Drummond lights were displayed from the City Hall, and as one time there were three or four pieces of artillery in the Park, which united their thunders. Fireworks were display-ed from Tammany Hall. Bands of brass instruor four pieces of artillary in the Park, which united their thunders. Fireworks were display of from Tammany Hall. Bands of brass instruments joined their clangors. It would be strange, indeed, if, in such a city as New York such sights and counds would not effect their purpose last evening, and "draw a crowd."—
The women and their urchins came forth to see and to hear. Men stopped, when returning from their daily pursuits to their homes, to look for a few minutes, and then passed on. It was ludicated to the processions come in from different quarters. A few musicians, and fifteen have been informed at various times. In their travel westward they avoid the State of Missourit, in memory of the past persecutions of the Mariay tokers, mostly boys, hearing transparencies, made up each "grand array."

Lorenzo B. Shepard, Eq., presided at the main istand, and Mr. Ward, (who presided over the Cinciannat Convention.) a Mr. Archer, of North Cayolins, Senstor Douglas and others spoke. spoke. Whon Mr. Douglas took the stand, there was some feeble applause. A few claquers, not exceeding a hundred and fifty in number, swung their hats, cheered most lustily, and called upon others to do the same; but the main portion stood and looked at him, as if hewere some wild and dangerous beast. Mr. Douglas evidently felt this coldness. He commenced in a very constrained manner. He soon a wakened the interest of his hearers, however, by declaring that he was anxious to put a stop to the sectional strife and discord which now canappily distrate the country. There were those who wished to see how he would look after making such a remark, and for a moment he was the object of tenton.

OATILE from beyond the Mississippi have lately been conveyed to the New York market by railway. They were reared near Council Bluffs in lows, driven afoot to Davesport, there placed shoard the railroad cars and carried across the Mississippi on the new railroad bridge to Book Island. There is no doubt abundance of of fine grazing land west of the Mississippi on which cattle might be reared to supply the great demand in the Atlantic States and cities. The western States are now principal source of supply for exitie. Last week some two hundred and fity head from Illinois were sold in the Philadelphia market.—Phil. N. Amer.
