SENT TO THE HOUSE OF REFUGE.—Two young girls were sent to the House of Refuge yesterday by Mayor Volz.

These girls, although of such tender years, have long been known the Police as vicious and infamous characters. Their parents are low, drunken creatures exercising no control over them but rather leading them into the "untrodden ways" of vice and shame. They have been in the habit of spending most of their time on the streets, and of passing their nights in boarding-yards and houses of prostitution. They were brought before the Mayor for vagrancy a month or two since, and would then have been consigned to the House of Refuge but for the interference of the arguments who promised to reform from the city. They were therefore discharged, and one family did remove to Louisville. There the mother endeavored to redeem her child from infamy and placed her in some institution in that city, but she soon escaped, and a few days since again made her appearance in this city.—On Tuesday night these girls made application at the Watch House for lodging. They were placed in a cell, and the Mayor yesterday morning very properly determined to commit them to the House of Refuge, where we hope under the careful instruction of Mr. Rutherford, they may be reclaimed from the paths of vice and thoroughly reformed. In going over to the House, yesterday, one of the girls said she would soon break out, for walls couldn't hold her; but if she did stay there, three years would soon pass away and then she would come out and open a house on Prospect street!

It seems scarcely credible that mere children could have attained such a degree of reckless debasement, such a total shamelessness and lack of self-respect. But what may we not expect of a child reared in the drunkard's household?

SUSPECTED THIEVES ARRESTED.—At a late hour on Tuesday night watchman Pender observed a negro named James Gordon engaged in secreting a large bag in the neighborhood of the Basin, on Prospect street. He also saw another negro with a similar sack on his shoulder in the same vicinity. Suspecting them to be thieves, the watchman gave chase, and succeeded in capturing Gordon, but the other negro escaped. On repairing to the spot where the bag had been secreted he found it to contain a number of first quality hams put up in canvass. On searching further he discovered the other bag lying on the side of the hill. It likewise contained hams, and was no doubt dropped by the other negro, who is supposed to have been none other than the notorious Ben Wilson, who has several times been before the Criminal Court, but as frequently got off without punishment. Gordon was brought before the Mayor yesterday morning, and as there was no positive evidence that the hams were stolen, he was sent to jail for thirty days for vagrancy. Gordon has been out of the Penitentiary but two or three weeks.

The hams are at the Mayor's Office, and, if stolen, (of which there can be but little doubt,) the losers may call and identify their property. Ben Wilson will probably be arrested in a day or two.

A BURGLAR CAUGHT IN THE VERY ACT.—Between the hours of two and three o'clock on Tuesday night, Mr. Christian Wahring, proprietor of a tavern (Leopold Sahl's old stand) on Water street, was aroused from his slumbers by a noise which sounded very like the muffled footsteps of a burglar, who appeared to be traversing the different rooms of the house in search of booty. Mr. Wahring quietly arose from his bed, peeped out of his doorand his eyes instantly met the form of a man gliding through the passage. He watched his opportunity, saw him enter a room, ran down and suddenly accosted the individual who was taking such unwarrantable liberties at such an unseasonable hour. The fellow, who had crawled under the bed, finding himself cornered and without any means of escape, "came right down" (like the cow of the fable) and surrendered at discretion to the tender mercies of his captor. Mr. Wahring seized him by the collar and with the assistance of one of the Night Watch, conducted him to the Watch House. Yesterday morning he was brought before Mayor Volz on a charge of burglary.

The prisoner gave his name as William Smith, and stated that he was a native of New York state, but had latterly resided in Cumberland county, Pa. He was fully committed for trial.

TRAIN-BOY KILLED ON THE PENNSYLVANIA CENTRAL ROAD.—A sad accident occurred between Y and A's Crossing yesterday morning on the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Altoona, which resulted in the death of a promising young lad of this city, named Francis Gardner, Train Boy on the Express. The accident occurred as follows:

Gardner was on a freight train which was standing in front of the Logan House, at Altoona, and just as a passenger train was coming in from the West, he jumped from the freight train for the purpose of crossing the track. Unfortunately, he was too late, and the locomotive of the arriving train struck him, knocking him under the wheels and cutting off both his legs above the knees. He was conveyed to the House, where every possible attention was paid to him but at eleven o'clock he breathed his last in great agony.

"Frank," as he was usually called, was about sixteen years of age and was esteemed a remarkably fine boy. He was the son of Mr. Isaac Gardner, a shoemaker, residing in the Seventh Ward, of this city.

The body has been brought to the city last night and will be buried to-day.

RUFFIANLY ATTACK.—The Beaver Argus learns that Mrs. Harvy Moore, of Rochester, is just recovering from wounds inflicted upon her by a fiendish Italian some two weeks since. It appears that herself and husband had been out and did not return until a late hour; the latter left her for a few moments in the yard in front of their dwelling, in order to see that all was right about his store. During his brief absence, she was rudely seized hold of by some villian, who had been secreted in the bushes. With one hand upon her mouth, to prevent giving alarm, and the other upon her throat he choked her so severely as to almost deprive her of life. The object undoubtedly was, either to waylay Mr. Moore, or rob his lady of the watch and jewelry she had about her person. Kindred exhibitions of ruffianism are becoming alarmingly frequent in this and neighboring villages. It behooves the officers of the law to be watchful; and it is the duty of all good citizens to extend to them all the aid in their power for the protection of the lives and property of our people.

"MIDNIGHT CRY."—The good people of Sandusky street, Allegheny, above the South Common, were quietly dreaming away the "wee sma'" hours of Tuesday morning, when their peaceful slumbers were harshly broken in on by an "outcry of murder." The piercing tones, the agonizing expression of the voice, told that it was a female, and innumerable heads instantly protruded from countless windows, and all expected, to gaze horrified upon a scene of blood. The voice came from a house on the corner of Water alley. "Murder! murder! They are killing my children! Help! O help!" was screamed forth mingled with the cries and vociferations of fright of at least half a dozen babies. The whole neighborhood was aroused, and some courageous citizens hastened to the house to discover what was the matter. In a few moments the "midnight cry" had ceased; the lady of the house had been awakened from a terrible attack of nightmare, and her agitated mind was soon pacified. This little midnight episode over, the good folks aforesaid were soon again wrapped in the arms of "Morpheus."

PIERCE KELLY.—This unfortunate maniac was arrested yesterday at the Exchange Bank by officers Moon and Frost, of the Mayor's Police. He has been about the city for several days in a raving condition. The officers experienced some difficulty in getting him down street. He was taken to the office of the Guardians of the Poor and last evening conveyed to the City Farm where he ought to be kept until arrangements are made for his admission into the State Lunatic Asylum. It is highly improper to allow him to be at liberty while insane. He has the strength of three men and with that murderous spirit so often induced by aberration of the mental faculties, might do serious harm.

BURGLARS ABOUT.—Attempt was made on Tuesday night to enter burglariously the store of Mr. McCloskey, and tavern of Mrs. Hacke on the Braddock's Field Plank Road. The burglars had succeeded in boring holes through the door but a watch dog in the vicinity getting scent of their presence made such loud alarm that the whole neighborhood was aroused and the burglars vamoosed.

THE Cricketers left yesterday for Cleveland.

A SEWER WASHED AWAY.—A sewer in the Seventh Ward, known as "Rice's Sewer," was washed away by the heavy rains of Tuesday. The water was turned from its natural channel and rushed down the hill, overflowing the garden and the residence of the late William Price, known as the "Round House," on Pennsylvania Avenue. The lot was covered to the depth of a foot, and the garden was considerably damaged, as well as other lots in the same neighborhood. Price's foundry was also overflowed.

We are informed that almost every heavy rain —and we have had many of them this summer —overflows the gutters and sewers leading from Wylie street to Pennsylvania Avenue, causing cellars to be filled and yards to be washed out in a manner not at all pleasant or comfortable to the tenants of houses in that vicinity. The matter deserves the consideration of the proper authorities and ought to be remedied.

NOT CHOLERA BUT WHISKEY.—Word was sent on the wings of speed, yesterday to the office of the Board of Health, to the effect that a man had died of cholera at the Point, and that the body was lying on the floor of the house unattended to. Mr. Fortune, secretary of the Board, hastened down, entered the house and true enough there was the body. But on examination he discovered indications of the presence of whiskey in large quantities. He caught the body by the shoulders, shook it pretty severely, and it stood up and staggered away—a genuine case of dead-drunkenness. There was no cholera about him, but we have no doubt Mr. F. exhibited a little choler—eh?

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT ON THE NEW PORTAGE ROAD.—We learned yesterday of a serious accident which occurred on Monday evening on the new Portage Road at the foot of Plane No. 9. A party of ladies and gentlemen from Gaysport were out "buckle hervying," when the locomotive Hercules came along and they all got on at the invitation of the engineer. When four miles from Hollidaysburgh, the engine came in contact with a landslide and was precipitated down an embankment thirty feet high. Wm. Berry, 14 years old, was instantly killed; Miss Ann De Armit was fatally scalded, and fourteen others seriously injured.

ROBBERY.—On Thursday night last, Mr. Dean, proprietor of the Pavillion Hotel, at Rochester, was robbed of his shirt, drawers, pants, coat, watch, together with some change in his pockets. Several of the boarders were also relieved of sundry articles of clothing. Very strong suspicion attaches to a German lad formerly employed about the Hotel. He was followed to Allianee, but there all trace was lost.

DEATH OF ANOTHER PITTSBURGHER FROM YELLOW FEVER.—A young man named Maloy, son of Mr. Maloy, widow of Keran Maloy, deceased, died of yellow fever on the up-trip from New Orleans, whither he had gone as a cabin boy on the Belle. The body arrived here yesterday. Mrs. Maloy resides at the corner of Front and Water streets.

BUCKA WADE, the negro who was arrested some days ago on a charge of grand larceny, had a further hearing before Alderman Heisly, yesterday, and was fully committed in default. The prosecutor is Thomas McCoy, constable. The articles stolen were a watch and a quantity of dry goods.

THE large amount of Real Estate and Stocks, in the hands of the Trustees of H. D. King, and also the desirable property in the Allegheny city of the estate of the late John Tassey, will be sold this evening at 8 o'clock, at the Merchant's Exchange, by P. M. Davis, auctioneer.

LARGE audiences continue to attend the exhibition of Sliter, Wells and Burke's Troupe of Minstrels at the Theatre. Birch is the most laughter-provoking fellow we have seen for "a time and half a time."

IT will be seen by the Health Report for the past week that the health of the city continues excellent. No deaths from cholera have occurred.

THE Times says Dam No. 1 is half filled with boats loaded with coal, ready to take advantage of the first rise to start down the river.

THE alarm of fire yesterday afternoon was caused by the burning of a chimney on Fifth, near the corner of Wood street.

JOB BARKER announces himself for the Sheriffalty. He is not a "Know Nothing," but he's "No Gag Law," strong.

RECOVERING.—Enock Howell, the young man recently stabbed by Cyres, is in a fair way for recovery.

THE thermometer at noon yesterday was 86 degrees above zero.

SOUTH SIDE MADEIRA, 1829. Imported by Bagaleshl, Floric & Co.
Every one interested in the Maine Law Question will read

Cone Cut Corners.

"the great Palchaus of the Maine law men," as it has been styled, with intended sarcasm—the New American publications have embodied as much genuine humor. Lovers of "Old Side Maiden," will be interested in the success of the vineyard and growth of this wine. In such warm weather, refiners can hardly be expected to work very enthusiastically, yet CONE CUT CORNERS is receiving from them warm commendation.

From the St. Louis Republican.

A powerful writer, elegant in his style, a graphic describer of men and things, a discriminating critic of the times, natural in his characters, a genuine humorist, and sure to be welcomed by thousands of readers.

From the Eleventh (Me.) American.

Will create a sensation in the literary world.

From the Parkville (N. Y.) Eagle.

Brimming full of genuine humor and satire.

From the Cincinnati (O.) Atlas.

A true picture of American life, drawn without the colors so commonly used by the novelist.

From the Cincinnati Columbian.

His pictures of New Hook generally are remarkably vivid and faithful, and, down to the very provincialisms in which he abounds, show that he knew what he was writing about.

From the Boston Partizan Recorder.

It is pervaded by a deep sense of humor and irony.

From the Boston (O.) Gazette.

A regular built "Yankee" and he takes life—brown with a steady hand and in genuine colors.

From the Boston Bee.

Some of the characters in this volume are delineated with a boldness of outline and a delicacy of shading, which are certainly not surpassed in any work that has come under our notice.

From the Medium (Wis.,) Democrat."

For rich and delicate humor, sterling satire and affecting incident, we do not recollect a book published for several years that surpasses it.

From the Syracuse Journal.

A legitimate hit at the pillers of self that is there progressive days are locking back.

From the Boston Bee.

Written with a strong and critical pen, and will make its mark upon the reading world.

From the Syracuse (N. Y.) Standard.

This is essentially a book of the age.

From the Boston Post.

It is a book of a thousand—a book, perhaps, of a million, considered as an American work.

From the New York Evangelist.

The work is one of decided ability.

OTTAWA, Ill. July 24.—The case in the Supreme Court of the People vs. Wadsworth being a suit brought by the people of the State of Illinois against the securities of Julius Wadsworth, State agent of the late firm of Wadsworth & Shields, of New York, was decided this morning. The opinion of the Court was delivered by Caton, Justice, and judgment was given in which the following points were decided:—That the Governor was necessitated to employ the agency of others in the payment of the interest of the State Bonds and that the appointment was entirely valid. That the Governor having implied authority to make the appointment had also authority to take a bond for the faithful performance of the duties of that agent That that agent was the agent of the State and not of the Governor. That the appointment continued until specifically terminated and that the Bond was valid while the agency continued. The people of Illinois are a political corporation and are authorized to sue. The suit was brought in the name of the people. The demurror of the defendant to the declaration was overruled. The amount in the hands of Wadsworth unaccounted for is $132,000

CHICAGO, July 24.—The Kansas Legislature met at the Shawnee Mission, on the 16th inst. pursuant to adjournment.

Mr. Marshall gave notice of a bill requiring citizens emigrating from Massachusetts and those states which have annulled or may nullify the the laws of the United States, to take an oath to support the laws of Kansas.

John Thompson Perry, of the Methodist Church, South, was elected Chaplain on the 16th.

A bill to prevent the sale of intoxicating liquors and games of chance within one mile of Shawnee Mission was passed.

A joint committee of five was appointed to devise a code of laws for the government of the Territory.

Mr. Marshall, of Pawnee district, introduced a bill providing that every man who shall pay the sum of $1 poll tax and produce a receipt for the same to the Judge of any election, shall be a legal voter, provided such shall be citizens of the United States and shall have taken an oath to support the Constitution of the United States and the act organising the Territory of Kansas. The bill was read the first time.
