A communication was presented from Mr. Joseph S. Lowry, the lessee of the steam fire engine, giving a statement of the cost of working the engine per year. His estimate fixed the expenses at $1,816, as follows:

One engineer	$700
One fireman	350
One driver	350
Feed for two horses	400
Shoeing horses	16
Total	$1,816

Mr. M'Auley made a motion that the Committee on Engines and Hose be instructed to report an ordinance at next meeting favorable to the purchase of Lasselle and placing the engine at Mr. Lowry, which elicited considerable discussion, and passed.

A MYSTERIOUS AFFAIR.—MURDER WILL OUT.—One readers will doubtless recollect the fact of the finding of the dead body of a man on the 24th of October last in an outhouse adjoining the new Basin on Prospect street. An inquest was held by Coroner Alexander, when it was ascertained that the deceased was a man named James S. Murdock, formerly of Enon Valley.—It was also in evidence that he was intoxicated the night previous and had been in a house of ill-fame on Prospect street. The jury upon this evidence returned a verdict of "death from exposure."

Circumstances, however, were shortly afterwards developed, which led to the suspicion that he had been foully dealt with, and upon further investigation this suspicion was reduced to a certainty. It appeared that the deceased was induced to leave the house above referred to by a person whose name we are forbidden to mention, and who has since fled the city. When they had reached the place where the body was found the individual aforesaid struck the deceased in the left temple with an iron bar, and while he was insensible from the effects of the blow, robbed him of the money he had upon him, and fled.

There appears to be but little doubt that the murderer can be arrested, if the proper authorities will advance the money required to cover the expenses of the pursuit.
