The Tax on Venices.—A drayman of Aliegheny, named John M'Carrol, and a milkinan named Michael Tobin, were taken before Mayor Bingham, resterday, to answer a violation of city ordinance, in not having taken out licenses. The drayman contended that, having paid a license in Allegheny, he was exempt from paying in this city. The Mayor was of opinion that a license to run a dray in Allegheny and to exempt drayman from the payment of a similar tax in this city, in cases where they did the greater part of their business here. He did not require the doing business chiefly in Allegheny, and residing there, to take out a license in this city, that they might make occasional trips over the river without being liable to a fine. The could fine was infilted in both cases.

The milkman, who has a dairy in Baldwin tp, alleges that he comes to the city as other country men, for the purpose of disposing of the professional trips over the river with the country men, for the purpose of disposing of the professional trips over the river with a license to the city as other country men, for the purpose of disposing of the professional trips and the control of the country men, for the purpose of disposing of the professional trips and the control of the country men, for the purpose of disposing of the professional trips over the river with the country of the country of the country of the professional trips over the river with the country of the country alleges that he comes to the city as other coun-try men, for the purpose of disposing of the pro-duce of his farm, and that consequently his case does not come under the provisions of the ordi-

D. D. Bruce, Esq., appeared for the city, and John Mellon, Esq., for the defendants. The case, by consent of parties, will be taken to the Surreme Court on a writ of certificati, for the purpose of testing the legality of the Mayor's decision.
