THURSDAY, Nov. 1, 1855.

Opinions were read in the following cases:

Smith vs. Beck—Error to the Court of Common Pleas of Venango county; Judgment reversed, venire de novo awarded; opinion by Ch. J. Lewis.

King et al vs. Murray—Error to Court of Common Pleas of Indiana county; the Court being equally divided in opinion; Judgment affirmed.

Schreiner vs. Kellar—Error to the Court of Common Pleas of Union county; Judgment affirmed; opinion by J. Black.

Fuller vs. Bradley—Error to the Court of Common Pleas of Lawrence county; Judgment affirmed; opinion by J. Black.

Black vs. McLean—Error to the Court of Common Pleas of Crawford county; Judgment reversed and judgment for the plaintiff for the money recovered before the Justice; opinion by J. Black.

Rogers vs. Watterman—Error to the Court of Common Pleas of Warren county; Judgment reversed and venire de novo awarded.

Noble vs. James—Error to the Court of Common Pleas of Cumberland county; Judgment affirmed; opinion by J. Black.

Elmmerly and wife vs. Road Commissioners—Certiorari to the Court of Common Pleas of Erie county; the motion to quash the writ is overruled; and the proceedings before the Justice are reversed and set aside, with directions that the Justice call the parties before him and proceed de novo according to law; opinion by J. Black.

Tanner vs. Elliott—Error to the Court of Common Pleas of Erie county. Judgment reversed, new trial awarded, and record remitted. Opinion by J. Lowrie.

Wagner vs. Bental or Wagner's—Appeal from the decree of the Orphan's Court of Beaver county. Decree affirmed with costs, and record remitted.

Garretson vs. Baradollar—Error to the Court of Common Pleas of Bedford county. Judgment affirmed and record remitted. Opinion by J. Lowrie.

Thompson vs. Blood—Error to the Court of Common Pleas of Jefferson county; Per curiam; Judgment affirmed.

McCandless vs. McWha—Error to the Court of Common Pleas of Beaver county; Judgment affirmed. Opinion by J. Lowrie.

On motion of W. A. Todd, Esq., Thomas R. Morgan, Esq., of Indiana county, was admitted to practice as an attorney of the Supreme Court.

The following cases were argued:

Wade vs. Hyzeek—Error to the Court of Common Pleas of Westmoreland county. Argued by Cook for plaintiff in error, and by Cowan for defendant in error.

Henry vs. Raiman—Error to the Court of Common Pleas of Somerset county. Argued by Baer for plaintiff in error, by Edie for defendant in error, and closed by Hague for plaintiff in error.

Rowan vs. King & Shrack—Error to the Court of Common Pleas of Somerset county. Argued by Gaither, for plaintiff, in error.

Nagle vs. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company.

Zook vs. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company... Both writs of error to the Court of Common Pleas of Indiana county. Argued by Stewart for plaintiff in error, by White and Coffey for defendant in error, and closed by Mr. Cowan for plaintiff in error.

The Court adjourned till this morning at nine o'clock.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS.—Before Judges McClure, Adams and Boggs.

THURSDAY, November 1, 1855

The Court charged the Jury in the case of the Commonwealth vs. William A. Steward, indicted for forgery on the oath of Henry Alward.

The Jury rendered a verdict of "not guilty." The defendant was thereupon discharged.

Commonwealth vs. William Moorhead, James Donsell alias James Duff, and Samuel Taylor.—Indictment, riot, on oath of James Watson. The Jury rendered a verdict of not guilty, and the prosecutor, James Watson, to pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Wm. Erbis. Indictment, false pretences, on oath of Phillip Graff. Defendant not guilty and prosecutor pay the costs.

Commonwealth vs. Adam L. Wagner. Indictment, larceny on oath of Samuel L. Pickens. The property consisted of two horses. District Attorney Roberts stated that the parties, in this case had a difficulty about some horses in August. Wagner took possession of the horses and Pickens had him arrested for larceny. It was afterwards covered that Wagner had a legal claim upon the horses. Prosecutor did not appear. Verdict not guilty.

Commonwealth vs. William Maguire. Indictment, larceny, on oath of ——— Poindexter. The property consisted of an accordeon and three daguerreotypes. Prosecutor did not appear.—Defendant has been in jail since the 20th of June. Verdict of not guilty, and prisoner discharged.

Commonwealth vs. Margret Gallagher alias Le Pugh. Indictment, aiding and procuring an abortion. Our readers will remember this case. A man named Edward Rays was arrested at the same time with Madame Le Pugh. The Grand Jury ignored the bill against him.

The counsel for the defence being engaged in another court, this trial was postponed until this morning at nine to which time the Court adjourned.

DISTRICT COURT.—Before Judge Williams.

THURSDAY, November 1, 1855

Edgar vs. Shaw. Action for debt. Verdict for plaintiff for $115.96.

Simpson & Co. vs. M. S. Johns. Action on's note. Verdict for plaintiff for $217.42.

Pittsburgh and Steubenville R. R. Co. vs. Maxwell Biddle. Report of viewers confirmed absolutely, no exceptions having been filed.

Jacob Kahler et ux vs. Conrad Cassmeyer.—Action for slander. Verdict for defendant on the grounds that the words were not spoken as alleged in plaintiffs declaration.

Benjamin Sansebery vs. William Baldwhoyer. Action of ejectment on one and a half acres of land in Lower St Clair township. On trial.

THE SUPREME COURT.—The following gentleman have been admitted to practice in the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, since it opened in this city, on the 15th Oct. last:

James McCahon, Esq., of Brookville, Jefferson county, on motion of Hon. Gaylord Church.

Samuel W. Dana, Esq., of New Castle, Lawrence county, on motion of Mr. McGuffin.

Jas. H. Robinson, Esq., of Mercer, on motion of Mr. Stewart.

John Armstrong, Jr., Esq., of Greensburg, Westmoreland county, on motion of Edgar Cowan, Esq.

Jacob Turney, Esq., of Greensburg, on motion of Hon. Henry D. Foster.

James B. Fullerton, Esq., of Freeport, Armstrong county, on motion of J. Alex. Fulton.

Wm. H. Markle, Esq., of Greensburg, Westmoreland county, on motion of Edgar Cowan, Esq.

Hugh W. Weir, Esq., Saltsburg, Indiana county, on motion of Col. Wm. A. Todd.

THE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The Board of Managers held their Monthly Meeting at the Court House on Wednesday, Present: Messrs. Snodgrass, McKnight, Reed, Murdock, Jr., McCabe, Young, Jr., Geehring, Speer and Shiras. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

On motion of Mr. Speer, it was resolved that the Chair appoint a committee of two, authorized to procure the silver ware awarded at the late Fair, and to make arrangements for engraving the ware and medals.

The Board then considered the report of the Committee on Discretionary Premiums.

On motion of Mr. Murdock five dollars were awarded to Robert Cummings for a moss design.

On motion of Mr. McKnight, it was resolved that ladies who had diplomas awarded them in class 28, may commute them for premiums of three dollars each.

Mr. Murdock offered the following:

WHEREAS, There is at present no standard measure for the barrel of apples, while one holds that ten bushels is a barrel, another says it should be 24 bushels and a third claims three bushels for his barrel:

Therefore, Resolved, That this Board respectfully ask our Representatives and Senators at Harrisburg to have a bill passed legalizing 24 bushels as the standard for a barrel.

The Board then adjourned to the last Wednesday of November, to meet in the Court House at 10 o'clock A. M.

WILLIAM CRUIS, who stabbed Enoch Howell some months since in this city, has been sent to the Eastern Penitentiary for eighteen months from Chambersburgh for picking pockets.

HON. BENJAMIN PATTON of Northumberland county, formerly President Judge of the Court of Quarter Sessions of this county, passed through the city on Wednesday, on his return home from a visit to the West.

The Great Sheller.

The following beautiful description is from the pen of Professor Edward Hitchcock the celebrated geologist, and every man who has seen the machine, will at once recognize it as life like and correct. We understand the office will soon close and suggest to those wanting to make money easy and fast to call at Masonic Hall.

There is probably no field of human industry that has been so little cultivated by the inventive genius of the Land as Agriculture; and yet there is no one branch of employment so extensive, or that would pay so well for labor-saving machinery as the farming interests.

The Patent Plough, Seed-Sowers, Reaping and Mowing Machines, are illustrations—saving to the Farmer thousands on thousands, and yielding to the proprietors and vendors of these implements a rich harvest of gold.

All that class of Machinery that really saves labor, that is convenient, cheap, and requires but little power, is duly appreciated and eagerly sought for by this numerous body of our fellow citizens. The undersigned have just examined a new instrument for the saving human muscles in the tedious, troublesome and disagreeable work of Shelling Corn. Machines for this purpose, requiring heavy power, have long been used, and also others designed for hand work; but the latter demand so much effort as to be almost useless, and the former are too expensive for general use.

DICKINSON'S PATENT CORN-SHELLER

obviates both of these objections. It removes the Corn from the Cob by an ENTIRELY NEW PROCESS!

A process at once simple, easy and complete. The Machine itself is very compact. A short tube of sufficient diameter to hold the largest Cob grown in the West, is driven by a cog wheel. At the end of this tube are a couple of iron plates with semi-circular edges, lapping past each other, so as nearly to close up the entrance to the tube, and armed with half dozen blunt teeth standing obliquely like rotchet-teeth. These plates or jaws are pressed towards each other by springs. The Ear of Corn is gently pushed between these revolving teeth, which run directly round the Cob, picking off the Corn in successive circles, while the Corn is drawn by a couple of concave rollers from the other end of the tube perfectly clean.

This unique piece of mechanism seems to embrace the following characteristic features, which are NEW, and will commend it to the consideration of all interested:

1st. Its simple, compact, cheap and not exceeding in weight 40 lbs.

2d. The power required to drive it at a rapid rate is small—(see Certificate No. 1)—stating EIGHTY BUSHELS as the result of a day's work, and that a boy can shell a bushel of Corn in Eight Minutes.

3d. It not only removes every kernel perfectly from every description and size of Cob, but does it without disturbing the Husk or Shive. Hence the Corn is clean, the Cob unbroken, and at the same time separated from the Shelled Corn.

4th. It is durable and not liable to get out of order.

5th. Damp Corn and New Ears just glazed are as readily shelled as Dry—a desideratum possessed by no other Machine.

A portion of these facts appear obvious on examination of the Machine. Others are substantiated by its practical operation as stated in the certificates here annexed, most of which are from gentlemen of our acquaintance; and in addition we have seen it used ourselves, and regard it as destined to be employed very extensively among the Farmers of our country.

FAIRBANKS' PATENT SCALES.—THE PITTSBURH AGENCY.—There is nothing in the world so aggravating to the merchant or manufacturer as a pair of scales which is not to be depended upon for the perfect accuracy. A defect or variance may imperceptibly steal away the entire profits of a sale or may cause the customer to go away without the true amount of his purchase. It is well know that such complaints have long been made against many of the scales in use, for it is believed that Fairbanks' Patent Scales are totally exempt from all such charges. In fact so completely have they sustained the first position for all desirable excellencies, that they have almost universally come to be considered the standard. Our readers will probably remember that Judge Marshall decided in the Common Pleas in Baltimore, a year ago, that Fairbanks' Scales, in all matters of dispute as to weight, are the standard.

The senior partner of the firm of E. & T. Fairbank's has had an experience of twenty-five years in the manufacture of scales. He was the d originator of the principal platform balance, as, of course, during a long series of years, constantly engaged in this business, he has added, improved and improved the crude and original idea, and his scales are now supplied with valuable improvements which can be found in no other scale. As instances of this, we may mention the Steel Knife-edge Geard, the use of india rubber springs in the rolling mill scale, &c.

Ramsey & Wells, 125 Liberty street, are the agents in this city for the sale of "Fairbanks' scales. They have disposed of a large number amongst our merchants, manufacturers, &c. We saw a ten ton scale at Bailey Brown & Co's Rolling Mill, yesterday. Mr. Bailey speaks of it in the highest terms. It is as accurate as could be wished and as sensible to the tiniest weight as a feather to the wind. We have heard these scales highly spoken of by others of our business men—some are enthusiastic in their praises, and one gentleman declares he would not be without one for five prices. It seems scarcely necessary, however, to give evidence of a fact which seems pretty generally conceded, viz: that Fairbanks' Scales are the best manufactured.—We invite the attention of the public to the agency of Ramsey & Wells, and advise all who desire to purchase scales to call upon them.—They are ready at all times to fill orders promptly.

We did not expect the Panorama of New York would draw a full house here the first evening of its exhibition; but as unpleasant as was the weather last evening, Masonic Hall was well filled to view the work. This evening it will again be crowded. It is a capital thing to those who have been to New York, and are familiar with its churches, and wharves, and Broadway, and parks, it will be pleasant for them to behold how life like a picture a first rate artist can make of so large a metropolis. Those who have not been to New York, the city of the Western World, should not fail to see it when it comes to them in such a beautiful form and mode. Perfect naturalness characterizes the painting. Therein consists its eminent value.

ESCAPE OF A PRISONER.—On Monday night last, an officer of Somerset county brought to Greensburg an Irishman named Newman charged with larceny on the Hempfield Road. At Greensburg, Newman was placed in charge of one Tommy Poulson to guard him until morning, when it was intended to convey him to the jail, in this city; during the night he made his escape. Tommy says the prisoner was sound asleep, and he left the room for a few minutes; and when he returned the prisoner was gone.—The impression is, that Tommy Poulson fell asleep.

PROPOSED MILITARY CONVENTION.—The Brigadier General, Brigade Inspector, and several other of the officers of the militia, have called a Convention of their delegates from each volunteer company in the county, to meet at the armory of the Washington Infantry, over McCarter's on Ascution rooms, on Wood street, on the 14th inst., at ten o'clock, to consider the propriety of calling a Military Convention at Harrisburg this winter.

HELD TO BAIL.—Robert Fairman, Edward Nuttle, James Steward and William Boley, four of the individuals charged with assaulting and maltreating Frederick Weaver, at a ball in Reserve township, one night last week, were held to bail yesterday forenoon by mayor Adams for their attendance at court to answer the charges. The others, who were arrested on suspicion of having been concerned in the affair, were discharged, there being no evidence against them.

We hear it rumored that a highly talented American lady, who has made Europe her study during a long residence in Paris, is about to return to our city. Miss Matilda Heron comes preceded by an enviable reputation and will make a sensation here.

The market for Eastern Exchange has been dull during the week, with a limited demand, and rates further declined. The selling rate is now ¾ premium, and the buying rate par bnk. dealers are unwilling as a general thing to sell, owing to the tightness in the New York Money market, where funds can be used to much better advantage now than in this market.—Chronicle.

During the week no important change has taken place in the money market, the offerings of first class paper continue light, and the supply of capital has been rather in excess of the demand, and the market may be quoted easy, at 8@10 for first class paper and 12@18 for other descriptions. In time bills on the east, only a moderate business is doing, and the offerings have been chiefly by parties engaged in the purchase of flour at rates ranging from 6 to 8 per cent. The stringency prevailing in the New York money market has had a little influence upon money matters with us, but there is no reason to suppose that our market will be influenced by New York. Should the latter continue to advance, it is probable that we would attract capital to that point from the west, because it would be used there to more advantage, and would tend to a scarcity of money in the west, and a consequent stringency in the money market. Such a stringency, however, can be but temporary, because the high rates would be irresistable, and the heavy shipments going eastward will, as a matter of course, keep up the supply of money in all the western cities during the entire season of navigation. The present stringency, however, seems to the east to be comparatively light, and the balance of trade will be largely in our favor during the entire season.—Gaz. Price Current.

HOGS—The Madison (Ia.) Banner of Monday says the Missouri farmers are slaughter hogs by contract through order by Mr. Blair, superintendent of the establishment. Eight pork houses, capable are stored and under contract, as the Gazette says, eight thousand hogs, and in a short time, three thousand barrels of Kentucky salt, and a heavy stock of barrels, hoops, &c., on hand. Contracts have been made to the number of thirty-two thousand head.

The George Law bribed recently $1,700,000 in gold, which no doubt, counts for something in the present semi-monthly statement. The political troubles in Nicaragua no doubt prevented any important shipments from that quarter.

The government is easy in active in stock prices, and the supply is rather diminishing. Loans are changed from time to time, and although the rate of stock carried by brokerbankers has been largely reduced, yet it is still difficult to find lenders on the common stocks dealt in at the Stock Board. Paper remains as before noted.—N Y Tribune.

The Memphis Bulletin of a late date says: We learn from the Knoxville Register that Hon. W. Williams, formerly President of the Bank of Knoxville, afterwards a large stockholder in that place, has been selling large quantities of his par perporting to be the issues of the Bank of Knoxville. This operations in this new line have been carried through agents in Maysville, Ky., Cincinnati and other localities. His agent at Maysville told a man that he had $20,000 of it that he had not been signed by the officers of the Bank.

A dangerous counterfeit $50 note on the Augusta branch of the Bank of the State of Georgia, is in circulation at the South. The Cashier informs us that it is the same as the genuine as to denomination, vignette, &c., but the paper is somewhat coarse, and the work inferior. The signatures are poorly done, and the engraving is rather coarse, and the paper is thicker than the genuine.

THE BANK OF TENNESSEE.—The Tennessee House of Representatives on Saturday, by a vote of 37 to 30, adopted a resolution declaring it to be the sense of the Legislature that the Bank of Tennessee should be put in a gradual state of liquidation by the present Board of Directors. Mr. Turner, in his message to the Legislature, and the President of the Bank, in his report to the Stockholders, both recommend the winding up of the institution.

From sworn statements made by the officers of the respective banks in compliance with the Governor's proclamation it appears both that the Atlantic Bank of Providence, and the State of Georgia are owned by Geo. Smith, of Canton, for whom Mr. Sprague is acting agent, Out of $500 shares of the Atlantic Bank, with a capital of $250,000, George Smith owns 1,000 shares, or $50,000, and out of 8000 shares of the Interior Bank with a capital of $400,000, the same George Smith owns 4,000 shares or $200,000.
