan has been nearly destroyed by the fly. He has recently passed through the counties of Jackson, Calhoun, Van Buren, Cass, Berrien, Hillsdale, Branch, Kalamazoo, and parts of Allegan, and was told that the wheat crop in those counties which a month ago never looked better is now nearly destroyed, and that the yield will not be five bushels to the acre.—Buffalo Commercial Advertiser.

Similar accounts in previous years have always been found to be exaggerated. We now begin to receive encouragement that the ravages of the fly are not proving so great as it was feared they would. Cool weather and vigorous growth both arrest the depredations.—Toledo Blade.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Interesting to those suffering from HEADACHE.—A certain Remedy found in Dr. McLane's Celebrated Liver Pills.

☞ The following is a sample of certificates received daily from our own citizens:

NEW YORK, August 1, 1854.

This is to certify that I have been subject at times to severe headache; sometimes the pain would be so severe I could rest neither day nor night. Hearing of Dr. M'Lane's celebrated Liver Pills, I sent and got a box, of which I took two pills on going to bed, for two nights. They relieved me entirely. I have not been troubled since, and have had no more trouble from sick headache.

M. JOHNSON, 118 Lewis st.

Purchasers will be careful to ask for DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS, and take none else. There are other Pills, purporting to be Liver Pills, now before the public also, his Celebrated Worm Vermifuge, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in the United States; also, at Dr. M'LANE'S, 140 Wood street, at the sign of the Golden Mortar. apl7

A Reprieve—We do not refer to a reprieve from Capital Punishment. There is a slow torture from which a respite is equally desirable. We refer to that sick-a-week feeling which all the horrors of indigestion are summed up. To the sufferers by this painful and harassing disease, we can hold out host only bright hopes, but the certainty of immediate relief and permanent cure, by the use of HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS. Invalids in this city and vicinity will be paid half the amount of their purchase money, if they do not find these Bitters all they are represented to be. Let the afflicted call at the Drug Store of DR. GEO. H. KEYSER, No. 140 Wood street, corner of Virgin alley; sign of the Golden Mortar.

Also, for the sale of

DR. JAYNE'S CELEBRATED FAMILY MEDICINES.

Poetry suggested by a single application of Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

As red clouds darken in the twilight,
And blushes crow heaven's blue skylight,
So Cristadoro's Hair Dye turneth
To black the hair that redly burneth.

The cattle fish cunningly blackens the foam
When an enemy darts at the queer little creature;
But its quick Cristadoro will darken the Hair.

With his Dye of all dyes most efficient and rare.

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye is sold wholesale and retail at DR. KEYSER'S, 140 Wood street, at the sign of the Golden Mortar. ap27-d&w

The Greatest Medical Discovery OF THE AGE.

Mr. Kennedy, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cures every kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula to a common Pimple.

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a running sore; one to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

One to three bottles will clear the system of bile.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure early eruption of the skin.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate cases of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing in the pastures, and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system; yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor about you there are no ifs nor ands, buns or ba's about it suiting some cases and not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know its effects in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever known in Massachusetts. I says it to children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, worm looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to a sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief to catarrh and dizziness. Some who have been costive for years, have taken and been regulated by it. Where the body is bound, it work quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular results, but you must not be alarmed—they always disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it. On the contrary, when that feeling is gone you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that man ever listened to. No change of diet is ever necessary—eat the best you can get. I have likewise an herb, which, when steeped in sweet oil, dissolves scrofulous swellings of the neck and under the ears. Price 50 cents. Price of the Medicine, discovery at per bottle.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.—Adult, one table-spoonful per day. Children over eight years, dessert spoonful; children around that, teaspoonful per day. As no direction can be made applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

DR. KENNEDY gives personal attendance in bad cases of scrofula.
