The anxiety of counsel has overleaped the facts. How stands the fact?

These papers were not admitted in evidence in behalf of the Commonwealth. They were not even offered in evidence by the Commonwealth. They were not in evidence at all. When the Commonwealth closed the jury knew nothing about them.

Theo papers were not admitted in evidence of the Court would delay their sentence until most of the Court would delay their sentence until most act all. the Court would delay their scatenee until next Saturday.

The Court—We had intended, Mr. Brady, before you spoke, to have mentioned our determination to do so. The defendant was extensively engaged in buyiness and one week's time will be little enough to enable him to settle his affairs. The prisoner is remanded.

The tipstares delivered the old man into the custody of the Jailor, who conducted him to his cell in the prison.

On motion, Judges Shaler, Hampton and Shan-non were appointed a committee to wait upon the family of the deceased with a copy of the resolutions.

Court is of opinion that reasonable deligence could have procured these witnesses. The indictment was found at October Sessions and tried at December Sessions. He had throe months to prepare. But the evidence is not material, it is cumulatife. It does not touch the merits, and if it were all before the jury, it could not or ought not to vary the verdict.

The Commonwealth called witnesses to prove that James M'Corkle was bedfast and blind with small-pox, at the time the forgeries purport to be dated. The defence called witnesses to prove that James M'Corkle was bedfast and blind with mame.

The most prominent part of the alleged nowly discovered evidence is that James M'Corkle's name appears as hall on a bond in the Begister's our readers will remember, eing this night only office, and the date of this bond proved him able to be about; and dip his name at the time the salleged forgeries are dated. But the Commonwealth has extinguished this gleam of hope, by proving that the bond was dated by the Register's proving that the bond was dated by the Register's for in blank, and was not signed by James and restores harmony.
