COURTS OF ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS.—Before Judges M'Clure, Adams and Boggs.

Commonwealth vs. Alfred Conrad, indicted for larceny on oath of Oliver Jones. Both parties were colored. Jones testified that he had entrusted Conrad with his goods at Evansville, Indiana, consisting of a trunk containing two $10 gold pieces, and a lot of valuable clothing &c., with directions where to leave them in Cincinnati. He did not get possession of them until he found them where Conrad stayed in Alleghany city about ten days afterwards, Conrad had on one of the prosecutor's vests at the time. He did not again obtain his money.—Roberts for Commonwealth, G. D. Mahon, and O. M. Hays for defence. The Court charged the fallenious intent, to constitute larceny, must have existed at the time he received the trunk.—No subsequent dishonesty on the part of the receiver would constitute th's crime. But a bailee might steal from his owner while he was in possession of the goods. The law in the case was fully laid down and the Court remarked that from the intrinsic legal difficulties which surrounded the case it might be unsafe to convict. If the felonious intent and taking took place at Evansville, the defendant could not be indicted for larceny in this state; if he subsequently having possession of the goods, made up his mind to use them it was not larceny. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty and Conrad was discharged.

Commonwealth vs James Wilkinson indicted for administering blue vitriol to Polly Campbell. Roberts for Commonwealth; J. D. Mahon for defence.

The prosecutrix, Mrs. Campbell, testified that she lived at Braddock's Field; that Wilkinson was married to her daughter. On Sunday, at dinner time, she poured out a cup of tea full of coffee and put it on the stove; it was in my daughter's house; went out for fifteen or twenty minutes; he was sitting at the door when I went and when I came back, my daughter told us both to come into dinner; we went and ate; she said, this coffee tastes queer to me; I had brought it in and poured it in a cup; she said, if I live till this time to-morrow she would go over the river; he said, may be so; about half an hour after I drank the coffee I felt a pain in my stomach; Sarah Speers, a neighbor, came and asked me to go into a field; we went, and my stomach hurt me so bad I was obliged to sit down on a log, and finally went home; my daughter had supper ready, and I drank about half a cup of coffee; and went over to stay all night with a neighbor woman; Mary Edwards advised me to take camphor; but I refused because once before it had given me cramps; went to bed, but was up and down all night; vomited between twelve and one o'clock; went home early in the morning; Mrs. Edwards' house was about three squares from my daughter's; went in and laid on a bed; called for more coffee and drank a cup of it; continued very sick, and Dr. Ramsey was sent for, who bled me and gave me some medicine; threw up some stuff having a peculiar appearance, which the Dr. examined and said I was poisoned; Dr. Ramsey came first, and then Dr. Palmer; I got better after I had vomited, but was sick for two or three days; on the Thursday before there was quarrelling between Wilkinson and his wife; he said that Ramsey, meaning Dr. R., had got back, and intended to sue him for slander, and he understood that I was his principal witness, and he swore that before that suit came on he would put me out of the way; he also said he would put Ramsey out of the way; he said he would put his foot on the cars, and nobody would know who did it; the house was her's before she married Wilkinson; if she had remained single, the Odd Fellows were to have paid what was unpaid on the property.

Cross examined: by Mr. Mahon. This was about three weeks after Wilkinson was married to my daughter; I lived there. Henry Bradford and Mr Wm. M'Combs were boarding there. He treated me the same as the other boarders. He is a coal digger. Dr. Ramsey lived at Braddock's Fields. He always was my daughter's doctor. Did not ask M'Combe opinion as to the best way to get rid of my son-in-law. M'Combe said to my daughter before she was married that he hoped she was not going to marry a man that had a wife and two children. Did not see Dr. Ramsey take a vial from his pocket and empty its contents into what I had thrown up.—Wilkinson went into my room and asked how I was; he did not ask if I blamed any person with being instrumental in procuring my sickness.—Wilkinson was arrested on Monday night on information of my son.

Dr. Palmer was called in. Dr. Ramsey was there. Saw the contents of her stomach, sent for ammonia, and on adding some to a solution of it found a trace of copper; but copper is frequently found in culinary articles, such as pepper, butter and pickels; the quantity indicated was very small. On putting in the ammonia, besides the trace of copper there was a metallic sediment which I took for calomel; verdigris or blue vitrol was the substance indicated; its presence would not account for the burning sensation in the stomach; a drachm would operate as a sudden emetic; I should not like to take it. Her general condition did not indicate the presence of an emetic; she was not nauseated; she had been sick some time.

Cross-examined: Did not discover more than she might have taken from pickles or from apple butter; don't know where Dr. Ramsey is; she said on my asking her that she had reason to think she had been poisoned.

Geo. Campbell went for Dr. Ramsey; he gave her a vomit as soon as he came; Wilkinson came home from his work on Monday evening as usual; saw the physicians examine the matter thrown up; did not live in the house; heard of her sickness on Monday morning.

Cross-examined: Told Wilkinson when he came home what had transpired; did not swear before the magistrate that Wilkinson had put poison in the coffee; said I thought he had done so; Wilkinson, so far as I know, is industrious, Wm. Jones, a coal merchant, called upon me and intimated to me my prosecuting Wilkinson; he said if I did not take him up he would take me up; Jones thought Wilkinson was the man that had done it.

Mrs. Ann Rotrock was at the house on Monday, and detailed the occurrence. The arrangement was made to arrest Wilkinson before he came home; he was home some time before the constable came; he knew that an officer had been sent for.

Mrs. Campbell re-called: On that Sunday there was no one there but Wilkinson, myself and daughter; the boarders had gone to church have not spoken to my daughter since I got well.

This lady showed a great deal of feeling against the defendant in giving her testimony.

Mr. Mahon, for defence, called Robert M'Combe, who had boarded at the house and who gave the defendant a good character. Henry Bradford also testified that he never saw anything incorrect with Mr. Wilkinson about the house. After Wilkinson had been told that she said she was poisoned, he went into the room and asked her if she blamed any body with it, and she said no, that she blamed no one with it. The first one that I heard it from was James Carson. It was James Wilkinson who was suspected.

Mr. M'Intyre knew Wilkinson in Scotland three years, and between five and six in this country. He always sustained a good character; knew nothing against his character.

Mr. Mahon, for the defense, and Mr. Roberts for the prosecution, addressed the Jury, who returned a verdict of not guilty.

Ellen Desmond and Mary Feldman, cross bills for assault and battery. Margaret Germon and Jacob Bower, cross suits for the same, and Mary King, who had preferred a bill for the same against Margaret Feldman, all of which bills were ignored, were called, and all the parties entened to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Wm. Kennedy, James M'Cool and James Nixon; indictment, assault and battery, on oath of Moses Donaldson; and Commonwealth vs Moses Donaldson and Sarah Donaldson, on oath of James M'Cool, for assault and battery. Tried by the same jury; Mahon for Donaldson, Black for M'Cool. This was an "Irish fight," near the river at M'Kee's Rocks. Hair was pulled, fingers were bitten and blows were struck. Donaldson and his wife and M'Cool were the main belligerents; the others were got into the scrape by interfering to stop the fight. Donaldson and his wife were drunk; she came at M'Cool with an axe, but he was wise enough to keep out of her way, Donaldson and he then came to close quarters, when M'Cool got his fingers bitten; and Mrs. Donaldson fastened both hands in his hair when he was down, and held on like a mad woman. The case went to the jury under the charge of the Court, without counsel from counsel. The jury convicted James M'Cool on the one side and Moses Donaldson on the other.

THE CONTRABAND claim, and those of those who have consulted attornies have been so advised, that in performing their duties under the new liquor law, they are not bound to go to this or that Alderman's office, and forthwith make information against those who, they are informed, have been selling liquor contrary to this law. The law makes it their duty under heavy penalties to return such cases as they shall be informed of, and their attornies have directed them in all cases where the proper information is given them, to take the names of both the parties and witnesses in each case, and to return them to the next term of the Court of Quarter Sessions, exactly in the same manner that they have hitherto been bound to return the names of those persons in their baliwicks who sold liquor without license, on the first day of the term. It is a matter entirely voluntary with them whether they go at once before a magistrate and make information or not. They are not compelled by the law to do so. The only difference is that under the new law they must return the names of witnesses to prove each case. This view of the matter will put it in the power of the constables, if they so choose, to keep all cases not already returned until the December term of the Court.

J. S. HALL & SPEER.—VALLEY FORGE PLOW WORKS.—MANUFACTORY IN MANCHESTER; WAREHOUSE, No. 163 LIBERTY STREET.—This a new firm, and judging by the display of plows (over twenty different varieties,) made by them, at the Fair, they make good promise of taking the lead of all similar establishments in the Union. They have already taken a number of prizes and premiums at all our Fairs and Plowing Matches, and have taken four first premiums out of seven at our County Fair, viz:

Silver Cup for No. 15		Iron Centre Plow,
" " "	14	" "
" " "	4	" Steel "
" Medal "	3	Drill Plow for corn and potatoe digger.

We would call the attention of our farmers to their No. 17 Patent Iron Centre Sward Plow—the prize plow—which is considered by all who have used it to be the lightest draught and easiest running plow ever made. J. S. Hall is the inventor and patenter of the Improved Iron Centre Plow, and by the No. 17 has achieved a name which must rank amongst the celebrated mechanics of the country. All their plows combine every essential quality desired by farmers, and for cheapness, strength and durability, are scarcely to be surpassed.

THE MERRICK HOUSE AT NEW BRIGHTON DESTROYED BY FIRE.—We regret to announce that this large and handsome edifice, erected some eight or nine years since, at New Brighton, was entirely destroyed by fire yesterday about noon. The fire originated from a spark from the kitchen chimney, which fell upon the roof. The flames were raging on the roof before the fire was discovered, and, considerable wind blowing at the time, it was found impossible to check them, or save the building from destruction.—Most of the furniture was carried out and saved. The building is a mass of ruins, the walls having fallen in.

The Merrick House was owned by Mr. S. Merrick, and was by him very popularly conducted. It was a favorite resort for families from the city during the summer months.

We did not learn the exact loss, but hear it estimated at over $20,000. There was a partial insurance. We will give further particulars tomorrow.

THE baby show of Barnum and Col. Wood is creating quite a sensation amongst the mothers, and indeed everybody else in Pittsburgh. The opinions entertained in regard to it are various. Some favoring, others denouncing, and yet all curious to see the promised exposition. For our own part, we cannot imagine a more attractive, interesting or instructive exhibition than that presented by a collection of one hundred beautiful, intelligent and innocent children, whose developments, both physical and intellectual, sends a thrill of joy not only to the hearts of the parents but to that of every beholder. If good is to result to the human family in the matter of proper treatment in the rearing of children from these baby shows then we say, let us have them, and often. If no good result, then abandon them. But to judge properly of their merits or demerits, we must take their practical working, and this affair of Barnum and Woods will afford as a favorable opportunity.

TELEGRAPHIC.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 5.—Yesterday evening while the Democrats of the 18th Ward were returning from the Mass Meeting, several pistol shots were fired into the procession from the corner of Pine and Baltimore Streets, in the extreme Western part of the City, by certain parties, said to belong to the Know Nothing Order. A young man named Thomas Burke, who was in the procession, was shot in the head and died shortly afterwards, at the Infirmary, where he was taken. Thomas Davis has been arrested, charged with the murder. The occurrence has caused considerable excitement. The affair appears to have had its origin in an old fend, existing between the adherents of rival fire companies and political clubs.

The political excitement is very great here, there are torch-light processions, and Mass Meetings nightly. The Americans are holding a meeting to-night.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 5.—The largest meeting ever held in Independence Square, took place this evening at the call of the American party. Delegations from various wards marched to the Square in procession with music, banners and lanterns, speaking going on from three different stands, at the principal stand Thos. I Perkins, presided. An address was read and adopted by acclamation. Speeches followed by Lewis C. Levin, William F. Small and others. Their voices failed in the effort to make themselves heard to more than a very small portion of the mass, and they were also continually interrupted by the arrival of fresh delegations. The meeting closed about ten o'clock with a grand piece fireworks, the motto of which was "Our own, our Native Land."

BOSTON, Oct. 5.—The execution of James Wilson for the murder a year ago of a colored man in the State Prison, was to have taken place in this city to-day; but a short time before th hour set for his execution, and after the scaffold had been erected, the Governor and Council who had been especially called together to receive the petition of certain physicians for time to show that the prisoner was insane when he committed the deed, granted a reprieval for sixty days.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 5.—The mail this morni g brings no papers south of Savannah. The Russian Minister at Washington waited on Lieut. Maury yesterday and presented him with an autograph letter from the Grand Duke Constantine complimenting his eminent labors in the cause of the science of navigation.

BUFFALO, Oct. 5.—The Merrick House at New Brighton, Penn., was destroyed by fire this morning. We have no particulars.

WASHINGTON CITY, Oct. 5.—The President has appointed James L Lows, Judge of the District Court of the United States for Iowa. Josiah Pierce, Jr., of Portland has been appointed Secretary of Legation at St. Petersburgh

BUFFALO, Oct. 5.—The schooner Ivanhoe bound from Cleveland to Mackinaw with a cargo of coal was run into and sunk last night. No lives were lost.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 5.—The receipts of Wheat today are 24,000 bushels, and prices for the grades are from 4 to 5 cents better were 85 purchase to a port; thence north 19¼ deg., east 42 perches to a post; thence north 70½ deg., east 14 perches to a hickory tree; thence north 9 deg., east 64 perches to a hickory tree, thence south 19½ deg., east 116 perches to a stone; thence south 70½ deg., west 140 perches to a stone; thence south 19½ deg., west 176 perches to a dogwood, and thence south 21 deg., west 43 5-10 perches to the place of beginning. The plan of survey, containing 99 acres and 13 perches, strict measure, is about to be made, a copy of which is to be annexed to the deed.

This property is most beautiful, 14 miles from the city of Pittsburgh, and 3 miles from the Turtle Creek Station, on the Penna. Railroad and in the immediate neighborhood of the Penna. Railroad shops. The no 1 is excellent and in a good state of cultivation, with a large young orchard of grafted fruit trees in bearing, and an ample supply of spring water the best quality of lime stone, and is particularly valuable on account of its coal, which underlies the entire surface.

Terms of sale, one third cash, the balance in two equal annual payments, with interest, to be secured by mortgage on the premises. The present fall crop will be reserved.

MONETARY AND COMMERCIAL.

The N Y Courier says If the rates now prevalent for bills on England should remain thirty days, we may look for a reversion of coin to our dry banks to fully fifteen millions before December. There are abundant grounds for anticipating a favorable condition of the foreign exchanges for a few months, and a consequent cessation of specie shipments. The Cotton season will soon be at its height and furnish ample exchange on Europe, meanwhile. Breadstuffs will also furnish a basis for bills on England and the Continent.

COFFEE.—There has been some further movement to-day in coffee. We note sales of 1,400 bags Rio, out of the cargo of the bark Spartan, on private terms, and 600 bags good fair quality do, out of the same cargo, at 11¾c. Also to-day of 100 bags rejected Rio at 10¾c. Holders are chiefly firm in their views to-day, as they have been for some days past. We quote to-day fair to good Rio at 11@ 11¾c, and prime do at 11¾@11¾c. We note the sale to-day of the bark Antelope from Rio with a cargo of 3,100 bags. Also, that lot of 1,400 bags Rio ex the ship reported yesterday as being sold out of the cargo of the ship Henry Kneeland, was, we understand, purchased for Philadelphia account.

Bait. American.

The shipments made from this port since the 10th of August, by the way of Ohio river, as reported by Mr. Dean, are as follows: 72 Boston 10,101 bbl flour, 326 bags of covered and 1052 uncovered hemp. To New York 23,887 bbls flour, and 121 bales covered and 1113 uncovered hemp, 1,971 dry hides and 1,105 bundles green, 4,149 sks wheat, 70 Philadelphia 1,029 sks wheat, and 237 bales hemp.

Hemp.—So far, has met with a brisk market, and the impression seems to be that a further advance will be realized before the close of the season. The amount in warehouse now unsold is about 4,000 bales, and the resales to come forward is variously estimated at from 3,000 to 8,000 bales. Probably the medium between these estimates will prove correct. Last year, during October, 2,502 bales were sold, and the year before, 1,664. The Missouri is at present at a low state, precluding heavy shipments, but it is hardly probable navigation will improve materially until spring. At the close of September, last year, the amount in store was reported at 17,000 bales—range of the market $120 to $135, common to prime undressed, with occasional lots of very choice at $140 to $145. October opened less than with an improved demand, sufficient to prevent a further accumulation of stock. Shipments were made on producer's account, and city and Ohio manufacturers purchased liberally. Freights to Cincinnati were 70c @ 75c per 100 lbs, Louisville 55c, and freely paid to bare were manufacturers and so light the tonnage to that market.

Flour is higher at this time than it was a year ago. At the opening of October, then, country superfine brought $6 25 to $6 50, and city $8 25; country extra $7, best by the close of the mon $ country superfine $6,75 and city $7. superfine attained $6,75 and city $7.

The prospects ... receipts shipments are more favorable than ... receipts ... equally as good, if not better, ... demand ... steadier ... as was the case then ... and on the whole, the ... appearance is more promising for ... St. Louis Republican.

The London Times confirms the announcement by the previous steamers that very large Breadstuffs have been sent to this country. The point now to be considered on this side is, whether or not there will be a sufficient supply to the end of the season. The deficit in France is only one-fourth of the usual amount, while in Russia the yield is a fair one, though not up to the heavy crop of 1854.—There is no tendency to advance in Western Germany, but an available surplus on the line of the Rhine, and supplies from Odessa will again be cut off, as will by the close of the month from a million and a half to two millions of quarters from the Black Sea. The money news is less discouraging from England. The bank had lost $3,000,000 in gold, but the manager adjourned their weekly conference on the 27th inst. Bank Deposits $9,000,000, without further action on the rate of interest. Some discounts were had outside below the present bank rate of 4½ @ cent. The arrivals of specie were $2,500,000 from the West Indies, and $2,500,000 from Australia—most of the latter on the ship Francis Ha ly, just in. The shipments to the east were $2,500,000 principally for Turkey, and $2,295,000 in silver for British India.—The condition of the Bank of France is the best ever exhibited. The reserve is down to $67,750,000 against $83,000,000 at this time last year. To check the speculations on the Bourse, and the disastrous movements in the Credit Mobilier, the bank has advanced the rate of interest on advances on stocks to 5 @ 5½ cent while commercial bills remain at 4 @ cent.—N Y Times.

There was marked relief in the money market to-day—the long existing hostile feeling between the banks and the leading bankers had considerably abated, and in consequence of the liberal offerings of bills on sight, the banks had strengthened their resources to a very considerable extent. The Clearing House balances were $5,000,000, and the banks had advanced the rate of interest on advances on stocks to 6 per cent, while commercial bills remain at 4 @ cent.—N Y Times.

Corrza—There has been some further movement to-day in coffee. We note sales of 1,400 bags Rio, out of the cargo of the bark Spartan, on private terms, and 600 bags good fair quality do, out of the same cargo, at 11¾c. Also to-day of 100 bags rejected Rio at 10¾c. Holders are chiefly firm in their views to-day, as they have been for some days past. We quote to-day fair to good Rio at 11@ 11¾c, and prime do at 11¾@11¾c. We note the sale to-day of the bark Antelope from Rio with a cargo of 3,100 bags. Also, that lot of 1,400 bags Rio ex the ship reported yesterday as being sold out of the cargo of the ship Henry Kneeland, was, we understand, purchased for Philadelphia account.
