St. LAWRENCE HOTEL, Philadelphia, March 29, 1856. Political elements in this city are in a perfect chaos, and many good but timid men find it diffioult to decide what to do. The municipal election, which takes place in May, is the absorbing subject of excitement and auxiety. The Presithe control of a great city like this, where millions of money pare raised by taxastion, and spath in various ways, is certainly a very importance that the control of the city and self-time the city of the fast two years, have glosd no credit for ability or probity. The affairs of the city have been bodly managed, and its fland-cost are in a miscrable condition, while taxes are commonally high. Some of the wild compared of may properly be referred to the consequences of previous mismanagement, or to the ill effect of consolidation, which it think, was on the whole a mistake. The city would probably have been better, and undoubtedly more honestly governed under the old independent municipalities; and even now it would be wisdom to sever from the corporation all the territory west of the Schuytilli. How made sover the American are to blame, they have to bear the citizen of the will which the citizens deprecate, and there is added the American and the Democratic, but two which the last will receive will be no indication of the real Democratic, but two which the last will receive will be no indication of the real Democratic, but two which the last will receive will be no indication of the real Democratic, but two which the last will receive will be no indication of the real Democratic, but two which the last will receive will be no indication of the real Democratic, but two which the last will receive will be no indication of the real Democratic, but two which the last will receive will be no indicated of the real Democratic, but two which the last will receive will be no indicated to receive and the Democratic strength. The American indick will be considered as representing the Fillmore's nomination, but who can under no simunitances to induced to vote for practic, all the Americans succeed, it will be based on the control of the success of the effect of the election upon the President to Fillmore's nomination, but who can under no sirrounstances to induced to vote for Prankin Piecre or oven James Buchanadi. If th terest. The control of a great city like this. and spent in various ways, is certainly a very

The number of licenses granted is not to exspur of the Palmetto State can scarcely look upon such men as Giddings and Hale with more of hotels.

Yenders of liquors, not keeping bolels, inus and states that the same time declare in all sincerity that they are earnestly opposed to the extension of slavary. It seems to be the fashion here to loathe an abolitionist, and sufficient discrimination is not made between true shollituoist and those who are merely struggling to preserve the rights of freemen and to save the country from the permanent and crushing flyrangy of an oligarchy of elare-masters.

Looking over the whole field, I do not attach mask importance to the mulnipal election in this city in May, as indicating the vote for President in Norember I Mir. Fillmore remains in the field, the vote of the city will be divided between three, candidates, and the Democration ticket will most probably be the lightest. If hoteled the permanent and make the supported merely by local factions in the Free States, and that he has no cartily chance of a forced schema of the subtring of the fourth would look upon all Turks as bretaren.

There was supported merely by local factions in the Free States, and that he has uo carthly chance of a single electoral vote in either the North or the South, and the Bepublicans put up a moderate man, anch as Judge hi Lean, Philadelphia will give a large majority against the Democracy.

As Pennsylvania is to be the battle-ground of the campaign, the state of political parties in Philadelphia, as well as in other parts of the Sinte, becomes a subject of deep interest. There are thousands of men here, not politicians by trade or inclination, merchants and business men generally, who have hereafore been identified with the Wing party, who do not know what to do, or where to go. The American movement has disappointed them and the secret motherly has disagned them. The Liquon Law. We have received from Mesers. Mages and Falton copies of the new License Lewes it recently passed both houses. It is pretty such the same as the bill published by as some time-since. The principal changes may be briefly noted. The section requiring each applicant for license to publish notice of this applicant for license to publish notice of the Spirit of the Court is required to publish in two papers a list containing the names of all such applicants. The classes and rates of licenses are graduated according to the valuation of the towns, or boroughs contain taxables, less than $50. Moenses are to be granted to eating houses, when necessary for the public accommodation, but shall anthorize only the sale of domestic wines and malt liquors. They are to be classified and rated as they are under the present law, except that, in the cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, no licenses are to be granted for less than $50, nor in other parts of the State for less than $20.

The provisions concerning this county are new, and as follows:

The Marker-ous Explosion.—This ill-fated sleamer arrived here on Saturday, from West Columbis, in tow of the tow-boat Condog. We have heretofore published the details of the terrible and disastrous explosion. We have definitely ascertained that seven persons have died from the effects of injuries received, and that five others were badly scalded. The steamer Fairy Queen remained at the wreck four hours, and Capt. Beno, together with the citizens of West Columbia, rendered all assistance in their power, for the relief of the sufferers. The remains of the son of Rev. A. M. Bryan, were brought here in this boat. The passengers on the Pairy Queen speak in terms of praise of the humane conduct of Capt. J. C. Beno.—Civ. Com. Monday.
