Reading Matter on each page of this paper.

JUDGE KANE ON A NEW TRACK.—When Jane Johnson sent in a petition to Judge Kane, setting forth some important facts in the Williamson case, the Judge declined to receive it, but said that, "of course," if such a petition came from Mr. Williamson himself, he would hear it. The counsel of Mr. W. at once drew up such a paper for his signature as the Court suggested a willingness to receive from him, and presented it; but the Judge at once commenced to throw obstacles in the way of its reception, directing the counsel to take a rule to show cause why it should not be received, &c. On Tuesday last another application was made by the counsel of Mr. Williamson to get in a petition before the Court, but Judge Kane, abandoning his former reserve, declared that he would listen to no application from him until he "purged himself of his contempt." In other words, Mr. Williamson must purjure himself, and then Judge Kane will hear him!

The course of this judicial Theban at once stamps him a pettifogger and a tyrant. Why did he say, as he did say, in answer to the motion to file Jane Johnson's petition, that he would receive from Mr. Williamson such a statement of facts as would show that Wheeler had no right to apply for the writ of habeas corpus, if he did not intend to receive it? Or, if he did intend to receive it, why does he ungraciously forfeit his word and slink away like a coward behind his prerogative? Was not the promise at first given a mere feigned intention, paraded in the hope that it would not be taken advantage of and so afford the opportunity to put Mr. Williamson in the wrong? And was not the refusal to comply with that promise an afterthought, rendered necessary for the maintenance of a wrong position?

We hear, in a rather indirect way, that Judge Kane is acting in this matter under directions received from the administration at Washington. The imprisonment of Williamson serves to show the South its fidelity to the slaveholding interest, and he is to be kept in prison if it takes all the power of the government to keep him there. When there was thought to be some probability that our State Supreme Court was composed of jurists with the stamina of men, and that they would vindicate the outraged honor of the State by bringing out Williamson on a writ of habeas corpus, it is said that the U. S. Marshal was directed to have a force of soldiers in readiness to receive ship, and defend him there with the aid of the army and navy against all state writs and whatever state power might be brought to back them. Must we suppose that it was a fear of the collision thus threatened that frightened two of the Judges into a surrender of their previous convictions that the writ ought to be issued? Alas! that we should be shut up to such a supposition!

Poor Williamson! Every door of legal escape seems shut against him. The courts of his own State turn a deaf ear to his plaint, and the tyrants who have clutched him are not only merciless but faithless. What seems worst of all, is, that the press of his own city is either too timid to speak, or too dull to comprehend the facts of his position. For instance, the Ledger of Wednesday thus betrays its ignorance of the question at issue:

"It appears to us that Passmore Williamson might get very easily out of his present difficulty, without any impeachment of the truth of his former return, or any sacrifice of personal dignity, except that which every citizen should make to the laws of his country. He, we presume, may come into court and say, if he can with a clear conscience, that he has not the custody of Jane Johnson, in any sense which gives him the control of her movements, or which would enable him to produce her in court in answer to the habeas corpus. The law does not require impossibilities of a man, and any reasonable probability, sustained by the sworn facts in the case, would, we presume, be admitted by the Judges to reinstate Williamson in the rights forfeited by his contumacy, the question of his responsibility for the part he took in the escape of the slaves being one for after consideration."

Why, man, that is precisely what he did say, at the very outset; and it was for saying just that, that his return was declared evasive and untrue, and he adjudged guilty of contempt. He cannot get out of prison in that way, we are sure, nor in any other honorable way, for the purpose of his detainers to crush the life and soul out of him is too plain. They do not intend to let him out, on any plea. Where one prevarication fails to serve them they will conjure up another.

So far Williamson has maintained the noble part and bearing of an innocent and injured man. Let him, with a stout heart, hold on yet a while longer. Deliverance cannot always tarry. If it come peaceably, well; but if not, woe to those who stand in the way of it.

FOREIGN DECISIONS.—The uniform tendency of the decisions made at Washington by the Postmaster General seems to be to complicate the Post Office law, and make it oppressive. Two or three such decisions have lately been rendered.

The Postage Law provides that "a single (printed or lithographed) circular in an unsealed envelope," shall pass through the mail for one cent, payable in advance of mailing. The Postmaster General has decided that

1st. If the wrapper or envelope of a circular had printed or embossed on it the name and address of the sender, the whole package thereby comprised two advertisements or "circulars" instead of one, and not lying under the rule of "a single circular in an unsealed envelope," was subject to letter postage, and to be stopped and condemned to that purgatory, our "dead letter office," unless prepaid three cents. And—

2d. That where a merchant prints a "circular letter" on one page of a sheet of letter or note paper, and on another page his own "business card," the sheet forms two distinct "advertisements," or documents and cannot go unless full letter postage is paid on it. This decision was first made known and enforced in St. Louis, and is now semi-officially announced at Washington.

The first of these decisions strikes us as being more nice than wise; but as it does not materially interfere with the business of sending printed circulars, it has come to be regarded as a mere instance of petty tyranny. But the second is absolutely oppressive, and seems to come in direct conflict with the law of Congress. The unquestionable design of Congress was that a "circular" should go for one cent postage, but the Postmaster General claims the right to set that intention aside by investigating the contents of said circular, and finding two subjects or two objects in the printed form, declares it to be something more than a "circular" within the meaning of the act.

It has long been the practice, both in the East and West, for merchants to issue a weekly review of the markets, in circular form, for their correspondents throughout the country, accompanied with their business cards; and by circulating these extensively they contribute largely to the revenues of the department. By the decision just cited, this class of circulars is put off at one stroke, without benefit to the department, and to the manifest injury of the trade of the country. The practice has existed so long, and proved so serviceable, without being questioned, that a decision against it at this late day is wanton injury to be unjustified.

There is still another decision to be announced, which is hardly more justifiable than the other. It is no less than this, that all printed advertisements sewed into and actually forming part of a magazine and its cover, will under the decision of the Department be considered as extraneous matter, and subject the whole copy to which it is thus attached, or with which it is thus incorporated, to letter postage."

What the Post Office is to gain by this we cannot imagine. It can merely drive such advertisements from the periodicals to the newspaper press. The magazine publisher may suffer, and the newspapers gain a trifle in the way of patronage; but the revenues of the Post Office will scarcely be improved thereby.

THE SPEAKERSHIP.—There will be a long and fierce struggle over the Speakership of the next House, so far as present indications go. The South and the North have each too much at stake in that office to let it pass by without a determined effort to obtain it. The Speaker, under the Rules appoints all the Committees, and always composes them in such a manner as to give the party or policy which he represents absolute mastery in all of them which are of importance. Thus, it is the custom to place six of the ruling party to three of the opposition on the Committee of Ways and Means, of the Judiciary, on Elections, on the District of Columbia, on the Territories, on Naval, Military, Indian, and Foreign Affairs, on the Public Lands, on the Post Office, and on Roads and Canals. These are the only Committees from which any subject of national importance can be introduced into the House, and the Standing Committees are the only channel through which business of any character can be regularly brought before the House. Not only can no proposition be entertained except by authority of these, but even should one of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular zeal and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a tiny little worm, no bigger than the pasture, and along this stone walls, should cure every humor in the system; yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to plant there and it will not seek, because it can't absorb it. There are no ifs nor nots, buts or ands about it. Thousands of certificates, a pedlar's cart-load, a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know its effects in every case. It has already done more for children than all other medicines in the world. Its power to relieve infants from worms, and restore health, is unparalleled. Its operation is perfectly safe, and may be given alike to children of one year old and to persons of sixty. I have seen poor, puny, wormy looking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health in two weeks. To those who are subject to a sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief to catarrh and dizziness. Some who have been costive for years, by the use of it have been regulated by it. Where the body is sound, it work quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular zeal and pain, but you must not be alarmed—they are worms, and must come from there in a worm. There is never a bad result from its use. On the contrary, when that feeling is gone you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard some of the most extravagant encomiums of it that man ever uttered to me, by the grand panjiar of the blood, Carter's Spanish Mixture.

The case of R. H. Ramsay alone should satisfy any who doubt. Call on the Agent and procure a pamphlet containing cures, which will astound you.

From the Home Journal, New York.—

"No article ever acquired so rapid celebrity and universal popularity as Lyon's Kathairon. To those who have used it (and who have'nt) the reason is obvious; as from the first application of the Kathairon to the Hair, its powers are manifested in arresting the fall of the hair, its perfume and agreeable enlivening effects, and finally in its unimpeachable purity. In short, it is the article in the toilet of a gentleman or lady's dressing room, that should stamp it an indispensable article of the toilet." The above is but one of numerous notices the press of the country has bestowed on this unrivaled as a toilet article. Be sure and ask for Lyon's Kathairon, as its unparalleled popularity has caused several unprincipled persons to put up valueless imitations, which if they can induce you to purchase, will prove a curse instead of a blessing to your hair. SPECIAL NOTICES.

Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge.—During a practice of more than twenty years, Dr. M'Lane had attended innumerable patients afflicted with every form of worm disease, and was induced to apply all the energies of his mind to the discovery of a vermifuge, or worm destroyer certain in its effects; the result of his labors is the American Worm Specific, now before the public, which is perfectly safe, and may be given alike to children of the most tender age, or to the aged adult; it is purely vegetable and salutes fever, and destroys with invariable success. It is ever of administration; and as it does not contain mercury in any form whatever, no restrictions are necessary with regard to drinking cold water, nor is it capable of doing the least injury to the tenderest infant. An incredible number of worms have been expelled by this great vermifuge.

☞ Purchasers will be careful to ask for DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, and take none else. All other Vermifuges, in comparison, are worthless. Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in the United States and Canada.

Important to Farmers—New Discoveries—Vegetable Cattle Powder.—These Powders are put up in one pound packs, and are really a good article, not only for the diseases incident to horses, cows, oxen, and other animals, but they are likewise an excellent article to improve the condition of the animal.

For Milch Cows, they not only improve the condition of milch cows, but they increase the quantity as well as richness of milk and butter. The proprietors say that it increases the quantity of butter from half a pound to a pound a week to each cow, while those persons who have tried it say a pound and a half is two pounds per week, with the same kind of feeding as before. Of one thing we are certain, all who use it once will use it all the time, and save money by the operation as well as improve the appearance of their stock. Price 25 cents per package; 7 packages for $1.

From the Home Journal, New York.—

"No article ever acquired so rapid celebrity and universal popularity as Lyon's Kathairon. To those who have used it (and who have'nt) the reason is obvious; as from the first application of the Kathairon to the Hair, its powers are manifested in arresting the fall of the hair, its perfume and agreeable enlivening effects, and finally in its unimpeachable purity. In short, it is the article in the toilet of a gentleman or lady's dressing room, that should stamp it an indispensable article of the toilet." The above is but one of numerous notices the press of the country has bestowed on this unrivaled as a toilet article. Be sure and ask for Lyon's Kathairon, as its unparalleled popularity has caused several unprincipled persons to put up valueless imitations, which if they can induce you to purchase, will prove a curse instead of a blessing to your hair. Sold in large bottles for only 25 cents.
