PITTSBURGH:

THURSDAY MORNING, NOV. 29, 1855.

Advance Payments.—Hereafter no subscription will be taken for the Daily or Weekly Gazette, unless payment is made in advance. Whenever the time up to which the subscription is paid, the paper will be invariably stopped, unless the subscription is renewed by advance payment. All transient advertising, of every description, will be required to be paid in advance. The only exceptions will be where special month y or yearly contracts are made.

☞Pittsburgh Weekly Gazette.—The extensive circulation of our Weekly Gazette offers to our business men a most desirable medium of making their business known. Our circulation is between four and five thousand, reaching almost every merchant, manufacturer and shop-keeper in Western Pennsylvania, and Eastern Ohio.

☞To Advertisers.—Neither the Editorial Room or Printing Establishment of the Daily Gazette, are opened on Sunday. Advertisers who desire their notices to appear in the paper on Monday morning, will please hand them in before 5 o'clock, on Saturday.

☞Reading Matter on each page of this paper.

The Power and the Future of the Republican Party.

The following article, from the Cincinnati Commercial contains so much truth and sound observation and deduction, that we claim for it the especial attention of our readers. The following propositions we think are clearly deducible from it, which are also undoubtedly true, to wit:

1. That the platform adopted by the American Cincinnati Convention is so narrow and proscriptive, and comes so short of what the North demands on the slavery extension question, that the Republican party cannot and will not cooperate to or act with a party standing on such a platform at the next Presidential election.

2. That with such a platform, and without the co-operation of the Republican, the American party will be defeated in every Northern State.

3. That it is not within the range of probability that the Southern Know Nothings will agree to such a platform, and if they do, they will be defeated in every Southern State.

4. That the Southern States, of all parties, have obstinately planted themselves on a sectional issue, and that the people of the North cannot preserve their own honor, rights and dignity, without meeting that issue frankly, boldly and explicitly.

5. That the Republican party is prepared to meet that issue, and will not shrink from it, and is willing to co-operate with any party which will make that question, for the time being, paramount to all others.

From the Cincinnati Commercial.

The Republican Party and its Strength—A National Convention—The Gazette's Proposition.

Republicanism as a party has acquired sufficient strength to make it an element that cannot be ignored in the Presidential contest. In the U. S. Senate it is the second party, having fourteen Senators. They are as follows: Iowa, Harlan; Wisconsin, Durkee; Illinois, Trumbull; Ohio, Wade; New York, Seward, Vermont, Foot and Collamer; Massachusetts, Wilson and Sumner; Connecticut, Foster; New Hampshire, Hale and Bell; Maine, Hamlin and Fessenden. In the lower House of Congress the number of reliable Republicans is not precisely known, but they are probably a plurality. The Governor and State government of Iowa and Michigan are Republican. Wisconsin has just elected a Republican Governor. A majority of the Congressional delegation of Illinois are Republican, and a part of the State government of Indiana and a majority of the Congressional delegation are Republican. The State government of Ohio and her entire Congressional delegation are Republican. In Pennsylvania twenty five or thirty papers advocate the Republican party. In New York the Republicans have a majority in the Senate and a plurality over the Know Nothings in the House, and came within 10,000 of electing their State ticket. In Vermont all branches of the State government are decidedly Republican. In Massachusetts the Republicans have both the Senators, a majority of the Congressional delegation, and have reduced, this year, the K. N. plurality over them from 75,000 to 15,000. In Maine the Republicans have both the Senators, almost the entire Congressional delegation, and have given the highest vote for Governor ever given to any person in the State. In New Hampshire, Connecticut and Rhode Island, the opposition party though not assuming the Republican name, have given the strongest endorsement to Republican principles. With such strength the Republican party is not to be left out of sight in calculating on the Presidential election.

How does the American party stand in the free States compared with the Republicans? In Iowa, Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan, they have no State party and have given no evidences of great strength in any of the local elections. In Ohio, Indiana, and Pennsylvania, they have considerable strength, but could not begin to carry either of those States without a union with the Republicans. In Vermont they polled about 4000 votes in the recent election. In Maine they have no State party. In New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Connecticut they have triumphed by taking an anti-slavery position entirely satisfactory to the Republicans. Without occupying this position, they would meet with total defeat. In Massachusetts and New York alone have they succeeded in opposition to the Republicans. But the possibilities are altogether against their succeeding in those States. The recent Convention in this city has declared against fusing with any who do not adopt the proscriptive features of Know Nothingism, and if the order in the States represented at this Convention sustains the course adopted by their delegates, fusion is at an end. The Republicans have been willing to fuse with Know Nothings on the anti-slavery extension platform, but when it is required of them to endorse the proscriptive features of the American party in order to have a fusion with them, they cannot consent to it, as the great portion of them believe this proscription of foreigners to be wrong.

Had the Convention adopted the liberal platform presented by Mr. Spooner, the way would have been prepared for a cordial union of all anti-Nebraska men in all the free States.

But unless the order in the different States recedes from the position taken at this Convention a union with them is impossible. There are thousands of anti-Nebraska men in every State who will never consent to endorse the proscriptive features of Know Nothingism, even to gain success in a Presidential election. Any union between the Republicans and Know Nothings must be on a basis similar to the one adopted in Ohio in the recent campaign. If the members of the late Convention could induce the South to accept their proposition for a restoration of the Missouri Compromise line, the party would be defeated in nearly every Southern State, and on account of the proscriptive features of the order it would be defeated in nearly every Northern State. So that we believe there is no possible chance for the success of candidates nominated by the order. The Gazette proposes that a National Republican Convention be called at Philadelphia, on the 22d of February, the same time appointed for the National Know Nothing nominating Convention. From the tone of the Gazette article, we suppose the editor would have the Republicans endorse the Know Nothing nominations, provided the South consents to the restoration of the Missouri compromise line. Now it is useless to call any such convention for any such purpose. The great body of the Republicans will not endorse the American order, whether it goes for the restoration of the Missouri line or not. The true ground for such members of the order in the North to pursue as are opposed to the extension of slavery, is to unite with the Republicans in the choice of delegates to a National Republican Convention. In choosing delegates let members of the order be represented, and those that are outside of the order. Let candidates be elected who are not objectionable either to those in the order or out of it. In the platform let hostility to slavery extension be the issue, and let the peculiar features of the American order be neither endorsed nor disapproved.

On such a basis, the whole North could unite. And for the purpose of securing this union it strikes us that the suggestion which has already been made to have a National Rise Meeting at Pittsburgh on the 22d of February is altogether the best. A declaration of our principles and purposes could then be made. A National Committee could be appointed and arrangements be made for a delegate Convention, to nominate at as early a period as might be desirable. We think none should refuse to commit themselves in favor of the Republican party, with the hope that the South will consent to the restoration of the Missouri Compromise. The Southern K. N.'s are as bitterly pro slavery as the Southern Democrats, and they vie with them in devotion to the peculiar institution. The North might out vote them in the American National Convention, and declare in favor of the restoration of the Missouri line, but the South would then bolt in a body.

A REPUBLICAN.

The St. Louis papers contain a report from Jefferson city that there was a scheme on foot to form a coalition between the Benton men and Whigs, and elect Benton and Donlphan to the Senate—the former to succeed Atchison and the latter to succeed Geyer, the present Senator. It seems hardly probable that such an arrangement will be consummated.

The Georgia legislature has under consideration a law proposing to seize and confiscate all property held in that State by the citizens of those northern States to which or through which fugitive slaves may have escaped. The better part of the Georgia press, with the leading presses elsewhere in the South, see in this movement a fatal step for southern interests, and protest against it. The simple effect of it would be that all northern capital would be withdrawn from Georgia and all credit refused to Georgia merchants. There is no probability that such an insane measure will be enacted. The man who bit his nose off to spite his face always has been and always will be a myth.

Ohio and Mississippi Railroad.—Arrangements have been effected recently by which there will be three connections at Crestline, Pa., for trains passing over this road.—Ball. Sun.

The Sun must brush up its geographical knowledge. Crestline is at the terminus of the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad, 189 miles west of Pittsburgh, and nearly in the heart of Ohio.—It promises to be a place of considerable importance, being on the line of the Cleveland and Columbus road, and the terminus of the Ohio and Pennsylvania, and the Ohio and Indiana roads, and practically the terminus of the Bellefontaine and Indiana road, which strikes the Columbus road three miles below, and runs its cars up to Crestline on the Columbus track.

The legislature of Missouri has passed a resolution providing that the President, Professors, and Tutors of the State University, shall not preach or exercise the functions of a minister of the gospel during their continuance in office.—The object of this is to get rid of President Shannon, who has made himself the special champion of slavery throughout the State and the stirrer up of sedition on the Kansas border. He is evidently a pestilent fellow, and we do not wonder at the desire to part with him.

The St. Louis papers say that the pro-slavery "Law & Order" Convention at Leavenworth, Kansas, was largely attended, and that great enthusiasm prevailed. Those who were present say that the attendance was quite small, and that the whole affair was exceedingly tame.—Stringfellow and Gov. Shannon were the ruling spirits; and the latter appears to have found congenial company in the ranks of the Border Ruffians.

The Boston Traveller, which supported Gardiner and the Americans during the late contest in Massachusetts, now most strongly urges that Reeder be admitted to a seat in Congress, and protests against his being sent back. It is also in favor of the action of the Kansas Free State Convention being recognised in Congress. It then adds:

"We are of those who believed and still believe that this last desperate effort of the slave power to extend its territorial domain, must be met by an organized resistance on the part of the people of the non-slaveholding States. Viewing this present struggle with slavery as one which must be decisive in its results, not only of the fate of Kansas, but that of the Union, for weal or for woe, we have been glad to see the formation of a great Northern party for the purpose of defending the North against a combination which neither laws nor compromises nor the principles of justice or public morality could withhold from the prosecution of a purpose fraught with danger to the . That party has a great purpose to accomplish; a purpose paramount at present to all other matters of public policy. The question of slavery or free institutions in Kansas is the all engrossing domestic question of the day; and until that is put to rest, we see no just reason for any complaint that the party formed with reference to that question is without any political principles.

As far then as the purpose of defeating the present plans of slavery extentionists is concerned, we go for those who go farthest.

The Ohio State Journal, the central organ of the American party of Ohio, holds the following language in respect to the action of the Cincinnati Convention:

"The proposition of the American Convention at Cincinnati, so far as it goes, is well enough. It was proper to reaffirm what they had proposed at Philadelphia. But, in our judgment, it does not fully meet the question as it now exists between the advocates of slavery extension and its opponents. . True, it meets the question fully, so far as this territory is concerned, but the right of Congress to act upon the subject anywhere must be maintained. We shall look forward with anxiety to see how the proposition is met by the South. From the history of the past, and the tone which it is in the habit of assuming, we confess we have little hope of its acquiescence. Still the sober second thought may be productive of good. Let us wait with patience.

Book Notices.—"Geoffrey Moreton, or the Faithless Guardian," by Mrs. Moodie, we should have stated in our previous notice, is for sale at Lauffer's, No. 30 Fifth street.

"Hoshar, old Worne" for December is received by mail from the publishers, Messrs. Dix & Edwards, New York. It is one of the most valuable of monthly publications, its contents being uniformly instructive, with a fair proportion of amusing and entertaining matter. Published at $3,00 per annum.

"Graham's Magazine" for December has been received from the publisher. It presents a rich table of contents, principally original and from well known contributors. Published in Philadelphia by A. H. See, 106 Chestnut street, at $3 per annum. The new volume commences with the January number.

Four Teachers Devoured by Cannibals in one of the South Sea Islands.—The missionary ship John Williams, named after the heroic martyr of Eromanga, has recently completed a voyage among the New Hebrides and other westerly groups. Among the news the voyage are some items of encouragement, and others of great sorrow. The journal of the voyage says:—

"After a run of ten days from Samoa, we reached the island of Anetitude. The missionaries, Messrs. Geddie and Inglis, had nearly completed a census of the population. It contains about 4000 inhabitants, of these 2600 profess Christianity, the remaining 1400 heathen are so scattered that they possess little influence. A considerable band of natives and four Samoans assist the missionaries. Thirty schools are now in operation, and about 1,500 persons under instruction.

"At Tana, where the work had been broken up by the ravages of small pox, we again landed teachers, who were received by a loud shout of joy.

"We were delighted with the improved appearance of things at Eromenga. The teachers had also been ill, nevertheless, the work went forward. Since last year's voyage, the number attending religious services had been more than doubled.

"On reaching the island of Fate the distressing news was brought on board that some of the teachers, with their wives, left there on the last voyage, had been barbariously murdered. Only a few months days after they were landed, under the most cheering circumstances, the two Raratongan teachers and their wives were murdered to furnish materials for a horrid cannibal banquet. The real reason of this sudden act of cruelty could not be learned.—N. Y Observer, Thursday.

New Dome of the Capitol.—The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says the old Dome is fast disappearing. When viewed it will be superseded by one far exceeding in utility and magnificence even that of the celebrated "St. Peter's." The beautiful invention of Professor Walters will rise three hundred feet above the basement floor, and reach three hundred and eighty above high water. It will contain one hundred and twenty-four windows, many of which will be eighteen feet in height, decorated with entablatures which will be emblematical of the most important events in American history; and such arrangements have been adopted that all visitors, from those in the spring-tide of life to the hoary-haired veteran can easily ascend, and from the loftiest of all our lofty eminences behold the extent and grandeur of the National Metropolis.

The Weather at the North.—In the vicinity of Utica, N. Y., the sleighing is good, and the stage coaches departed from that city on Friday morning on runners. At Pittsfield, Mass., on Wednesday last, there was good sleighing, and at Albany ice formed an inch thick on the canal on Thursday night. The Montreal Pilot of the 19th says "the bells are jingling merrily through our streets, and we suppose that winter may be considered as fairly inaugurated in his icemantled dominion. The thermometer is only six degrees above zero.

Another Line.—The rails of the Cincinnati, Wilmington and Zanesville Road are laid to Putnam, Ohio, and trains are now passing over the entire line. The bridge over the Muskingum will soon be completed, when this important route will connect with the Central road, and be in a condition to do an extensive and profitable business.

Curious Funeral Ceremony.—The Greek Patriarch, of Alexandria, died on the last ult., and his body, seated on a throne, a jewelled mitre on his head, was taken to the Latin church with great solemnity. Several consuls attended in full dress, a company of Egyptian soldiers, with music and drums, headed the procession.—Great crowds flocked about the body to kiss the hands or parts of the dress.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Have you a Diseased Liver?—The question, though startling, is sufficiently suggestive, when the fact is taken into consideration that diseases of the Liver have become most alarmingly frequent in the United States. Indeed, there are few formidable diseases that are not in some way traceable to a deranged state of that important organ. Many of the complaints usually classed under the head of Consumption, have their origin in the Liver. "Any remedy that would insure regularity and healthful action in the Liver, would be a blessing to mankind" has been the exclamation of thousands. That remedy has been found; it is safe and sure. Where a fair trial has been afforded it, it has never been known to fail.

Reader, have you any disease of the Liver, or disease which you believe proceeds from hepatic derangement—Lose not a moment, but purchase a box of Dr. M'Lane's Pills, and they will restore you to health. It is the only remedy yet discovered, in which implicit confidence may be placed.

☞Purchasers will be careful to ask for DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS, and take none else. There are other Pills, purporting to be Liver Pills, now before the public. Dr. M'Lane's Liver Pills, also his celebrated Vermifuge, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in the United States, and Canada.

Speaking What They Know.

These gentlemen take pleasure in testifying in regard to R. A. Fahnestock's Vermifuge, because two of the firm have used it in their private practice as physicians for a number of years, and they have known it, by observation, to be good.

To R. A. Fahnestock & Co.

New Albany, Ind., July 4th, 1855.

Gentlemen—Having sold your valuable Vermifuge for some time, and having seen it used for many years, we would recommend it to all as a safe and efficient remedy for all cases of worms. In no instance have we ever seen any evil results following its administration, but always found it answered the purpose for which it was intended, and been entirely satisfactory.

Believing that everything that has been set forth in regard to its virtues is strictly in accordance with our observations not only as practitioners, but as men of business, we would unhesitatingly say to all, who read this, that it is the best Vermifuge now in use, and that its virtues are best known when tried.

The Greatest Medical Discovery OF THE AGE.

Mr. Kennedy, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common pasture weeds a remedy that cure every kind of Humor, from the worst Scrofula to a common Pimple.

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases, and never failed except in two cases (both thunder humor.) He has now in his possession over two hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston.

Two bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples of the face.

Two to three bottles will . r the system of blies.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth and stomach.

Three to five bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of erysipelas.

One to two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ear and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruption of the skin.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate cases of rheumatism.

Two to three bottles are warranted to cure the worst cases of ringworm.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

Nothing looks so improbable to those who have in vain tried all the wonderful medicines of the day, as that a common weed growing in the pastures, and along old stone walls, should cure every humor in the system; yet it is now a fixed fact. If you have a humor it has to start There are no ifs nor ands, buts or ha's about it suiting some cases and not yours. I peddled over a thousand bottles of it in the vicinity of Boston. I know its effects in every case. It has already done some of the greatest cures ever done in Massachusetts. I gave it to children a year old; to old people of sixty. I have seen pure, unadulterated coking children, whose flesh was soft and flabby, restored to a perfect state of health by one bottle.

To those who are subject to a sick headache, one bottle will always cure it. It gives great relief to catarrh and dizziness. Some who have been costive for years, have taken it and been regulated by it. Where the body is sound, it work quite easy, but where there is any derangement of the functions of nature, it will cause very singular results, but you must not be alarmed—they always disappear in from four days to a few weeks. There is never a bad result from it. On the contrary, you find a healthy feeling is one you will feel yourself like a new person. I heard one of the most extravagant encomiums of it that man ever listened to. No change of diet is necessary—eat the best you can get. I have likewise an herb, which, when steamed in sweet oil, dissolves scrofulous swellings of the neck and under the ears. Price 50 cents. Price of the Medical Discovery $1 per bottle.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.—Adult, one table-spoonful per day. Children over eight years, dessert spoonful children from five to eight years, tea-spoonful. Special direction can be made applicable to all constitutions, take according to your feelings. Two bottles will be taken a day.

Mr. KENNEDY gives personal attendance in bad cases of rheumatism.
