PROVERBS OF THE CHINESE TABLE-TALK.—He who will eat the lord must not mind the wadding.

What cares the sick man for mare's milk? What cares he who is parched for boza (beer made of millet), when he is drinking at the spring.

Allah allows the crop to fall of him who leaves nothing for the bird to glean.

Lamb, go not to the wolf's dwelling; cock, go not to the abode of the kite.

The house of the Sultan lives in the mouth of him who has cast but a glance at Stambool.

Destrest thou the hurricane? then praise the calm.

He who has suffered shipwreck, speaks no longer of the beauty of the sea.

We first fell the plantain, and then praise its shade.

Bald though the hawk be, yet he purfeth himself up.

The lass with the black locks lost the comb; the old woman with a bald head found it.

When you have no pole to knock down the peach from the tree, you say: 'tis a sour.

Every fir is not a cedar, but each thinks itself one.

When the poor man is made judge, it is time for the sick to quit the community.

The neighborhood of the palm, bear which the mushroom grows, is relationship, in the eyes of the latter.

One man bores into the turpentine-tree with his knife; another draws the oil in a stone jar.

AGRICULTURAL, &C.

Pittsburgh Hedge Farm Nursery,

SITUATED on Wilkins Avenue, about one quarter of a mile from the second toll gate on the Penn'a Railroad, Turnpike Road, an extension of Fourth street, and about three and a quarter miles from Pittsburgh.

WM. & JAS. MURDOCK, Proprietors.

They offer for sale a very large collection of all trees and plants suitable for the formation of this fashionable hedging.

The Nursery now covers some 30 acres of ground and contains over 250,000 trees, shrubs and plants, and over 50,000 of these are Evergreens, and the Nursery is one of the finest for removal to orchards and pleasure grounds.

Plants carefully packed and sent according to directions to any part of the United States.

We refer to any of the best cultivation of the lovers of shrubbery and verdure in the trade in our immediate vicinity for the Spring of 1854, embracing nearly all the Evergreens usually cultivated, and the Hedge Plants in general cultivation in this section of country. Plants can be preserved of many things quite large by digging before Spring. Prices moderate as usual. From strangers, cash or satisfactory reference in the city of Pittsburgh required at all times.

Letters addressed to us through Wilkins Post Office, near Pittsburgh, Pa., or left at our Nursery, on market days, in the Diamond Market, will be promptly attended to.
