In Camp at Lecompton, }

Bonday Night, 9 o'clock, April 19, 1856

The Sheriff and his posse returned to-day from Lawrence, without Woor; he was barricaded in his house, and strongly guarded. They attempted to take one or two other prisoners, but were forcibly prevented.

The question then on every body's lip was, "what will the Governor do!" All was excitement; Council after Council was held; men hurried to and fro, the Governor looked thoughtfu; the Secretary seemed uneasy; General Whitfeld appeared determined; the settlers gathered in from their claims, and all were on-tip-toe waiting for the news of what was to be done.—Some wanted the Sheriff to summon a posse of two or three hundred, who should go to Lawrence and take the prisoners at all hassrd; but thappily wiser councils prevailed, and it was agreed that the Governor should issue a call for a small detachment of United States troops; and accordingly an express rider will start from here in a few moments for Fort Leavenworth, with orders for Col. Summer to send on the deixohment. Writs are to be put in the hands of the Sheriff, not only for Wood, but for all those who forcibly rescued him from Jones, and they are to be taken with the aid of a small force, if it can be done, but to be taken if it requires all the Government troops in the Territory.
