Lieutenant Gray.—Question.—Did you bear an order from Commodore Stockton on the Sth of January, on the field of battle. The enemy had been obserted to withdraw his gans from the beight. The Commodore directed me to go to Gen. Kearney, and say to him to send a square and a field-plece immediately up on the height, to prevent the enemy's returning with their gans. I went and gave him the order to Gen. Kearney for the enemy's returning with their gans. I went and gave him the order to Gen. Kearney for the enemy's returning with their gans. I went and gave him the order, and on my return to Commodore Stockton, observed the division or square of Gen. Kearney moving towards the hill.

"Question.—Did you bear that order to General Kearney in your character as aid-de-camp to Commodore Stockton, the Commander-include!

"Answer.—Yes.

"Question by the judge advocate.—Do you recollect the words and manner in which was delicated the proceedings."

The following is the President's order upon the proceedings.

From Rearrey in your character as aid-de-camp to Commodore Blockton, the Commander-in-Chief!

"Answer.—Yes.

"Question by the judge advocate.—Do you recollect the words and manner in which you delivered that order; did you deliver its other to general general court martial in the received it is an order, or merely as a suggestion?

"Answer.—I carried it as an order, in the usual respectful way. How General Kearney received it, i, of course, cannot asy. He did not show, by his manner, that it was disagreed to ment of the Brigodier General George M. Brooke was here to be the should like to command the troops. I said to him Lieutenant Rowan, first lieutenant of the Cyans, and, after some further conversation on the swince."

Stand that he would like to command the troops, and immediately sent for Lieutenant Rowan, is the terminal ment and product of the proceedings.
