PITTSBURGH GAZETTE

FALL TREATMENT OF TREES.—Mr. Freas:—Many who attempt the cultivation of fruit and ornamental trees, fall from not paying sufficient attention to them in the fall. The fall of the leaf is often a critical time with most trees, and they consequently require more attention than at other times. Trees that have been recently set, and which have not had time to radicate, or send out vigorous laterals for their support, generally receive considerable injury from the autumn winds, the swaying to which they are exposed, causing a laceration of the radicals which not unfrequently operates fatally, and is always to a greater or less extent injurious even where the effect is not clearly apparent. All trees should be secured from this evil by stakes fixed in the soil, as soon as they are set out.—This precaution will often be the means of saving much expense, and the loss of many valuable trees. In the spring, as soon as the frost is fairly out of the soil, the sward should be removed, and manure dug in around the roots.—Compost, formed of forest scrapings, stable manure, chip manure, wood ashes, old lime and gypsum, constitutes a most excellent stimulant for young trees. In setting apple trees, I have found that a few quarts of lime, deposited in the holes before the trees are planted in position causes a rapid and vigorous start, and secures a healthy development through the subsequent periods of growth. After filling in, which should be done with great care, I generally, in the case of young trees, cover the surface with spent tan, fine chips, saw-dust, or straw. A good mulching article for plum trees, is found in rail hay, the invigorating and sanatory effects of which, upon most species of the plum, which is of marine origin, is remarkable. When it cannot be easily obtained, ordinary fresh hay, wet with a solution of salt, may be used as a substitute. But of all articles used, chip manure, when fine, is probably the most valuable; it lasts for a long period, acts as an efficient non-conductor, keeping the soil moist and warm, and prevents the growth of weeds. As it decomposes, it supplies a healthful and invigorating pabulum to the roots, and restores to the soil a portion of the alimentary matters abstracted by the trees. Ornamental trees are rarely transplanted as they should be. The work is generally performed by men who have no interest in the labor, and who, feeling themselves perfectly irresponsible, are of course indifferent as to the result. No work better repays extra care than that of tree planting, whether perused on a small or large scale.—S. P. B.—Germantown Telegraph.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS,

OPERATE by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the morbific matter of the blood itself, and other organs of the body, and, by restoring the healthy action to the stomach, correct wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease. As a result of a thorough trial of their virtues by Physicians, Physicians and Patients, have shown cures of diseases of the following character, beyond the power of any other medicine to perform, and which are publicly known and appreciated by persons of each exalted station, as the best antidote to the maladies of mankind. Their certificates are published in all parts of the country, and their friends have named are pleased to furnish free to all inquiring.

Annexed we give Directions for their use in the complaints which they cure, and we have no doubt

For Costiveness—Take one or two Pills, or such quantity as to gently move the bowels. Costiveness is frequently the aggravating cause of Piles, and the first dose of these Pills will give relief. To prevent Piles, take a pill occasionally to prevent costiveness, and avoid drastic purgatives.

For Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, and Want of Appetite, take Pills to stimulate the stomach, and invigorate healthy action. They will do it, and the Acerbities, Eructations, Nausea, Heartburn, Headache, Pain after eating, Sour Stomach, and all the symptoms of Dyspepsia, will rapidly disappear. When it has gone, don't forget what caused it.

For a Foul Stomach, or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, which produces many diseases, a few doses of these Pills are required. Being purely vegetable, they never injure in any quantity, and a dose should be taken from four to eight Pills at first, and smaller doses afterwards. Their salutivity and strength is restored to the system.

For Worms, in the Stomach, Rick Headache, Stomach, Pain in the Stomach, Sick or Side, take from four to eight Pills, according to the case, as they do not operate sufficiently, take twice the next day and repeat the dose until they operate. Some require but little to be kept out from the system. Don't wear these and kindred complaints, when stomach is to be relieved.

For Dysentery, Erysipelas, and all Diseases of the Skin, take the Pills freely and purge them off, to keep the bowels open. The eruption will generally soon disappear. In Erysipelas, a number of large doses are necessary, and sores have been healed up by the purging and purifying effects of these Pills, and some dog-eating disorders which seemed to assume the character of cancers, have been completely subdued by their influence, leaving the sufferer in perfect health. Patients confined to bed by sickness, should not expect to get well around the world covered with Pimples, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Salt Rheum, or Scrofula sores, without a thorough purification of the blood, which can only be accomplished by the use of cathartic medicines, such as these pills contain, because they are the most powerful and speedy in their operation of any known remedy.

For Liver Complaint, Jaundice and all Bilious Affections arising from some derangement—either torpidity and consequent inaction, or excitement of the liver. Torpidity and consequent vitiation of the bile and retention of it in the blood, is the most serious to the health, and the constitution is frequently undermined before the patient is aware of the extent of the mischief. Obstruction of the duct which empties the bile from the liver into the bowels, often overflows into the blood. This produces Jaundice, with a sickly yellow appearance of the skin and eyes, sometimes with a clear skin. Sometimes it alternately costiveness and diarrhœa, gravella, dizziness, nausea, sick headache, pain in the stomach, restlessness, and melancholy, with sometimes intermittent fever. Derangement of the Liver, in all of these forms, requires a cathartic medicine, which may turn to bilious fever, bilious cholic, diarrhœa, dysentery, or cholera morbus, if one or four Pills taken at night, followed by one or three in the morning, are not taken to restore it to healthy action. They will do it, and the disorders named will disappear, and the patient will rapidly recover. When it has gone, don't forget what caused it.

Rheumatism, Gout and all Inflammatory Diseases are rapidly cured by the purifying effects of these Pills upon the blood and the stimulus which they afford to the digestive organs. For Worms in children, several complaints they should be given in mild doses, to move the bowels without griping, as a DINNER PILL this is both agreeable and useful. No Pill can be made more pleasant to take, and every one now has been ascertained effectual to the purpose for which a dinner pill is employed.
