When it is remembered that this Convention was salled to establish a new party; that the call was haued only two weeks since; that there were no spective townships; and that there were no special efforts made to secure a full representation; the fact that 58 out of 59 election districts were second Ward—Robert Rodgers and R. dissenting volce.
Our candidate for Senator was for many years he was the Democratic candidate for Senato and subsequently for Congress. His anti-slaver convictions have for some time past, however eparated him from that party. He is well and favorably known throughout the county, pos seemes abundant qualifications, enjoys a character above suspicion, and will make, if elected, most useful and trustworthy Senator. The Assembly ticket is one to which we ca point with pride, and safely ask the public to support. At its head stands JOHN P. PERRET young man who has already attained a front rank at the bar, and won by his talents and at-tainments a position there which any man might be proud to occupy. John Bissall is a retired man of business, of sterling integrity, well known to the community, and excellently quali-fied for the station. ADAM REFERENCE is also well known to the business community and highly appreciated. He is a Pennsylvanian of descent, has resided in this county for nearly twenty-five years, and has the confidence of all who know him. He has been in past years a Democrat; but being unwilling to follow that party in its pro-Slavery course, has ident elf with the party of the people. MAT-THE HENDERSON IS a substantial, intelligent and worthy farmer of Elizabeth township, who will do honor to the post, if chosen. In 1836 he was elected a member of the Convention to he was elected a member of the Convention to revise the Constitution of this State, at a time when parties were very evenly balanced, and discharged the onerous duties of that station with great credit. J. McK. SHODGRAIS is a farmer of Mifflin township, of ripe experience, intelligent, housest, respected and highly popular among his fellow farmers. We think we may safely challenge comparison of this Assembly ticket with any now in nomination, or likely to

The candidate for Sheriff, Grozon B. Riddle. was elected Prothonotary on the Democratic tickes in 1848, and his name is familiar throughout the county. His excellent business capaci-ties qualify him for a thorough discharge of the dates of the Sheriffalty, and his great personal popularity is the best evidence that could be popularity is the year a nomination fit to be presented that this was a nomination fit to be made.

For Frothonotary the Convention presented the name of THEODORE H. NEVIE, and we fee no hesitancy in saying that a better selection sould not have been made. Mr. Nevin has never been identified in any manner with politics, yet enjoys a very large chare of public regard, both as a man of business and a useful member of the community. He is admirably fitted for will not be given in any other quarter.

Of course there were many in the Convention
who preferred other men, and it was a sgood age that, while there was no personal solicitasign that, while there was no personal solicitation for nominations, there was an active competition in the Convention for most of them; and it is a pleasure to reflect that there would have been no reason to regret the pomination and contact the convention of the convention who would not be small press his claims. Dr. G. had also his friends, but he would at this crisis deprecate any contest for the nomination, having himself of either of those who were unsuscessful.

When the names of Mr. Darnie and of Dr. Gazzam had been presented for the Senatorial momination, Dr. Gazzam saked leave to make a few remarks. His name, said Dr. G., had been mentioned some months ago in connection with the office of Senator, and though it had not been announced in any of the papers that he would be a candidate for that office at the coming election, many of his personal friends had expressed the desire to have the opportunity of again voting for him, and it was understood that he would probably be before the people. But Gazzam had been presented for the Senatorial nomination, Dr. Gazzam asked leave to make a of the community. He is admirably fitted for the office, and the people can not do better than pressed the desire to have the opportunity of he would probably be before the people. But this was prior to the organization of the Repub-lican party, and then he was known in politics preciating friends: and Mr. Nixon is so well known and so generally liked as to have no need for special commendation. Mr. Miller, the candidate for Auditor for the full term, has seen active service in the City Councils, is a good secountant, and just the man for the place. Mr. Dickson, for the short term, is a man of fine beats are the indigent formation of the new habits, qualified by experience for this impertant office, and deserves, as do all the rest, to be triumphantly elected.

Altogether, it is a ticket with which we may safely invite comparison. It is the superior, in any siew, of any ticket nominated or likely to be nominated, and is all the better for being made up of men who did not seek the place they compy. It is a practical illustration of the principle that the office should seek the man, such as will not be given in any other quarter.

following resolutions through its chairman, Mr.

Shields:

Resolved, That the repeal of the Missouri conpromise was a figrant violation of a time honored compact and an unjustifiable breach of plighted faith.

2. That the acts of violence and civil war in Kansas and the infamous legislation attempted by the slave holding conquerors of that hitherto free territory, are results directly flowing from the passage of the Kansas-Nebrasks bill.

3. That the purpose of the violence and despotsom practised in Kansas under that bill, and the general purpose manifested by the south to extend slavery over our entire national domain impel us to unite without regard to former party distinctions, upon a platform of determined hostility to slavery aggression. We therefore establish for our political guidance the following cardinal rules:

First—We will resist the spread of slavery under whatever shape or color it may be attempted.

under whatever maps or other as may be tempted.

Second—To this and we will labor assiduously to render inoperative and void, that portion of the Kansas-Nebraska bill which abolisher Freedom in territory withdrawn from the influence of slavery by the Missouri Compromise of 1820.

Third—We will oppose by every lawful and constitutional means the cristence of slavery it any national territory and the further lacross of slave states or alaye territory in this confederation.
