FATAL SICKNESS ON THE STEAMER NIAGARA—EIGHT DEATHS—YELLOW FEVER.—We learn from Mr. Daniel Gilman, and others, passengers from New Orleans, on the steamer Niagara, that arrived last night, that there was a great deal of fatal sickness among the passengers on the trip, resulting in eight deaths. The fatality was confined to the deck passengers, mostly coal boatmen, who died soon after they were attacked, having the usual symptoms of yellow fever, with their bodies and faces covered with yellow splotches.

The disease was pronounced the yellow fever by some, others doubted it, and imputed the fatality to intemperance, and indiscretion on the part of the sufferers, one of whom, at least, had an attack of delirium tremens, and while in that condition died. The yellow fever, as yet, in New Orleans, has not been very fatal, and but slight mention has been made in the papers.—Louisville Courier of Friday.

Of the above deaths, several were Pittsburgh-ers, who went down on coal boats that left on the early June rise. One of the victims was Mr. Johnson Elliott, who is well-known as having served in the Mexican war with the Duquesne Grays. He was also a member of the Neptune Fire Company. The other Pittsburghers who died were, a man named Campbell, of Saw Mill Run, and Samuel Ray.

We also learn that a Mr. Green, of Brookville, Jefferson County, died of yellow fever at Memphis, on the steamer Virginia.

THE COURSE OF TRUE LOVE SOMETIMES LEADS TO PRISON.—John Cunningham, a young man of tender susceptibilities, was inspired by Don Cupid—that arch-rogue—with a decided penchant for a certain Miss ——, well, we'll call her Miss Tulips, for short. The pathway of shine, and seemingly without an obstruction on the long stretch to the mount of matrimony. But a few days ago a change came o'er the spirits of their dream—love's young dream!—and they stumbled over a fallen tree of discord that had been blown upon their path by some evil genius. John resorted to the bottle—that deceptive consoler of all human woes—that vade mecum of all broken hearts. John, in fact, got drunk, and very foolishly, or very drunkenly, which is the same thing, repaired to the residence of the once adored Miss Tulips, on Monday evening, and then and there did conduct himself in a most drunken, disorderly, disgusting and diabolical manner. John was wrong, or at least the whisky he had under his waistcoat was, and he had to suffer the consequences. He was arrested, brought before Mayor Volz, and, in default of the payment of a fine of $5, was committed to jail for twenty days, when he will have an opportunity to ruminate on the vanity of human affairs, generally, and the undoubted truth of that oft-quoted apothegm, "the course of true love never did run smooth."

SAD OCCURRENCE AND HEAVY LOSS.—The McKeesport Standard states that on Thursday last, between four and five o'clock P. M., a boat of the largest class, on the stocks in the boat-yard of Messrs. Coye, Milliken & Co., on the left bank of the Youghiogheny, began to slide down from the stocks, and with terrible force struck the ground, breaking her keel and a number of her ribs and other timbers. Two workmen being at the time under her, escaped miraculously with some slight injuries only; several others on the boat were hurt more or less, but none dangerously. The high stage of the water had undermined part of the ground, which yielded to the pressure of the blocks, and caused the accident.

The loss of the boat builders is very heavy. It will require more than a week to raise the boat on stocks again, so that the workmen may repair the serious damages.

The dimensions of the boat are as follows: 215 feet keel, 44 feet floor, 46 feet beam, 6 feet hold.

AMERICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.—The old line Natives meet at the Court House to-day at eleven o'clock. We have the names of the following delegates:

Allegheny—First Ward—Hiram Powell, W. M. Phillips, J. Sawyer.—Second Ward—R. M. Glass, R. P. Smith, and Benjamin Scranton.—Third Ward—Washington Swain, Josephus Hipsley, and Henry Holler.—Fourth Ward—Wm. Magill, L. H. Phillips, and R. Andrews.—Pittsburg—Third Ward—John Barton, Jas. Cooper and J. Henderson.—Fifth Ward—There are two sets of delegates.—Peebles Township—Samuel Bistler, Moses Phillips, and Matthew Hays.—Collins Township—Wm. Negele, Peter Weaver, and George Negele.

CONGRESS.—We learn from the Chronicle that officer Richardson yesterday morning received a letter from Mr. Thomas, Superintendent of the Louisville jail, stating that Gorman, the individual who made his escape on the subsequent capture in this city we noticed some time since, was on Friday last convicted of passing counterfeit money, and sentenced to undergo three years' imprisonment in the Penitentiary. Byran, another culprit, who formerly resided here, will be tried during the present week. Should he not be convicted, he will be brought to this city, and held to answer a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill.

A DRUNKEN BOWDY JUGGED.—A drunken fellow named David Hall was arrested on Monday night on Penn street near St. Clair, where he had been kicking up a row, battering houses with stones, and swearing terribly at every person who attempted to interfere with him in the prosecution of his rowdyish designs. He was brought before the Mayor, fined $20, and in default of payment thereof was sent to the hill for thirty days.

HEALTH OF THE CITY.—Our readers may rely upon our veracity when we state that there is no cholera in the city or vicinity. The cases which have been reported occurred in one house, where a horde of drunken, filthy railroad Irish were crowded together like so many pigs in a pen, and it would have been a wonder if the cholera had not visited them. Our city never was in better health than now.

ACCIDENT.—Shortly after one o'clock, on Monday, the fast train on the Pennsylvania Railroad came in collision with a horse and cart crossing the track, in front of Wilmarth's City Mills, on Liberty street. The wagon was completely wrecked, and one of the fore hoofs of the horse was cut off. The animal belonged to Joseph Hastings, residig on Prospect street. The cars were not thrown off the track.

A REGULAR BATTLE.—The Bulletin says:

A desperate fight took place on Chesnut street Allegheny, on last Sunday morning; about one hundred persons were engaged in it. It lasted from one o'clock till day break. It was the most disgraceful affair of the kind, that has taken place in our City for several years. There being no night police, no arrests were made.

THE weather yesterday was still exceedingly warm, and to make it worse for the fraternite locale, there was a complete stagnation in the news market. Many of our magistrates are absent, and the usually prolific fountains of news sit and shout the Court House have all "gone dry." But we look for brighter times soon.

TORCH LIGHT PROCESSION.—The Allegheny Anti-"Gag Law" Torch Light is to come off next Saturday. In case the councils repeat the ordinance, it is an In Pease triumphal sort of an affair—if otherwise, it is intended to express all manner of indignation and wrath. We presume the candles will burn equally well in either case.

DEATH FROM COUP DE SOLEIL.—On Tuesday forenoon about half past seven o'clock, an old man known as "Hughey," (we did not learn his full name,) while working on East street, Alleghany city, was struck down by the heat of the sun, and died shortly after.

BURGLARY.—The house of James T. Sample, Beaver street, Allegheny, was entered on Sunday night last by some rascals and a number of valuable articles stolen.

PATRICK MOORE was committed to jail yesterday on a capias execution. Judgment for $15 was obtained against him by George McPherson before Ald. Parkinson.

THE FRIENDS of Henry Busha intend applying for a pardon. He was committed at the March term of assault and battery with intent to kill William Pitcher.

THE THERMOMETER indicated ninety-eight degrees in the shade yesterday afternoon at three o'clock.

BATHING IN THE ALLEGHENY.—Mayor Adams, of Allegheny City, has issued a notice forbidding persons from violating the ordinance relative to bathing in the river. It provides that public bathing be prohibited within the limits of the city, except that part of the Allegheny river, immediately in front of Ledlie's wharf, and the Island belonging to the city, where it shall be lawful for any citizen or citizens to bathe before 6 o'clock A. M., and after 6 o'clock P. M., and not otherwise. ANY person or persons offending against the provisions of the ordinance shall forfeit and pay a fine of not less than one dollar, and not more than five dollars, at the discretion of the Mayor. The ordinance will be strictly enforced against all persons found offending.

MEETING OF THE FRIENDS OF PROHIBITION.—A meeting of the friends of the prohibitory liquor law was held last evening, in the Second Associate Reformed Church, Diamond street.

Rev. Dr. Pressly, of the First A. R. Church, Allegheny, was appointed chairman, and Rev. R. Gracey, of the A. R. Church, secretary.

John M. Kirkpatrick, Esq., addressed the meeting in regard to the law passed by the last legislature.

A Committee of five was appointed to prepare business for an adjourned meeting to be held one week from next Tuesday evening in the First A. R. Church, 6th street.

ACCIDENT ON THE OHIO AND PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.—We were informed last evening that the flange of one of the first class locomotive of the mail train which left Allegheny yesterday morning at eight o'clock, broke at a point six miles this side of Enon Valley. The locomotive ran off the track and was turned upside down and smashed into a complete wreck. The baggage car shared a like fate. The baggage master, whose name we did not learn, was very seriously injured and his life was despaired of.

A DESPERADO ARRESTED.—Officer Ray, of the Mayor's Police, last night about nine o'clock, arrested William McCoy at East Liberty, brought him to the city and placed him in the watch House. McCoy is the accomplice of Eggleston, the ringleader of the notorious band of desperadoes who carried on extensively in Peebles Township last spring. Eggleston is now serving out his sentence. There is an indictment pending against McCoy.

ANOTHER COUP DE SOLEIL.—James Montgomery, while painting the top of some passenger cars at the outer depot of the O. & P. R. R., on Monday, was struck down by the intense heat of the sun, but by prompt attention is now likely to recover.

TELEGRAPHIC.

ST. LOUIS, July 17.—The Pro-Slavery Convention met at Lexington, Mo., on the 13th, and was attended by a large number of delegates. After a temporary organization Senator Atchison and Col. Doniphan were called upon to address the meeting, but declined. Other gentlemen addressed the meeting, expressing themselves in favor of establishing slavery in Kansas by all lawful means.

The Convention was permanently organized by the choice of W. T. Wood as presiding officer.

Resolutions were introduced requesting the Legislature of Missouri to pass acts of retaliation against the States of Massachusetts, Vermont and Michigan, discountenancing the use of the products of those States.

President Shannon of the University, by invitation, delivered an address, setting forth Bible arguments in favor of slavery; his speech was very ultra and caused much excitement, some of his propositions were strongly objected to.

The Convention was still in session at the last accounts.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 16.—We have a full account of the hanging of the man Maybury, by a mob at Janesville, Wisconsin, last week. It appears that the prisoner had been found guilty by Judge Doolittle, but the law only prescribes imprisonment for life. The Sheriff undertook to remove the prisoner from the court house to the jail, but he with his posse had scarcely got out of the court house when the cry arose, "Hang him! hang him!"

The officers were then completely overpowered by the crowd, the prisoner seized, a rope placed around his neck, and, notwithstanding his awful shrieks and prayers, they dragged him to a cluster of trees and hung him till dead. A band of three hundred men had been organized to execute the deed. The greatest excitement pervaded Rock River for over one hundred miles.

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.—The accident on the West Chester Railroad yesterday was occasioned by the falling of the bridge in the course of erection over Ridley's Creek. The casualty occurred about one o'clock, and the structure fell as the men were commencing work. Twelve men were engaged on the work, five of whom went down with the bridge; three were instantly killed and the other two seriously injured that their lives are despaired of.

PHILADELPHIA, July 17.—The steamboat John Stephens belonging to the Camden and Amburg Railroad, and plying between this city and Bordentown was totally destroyed by fire last night while lying at her wharf at the latter place. Three colored cook, females perished in the flames. The Stephens was one of the finest boats on the river; she was valued at $110,000; loss is probably covered by insurance. The origin of the fire is unknown.

BALTIMORE, July 17.—New Orleans papers of Wednesday are received.

Late advices from the Rio Grande state that the revolutionists are besieging Camargo, and from there were expected to attack Matamoras, which Gen. Wool was engaged in fortifying. Saltillo has yielded to the revolutionists without a struggle. The American Consul has left Monterey.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 17.—Henry M. Tucker, son of John Tucker, has been arrested under suspicion that he is the perpetrator of the outrage by which the house of his father was blown up with gunpowder. No cause is ascribed for the rash act.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Recorder Smith declared this morning, in the Liquor cases before him, that ales, beers, wines, and spirits that had paid duties could be sold in any quantities by any citizen.

BUFFALO, July 17.—Three men, including an officer in the British recruiting service, have been arrested on a charge of violating the neutrality laws, by recruiting men for the Crimea.

BOSTON, July 17.—The trial of parties taken from the British brig Buffalo, on suspicion of a violation of the neutrality laws, commenced today, and will probably occupy several days.

HALIFAX, July 17.—10 P. M.—There are no signs of the Canada, which is now fully due at this port from Liverpool. She brings intelligence three days later than the Arago.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 17.—There are 60 cases docketed on the calender of the Court of Claims. The Court has adjourned until Thursday.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 17.—James M. Boyd, a prominent merchant of Lynchburg, Va., was killed to-day by the explosion of gas in his house.

REVIEW OF THE PITTSBURGH MARKET.

For the Week ending July 17, 1855.

Business continues to grow gradually duller every day, the stagnation of midsummer being upon us. The jobbing trade retains a slight show of activity.

The manufacturers continue busy, the active Spring and Summer having left them but light stocks on hand. The iron mills will probably be kept running until stocks are recruited. The heaviest demand on them has been for nails, of which the amount in store is now very light; the supply of bar iron is better, the demand for that having been less pressing. The export of manufactures up to July 12th, since Sept. 1st, are as follows: Nails, 313,173 kgs; Iron bars, 696,103; bdls. 238,994; Agricultural Implements, (plows &c.) 18,213; Copper, 3679 pkgs and 2,330 sheets. Castings, 133,614 pcs.; Glass, 286,750 box window, and 207 bxs glass ware. Hardware, domestic, 111,253 bxs; Iron nails, 3,340 kgs; Steel, 117,832 pcs; Springs and Axles, 88,923. Machinery, 14,766; White lead, 65,275 kgs; Cotton Yarn, 6,045 pkgs. Sundries, 28,750 pkgs.

The heavy rains which fell on Tuesday of last week gave us as we expected, a full river. The Monongahela rose to 16 feet, in a very short period. The fall, however, has been nearly as sudden as the rise, and we have now a stage of river only 4½ feet. A considerable amount of manufactures was shipped while the rise lasted; but little coal, however, went out. Great damage was done to the growing crops along the beds of the small streams, which swelled very rapidly after the heavy rain and swept everything before them.

As the season progresses the certainty of a splendid crop of wheat grows more assured. In all directions the report is the same; and even in those districts from which complaints came the yield is now said to be better than ever before realized, with rare exceptions.

While this is the case, however, the tone of the flour market both here and at Cincinnati has been kept up, and the demand continued. This has resulted from light receipts, a good demand and a swelling consumption on the part of holders to save themselves from loss, if possible. Supplies of new flour must, however, soon come for. ward, when prices will find a new level. It is now confidently expected all round that prices cannot much longer be maintained.

A very prime sample of new Wheat, from Kentucky, sold at $2,15, for shipment to Sandusky. There are some orders here for lots, for immediate delivery, at the range from $1,10 to $1,12. City Millers are not disposed to operate at above $9,00, but holders are very willing to contract at this figure, while Flour maintains its previous firmness and there is no prospect of the latter declining until supplies increase, and this is not likely to be the case, farmers get pretty well through in the harvest fields.

The Commercial of the same city says:

We notice great activity in the various markets for grain, meat and flour barrels. There are several orders in our market for Flour, thirty cents per barrel could be readily obtained for good barrels for future delivery. We are informed there is an active inquiry and demand for gunny cloth in the Boston market, with large sales.

The value of imports at New York during the week, though large, shows a material falling off in compared with the corresponding week last year. Annexed are the figures as furnished by the Journal of Commerce:

	1854.	1855.
For the week,	$2,441,780	$1,219,897
General Merchandize,	2,469,961	1,441,249
Total,	$4,911,031	$2,661,346
Previous twenty seven weeks,	94,531,027	67,696,946
Total since Jan. 1st,	$99,442,053	$70,758,192

The export of specie from New York last week was $1,222,907.52

Previously.....17,074,667.52

Total for 1855.....$18,307,854.29

The exports of produce were $682,068, against $1,401,580 last year.

NEW COUNTERFEITS.—Among the latest counterfeits are 10's on the Newark City Bank, altered from 2's. Vignettes cattlers at work—Washington on right end. Also, 5's on the Phœnix Bank, Springfield; 5's on the Bank of the State of New York; 10's on the Bank of Commerce, New York; 10's on the Bank of Montpelier; 3's on the Mechanics' Bank, Boston; 1's on the City Bank, Bath; 5's on the Connecticut River Bank, Brattleboro; 5's on the Union Bank, Watertown; 5's on the City Bank, Hartford. A large number of bills on these banks are in circulation. Look out for them.

The Boston Transcript says "A large number of purchasers from the West and South are in this market, and our merchants are now doing a very large business. Some of our houses in the boot and shoe trade have sold more goods the present week than at any other time this year. The clothing trade is quite active, and buyers from the West are ordering large quantities. We have noticed in this line in Feed street, who sold a house in one of the Western cities, a bill of $30,000 yesterday, and other large transactions are reported.

The Baltimore American of Monday says:

There have been no operations in Coffee to-day that we are aware of. The ship Banshee from Rio, with a cargo of some 6,000 bags, is now, and buyers are waiting the landing arrival of her samples before operating. The market, although still, is firm at the following rates: We quote as before, low and medium grades Rio at 9½@10¼ for Rio; 10½@10¾ for Rio cla.; Laguayra at 10¾@11 cts. and Java at 14@15 cts.

The Boston Shipping List of Saturday says:

Molasses remain without material change. The sales have been 1,000 hhds Cuba, 42 gals, at 31c; 200 do 43 gals, at 31½c; 25 do small, mostly at the highest figures. Alcohol remains at 25@26c; Indigo, and pickled Herring bring $2,50@$3 50 ₩ bbl.

The certainty which is now felt that the harvest is both abundant and well secured, and the general favorable condition of business relations and of the retrenchments practised during the past year, are adding daily to the ease of the money market and the abundance of capital tended to borrowers. The New York Times says:

The money transactions of the street are remarkably quiet. Most of the large brokers are indifferent to using time business in stocks at the Brokers' Board, and are supplying all their customers at the Banks. A few of the large Banks report a good offering of mercantile paper in their vaults, but others are quite full. The amount of paper seeking money outside of the Banks continues limited. Exchange is without much movement since Wednesday. The Dry Goods import trade continues limited. Specie is being sent but slowly against the foreign exchanges.

The Commercial of the same city says:

The Money article of the N. Y. Independent says:

"Our Bank parlors present a more business-like appearance. Depositors are coming and drawing less sullen and less complimentary. If a man has a note to meet, he is not entertained as he all the same, provided he has it in hand, instead of his wife's carriage and horses. Nothing is said now to a bonus in good standing about waiting a little for a substantial interest fee. When the paper is good, the money is obtained, and the parties go out of the parlors without the usual ceremony of a call again for a decision. During the whole of the past month, while our merchants have been hauling in cash, contraction and liquidation have been the order of the day. There has been but little done too much business have made up their minds to do it and to do it boldly. Country merchants who have acted twelve months credit have been disappointed. They have, in many cases, been compelled to pay more promptly. Importers who have so frequently had their wants ours in the way of sending out 'second orders,' have taken a more prudent course, and have come with small orders in hand than they are now well prepared for a good Fall trade. Their impression is that prices will not be as large as formerly. The prospect for the Fall, it cannot be denied, is bright. Our crops in the country will probably be more abundant than ever, and the condition of the trade is such that it will not be such that prices will continue to rule high. Money will also be more abundant—more so than it has been for many years. If the foreign war should be concluded, we shall probably, as a country, be more prosperous than ever before. Let our business men act with caution—not forgetting the lesson taught the past two years. Let them remember that safety should be the law of every transaction."

The Boston Journal says:

Money remains easy for good paper, and is a trifle more abundant on call. The market is not so free in general negotiations as before July 4th.

The Baltimore American says:

Money continues very easy. The supply is abundant, and it can be had on call at 6@7 per cent. We hear that in some cases money has been loaned on call at even a lower figure. The Banks are discounting freely, and there is very little paper offering on the street. The supply is ample for all classes of good business paper is still 7 to 8 per cent.

The Philadelphia North American says:

Money continues abundant. First class paper is mostly absorbed by the Banks, and second class is readily placed at 8@9 per cent.

The Cincinnati Commercial says:

The money market continues remarkably quiet and easy for all first class security; a large amount of capital is offering at 6 per cent. and the supply is a growing disposition to make loans on real estate.

The Boston Courier gives the annexed instance of the fact that "riches take wings and fly away:"

"The truth of this axiom was fully exemplified yesterday for the first time in many years, by the sale of railroad stocks and bonds belonging to an individual of Boston, which were purchased at little over $374,000, the market value of which to-day is only about $115,000, showing a depreciation of $260,000 in one year and a half besides the loss of interest. These securities were pledged as collateral security for borrowed money, and as they declined in value more margin was placed with them to keep the margin good, until the unfortunate borrower could respond no further. He was finally obliged to fail—and the stocks of the Grand Junction, Vermont Central, Ogdensburgh and New York Central Railroad."

ASHES—there is a moderate demand for Pearls at former prices, 6¾ four nos. Pots are not offered to any extent, nor Saleratus: we quote at 5¾@6, for both, as in quality Pots Ash is in steady demand at 3¾, on time, for common quality.

APPLES—a lot of green Apples, new crop, was offered on the wharf on Monday and brought $1.62 per bbl.

BACON—has again advanced; holders yesterday were firm in asking 9, 10 and 11, cash, for prime city smoked Shoulders, Sides and Hams, although some large lots were sold at ¼ less to the city trade. The demand during the week has been active, and the stock is not large.

BUTTER & EGGS—Butter is not offering to any extent, and we quote it nominal at 12 for packed. Eggs have arrived extremely dull, and can hardly be got off at 11@12, owing to the warm weather.

BEANS—a very light inquiry at $2,50, from store, for small white.

BROOMS—prices for common to good Ohio range from store at $2,00@$2,50 and for good to choice at $2,50@$3,25; Shoulders, Sides and Hams, although some large lots were sold at ¼ less to the city trade. The demand during the week has been active, and the stock is not large.

BUTTER & EGGS—Butter is not offering to any extent, and we quote it nominal at 12 for packed. Eggs have arrived extremely dull, and can hardly be got off at 11@12, owing to the warm weather.

BROOMS—prices for common to good Ohio range from store at $2,00@$2,50 and for good to choice at $2,50@$3,25; No. 1 Hurl, $3,75@$4,00.

City Millers are not disposed to operate at above $9,00, but holders are very willing to contract at this figure, while Flour maintains its previous firmness and there is no prospect of the latter declining until supplies increase, and this is not likely to be the case, farmers get pretty well through in the harvest fields.

The Commercial of the same city says:

We notice great activity in the various markets for grain, meat and flour barrels. There are several orders in our market for Flour, thirty cents per barrel could be readily obtained for good barrels for future delivery. We are informed there is an active inquiry and demand for gunny cloth in the Boston market, with large sales.

A large number of bills on these banks are in circulation. Look out for them.

The Boston Transcript says "A large number of purchasers from the West and South are in this market, and our merchants are now doing a very large business. Some of our houses in the boot and shoe trade have sold more goods the present week than at any other time this year. The clothing trade is quite active, and buyers from the West are ordering large quantities. We have noticed in this line in Feed street, who sold a house in one of the Western cities, a bill of $30,000 yesterday, and other large transactions are reported.

The Baltimore American of Monday says:

There have been no operations in Coffee to-day that we are aware of. The ship Banshee from Rio, with a cargo of some 6,000 bags, is now, and buyers are waiting the landing arrival of her samples before operating. The market, although still, is firm at the following rates: We quote as before, low and medium grades Rio at 9½@10¼ for Rio; 10½@10¾ for Rio cla.; Laguayra at 10¾@11 cts. and Java at 14@15 cts.

The certainty which is now felt that the harvest is both abundant and well secured, and the general favorable condition of business relations and of the retrenchments practised during the past year, are adding daily to the ease of the money market and the abundance of capital tended to borrowers. The New York Times says:

The money transactions of the street are remarkably quiet. Most of the large brokers are indifferent to using time business in stocks at the Brokers' Board, and are supplying all their customers at the Banks. A few of the large Banks report a good offering of mercantile paper in their vaults, but others are quite full. The amount of paper seeking money outside of the Banks continues limited. Exchange is without much movement since Wednesday. The Dry Goods import trade continues limited. Specie is being sent but slowly against the foreign exchanges.

The Commercial of the same city says:

The Money article of the N. Y. Independent says:

"Our Bank parlors present a more business-like appearance. Depositors are coming and drawing less sullen and less complimentary. If a man has a note to meet, he is not entertained as he all the same, provided he has it in hand, instead of his wife's carriage and horses. Nothing is said now to a bonus in good standing about waiting a little for a substantial interest fee. When the paper is good, the money is obtained, and the parties go out of the parlors without the usual ceremony of a call again for a decision. During the whole of the past month, while our merchants have been hauling in cash, contraction and liquidation have been the order of the day. There has been but little done too much business have made up their minds to do it and to do it boldly. Country merchants who have acted twelve months credit have been disappointed. They have, in many cases, been compelled to pay more promptly. Importers who have so frequently had their wants ours in the way of sending out 'second orders,' have taken a more prudent course, and have come with small orders in hand than they are now well prepared for a good Fall trade. Their impression is that prices will not be as large as formerly. The prospect for the Fall, it cannot be denied, is bright. Our crops in the country will probably be more abundant than ever, and the condition of the trade is such that it will not be such that prices will continue to rule high. Money will also be more abundant—more so than it has been for many years. If the foreign war should be concluded, we shall probably, as a country, be more prosperous than ever before. Let our business men act with caution—not forgetting the lesson taught the past two years. Let them remember that safety should be the law of every transaction."

The Boston Journal says:

Money remains easy for good paper, and is a trifle more abundant on call. The market is not so free in general negotiations as before July 4th.

The Baltimore American says:

Money continues very easy. The supply is abundant, and it can be had on call at 6@7 per cent. We hear that in some cases money has been loaned on call at even a lower figure. The Banks are discounting freely, and there is very little paper offering on the street. The supply is ample for all classes of good business paper is still 7 to 8 per cent.

The Philadelphia North American says:

Money continues abundant. First class paper is mostly absorbed by the Banks, and second class is readily placed at 8@9 per cent.

The Cincinnati Commercial says:

The money market continues remarkably quiet and easy for all first class security; a large amount of capital is offering at 6 per c
