COALBOATMEN IN TROUBLE.—We copied yesterday from the Louisville Courier a statement of a difficulty into which some Pittsburgh Coal Boatmen had got. We copy the sequel of the affair from the Courier of Wednesday:

Jonas Cornelius, a coal boat pilot, from Pittsburgh, was up on a charge of attempting to pass a five dollar counterfeit note on the Northwestern Bank of Virginia on Jack for drinks for seven at his tavern, on Third street, near Water. Lief testified that Cornelius and six or seven others went into his house, called for liquor, got their drinks, and tendered the five dollar bill in payment, receiving good money in change. He soon ascertained that the bill was counterfeit, and informed officers Kirkpatrick and Sheriff, who went in pursuit of the man and found him on the wharf.

Kirkpatrick testified to arresting the man, stating that he threw a handful of paper money out of one pocket, which he picked up and ascertained it to be all counterfeit, some six notes on the Farmers' Bank of Kentucky, in addition to the counterfeit note passed for liquor. No defence was set up for defendant, other than that he was poor, and may not have known the money was bad. He resisted the officers most desperately; and a general row ensued on the wharf before he was taken. Cornelius was held to bail in $1,000 to answer the charge of felony.

Hiram Ray, Silas Davis, and Jno. Anderson, were all arrested together on the wharf, one or two for attempting to pass a five dollar counterfeit note on the Farmers' Bank of Kentucky, for liquor, and the other for interfering with the police. One of the party, as the testimony goes, attempted to pass the counterfeit note on Mrs. Meirs, for liquor, but she would not take it, and another of the party paid fifty cents for the liquor. Anderson was the one who interfered with the police, though he made no forcible resistance, but there being a large crowd on the wharf, a rescue was feared, and he was hurried o ffto jail with the others. They were on the mail boat going back home to Pittsburgh. The Court, to stop all argument, and to cut the matter short, waived the felony in the case and held the trio to bail for their good behavior for six months each in the sum of $500.

The Courier says: "It is a common occurence for coal-boatmen to get into a row with our police and citizens, and we do not know of an instance of an arrival of a fleet of coal-boats at our wharf without a row, or disturbance occurring before the crew get away. They probably think that being away from home privileges them to behave badly and get drunk and fight.—If such persons have no respect for themselves they should show a becoming respect for the city they represent, and, if no other motive could influence them, they should respect the fair fame of Pittsburg."

CATHOLIC ITEMS.—Next Saturday is the Feast of the Immaculate Conception of the Virgin Mary, according to the Calendar of the Roman Catholic Church. The celebration thereof takes place on the following Sunday.

The Catholic says on Thursday last a Solemn High Mass was offered at the Cathedral for the repose of the soul of the late Bishop Vandevelde.

On last Sunday, the Bishop ordained Priests in St. Paul's Cathedral, the Rev. Messrs. John Hacket and Mathew Carroll.—On the same occasion he ordained Sub Deacon Rev. Thomas Ryan.

Rev. Mr. Hacket has since been appointed to the missions of Temperanceville, Charlier's Creek and the Southwestern parts of this county, generally. Rev. Mr. Carroll has been sent to Cameron's Bottom, Indiana Co. Rev. M. J. Mitchell has been appointed to Ebensburgh, and Rev. J. B. O'Connor to Wexford and some other missions in this county.

The following persons have been elected officers of the Catholic Young Men's Society:

John J. Mitchell, President; Wilford Fetterman, Vice President; James P. Barr, Secretary; Rev. J. C. Farran, Treasurer; G. L. B. Fetterman, D. Iannen, J. M. Gallagher, John D. Scully, Michael Doffey Executive Committee.

ARREST OF A COUNTERFEITER.—The Chronicle of Friday has the following:

For some time past the Monongahela Valley, has been flooded with counterfeit money. The inhabitants have been imposed upon very frequently. The authorities took steps to recover if possible the source from whence it eminated. All efforts however, proved of no avail, until a day or two since, they succeed in arresting a man named Cheesmond, who keeps a tavern in Monongahala city, in whose possession was found two hundred and seventy-three dollars of spurious and bogus money. A very large amount of bogus material was found in the prisoners house, and taken possession of by the police. He made a confession, and among others implicates a well known citizen of Washington county. The prisoner carried on a high handed game, and it seems strange to us how he succeded in escaping detection as long as he did. It is supposed that he has accomplices is this city. Cheesmond was taken before a Justice of the Peace and held to bail for a further hearing.

A FARM IN OHIO FOR SALE.—By an advertisement in another column, it will be perceived that a splendid farm of two hundred and fifty acres, one hundred and fifty acres of which are cleared, situated within three hours ride of the city, and near Salem, Columbiana county, O., is offered for sale. This is an opportunity to the very rarely offered. The farm is in an admirable state of cultivation, an eligible locality, and excellently well adapted, both to the raising of stock and grain. The improvements on the farm render it still more dealrable. The farm strikes us as being just the thing for any good agriculturalist, who desires to be near enough to the city to reach the market without difficulty. But read the advertisement for further particulars.

COAL BOATMAN BURNED TO DEATH.—On Tuesday night last, Wilson Richey, a hand on one of William Jones' coal-boats, was burned to death. The boat was lying below Louisville. He had been seen on the boat between eight and nine o'clock, and shortly after midnight the crew of another boat near by, saw the cabin of the boat in flames. They rushed over to the boat and succeeded in quenching the flames, and, on searching, the charred remains of Richey were found in the cabin. He had been surrounded by the flames while asleep with no possibility of escape from a horrible death. He was a single man about twenty-five years of age.

The body arrived here on Thursday and was interred in Wilkins township near his former residence.

YOUNG LADIES that wish to acquire neat and elegant writing, or to gain a correct knowledge of teaching the art upon scientific principles, can gain a life scholarship, in practical Penmanship, instructed by a Penman that is not excelled, at the Iron City College for only five dollars. Upwards of 30 ladies are attending this popular Institution. See advertisement.

"GRAND PANORAMA OF THE RUSSIAN WAR!"—There will be an afternoon representation of this truly beautiful exhibition this day at 3 o'clock at the City Hall. As it is shown by gas light the same powerful effect is produced as at night, this will afford an excellent opportunity for the attendance of ladies and children as well as our country friends. On this occasion the little ones are only charged ten cents for admission; the evening exhibition as usual.

GEN. LEWIS CASS.—This distinguished statesman passed through the city yesterday afternoon en route for the halls of Congress. The General looked exceedingly well, and those who had seen him before, noticed that he had since donned a very handsome, glossy, black wig!

CITY NEWS was scarce yesterday. True, the police offices abounded with cases of assault and battery, drunkenness, disorderly conduct, and all the petty offences, but we prefer not to fill our columns with such unimportant and uninteresting details.

DEATH OF AN EARLY SETTLER.—We learn from the New Castle Gazette, of last week, that Hugh Warnoch, one of the early pioneers of Beaver county, died at his residence in Shenango township, Lawrence county, on the 16th inst.

We would ask our readers to notice that Dr. Ogden, now so successfully treating diseases of the Throat and Lungs in this place, by Medical Inhalation, will remain at the Perry Hotel one week.

A GENEROUS OFFER.—By the following note from Mr Andrieu, the proprietor and artist of the Panorama of the South and West, or Freedom and Slavery, it will be seen that he offers one-half the proceeds of the exhibition of Monday night, the 3d inst., to aid HENRY CHAPMAN, the colored man to whom we have before alluded, in purchasing his wife and children. The proposal is a generous one, and should be met in a like spirit:

Messrs. Editors.—Gentleman: In perusing your morning paper I read an 'article headed "Benevolence." A poor old colored man is in need of assistance to raise money enough to get his wife and children from bondage. Being about to open at Masonic Hall my Western and Southern Scenes—or Freedom and Slavery contrasted—I will be happy to offer to your poor protege the half of my receipts, on Monday night, to help to save his family from Slavedom. With my best respects, gentlemen, I remain Yours.

M. ANDRIEU.

CHARLES BRUCH, a train boy in the employ of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad Company, getting frightened at the train running off the track at Alliance, jumped off and fractured his ancle.

THE Soiree at the Perry Hotel on Thursday evening was largely attended and was a pleasant affair. We wish the new proprietor, John P. Glass, all imaginable success, and hope his house may never lack guests.

ALD. MAJOR yesterday sent two boys to the House of Refuge, at the request of their parents.
