HEATING AND VENTILATION.—THE CHILSON FURNACE.—In calling attention to the advertisement of Messrs. Williams & Allen, of this city, who manufacture and put up the Chilson Furnace, we embrace the opportunity of saying a few words on the importance of a regular temperature and thorough ventilation for the health and comfort of a family. It is astonishing how long this has been neglected, while the most extravagant expenditure has been lavished on matters of comparitively small importance, such as various adornments, often in bad taste. A great advancement has been made within a few years, by the invention and introduction of new modes of heating and ventilation, but much remains yet to be done.

The open fire-place is the best mode of heating and ventilating in common use, for dwellings. It is infinitely superior to all modern contrivances of stoves and air-tights, and every other contrivance for saving fuel. These latter are modern abominations, especially the air-tights, which seem to have been especially contrived by the genius of Death, to lay the foundation of that large class of diseases of the respiratory organs which sweep away, in this country, one-third of the human race.

But open fire-places are great consumers of fuel; they require a good deal of labor, they very imperfectly heat a room, and they create cold drafts from nearly every crevice around the windows and doors, and they leave the halls and passages unheated. We would advise all our readers, however, to continue to use them in preference to a stove, as they give a tolerable fair ventilation.

The only way by which a room or house can be thoroughly heated and ventilated at the same time, is to heat the air before it enters the room. Various modes are used for this purpose; by furnaces, by hot water, and by steam. All these modes are good, but that by furnaces being the most simple and the cheapest, is thus most generally adopted for dwelling houses.

Of Furnaces, the Chilson is the best we have ever seen, and as far as our information extends it stands unrivaled. It has stood the test of experience for many years, and has received the approbation of the most scientific men of the country. It does not take one-half the fuel required by an open fire-place, to heat the same amount of space, and saves a vast amount of labor and cleaning. It is a thorough ventilator; as the house cannot be heated by it unless there is ventilation, because the air is brought direct from the outside of the house, and heated and passed into the rooms with all its natural vitality and moisture. Of course it could not find entrance without displacing and forcing out the air which already occupied the rooms.—From its peculiar construction it does not scorch or burn the air, which is the case with many contrivances for heating, and which gives to many houses heated with furnaces a peculiarly unpleasant smell.

We speak of the Chilson Furnace knowingly, after thorough investigation, and after fair trial in our own dwelling, where it had to encounter strong prejudices, which it has completely overcome. We therefore confidently commend it to all who seek to unite the greatest amount of comfort with health. It affords a constant supply of pure air, and renders every part of a house or room genial and pleasant in the coldest weather.

Messrs. Williams and Allen have added such improvements as suit this furnace to Bituminous coal, and to our murky atmosphere, which they strain before it is admitted into the house. They have had great experience in fitting up these furnaces, and we can confidently recommend them to all who desire to enjoy the real luxury of a Chilson Furnace.

Mr. BANKS.—There is a uniform testimony on the part of gentlemen at Washington as to the gentlemanly bearing, high character and great ability of Mr. Banks. The correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer says:

"Mr Banks, the standard bearer of this party, is certainly a remarkable man. Amid all the abuse and ridicule of his assailants, and the sea of impertinent inquiries with which he is daily overwhelmed, he maintains the most perfect equanimity, and is as cool and calm as a summer's morning. He is a magnificent debater, quick at repartee, courteous in the extreme to his opponents, and is altogether one of the first, if not the first man in the House. Every attack that has been made upon him so far, to which he has felt bound to reply, has only served to increase the estimation in which he is held by his own party, and to heighten the respect involuntarily entertained for him by his political opponents."

The correspondent of the Sun speaks even more strongly, saying:

"The partisans of Mr. Banks have generally maintained a quiet and dignified, though persistent reserve; have abused no one, not even the most rabid Southern disunionist; and that gentleman himself, has been daily rising in the estimation of his own adherents, and winning the respect of his opponents, by the masterly ability he has displayed, his imperturbable mildness and patience under reproach and personal abuse, and his extreme courtesy towards even the most offensive of his revilers. He never speaks but amid the most profound silence, and I assure you that he is no common man who can thus hold the undivided attention of a set of men so distracted as those now meeting daily in the south wing of the Capitol. I must do him the justice to say that, although sympathising, as you well know, with the National men in the House, Mr. Banks has won my most unqualified admiration and respect, and I cannot blame any of our men, who, after the course pursued by the Democratic members, may be disposed to cast their votes for him and thus secure his election. I do not know what his course would be in reference to the creation of the various committees, but I believe that if elevated to the Speakership under such circumstances, he would pay a proper regard to the wishes of those without whose votes he could not have attained that position. That he will be elected, and in this manner, I again repeat that I have not the slightest doubt, and it will be a personal triumph of which he may be justly proud."

Every other correspondent who has referred to this same subject, speaks in the same tone of Mr. Banks. The deadly bitterness of faction, that could prevent the election of such a man, may thus be conceived of.

AFFAIRS IN NEBRASKA.—Bird B. Chapman, Esq., called at our sanctum, on Saturday last, on his way to Washington to claim his seat in Congress, as the delegate elect from Nebraska Territory. There will be a contest for the seat, however, Mr. Chapman's opponent, Mr. Bennet, claiming to have a majority of the votes. Chapman ran as the Administration candidate, and Bennet claimed to be a Republican. Bennet has a small majority of the votes polled, but Chapman claims that the residents of the "half-bred tracts," who cast their votes for Bennet, are not legal voters of the Territory. Without these votes Chapman will have a small majority. The canvassers excluded these half-bred votes, and gave Chapman the certificate, and Bennet has notified him of his intention to contest his seat.

Mr. Chapman is originally from Lorain county, Ohio, and, waiving his Montezuma, is a very fair man. He informs us, that there are now several farms, in Nebraska, owned by Southerners, and well stocked with slaves! So it seems that slavery has perched itself upon the free soil of Nebraska, in spite of Hunker promises that "slavery never could go there," and that it was not the intention of the Nebraska Bill to send it there.

These facts show the iniquity of the Nebraska Bill, and strongly admonish the people of the North to be watchful or slavery will curse this fair Territory, as it has already cursed Kansas.

—Knoxville, (Iowa,) Rep.

TWO WEEKS LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.—New Orleans, Dec. 28.—The steamship Daniel Webster arrived yesterday, from San Juan, bringing California dates to the 5th inst. She left San Juan on the 12th inst.

The rainy season had set in at San Francisco.

Celebrations of the fall of Sebastopol had taken place at San Francisco, and in several of the interior towns.

The Indian war in Oregon continues.

The steamship Star of the West was to leave San Juan for New York on the 20th with half a million in gold.

Affairs in Nicaragua have become settled. It is stated that Walker received an accession of 120 men by the arrival of the Sierra Nevada.

☞ The Philadelphia North American gives a statement of the conditions of the proposed lease of the Pittsburgh and Steubenville Railroad to John Edgar Thompson and associates, and adds this significant comment:

"Practically, this lease would convey the work to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, and EXTEND OUR GREAT CENTRAL LINE TO STEUBENVILLE!"

This expresses our opinion, which we have been trying to enforce upon this community, in the fewest possible words. If such a result is desirable, and favorable to Pittsburgh interests, let the contract be ratified. If it is not, the proposition should by all means be rejected. It was once considered of so much importance to secure the western terminus of the Pennsylvania Railroad to this city, that a subscription of one million of dollars was made by the county, and valuable privileges granted by the city. Now we are asked to give up property which has cost us one million to "extend the great line to Steubenville," or in other words to remove from us that terminus for which we gave such valuable considerations!

The report of the action of Councils in the matter of the Steubenville road will be found in our local columns. The city, it will be seen, has provided for meeting the interest due on its bonds given to the road. No action was taken upon the proposed lease.

Evidences accumulate as to the determination entertained by the Fuller men to unite with the Richardson men if the latter had not prevented them. Thus the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Sun says:

"That Mr. Banks will eventually be the Speaker I have no shadow of doubt. There has been a time when this might have been prevented by a union of the National Americans and the Democrats, without the sacrifice by either party of any of their principles, and without endangering their distinctive positions as parties otherwise at variance. That time, in my opinion, has passed forever. Not contented with adopting in caucus at the commencement of the session a resolution repulsive and insulting to the National Americans, the Democratic speakers on the floor have seemed determined, in every possible manner, to widen the breach thus created and prevent the possibility of such a union as I have suggested. The national men have been pertinaciously classed with those who repudiate the twelfth article of the Philadelphia platform, and seek to get up a sectional cry in its place. Their motives have been impugned, their principles ridiculed, their very patriotism denied, and even their right to hold their seats as representatives of the people boldly questioned. This was no way by which to secure their co-operation in the election of a national Democrat for Speaker. Such a man, I unhesitatingly assert, could have been found, who would not only have become little obnoxious, that the Fuller men could have consistently cast their votes for him, and thus have put an end to the agitation of the question which seems destined to keep the 34th Congress in a constant turmoil. The self-constituted leaders of the Democratic party in the House have effectually put an end to any prospect or hope of such a consummation."

DEPARTURE OF THE NORTHERN LIGHT.—An examination of the cargo of the steamship Northern Light took place yesterday, under the direction of Captain Faunce. The express companies having goods shipped on California, were permitted to put in sworn invoices, and their packages were not disturbed. A large number of boxes shipped by Wine & Co's express for the Isthmus, were opened, and found to contain farming utensils. It was proposed that the coal be removed; but the agents of the steamship company said if that was undertaken the delay would break the contract on the Pacific, and if the proposition was carried into effect, they would abandon the vessel to the Government. It was finally arranged that two deputy marshals should go out in her to Punta Arenas, and see that nothing contraband of war is landed from her.

The examination, so far as it went, having developed nothing to justify the further detention of the steamship, and the proposed removal of the coal having been abandoned under the above arrangement, the District Attorney telegraphed the facts to Washington, and requested permission to withdraw the blockade.—At 9 o'clock a reply was received from Mr. Cushing, which was favorable, and as steam was up, the Northern Light was under weigh before midnight.

A number of the alleged fillibusters remain under arrest, and will probably be brought to trial.—N. Y. Com. Thursday.

LATER FROM MEXICO.—NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 26.—By the arrival of the steamship Texas, dates from Vera Cruz to the 22nd, and the City of Mexico to the 16th have been received.

President Alvarez has resigned, and been succeeded by Comonfort. Alvarez has left the Capital for the South.

President Comonfort has formed a Ministry composed as follows:—Foreign Relations, Rosa; Justice, Montes; War, Pelicle; Finance, Palno.

MARRIED—On Thursday, Dec. 27th, by the Rev. Mr. McIlvaine, Mr. W. H. TAYLOR, of Cleveland, Ohio, and Miss MARY BRIDGE, of Oakland, Pa.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A Valuable Family Medicine—So celebrated has Dr. McLane's Vermifuge become, that it is regarded as the only specific cure for worms. Families should never be without a supply of it. At this season particularly, when worms are so troublesome and frequently fatal among children, parents should be watchful, and on the first appearance of those distressing symptoms which wears us of their presence, at once apply this powerful and efficacious remedy. We are confident that it only requires a trial, to convince all that it richly merits the praises that have been lavished upon it. It is safe and harmless. Volumes of certificates can be produced, showing its great medical virtues.

☞ Purchasers will please be careful to ask for and take none but Dr. M'Lane's Vermifuge and Liver Pills. There are other Vermifuges and Pills now before the public, but all comparatively worthless

P. S. Dr. M'Lane's celebrated Vermifuge and Liver Pills can both be obtained at any of the respectable Drug Stores in this city.

Lyon's Katharon—The present immense sale of this article, is almost fabulous in amount, which shows the public appreciation of a preparation which rests its claims entirely upon its own merits. The astonishing results produced by the KATHARON in preserving the Hair from baldness, and restoring it when it has fallen out—cleansing from dandruff and all other impurities and imparting to it a beautiful gloss, and rendering it soft, together with its delightful perfume and perfect cleanliness, have made it the most universally popular toilet article ever used. To guard against valueless imitations and counterfeits, always ask for LYON'S KATHARON, and every where, in large bottles, for only 25 cents.

Nausea, Indigestion and Nervous Debility.—"I do not wonder at the popularity of Sanford's Holland Bitters, now.

"For months previous to its use, my ordinary food caused such extreme nausea, when placed before me, that I most dreaded the sound of the dinner bell. Everything I ate disagreed with me. My digestive organs seemed to have lost all power, and my nervous system so completely shattered, that I was unable to write five minutes at a time.
