Warren's Improved Fire and Water Proof Composition Roofing.

HAVING been for the last eleven years exclusively engaged in the manufacture of the above roofing, now much used in all the principal cities of the Union, during which time it has been tested under every variety of circumstances, and been improved and perfected wherever experience showed that it could be done, and having been called upon by the Amalgamated Railroad Company to do so in this city in the winter of 1854, to cover the Lawrence depot in 1854, (for both of which jobs they transported our men and materials from Philadelphia free of charge) we have been induced to open a branch of our business in this city, and being prepared to fill orders to any extent, we confidently refer our roofing to the patronage of the citizens of Pittsburgh and vicinity. Its cheapness, durability and perfect protection against leaks for one winter render it the most desirable roofing in use.

The best pitch for this roofing is from one-half to one inch per foot—but we can undertake favorable directions as apply it to a much greater pitch, even flats or six inches to the foot. Those having leaking roofs of any kind can have them recovered by this method with the positive certainty of having a tight roof.

Any information as to the manufacture, &c., will be cheerfully furnished on application, at the following localities:

Masonic Hall, Fourth ward Public School House; Maurice Kunkle's, Sandusky street, Allegheny; Mr. Keating's, Smithfield st., above Fourth; Capt. Geo. CHILSON'S PATENT AIR WARMING AND VENTILATING FURNACE.

THE subscribers offer for the consideration of the public, the above named FURNACE, designed for warming and ventilating Buildings, combining in itself all the desirable qualities required in a perfect heating apparatus, insuring perfect comfort, without the evils and inconveniences usually attending the appliance so common in heating arrangements.

Having now put two years' experience upon the confidence arising from a warm summer atmosphere, they do not hesitate to say that they have attained the great desideratum, not contained by being derived from other furnaces, of the power to sustain life being impaired by coming in contact with an over heated surface.

These results are produced, in part, by constructing the furnace in the form of a cylinder, which is the strongest, and the power to sustain life being impaired by coming in contact with an over heated surface.

These results are produced, in part, by constructing the furnace in the form of a cylinder, which is the strongest, at a lower temperature than is usual with any other Furnace of equal power, the flame, and consequent injurious effect of the heat upon the iron, coming in contact with the cylinder only, instead of, as in the ordinary form, with the entire surface of the heating chamber, as well as radiating surface to prevent that the heat is not unnecessarily absorbed from the masses before they are driven off into the chimney. The cylinder presents also the enormous advantage of a fuel chamber is so lined with soapstone and fire-brick that the fuel does not come in contact with the iron, preventing the over heating of the air, and destruction of the iron by burning.

The joints of the Furnace are so contructed as to effectually prevent the escape of gas and dust, preventing the annoying to the occupants, and so injurious to the health and cleanliness.

The air to be warmed is taken directly from the outside of the building, thereby insuring a supply of pure, wholesome air for breathing, and the air to be warmed is entirely separated from the human system—the oxygen is not affected, the dry, parching effect of heated air caused by coming in contact with an over heated surface, as with the ordinary furnace, and headaches and other unpleasant sensations are prevented by this means—and in consequence of the warm air not passing in large dormants upon the lungs and evaporating surface of the skin, to which it is so essential, it is not lost in passing over a red hot surface. In proof of this, attention is called to the certificates of Prof. Silliman, of Yale College, New Haven, and to those of other scientific persons who have investigated this subject.

The public and universal approval is any test of merit, the proprietors of this valuable Furnace can appeal to the written testimony of thousands, to the many hundreds of its exhibitions in all parts of the world. It has received the First Premium at the Ohio State Fair, and the Highest Premiums at Fairs in New England, and at the Metropolitan Mechanic Institute and the State Agricultural Fair in Pennsylvania. We add also a few of the late testimonials:

This winter in the fourth in which one of Chilson's Furnace has been in use in my house, and I take pleasure in stating that it fully sustains all its many excellent qualities, in economy of consumption of fuel and requiring scarcely any repairs, in all that period.

I feel no hesitation in recommending it, with the improvements made from time to time by Messrs. Williams & Allen, as the best Furnace for the wants of this community, now in use.

WM. THAW.

From Rev. Jos. P. Taylor, Rector Trinity Church; New Brighton; Proprietor and Principal Kenwood Institute for Boys:

Messrs. Williams & Allen have put up at Kenwood a Chilson's Furnace No. 6, which in operation exceeds my most sanguine expectations. It miscreant in warming a very large rooms, gives no more trouble than a single grate, and (as I never use it in it,) is supplied with fuel at a cost of 10 cents per day.

Kenwood, Jan. 1st, 1855. JOSEPH P. TAYLOR.

Letter to Dr. McCabe of Wheeling.

We have placed in the First Presbyterian Church three of Chilson's Furnaces, which were put up by Messrs. Wood & Williams, and with the improvement made by Messrs Williams & Allen, we find they are the best Furnaces now in use. The work will heat our church well, and we have no doubt they possess the high recommendations placed upon them. We have selected these after a careful examination of the various furnaces now in use, and give them the decided preference.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS,

OPERATE by their powerful influence on the internal viscera, to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action. They remove the obstructions of the stomach, bowels, liver and other organs of the body, and, by restoring them to health, cure disease in all its forms wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of complaint. In extensive trial of these Pills in my practice, in my Professors, Physicians and Patients, have shown cures of complaints so various and apparently hopeless, that were they not safe tantalized by persons of such exalted character as to forbid the suspicion of untruth, they would not be believed. Their sugar coating and perfect purity renders them pleasant to take, and perfectly safe to administer to any child. Explicit directions are published in several languages, to which I refer the sick and ailing, and request them to read them. Nothing can be plainer than the directions which they give, and no one can be long deceived as to their operation. Let them be given according to the directions, or let the directions be followed by the sick, and they will speedily restore them to health, or else it is certain that disease is beyond the reach of medicine.

BOERHAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS

THE Celebrated Holland Remedy for Dyspepsia, diseases of Kidneys, Liver Complaint, Weakness of any kind, and the various affections consequent upon a disordered Stomach or Liver. Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Heart Burn, Water Brash, Want of Appetite, Despondency, Costiveness, Blind and Bleeding Piles, Sick Headache, Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances been found a perfect panacea, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable remedy, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland physician, Boerhaave. Each bottle bears the signature of the proprietor, and is sold according to the mode of preparation which each individual may adopt. These instructions require considerable care in the preparation and the employment of different essences in successive operation to take up the extractive matters, and consequently much time is necessarily occupied, and cannot unfrequently much impaired, if not rendered totally inert, by the injudicious and unskilful management of those unacquainted with pharmaceutical operations. It is, therefore, of the highest consideration and importance to the public and to the faculty that there should be standard preparations of uniform strength and possessing the most satisfactory results. To effect this and obviate the evil attended to, I have made a number of experiments to ascertain the most effectual mode of extracting the virtues of the Sarsaparilla and Buchu, and to discover the most eligible form for their exhibition. These experiments have resulted most favorably, and it is with the greatest pleasure I now offer to the public and the faculty my Compound Fluid Extract, which contain all the virtues of the articles they are represented to be made from in a highly concentrated form, and are the most active preparations which can be made. Two tablespoonfuls of the Sarsaparilla will be added to a pint of water equal to the Lisbon diet drink, and a bottle fully equals in strength one gallon of Syrup Sarsaparilla or decoction as usually made.
