PITTSBURGH GAZETTE

THE WINDWARD ISLANDS, of which Mr. F. Hincks, of Canada, is appointed Governor by Great Britain, contain a population of 130,000 inhabitants, and real estate is said to be of more value now than at any former period. There are no waste or crown lands, and the population is well distributed, embracing also a large proportion of European resident proprietors. The land is productive is in a high state of cultivation, and every estate produces provisions of all kinds in rotation. These facts are stated chiefly in reference to the principal island, Barbadoes, but may be taken as true of the whole group, whose crops this season are said to be likely to exceed by 40,000 hogshead of sugar, what they were in the palmy days of slavery. This, if true, is a very strong fact, going to show that the British West Indies are recovering from the ruinous effects of sudden emancipation.
