The greatest gallantry prevailed on both sides and the loss both to the Bansians and French is by ry great; no figures are given. The event cre-ated great buoyancy in public feeling and caur-ed a slight rise in Consols. Other than the above the news presents no features of attiking importance. A buoyant feeling prevailed in the cotton market at the departure of the St Louis, but is usubsequently gave way and the prices under-wents partial decline which afterwards recover-d.
