Republican Declaration of Principles.

ADOPTED BY THE PITTSBURGH CONVENTION.

1. Wednesday and shall attempt to secure the repeal of all laws which allow the introduction of slavery into territories once consecrated to freedom, and will resist by every constitutional means the extension of slavery to any of the territories of the United States.

2. We will support by every lawful means our brethren in Kansas in their constitutional and manly resistance to the usurped authority of their lawless invaders, and will use the full weight of our political power in favor of the immediate admission of Kansas to the Union as a free, sovereign, Independent State.

3. Believing that the present national administration has shown itself to be weak and faithless, and that its continuance in power is identified with the progress of the slave power to national supremacy, with the extension of slavery into the territory, and with increasing civil and political strife, it is a leading purpose of our organization to oppose and overthrow it.

☞ Since Mr. BUCHANAN has definitely announced his entire acquiescence in the Kansas-Nebraska outrage, and his opposition to the restoration of the violated compact, either in fact or in spirit, it is said that he has greatly strengthened his position in the South. We have always admired this resolute determination on the part of the slave-ocracy, to have a frank and unequivocal expression of views in regard to slavery from every man who asks their votes. They will trust to no mere suppositions, or antecedents, or favorable inclinations. They demand a full and explicit confession of political faith in relation to whatever practical issue exists on the subject of their peculiar institution, or their support cannot be obtained. The consequence is that the Democratic party, which depends mainly upon Southern support, has become a great pro-slavery and slave-extending party, and is now ruled with a rod of iron by the slave-ocracy.

Why should not the North be equally explicit in demanding of their candidates that no doubt, no breath of suspicion should rest upon their fidelity to the cause of freedom? Should not Freedom be as jealous of its interests and its success, as Slavery? Shall we not have men whom every opponent of the extension of slavery can trust?

The Whig party has been deceived frequently on the ples of availability. Availability candidates ruined the party. Mr. TYLER grossly deceived and abused the confidence of that party, Mr. FILLMORE was taken up because of his anti-Slavery antecedents, as an offset to the pro-Slavery of Gen. TAYLOR. What a mistake! Gen. Taylor was true to the principles of freedom, and was badgered to death by the inexorable ferocity of the disappointed slave oligarchy. Mr. Fillmore, who was trusted by the Freesoil Whigs of the Free States, basely betrayed their confidence.

We want no more disappointments of this kind. We had rather meet defeat after defeat, standing on an unmistakeable platform of freedom, with good and true men for candidates, than to procure apparent success with uncertain candidates of doubtful position.

The pro-Slavery Democracy have unequivocally endorsed the Nebraska outrage, and have accepted all its consequences, even to the forcible extension of Slavery over all the broad plains of Kansas. If Kansas, by means of Missouri voters exercising the right of suffrage under the laws of the bogus Legislature, asks admission into the Union as a Slave State, the Black Democracy, whether under the lead of Buchanan, Douglas, or Pierce, will welcome it into the Union.

What the friends of Freedom require is, that our platform and our candidates shall be equally explicit in favor of Freedom in Kansas at all hazards. Without this, there need be no contest at all. If there is no issue made, distinct, clear, explicit, on this question, then there is no issue worth fighting for.

We have no lack of good and true men for candidates. Vermont can furnish her COLLAMER—Massachusetts her SUMNER or her BANKS—New York her SEWARD—New Jersey her DAYTON—Pennsylvania her WILMOT—Ohio her CHASE—and Illinois her TRUMBULL. Any of these men will do for either the first or the second office, and we care not much which is taken.

We trust that the people, when they select their delegates to the Philadelphia Convention, will only instruct them to vote for none but reliable men, who have thoroughly identified themselves with this great issue, who stand out boldly and distinctly, and challenge the attention and admiration of the world for their able and fearless defence of the interests of Freedom.

The merchants of Kansas City have issued a card to the public, exculpating themselves from blame in the matter of a box, containing a piano forte, which a Missouri mob forcibly opened on the wharf at that place, under the belief that it contained Sharp's rifles. They say:

"The box was opened by persons from Lexington and Independence, who came up on the boat, unknown to our citizens, and the act performed before even all the people on the wharf were aware of an intent to do so. The box contained a Piano forte, and bore no evidence of anything else whatever. Was consigned to Messrs. Simmons and Leadbeater, the latter only being in town, and being a comparative stranger here, did not feel able to resist.

We condemn the act as unlawful and sinister, and believe it to have been premeditated on the part of those inimical to our interests, and jealous of our prosperity, and by some largely interested in removing trade from this place to Leavenworth and other towns. And we hereby declare that property consigned to us shall be protected from undue or improper molestation, and that at the peril of our lives, this declaration shall be maintained and made good."

We are glad to see the merchants of that place shaking under the effects of Missouri violence. We hope it will rain the trade of every town and steamboat that has winked at or permitted it, and that merchants and steamboat captains, after the fashion of these Kansas City men, will be compelled to promise that property consigned to their care shall be protected.

POLITICAL SPECULATIONS.—"Independent," of the North American, writing from Washington, says:

"It is pretty nearly certain that the one term principle for the Presidency, so long advocated by the old Whig party, will be incorporated as a plank of the Democratic creed, at the approaching Cincinnati Convention. The real object, though hardly professed, is to strike at General Pierce, by a retrospective application. If the term of office had originally been six years, instead of four, or that enlargement been included in the amendments to the Constitution, much of the mischief of political management, which has been incident to the desire for re-election, would have been avoided, while the material interests of the country would have been more carefully regarded.

The Southern Americans, who, at the outset, were so seemingly zealous for Mr. Fillmore, have become very much modified in their tone, and are free to admit that the task of attempting an extended movement in his favor is altogether hopeless. The whole tendency of that interest is to adopt the Democratic nominee, if he be any way acceptable, and particularly if he be comparatively sectional favor. The same spirit which influences the concentration upon Governor Aiken for the Speakership, will operate in swaying that vote in the Presidential election, unless Mr. Fillmore should withdraw, as is now supposed to be probable, and some more available candidate should be presented who can unite support which will not combine upon him."

A correspondent of the Tribune, writing from Boston, says:

"The truth is, I believe, that Mr. Gardner, in common with all our politicians whose opinions are of any weight, is satisfied that the Fillmore movement is a failure. He has no idea of hitching his fortunes to a dead horse. Perceiving that the real contest is between the Black Democracy and the Republicans, and that the issue is whether Kansas shall be a white or a black State, he seeks the Republican nomination for Vice President."

THE result of the elections in Rhode Island and Connecticut secures to the Anti-Nebraska party two United States Senators in place of JAMES and TOUCEY, who have so long misrepresented the feeling of their States. Other Northern States will follow suit; and it is only to be regretted that the hand of retributive justice cannot, as yet, reach all those who are getting the public opinion of their States at defiance.

THE number of emigrants passing over the Pennsylvania road westward last week was 782; of this number 198 went to Chicago and 24 to Rock Island, direct.

GEN. LANE AT HARRISBURG.—The address of Gen. LANE, at Harrisburg, on Kansas matters, had an excellent effect. A correspondent of the New York Tribune writes:

"He gave a graphic picture of the wrongs the Territory has suffered from the invasion of armed bands of Missourians—how they had come to the number of 7,000 to vote at the March election in 1855. They carried Whitfield's first election—the March election of 1855—and Whitfield's second election. They had murdered—persecuted and committed outrages that would have driven almost any people but those of Kansas to madness and open rebellion. The people of Kansas had appealed to Congress—memorialized the President, but all aid had been refused. They had never yet shed blood. He argued at length the necessity for, as well as the legality of the admission of the Territory into the Union as a State. He declared that the Pro-Slavery party in Kansas consisted entirely of the President's appointees and the Territorial officers appointed under the action of the Territorial Legislature. He declared that Gov. Shannon now boarded with the Indian Agent, who openly boasted that he had murdered Barbour. Shannon had nothing to do but to receive letters occasionally notifying him that some of the Sharp's rifles of the Free State men are taken. The Territorial Government is perfectly helpless, powerless, contemptible. A friend of his was sued for $75, and the costs of the Justice were $12. The fellow accepted $1,85, laid upon a stump, as full satisfaction. The Free State man would not pay it to him openly, as that would be a tacit acknowledgment of the legality of the Territorial Government, under which the Justice was appointed.

Gen. Lane cited the resolutions introduced by Pierce in Dorr's case to show that he himself was in favor of the right of a people to change even a regular State Government, without regard to the existence of that State Government. He declared that it was a fact well known, that there are Blue Lodges all along the Missouri border, the members of which have taken an oath before high Heaven to drive the Free State men out of the Territory, even if bloodshed be necessary. He cited facts to prove it. He closed in a most glowing appeal to the people of Pennsylvania to save their own sons and daughters from civil war by the admission of Kansas into the Union. Many of the people of Kansas came from the mountains and plains of the old Keystone State. At the close of the speech, a resolution was offered to the meeting for adoption, expressive of the sense of the meeting, avowing it to be the wish and desire of this meeting that Kansas should be admitted into the Union. This resolution was offered by R. H. Kerr of The Pittsburgh Post. It was adopted by a loud, hearty affirmative vote.

This speech has evidently done good here, coming as it does from one who has occupied Lane's position in the Democratic party hitherto.—If such a speech from so eloquent and courageous an advocate, could be delivered in every township in the State, R. H. Brodhead and Wm. Bigler would not dare dare not vote to refuse to admit this suffering Territory into the Union.

CINCINNATI CONVENTION.—The time has fully arrived for the appointment of delegates to the Convention to be held at Cincinnati on the first of May, to take into consideration the subject of the improvement of the Ohio river. The proposition to hold that Convention originated with the Board of Trade of this city, and the movement we suggest ought to be taken here early, so that other cities may be reminded of the matter, and follow the example. It is very important that every part of the country should be well represented.

We would suggest that a meeting of the citizens be called at an early day by the Board of Trade, and in the mean time let speakers be engaged to deliver such addresses as the occasion calls for.

The city of Pittsburgh advertises for proposals for a six per cent. coupon loan of $70,800. The credit of Pittsburgh has been improving a little lately, but this call for more money, though the amount is small, will tend to knock it down again.—Phila. Ledger.

The loan advertised for is not "for more money," in the sense in which the Ledger speaks, but for raising means to renew loans falling due this year to the amount of $70,800. We fancy that the fact is hardly sufficient to disturb the money market or depress the prices of our securities.

The New York Tribune, in its money article, puts the following extinguisher upon a story started in this region:

"A story in the Pittsburgh Post that the Cleveland and Toledo and Southern Michigan road has agreed to guarantee the bonds of the Cleveland and Mahoning road is without a particle of foundation. No such proposition has ever been made."

In the proceedings of the Supreme Court at Washington City, we find the following:

"No. 67. Michael Allen's Executors et al vs. David Allen et al. Judge Catron delivered the opinion of the Court affirming the judgment of the Circuit Court of the Western District of Pennsylvania with costs."

COM. STOCKTON.—The Jersey City Sentinel says that Com. Stockton "will shortly be brought before the American people as their candidate for the Presidency, without geographical or partisan distinctions."

Pennsylvania Legislature.

Friday, April 4.—In SENATE, at the evening session, House amendments to Senate bill No. 24, relative to the rights of property of husband and wife, and House amendments to Senate bill No. 205, relative to sheriffs of this Commonwealth, were read and concurred in.

Mr. Buckalew, from the Finance committee, reported the appropriation bill from the House, with amendments, which was taken up in committee of the whole and reported to the Senate.

Saturday, April 5.—In the SENATE, consideration of the Appropriation bill was resumed. The School appropriation was increased to $250,000, and a large number of other amendments was adopted. The bill passed and goes back to the House.

In the HOUSE, the resolution for final adjournment was taken up; the 15th of April fixed as the day, and the resolution adopted.

The bill to incorporate the Loyalhanna railroad company, passed finally.

Bill No. 846, an act to incorporate the Pittsburgh and Youghiogheny coal company, passed finally.

The Medical Faculty and "Kennedy's Medical Discovery."—Physicians are very guarded in their remarks respecting any medicine that may be introduced to the public, especially if the discoverer has not received a medical education, and we know them for their presumption and good judgment. But the cures of tumors made here by Kennedy's Medical Discovery' have astonished even the learned doctors, and as they have stood by the bedside of a patient and seen the favorable results arising from the use of this medicine in cases of Scrofula, Erysipelas, &c., &c., they have been led to exclaim as did one of the most distinguished physicians of State, (Dr. Whitney of Bethany) "Whatever the medicine is, it is doubtless the best of its kind; keep on with it by all means" ap10 1wdkwtf
