STONE OF THE TIMES.—An old acquaintance, for some time out of politics but well acquainted with the current of public events, said to us the other day "I feel that you are going to win. The signs of fight are all on your side, and the indications of public sentiment are all in favor of Fremont's success." Nothing was anything said truer. The friends of Fremont are everywhere full of vigor and energy, and from the very opening of the struggle have been pouring in fearful broadsides upon the enemy; while on the other hand, as the Cincinnati Commercial well says:—"The newspaper support given to Buchanan is feeble in the extreme. There are very few sharp, straight forward, hard-hitting Buchanan articles printed. The truth is, there are but few earnest men strongly and conscientiously favoring the election of Buchanan. He is not the kind of man to bind friends to him with ties stronger than hooks of steel—to attract the strong and fiery spirits, and make them identify their aspirations and interests with him. The leading Democratic editors throughout the Union were in favor of Douglas, and would have fought for him with vigor, while they go into the war for Buchanan languidly, and receive broadside after broadside of the heaviest shot, replying only with petty squibs. Buchanan is only incidentally mentioned in most of the articles that are intended to be understood as advocating his election. He is a shapeless figure in the back-ground, while the things made prominent are stale commonplaces. Neither the intellect nor the heart of the American people throbs or burns for the complacent, frosty, venerable bachelor."

As showing the way in which the tide is setting, we collect together a few paragraphs from all sections.

The Oswego, N. Y., Times says:

CAN'T GO IT.—The Pulaski Democrat, the Democratic organ for Eastern Oswego county, refuses to go the Buchanan ticket. Its editor Mr. Hatch, was the Democratic candidate for Senator last fall. He has resolved he cant travel the "down-ward road" any farther.

The Richmond, Ia. correspondent of the Indianapolis Journal writes:

At a barn raising yesterday, forty-two persons were present. A vote was called for, which resulted as follows—Fremont 41, Fillmore 1, Buchanan 0.

Again: Last week, under similar circumstances, 70 persons being present, Fremont got 70 votes, and Buchanan 0.

The largest and most enthusiastic political demonstration ever made on the Wabash came off at La Fayette since the nomination of Fremont. It was a mass meeting of the Freemen of the 8th Congressional District. The Journal estimates the number present at 12,000. There were 8,000 in procession.

A vote was taken on Friday morning last on the train from Suspension Bridge to Rochester. Eighty-five votes were given, with the following result:

John C. Fremont.....57
James Buchanan.....17
Millard Fillmore.....11

—The Hon. George Rathburn, formerly a distinguished member of Congress from New York, and a Democrat of the strictest sect, made a rousing Fremont speech at the Auburn ratification meeting. Mr. Vielle, a prominent Democrat of Troy, has also declared for Fremont and Dayton.

The Albany Evening Journal says:

"It is no exaggeration to say at least one half of the old Democratic Party of Western New York are going for Freedom and Fremont. In Rochester a meeting is to be held to night. It will be addressed by HENRY S. SELDON, thither, the acknowledged leader of the Democracy, and other estimable gentlemen, in Monroe county; by CALVIN HUDSON, JR., an eloquent young Democrat who was the Democratic candidate for County Judge last fall; and by JOHN C. CHURCHILL, who has made more speeches for the Democratic Party than any other man in Western New York.

Among those who concur in the nomination, as we learn from the Rochester American, is Judge BOWLL, known all over the State as an ancient and very influential Democrat, Judge SHEPPARD, Supervisor BANNING of Ogden, D. S. BROWN, Esq., of Scottsville, and multitudes besides, equally efficient. The work goes on bravely."

ANOTHER REPUBLICAN ACCESSION.—The Milan Free Press, formerly a neutral paper, flaunts from its mast-head, the names of Fremont and Dayton, and promise to do good work in their behalf.

The Indianapolis Journal, says of the Fremont torchlight procession in that city:

"Those that flattered themselves that the enthusiasm which hailed the first announcement of Fremont's nomination would soon diminish and die out, got an "eye opener" on Saturday night that may serve to end such prophecies for good and all. At dusk an immense crowd gathered at the Court House, with torches and transparencies, and formed a procession which surpassed in extent and enthusiasm of feeling anything we ever witnessed in the city. We had no idea that the announcement of such a demonstration could bring out such a crowd."

The Ohio State Journal, says:

"The Fremont excitement is beginning to blaze like wild fire in the "neck of woods." The few remaining friends of "Buck and Breck" took on with helpless despair at the certain indications of the overwhelming defeat that awaits their candidates. Every day they are losing some of their most prominent men, and for a few days yet, "a few days," we shall have room for more of the same sort. After that we shall be compelled to close the gates, for each church will be full. The name of the Head Quarters of the Germans, being changed to Fremont Hall, and the formation of a German Fremont club, on Saturday last, has caused a great commotion, "motion, motion; the country through," and what the miserable remnant of a faction under the flag of Buchanan mean to do about it, we should like to know. This morning we were startled from our propriety almost, by the entrance of a committee of ladies who informed us that they were engaged in making a banner eighteen feet long and twelve feet wide, upon which the mottos of Freedom and Union, Free Kansas and Free Speech, and Fremont and Dayton, were to be inscribed, and that this banner was to wave from a pole one hundred feet high, and that this pole was to be raised on the corner of Front and Last streets, near the depot, on the evening of the 8d of July, at 6 o'clock, to which they affectionately invite all the friends of "1856 Rocky Mountain Traveler and the gallant Jersey Blue" to attend."

Mr. Daniel McFarland, a Democratic member of the Ohio Legislature, who last winter strenuously defended the Kansas policy of the Administration, refusing to believe that matters were as bad there as represented, is on a tour of exploration to the far West, extending into Kansas, and has written several letters to the Portsmouth, Ohio, Tribune, giving the results of his own observations. He confirms the worst reports from that quarter; and if he gets safely home, will astonish the old line Democrats of Ohio with a relation of his experience. He will be an important accession to the Fremont cause.

A friend in Butler county, in this State, an "old line Whig," writes us to deny indignantly the stories sent to the Buchanan press of this city, from that county. After saying that the old line Whigs of Butler will not support Buchanan, he adds:

"A great number of intelligent Democrats will not touch him. I had thought we could beat him 500 votes in the county, but I have just seen a neighbor who has been all over the county, and he assures me the majority will be from 700 to 1,000."

In addition to the Pennsylvania papers before noted as supporting Fremont, we have now the names of all the opposition papers in Erie, Mercer and Lawrence counties; the People's Journal, Potter county; Agitator, Tioga county, the the two papers published at Towanda, Bradford county; the Republican, Susquehanna county; the Wilkesbarre Record, Luzerne county; Courier, Lebanon county; Repository, Chambersburg, Franklin county; York Advocate, Huntingdon Journal, Philadelphia Free Press, (German;) Warren Mail; Venango Citizen, and Waynesburg Eagle, Greene county. The Clearfield Raftsman's Journal and the Mauch Chunk Gazette, both take down Fillmore's name, and indicate their purpose to support Fremont. We have now on our list some sixty papers in the State that fly the Fremont flag, and every day adds to the number.

At a meeting of the Fifth ward Republican club in New York, on Monday evening, Mr. Beck, a leading Democrat, made a speech, and Ex-Councilman John A. Kennedy, for many years a leading man in the Democratic ranks, and whose efforts as one of the Commissioners of emigration has done so much toward preventing the frauds upon emigrants, was present, and announced himself for Fremont.

ANOTHER MATTER.—What attractive and beneficent institutions they have in Missouri! How slavery beautifies and adorns it! Without slavery there would be no chance for martyrdom, and moral and physical heroism!

Methodist Ministers especially seem to have a hard time there; that is, Ministers who belong to the Northern branch of the church. Preachers of the church South, are welcomed as brothers, beloved even by such saints as Atchison and Stringfellow. The latest account of slaveholding chivalry and of respect to freedom of speech and of conscience, we have, is of the tarring and feathering of the Methodist Minister in charge of the Northern Methodist church in Rochester, Andrew county, Missouri. The "law and order" citizens of that place met together, and declared it to be their will that the Methodist Minister should be silenced.

He was accordingly asked to desist from preaching, but he would not comply, and the St. Joseph Gazette informs us that, "as the penalty of his temerity he was tarred and feathered." In the difficulty which occurred, another man named Holland, an "Abolitionist," was killed. A series of resolutions was adopted, declaring that every Northern Methodist Anti-Slavery man in the county should be notified by the Vigilance Committee, to pack up and leave, "and in the event of their refusal, the committee to make report of the same to this meeting, at which time this meeting will take such measures as may be most expedient for their immediate expulsion from our midst."

Go on, ruffians. The North has been so long demoralized by Doughfaceism, and union-saving orators and preaching that it requires a severe lesson to awaken the people to a just sense of their degradation at the feet of slavery. Nearly every provision of the constitution has been set at naught, actually and practically, or by connivance, by the present administration, and the rights of the people in every walk of life are daily being stricken down, and still the people of the Free States are quiet and patient. Thank God that there is, however, now heard the mutterings of the thunder which precedes a fearful storm—fearful for those who have wantonly thrown down the barriers which our Fathers had set for the protection and defence of the rights and liberties of all.

THE "BARGAIN AND SALE" STORY.—We gave a few days ago, an article from the Louisville Journal, tracing to James Buchanan the parentage of the "bargain and sale" story which did so much injury to Mr. Clay, and conclusively establishing upon Mr. Clay's testimony, given just before he died, the fact that the only attempt at "bargain and sale" in the Adams and Jackson conflict was made by Mr. Buchanan himself. Instead of Mr. Clay selling himself to Mr. Adams, it was Mr. Buchanan who endeavored to buy over Mr. Clay to the support of Gen. Jackson. The evidence of this is furnished by Gen. Jackson himself.—The Louisville Journal says:

We have said that we have another document in connection with this matter, to lay before the public, a letter written by Gen. Jackson shortly before his death. The letter was furnished three or four days ago, by the Hon. Allen A. Hall, editor of the Nashville Banner, who says that the original manuscript is in his possession. Here it is:—

"HERMITAGE, Feb. 23, 1844.

"Your observations with regard to Mr. Buchanan are correct. He showed a want of moral courage in the affair of the intrigue of Adams and Clay—did not do me justice in the interview that I had with him in 1825, and at the time did believe there was a perfect understanding between Adams and Clay about the Presidency and the Secretary of State, but I had none of it. But I believe I viewed that there was any corruption to the case or not. I hope not, but one thing I do know, that he wished or to conduct them with their own weapons—that was to let my friends copy, if I was elected, I would make Mr Clay Secretary of State. This to me appeared gross corruption and I rejected it with that honest indignation as I thought it deserved."

Let the public mark that. Gen. Jackson says he knows that Mr. Buchanan, when he came to Washington to get him to say he would give to Mr. Secretaryship of State to Mr. Clay, for his vote, and he adds that Mr. Buchanan's proposition appeared to him gross corruption, and that he repelled it with indignation. Here we have it, under Gen. Jackson's own hand, that Mr. Buchanan made to him what he considered a grossly corrupt proposition—one which he felt called on to repel with scorn and indignation—and he charges, besides, that Mr. Buchanan was guilty of moral cowardice in not daring, when called on by him to confirm what he had privately stated to him. As the Nashville Banner remarks, a strong point to be pressed is that Mr. Buchanan, it is now conclusively proved by Gen. Jackson himself, did want the General to practice the very corruption which Mr. Buchanan's political friends charged upon Mr. Adams and Mr. Clay—that Mr. Buchanan did, of his own accord and on his own individual responsibility, go to Gen. Jackson and urge him, with the view of buying the support of Mr. Clay's friends, to let his (Gen. Jackson's) friends say, if he was elected, he would make Mr. Clay Secretary of State—a proceeding that Gen. Jackson thought involved "deep corruption." That proceeding, on the part of Mr. Buchanan, ought surely, to deprive him of the support of every man, of whatever party, that ever made the charge of "bargain, intrigue, and corruption" against Mr. Clay as a ground of objection to him.

* * * * *

Ah, fellow-countrymen, you rejected the immortal Clay thrice as a candidate for the Presidency because, on the authority of James Buchanan, the charge of bargain and corruption was made against him in 1825. Your repeated rejections of him almost broke his great heart, and yet throughout all his vain but mighty struggles for the highest honor in your gift, in his manly breaded the prayers of the author of the calumny that crushed him and forbore to hurl it back, as he could at any moment have done, upon the head of the guilty calumniator. The world now knows from Mr. Clay's own hand that Mr. Buchanan proposed bargain and corruption to him and was repulsed, and from Gen. Jackson's own hand that Mr. Buchanan proposed bargain and corruption to him and was repulsed. And now, fellow-countrymen, after having three times rejected the illustrious Clay in the erroneous belief that he was guilty of bargain and corruption, will you, can you, dare you to so fearfully and stupendously unjust as to elect to the Presidency the ignoble man who was at once the author of the false accusation against Mr. Clay and the real proposer and the only proposer of bargain and corruption.

BUCHANAN REDGERED BY THE BORDER RUFFIANS!—The infamous moss-troopers of the Missouri border, who live by plundering the free State settlers of Kansas, and engage in theft, rapine and murder as legitimate employments, have endorsed and ratified the nominations of Buchanan and Breckinridge. It is meet that they should. A letter from Kansas says:

"Intelligence was received in Lecompton, a Border Ruffian town, of the nomination of Buchanan and Breckinridge by the Cincinnati Convention, a meeting was immediately called to ratify the nomination. Eli Moore, a Border Ruffian, was chosen President, and Sam. J. Jones, the celebrated bogus Sheriff of Douglas county, one of the Vice Presidents of said meeting. Speeches were made indorsing the nomination.

A resolution indorsing the leading acts of Pierce's Administration, and complimenting Stephen A. Douglas, was adopted by the meeting. A Democratic ratification meeting was also held in Westport, Mo., and Buchanan and Breckinridge were fully indorsed by the Kansas banditti of that town."

COL. BENTON AND BUCHANAN.—Col. Benton in his St. Louis speech, avowed his purpose to support Buchanan, but to repudiate the platform. The Washington Union will not hearken to this. It says:

"We want Old Buck elected on the platform of principles on which he was nominated, and which he has so cordially and earnestly adopted and endorsed."

Of course you do; and Mr. Buchanan himself desires the same thing. He is not running, he says, as James Buchanan, but as the embodiment of that platform. He will carry it out, in letter and in spirit; and no man can give him his vote without at the same time endorsing that most repulsive and anti-republican instrument.

STEAMBOATS BURNED AT ST. LOUIS.—By a private dispatch from St. Louis, received yesterday, for a copy of which we are indebted to Mr. Evans of the Journal, we learn that a fire had broken out at the wharf at that city which destroyed the steamers J. M. Stockwell, Grand Turk, (Capt. Robirds,) St. Clair, (Capt. Bartom,) Paul Anderson, Saranak No. 2, and Southerner.—None of these boats were insured here except the St. Clair, upon which there was an insurance of of $10,000—$2,500 each in the Eureka, Western, Citizens and Delaware Mutual.

EMIGRANTS FROM THE FREE STATES NOT PERMITTED TO ENTER KANSAS.—On the heels of the news from Washington, that Mr. Douglas was preparing a bill which the Democracy had agreed to support, providing for taking a census of Kansas and allowing none who come in afterwards to vote until they had acquired a residence, comes the news that Free State men are no longer permitted to enter Kansas, but are robbed of their arms, and then turned back by armed bands of Southern men located at different points on the Missouri river and backed by the whole power of the State of Missouri.

The first was a company of 76 men from Chicago. This company had some doubts about being permitted peaceably to go up the Missouri, and they thought of trying the Iowa route, but when they were ready to start it was found that no adequate or reliable conveyance was ready at Iowa City to take them over land. Men had been encamped there for more than two weeks trying to go through, but remain there yet, eating up what supplies were provided for their trip without having moved a step forward. When the Chicago emigrants were ready to start, it was expected that 70 or 80 of the men encamped at Iowa City would join them, as well as 25 or 30 more from Ottowa. The Committee had arranged to charter a steamboat from Alton to Leavenworth, for the exclusive use of the emigrants, supposing that they would number from 175 to 200 men. They learned, when too late, that certain influences had been exerted to prevent the accession from Iowa City and elsewhere from joining the Chicago company who had been expected. This company was stopped at Lexington, their arms taken from them, and then permitted to proceed, but on arriving at Kansas they were turned back by Atchison and his men, and at last accounts had arrived at Alton.

The Ottawa company, some thirty in number, were next disarmed and ordered back, and lastly a company of 44 men from Worcester, Mass., were disarmed before they arrived at Lexington, and were compelled to return.

Is this a free country? Are we in a state of peace or war? Is there no protection for the citizens of the Free States? President Pierce called out the army of the United States to capture one fugitive slave in Boston, at an expense of $40,000. He will not lift a finger to protect the citizens of the Free States!

It is stated in the Chicago Tribune that arrangements will be immediately made to send back those repulsed emigrants by the way of Iowa. If they are sent we hope it will be in a large body, and if they are armed we trust they will not surrender without using them. They will be met on the frontiers by Atchison and Stringfellow with the Southern militia, paid by the United States, and ordered back again. If so, let them show themselves men, and that they know their rights and are prepared to defend them.

While Northern men are disarmed and turned back, Southern men are admitted, and are organized into a territorial militia, and paid out of the public treasury! Such injustice—such treason to Liberty is too much for human patience, but there is no help for us except in the overthrow of the Slavery party, or in a revolution.

CONSOLIDATION CARRIED.—We congratulate our citizens on the success of the undertaking to consolidate the great Pittsburgh and Chicago lines of Railroads. All the Companies have given their sanction to the measure, and it only remains now to perform the formal act of perfecting the arrangement by electing a Board for the new Company, which will soon be done.—Seven years ago we predicted a Pittsburgh and Chicago Railroad. Our views were then deemed extravagant, Utopian. Now they are realities. So rapidly do events move in this stirring age.

SLAVERY AND THE PULPIT.—We are glad to see that one eminent Philadelphia divine has had the courage to proclaim the whole counsel of God, in spite of interruptions on the part of one of his excited parishioners. We extract the following account from the Philadelphia Sun.

AN EXCITING SCENE AT A CHURCH.—Notwithstanding the extreme heat of the weather, a large congregation assembled on Sunday night, at the Protestant Episcopal Church of the Epiphany, at the corner of Chesnut and Fifteenth streets, induced to do so by an advertisement in the papers of Saturday, that the rector, Rev. Dudley A. Tyng, would discourse on the subject of "Our Country's Troubles." The announcement created more sensation than usual, from the fact that the episcopal denomination, as a body, have always discountenanced the introduction of such topics into the pulpit, and that from the circumstance that the Rector, since his connection with his parish, has generally preserved silence on questions having the most remote allusion to public affairs.

The minister having selected an appropriate text, briefly gave his reasons for introducing the subject into the pulpit, and then proceeded to denounce in an eloquent strain and straight forward manner, the outrages in Kansas and at Washington, the aggressions of the slave power, the miserable truckling of the North to the South, the horrors of slave breeding, and concluded by urging his congregation to exercise their rights as freemen at the ballot box, in staying the progress of the monster evil, and invoking aid for the suffering emigrants in Kansas.—The sermon was listened to with breathless attention, and without interruption until the speaker spoke of slave-breeding, rousing immortal souls (who were also for human flesh) for market, when Dr. Caspar Morris, formerly a church warden, rose from his pew, and, as one of the original church wardens, entered his solemn protest against the desecration of the place and the day by such services.

The preacher continued his discourse without noticing the interruption, and at the conclusion of his sermon, respectfully suggested to the gentleman who had interposed his objections, to point out the wrong which he had committed in using the Sabbath as the time, and the Episcopal pulpit as the place for the utterance of anti-slavery sentiments.

Mr. Tyng suggested, too, that it would have been as well to have waited until he had concluded his remarks before interposing any objection to them. If he (Mr. T.) was wrong, he was open to correction, but he would, as a minister of Jesus Christ, express his views of the great exciting topic of the day.

Mr. Tyng was perfectly calm throughout the unusual scene, and he appeared to be entirely unmoved during the decided sensation incident to the interruption of Dr. Morris. We should state that at the commencement of the remarks of Mr. Tyng, several members of the congregation left the church.

After the sermon was finished, the members of the congregation gathered in knots to discuss the unusual event, while many of them congratulated the minister upon the decided stand he had taken. We understand that the matter will be referred to the Bishop of the Diocese.

The Sun adds editorially:

"In our local column will be found the account of an interruption made to a sermon of the Rev. Dudley A. Tyng's, at the Church of the Epiphany, on Sunday evening, which was caused by his denunciations of slavery being displeasing to Dr. Caspar Morris. Perhaps, if Dr. Tyng had recollected that Dr. Morris, Pierce Butler, Esq., and others of his congregation are slaveholders, he might have followed high pulpit example and preferred Mammon to God."

Colonel Fremont.

WASHINGTON, June 28, 1856.—Messrs Editors: It has long been a subject of regret that no man's name can be presented to his fellow-citizens for their suffrages to office but that private slanders must be used to blot his character. I know you have often deprecated this venal practice of the press of the country.

In an Administration paper of this city I noticed yesterday an editorial in which Colonel Fremont is charged with having been educated by a party of Catholic ladies, and is indebted to them for benefactions which he is willing now to forget by turning anti-Catholic and spurning the hand that fostered him. Now, sirs, I have known Col. Fremont for thirty years, received together with him my first classical lessons from the same source, and state upon my own personal knowledge that the whole editorial referred to is unfounded in truth, and the editor has been grossly imposed upon by his informant.

THE CROPS.—We hear great complaints of the ravages of the weevil in all parts of this county as well as in those adjoining. These are of course premature, and to be expected, and we hope, as we presume, they will prove to be in a great measure unfounded when the harvest comes to be gathered. The weather for a week past has however been highly unfavorable for wheat in this vicinity. Many fields are badly beaten down and the close, damp, sultry weather is undoubtedly productive of rust. But, so far as Corn, Potatoes, &c., are concerned, it has been just the thing; and, take it altogether, we have no fears of bountiful yields generally, and reasonable prices during the next year.—Zanesville O., Courier.

The Truth is powerful and must prevail.—The great reason of the unbounded success of "Keeney's Medical Discovery" is, that its proprietor has never stated anything in regard to it, that was not strictly true. On the other hand he does not in his circular mention many diseases that he has certificates to prove have been cured by his "Discovery." When he has said one, two or three bottles will cure you of Erysipelas, one or two will cure you of Rheumatism, it has always been so. Thence the confidence of the public has been gained, and persons who have been cured of course mention it to all around them—giving a notoriety to this medicine that will last long after its discoverer has gone to receive his reward for the many he has healed.

Mothers may give it to their infants, with perfect confidence in its easy delicate action, and those whose stomachs are debilitated by ether and nauseous doses of pills, &c., will find this an agreeable and true friend. The Dyspeptic may rely upon its permanent benefits, and the habitually costive man an immediate cure. For colds, croup, coughs, headaches, sore stomach, swimming in the head or dizziness, pains in the side, back or breast, pleurisy, lumbago, worms in children and billiousness, fevers, swellings, piles, skin eruptions, and all other complaints arising from a disordered stomach and liver, this medicine is a never failing remedy. Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor.—The great and principal characteristics of DALLY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR consist:

1st. Of its never failing and unique property, as soon as applied to any external injury, to cast a concussion instantly, and rapidly to subdue all pain or soreness and scalds, and of other painful diseases, in so incredibly short a space of time, and as will appear from the following, it's never to be annulled. Every intelligent mind is fully aware that in all cases of internal injury, the blood is produced by inflammation of the injured parts; and, therefore, if you remove the cause, the effect must cease.

2d. It's healing properties neutralize the poison that may lurk in the system, as it will, when applied to the parts, draw rapidly all impure matter to the surface of the object it—hence the great efficacy in produces from it's being constantly by persons—and when applied to cancerous sores, fish abscess, or other cutaneous diseases.

Medical Testimony from the justly celebrated Dr. PARSONS, of VIRGINIA.—This is to certify that I have used in my practice, and have seen it used by others, Dr. T. I have used it in Rheumatism, Sprains, Bruises, Pains and Burns, with almost universal success, and can with confidence recommend it to the public.

Dr. Keyser's Shoulder Braces.—From Pittsburgh Dispatch, April 10th, 1856.—For more than 3 years past we have constantly worn the Washington Suspender Brace, manufactur'd by Dr. Geo. H. Keyser, of No. 140 Wood st., in this city, and would heartily recommend it to all who are compelled to follow a sedentary occupation. As we have before remarked, in calling attention to its merits, it answers for a brace and suspenders, the weight of the pantaloons being so placed as to contribute by tend to bring the shoulders to their natural position and expand the chest. Women, hundreds of whom are annually injured by the weight of enormous "skirts," should also procure these braces. So particular is procuring the kind mentioned, as many of the braces sold are humbug. Sold at Dr. GEO. H. KEYSER'S, Wholesale Druggist, 140 Wood st, sign of the Golden Mortar. jy2d&w1y

It is not often we notice a patent medicine—indeed, we think we have never puffed one before—but Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative, advertised in our columns to-day, is something so out of the usual order that we cannot forbear asking the attention of our readers to it.—It will accomplish all it professes to do, or our eyes have deceived us in looking at the heads of several of our acquaintances. All ye with gray heads, try it.—Erie (Pa.) Observer. jy2:1tw7

A Great Medicine for Females.—Hundreds of stimulants have been invented and sold, purporting to be specific in the various diseases and derangements to which the delicate form of woman renders her subject.—The result of all these stimulants has been to impart momentary activity to the nervous system, and false vigor to the muscles; but this relief has been succeeded by a depression and prostration greater than before; and the repeated attempts of invalids to build themselves up by these false remedies, have finally ended in destroying what little vital organization was left. But in using Hoofland's Holland Bitters," you will find no such disastrous results. It is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave. Under its influence every nerve and muscle receives new strength and vigor, appetite and sleep return, and finally, perfect health. See advertisement in another column. jy3:d&w1w
