The Adams Express Company,

Pittsburgh, Cleveland and New Brighton Express.

FOR the especial accommodation of the cities and towns along the line of the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad, between Pittsburgh and New Brighton, and the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad, the Adams Express Company have made such arrangements with the Railroad Companies as to enable them to run a daily Messenger on the Accommodation Train, who will take charge of all packages, parcels and baggage, entrusted to him. The Messenger will have an Iron Safe in the Baggage Car, for the benefit and better security of Money, Jewelry and other valuables, and will receive and deliver, at the Express Office, at the Depot, all packages, large or small, from a person of principle to a responsible party. He will be delivered or called for in the two cities, within reasonable distance of each Depot, and will be returned to the Depot, by the direction on package, especially for private business. Should be examined.

At Way Stations, all matter will be left with the Station Agent of the Railroad Company, when the proper party is not at the Station on the arrival of the Train, to receive his goods.

The charges for carrying packages, &c, and for services rendered by the Messenger, are intended to be within reasonable limits. When the nature of the business is such as to admit of it special agreements will be made.

The Messenger is required to settle with this and business daily with the Company, and to pay in Pittsburgh or Cleveland, as the case may be, all money collected on his trip from one to the other, and within twenty-four hours after his return to the city—unless he has written directions to the contrary. From Kansas.

TOPEKA, May 25, 1856.

To the Editor of the Missouri Democrat;

A gentleman from Lawrence yesterday, reports that the court of the district, over which presides Judge Lecompton, has been adjourned over until the second Monday in September.—The Judge refused to admit Governor Robinson, G. W. Smith, G. W. Deitzler, G. W. Brown and G. Jenkins to bail; and they are to be held as prisoners, by the Marshall. The indictment against them is for high treason. Robinson and Deitzler for being members of the State Government, Brown and Smith members of the Territorial Executive Committee, and Jenkins, not known, unless it be for residing in Lawrence, and a Colonel in the free State army.

Some of our people were somewhat surprised last evening, to learn of Shannon's readiness to order out the troops for the protection of this city. It was not expected, on account of the appeal being from free State men. To day the mystery has been explained. It seems that a few evenings since a small party of S. persons were out on a scout and unexpectedly came upon a Dr. Gagen, a pro-slavery man, resident—and spy—of this city.

The boys were in for some fun, and frightened the Dr. so much that he soon after left for Tecumseh, a pro-slavery town, and awakened all of its citizens with a report that several hundred men from Topeka were on their way to demolish the town to revenge for the destruction of Lawrence.

The citizens began to scatter, the women and children were taken out of town and hid in the timber, a guard was stationed about the town, and every one expected an attack before morning.

A messenger was dispatched to Governor Shannon at Lecompton with the startling intelligence that Topeka was on the march to destroy Tecumseh. The Governor sent an order for Col. Sumner to send his troops at once to this city to preserve order.

The citizens of the threatened town stood tremblingly through the night expecting a hard fight. But the morning came—the sun rose as usual—the town still standing—information was sent to the country of the fact, and in came the party who had retreated to the timber the evening before, and all was well.

They soon after sent a committee of three of their most prominent men to this city to confer with our people, and to counsel peace. I saw ladies myself, as they came in, hope all, be respected by every gentleman. But when a woman takes upon herself the garb of a soldier, by carrying a Sharp's rifle, then she is no longer worthy of respect. Trample her under your feet as you would a snake.

Come on, boys. Now to your duty to yourselves and your Southern friends.

Four duty, I know you will do. If one man or woman dare stand before you, blow them to hell with a chunk of cold lead.

MINING CANALS WANTED IN CALIFORNIA.—The San Francisco Bulletin of a recent date says:

"The late dry weather, and the consequent idleness of many miners, as well as the now generally acknowledged fact that it is to artificial streams particularly that the miners of California must look for a supply of water, has led during the past season, to the projection of a great number of mining canals. Most of these are of limited extent, and have generally been planned and carried out upon the principle of associated labor. Others are of a more extensive character, and vast amounts of capital have been employed in their construction. Rapid as has been the increase of the description of property in California during the two years preceding the present, the season just passed has far exceeded in such enterprises any which has gone before. In the late annual message of Gov. Bigler, the total value of ditch property in the State is set down at about six and a half millions. From facts before us, we have the fullest assurance that the present actual value of the mining canals in the State exceeds twelve millions: and still there never was a time in the history of the State when more canals were being projected than now."
