POLITICAL MOVEMENTS—KNOW NOTHINGS.—

Never in the history of politics in this country was there such a bubbling of the political caldron. The late disruption of the Know Nothing National Council has thrown the Northern elements of that order into extreme confusion, and the consequences will be most probably an entire change in the future modes of action and the chief objects of the party. We shall try and keep our readers posted up in these interesting movements, so that they may be able to act intelligently as citizens and voters.

The Know Nothing State Council of this state meets in Reading on Tuesday, the 3d of July, for the consideration of the platform adopted by the National Council. There will be doubtless a warm time. Our own impression is that the pro-slavery party will prevail, although the western councils will go dead against it. The North American, which strongly sympathises with the Order, thinks differently. It says:

The tone of all the whig and American papers in the Interior of the State that have yet come come to hand, is adverse to the position on slavery assumed by the late Know Nothing National Council. It is also evident that the Whig party will not unite with the American organization on a common State ticket. The Delaware County Republican, Lancaster Examiner and Herald, Westchester Village Record, Norristown Herald, Chambersburgh Repository, York Republican and Pittsburgh Gazette all oppose the Know Nothings and favor a Whig opposition thereto. The Chambersburg Repository calls for the whig committee of Franklin county to meet and have a whig ticket nominated against the Know Nothings.—It is not yet certain, however, that the American party will take such a course as will render a separation from the whigs necessary. The State Council will meet on the 3d of July, and there all appearances go to show that the platform adopted at Philadelphia will be rejected. The Pittsburgh Commercial Journal says that every council of the Order in Allegheny county which has met since the platform was promulgated, has repudiated it, and appealed from the council. The only proper course is for the latter body to repudiate the platform, abandon all secret meetings, and invite the whigs to unite with them in making a common ticket. If this be done the party will sweep the State; and if it be not done a crushing defeat will be risked.

The repudiation of the platform and the abandonment of secrecy we highly approve of. As to the Whigs uniting with them that is another matter. What ought to be done is, for all the true men of Pennsylvania, of all parties, to meet together as citizens on a common platform of opposition to the extension of slavery into Kansas, or any other territory of the United States.—With such a party, and with such an issue against slavery, we can most truly sweep the State. It would then be a contest between freemen and doughfaces.

In New England the excitement is very great, and the movements are rapid. Nothing now prevents the union of a vast majority of its voters on the Republican platform, but a pertinacity in some quarters to force the distinctive principle of opposition to foreigners into the issues to be decided. If this is persisted in it will effectually divide the Anti-Nebraska forces, and result in the triumph of Slavery and Doughfaceism.

The Know Nothing State Council of Rhode Island, at a meeting on Tuesday last, approved the action of their delegates in supporting the minority report, and have issued a platform of principles. This contains eighteen points, and is in effect an extension of that proposed by the minority seceders. Its leading principles are the unconditional restoration of the Missouri Compromise; the repeal, without retroactive operation, of all acts of Congress making grants of land to unnaturalized foreigners; the refusal to extend the right of suffrage to all foreigners until they shall have resided in the United States 21 years; the holding of public offices by natives only; a legal and constitutional prohibition of all traffic in alcoholic liquors; and the removal of the present regulation of secrecy which at present binds the order.

A similar platform is circulating in Lowell, Massachusetts. The adoption of any such platform for national purposes would be foolish in the extreme. It would not succeed. The simpler the platform the better, and in the present condition of affairs we need only one great issue. That will afford a platform broad enough for all true Americans.

From all accounts there is very little enthusiasm in the ranks of the Know-Nothings who stand on the majority platform. The New York Courier and Enquirer says there was no real enthusiasm in the late demonstration in New York. The Commercial Advertiser expresses a similar opinion, and accounts for the difference on the part of influential men and the lack of popular enthusiasm which was so apparent, partly as follows:

"There is a feeling that no doubt exerts its influence against the Know Nothings, viz: its assumption of being exclusively American; and by implication its denial of true patriotism, or heartfelt American feeling to all who do not embrace its platform and join its organization—its claiming to be par excellence and alone the American party. This claim is so manifestly unjust and unfair, so notoriously contrary to truth, that it gives to the party a very unsettled hold upon the public mind. Americanism is in fact of no party on American soil.

You might talk of an American party in England, or in France, or any where else; but the moment you appeal to the American party in America, the appeal becomes general and not partisan. And this truth will be very apparent in a moment, if we put aside the points which distinguish the Know Nothings from other parties. Suppose they were to abandon opposition to popery, and to our present naturalization laws, neither of which doctrine is in any special sense an American tenet, since the American citizens by no means universally hold them, where can they stand as a party? There remains nothing distinctive in their creed.

There is nothing to rally a party upon? Do they say "Americans must rule America," so says every American. There is no room for disputation or controversy about it. It is a truism. You might as well raise the cry, "The republic shall be a republic." Nobody disputes it. We are all Americans, heartily, in life and to the death, and the only question is, whether we shall be American Whigs, or American Democrats, or American anti-Popery and anti-naturalization men."

The opinion is fully expressed, both North and South, that the Know-Nothing party is substantially broken up, and that it will be impossible to rally it to accomplish any national action. The New York Courier says "the rent is complete, and the whole concern, as a National organization, has gone to the bottom." The Charleston Mercury expresses the same opinion, and tells some home truths in the following extract:

"In the first place, this secession of so large a majority of the Northern members breaks up the party in the only section where it had yet triumphed. Know-Nothingism had carried no State in the South, had established no claim to represent or speak for the South. In Virginia, the only State south of Mason's and Dixon's line where the battle has been fought, it fell before the Democracy. In Georgia, Tennessee, and every other Southern State, the Democratic and every other Southern State, the Democratic party were rallying for its overthrow. Southern Know-Nothingism therefore represented in the National Convention no large or controlling constituencies; and Southern delegates, whatever their numbers, eloquence or ability, were in fact the representatives of the minority of their people. On the other hand, Know-Nothingism, in fusion with Freesoil, had swept the entire North. It was there that the party had its origin, and acquired a foothold.

"The Secession of the North, therefore, from the National Convention, was the secession of the major section of the party—the secession, in fact, of the party itself. That the members from New York, or Pennsylvania, or New Jersey, have joined with the Southern members in supporting the platform, amounts to nothing—for the party in these States, as in the rest, triumphed only by its alliance with Freesoil; and as the platform will force this element back to its natural combination with the Seward party, it cannot escape utter defeat in them, if it attempts to renew the contest. The conservative portion of the party in these States, in a hopeless minority, and the storm of Abolition, which will soon break into unbroken violence upon them, will destroy their last hope of existence. What, then, has become of the Grand National Convention of the Great National Know Nothing party, which promised such glorious things for the peace and stability of the Union? It has gone the way of the Whig and Democratic parties. It has attempted, like them, to resist Abolition, to reconcile the North and the South, and it has broken down, while yet the hopes of its friends beat high, and a thousand considerations of ambition, power and spoils urged the necessity of union; broken down upon an issue which its very organization declared to be secondary to its own, and sought to stifle."

The New York Times says that the Supreme Council which met in Philadelphia, "represented and embodied the nationality of the party, and its disruption is, therefore, a disruption of the party itself." The National Intelligencer in publishing the list of yeas and nays on the question calls attention to the fact that the yeas represented fifteen states, with 146 electoral votes, while the nays represented sixteen states with 150 electoral votes.

We could multiply extracts to show that the most experienced and astute politicians in the country look upon the National Know Nothing party, as it now exists, as a poor farce, impotent for good or evil. It is a mere sectional organization, to which a few Northern Doughfaces are attached as a tail, with no power to carry one single state. The only really powerful party in the South, is that of the Douglass Pierce Democracy. The party which will carry the North is yet to be organized. The elements are all ready, awaiting the man and the occasion.

The N. Y. Courier & Enquirer, in behalf of the commercial interest of that city, is anxious for a direct connection with Pittsburgh. It has watched the efforts of Philadelphia to reach the West and Northwest through all possible channels; and having witnessed its success in tapping the N. Y. & Erie road at Elmira, and anticipating a similar success with the Sunbury and Erie road, it urges upon New York the necessity of tapping the West at Pittsburgh, and competing here, with Philadelphia. It says:

"Philadelphia for instance, has a direct communication via the Pennsylvania Railroad with Pittsburgh and the Ohio. Thirty three miles of railroad between Allentown and Port Clinton alone are wanting to secure to New York an air line communication via the New Jersey Central with that city; yet, although a charter has long been granted for this link, either the effort is too great or the motive too inconsiderable, for the torpor of our security, and nothing is done to complete the chain."

It will doubtless require some stronger pressure of circumstances than now exists to drive the mercantile men of New York into that proper regard for their own interests which is foreshadowed by the Courier; but sooner or later they will awake to an apprehension of the realities existing around them and turn their attention to a point which they have too long neglected. Pittsburgh is certain to be, in the course of events, the grand distributing point for the upper end of the Mississippi valley; and those Eastern cities which seek the best and cheapest communication with her will profit most by the connection.

The vote in the city of Buffalo last November was as follows:

| | | | |
|---|---|---|---|
| Ullman, K. N. | 3467 | Seymour, Dem. | 3,124 |
| Clark, Whig, | 608 | Bronson, Hard | 123 |

The vote at the late Judicial election was a fraction heavier than this, but the result was altogether different. It was thus:

Houghton, K. N. 2,448 Masten, Repub. 4,998

Last fall the total anti-Know Nothing vote was only 3855; now it is 4998: then the K. N. vote was 3467; now it is 2448.

DICKEN'S HOUSEHOLD WORDS, for July, is truly welcome to our table. "Sister Rose" is finished, and the matter generally is of an interesting and instructive character. Dix & Edwards, New York, publishers.

OHIO AND PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.—We forget to state, at the proper time, that the injuries to this road were repaired on Thursday last, and that the trains now run with complete regularity.

STEAMERS BELLE GOLDING AND EXPRESS SUNK.—The officers of the steamer Amason, in from St. Joseph yesterday, bring intelligence of the burning of the steamer Express, bound to this port from Council Bluffs. The accident took place on the 15th ult., near Spar Island, where she struck a snag and sunk to her boiler deck in a few minutes.—She is an old boat, and badly sunk, and will doubtless be a total loss. Her cargo, the most of which will be lost, consisted of grain, hemp, pelizy, &c. We understand it was insured by an open policy. There was no insurance on the boat, and she was recently purchased by Capt. H. D. Smith, her commander, for $5,500. The Amazon took off 200 sacks of grain and a lot of rigging, furniture, &c.

The steamer Belle Golding, bound to this port from Pittsburgh, struck a snag in Devil's Island Chute, on Monday, about one o'clock, P. M., and sunk in about twenty minutes, to her cabin floor The Pilot attempted to take her through the Chute, and finding that he could not succeed, commenced backing her out. The snag entered her hull near the stern and passed up through the ladies' cabin. The passengers and crew got out on a coal boat which was in tow, and were all saved. The boat and cargo will be a total loss. The Belle Golding was a stern wheel boat valued at $15,000; and we understand was fully insured in Pittsburgh. She was owned by Captain Golding, her commander. The cargo consisted of dry goods and manufactured articles, and we learn was a very valuable one. We have no information regarding its insurance.—St. Louis Repub. Thurs.

They have daily services in Trinity Church, New York, but the attendance is always small. With the hope of increasing it and at the same time of securing a more devotional celebration of public worship, a good churchman has proposed to defray the expenses of the choir for the daily service for one year.

It is said the President has recently removed from office the gentleman having the care of the public buildings at Washington, on the ground that he was a "Know Nothing." Pity that there is no power competent to remove the President—for the same cause most emphatically exists in his case.—Pawsville Tele.

FALL OF A SUSPENSION BRIDGE.—On the 16th inst., about half of the cross timbers supporting the floor of the suspension bridge over the Cumberland river at Nashville, Tenn., gave way in the centre, precipitating a large wagon and six horses, loaded with 12,000 pounds of groceries, and a buggy and horse into the river below.—The wagon driver had one leg broken, while the man in the buggy swam ashore uninjured. It is reported that there were several foot passengers on the bridge at the time, who it is feared were lost.

The Saybrook (Conn.) Mirror makes grievous complaints of the Postmaster at that place, accuses him of carelessness, politeness, want of accommodation, and other unpardonable sins; and winds up by saying that "he seems to be impressed with the idea that he owns the whole United States and hires Franklin Pierce by the week."

DEATH OF ANOTHER INDIAN CHIEF.—Henry Two Guns (Ha-ja-on-guah,) head "chief of the Seneca Nation of Indians, aged 75 years, died at the Cattaraugus Reservation, N. Y., on the 17th inst. Two Guns was a step-son of the famous orator Red Jacket, and was born within the limits of the now city of Buffalo. He was engaged in the war of 1812, espousing the cause of the great father, the President; participated in the battles of Bridgewater and Chippewa, and for a long series of years exercised a controlling influence over his nation.

American speculators are said to be traveling Upper Canada, bargaining for crops in the ground, hogs, sheep, milch cows, young bulls, horses, and indeed, anything saleable the farmer may have.

CAUTION TO "READERS IN BED."—Mr. Lewis, of Ashtabula, Ohio, just after retiring, heard a moaning noise, which he traced to the room of a young lady boarding in his family. On forcing the chamber door he found the room filled with smoke and fire, while the feather bed, straw bed and bedding were about half consumed, and a candlestick with the solder melted, and a half-burned book, lay on the bed. The lady was but slightly burned, but very nearly suffocated.

The liquor law lately voted upon in Illinois, was a curious piece of legislation. If a majority voted in its favor it would go into effect in 1856; if a majority voted against it, it would go into effect in 1857. This is like the preacher who gave out that he would preach next Sabbath, the Lord willing and two weeks from that time, anyhow.

The Greatest Medical Discovery
OF THE AGE.

Mr. Kennedy, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cure every kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula to a common Pimple.

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates, of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a burning sore mo th

One to threebottles will cure the worst kind of pimples of the face.

Two to three bottles will clear the system of blies.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruption of the skin.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of ringworm.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate cases of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing in the pastures, and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system; yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start There are no ifs nor ands, hums or ha's about it suiting some cases and not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know its effects in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, wormy looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to a sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief to catarrh and dizziness. Sons who have been costive for years, have taken and been regulated by it. Where the body is sound, it work quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular reelings, but you must not be alarmed—they always disappear in from four days to a week. There is never a bad result from it. On the contrary, when that feeling is gone you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that man ever listened to. 'No change of diet is ever necessary'—eat the best you can get. I have likewise an herb, which, when combined in lines of its second stage, will cure the worst case of scrofula.

Price 50 cents. Price of the Pills, 25 cents.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.—Adult, one table-spoonful per day. Children over eight years, dessert spoonful: children from five to eight years, teaspoonful. Not less than one can be made applicable to all constitutions, take enough to operate on the bowels twice a day.

Mr. KENNEDY gives personal attendance in bad cases of scrofula.

Sold, wholesale and retail, at Dr. KEYSER'S, 140 Wood treet, corner of Virgin alley.

Cristadoro's Excelsior Hair Dye.

As red clouds darken in the twilight,
And blacken over heaven's blue skylight
So CRISTADORO'S HAIR DYE turneth
To black the hair that redly burneth.
The cattle fish cunningly blackens the foam
When an enemy darts at the queer little enemy—
Just as quick Cristadoro's Dye changes the eyes,
With his DYE of all dyes most efficient and rare!

Cristadoro's Excelsior HairDye is sold wholesale and retail at DR. KEYSER'S, 140 Wood street, at the sign of the Golden Mortar. ap27-dAw

An ounce of fact is worth a pound of THEORY; and the swarm of conclusive facts that cluster around that incomparable preparation, Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia, establishing its value as a tonic and restorative, are such as would prevent incredulity itself from questioning its efficacy. In all cases of diseases of the stomach, whether acute or chronic, it may be recommended for its soothing, cordial and renovating influence. Dyspepsia, heartburn, loss of appetite, nausea, nervous tremors, relaxation and debility, &c., are relieved by the Bitters in a very short space of time; and a permanent cure may be relied upon if we to work a thorough cure. A Secret for the Ladies—How to preserve BEAUTY—Don't use Chalk, Lilly White, or any of the so-called cosmetics, to conceal a faded or sallow complexion.

If you would have the roses brought back to your cheek a clear, healthy and transparent skin, and life and vigor infused through the system, get a bottle of Carter's Spanish Mixture, and it accords to directions it will not does not taste quite as well as your sweet-meats; but, if after a few doses you do not find your health and beauty reviving, your step elastic and vigorous, the whole system refreshed and invigorated, your spirits buoyant, then your case is hopeless, and all the valuable certificates we possess, go for naught. It is the greatest purifier of the blood known; is perfectly harmless, and at the same time powerfully effacious.
