MR. SUMNER'S SPEECH.—Persons desirous of procuring copies of Mr. Sumner's celebrated speech, "The Crime against Kansas," in pamphlet form, can procure them at this office.

BOLTING.—The Fillmore flour in Massachusetts seems to need a great deal of bolting. The first State Council called by the party after the Philadelphia Convention, endorsed Fremont by a considerable majority. The Fillmorites bolted and called a Simon Pure Council to meet in Boston last Thursday. This Council met accordingly, but Fremont had grown so strong in the meantime that he was again endorsed, and again the Fillmore men bolted, calling another meeting to be held on the 5th of August. If this meeting, when it takes place, should also go for Fremont, what is left of the party will be worth nothing when bolted.

DEMOCRACY IN SOUTH CAROLINA.—At a Fourth of July dinner near Charleston, S. C., the following toast was drunk with all the honors:

"The Union—May it speedily be dissolved, and the Hon. P. S. Brooks be the first President of the southern republic."

We don't know of any body better fitted to preside over the destinies of the Southern Republic than Mr. Brooks. They would no doubt greatly prefer him for President in South Carolina, but as it is impossible to elect him at present, they are all going for Buchanan as the next best man. Everybody knows that South Carolina is the strongest and surest State in the democratic column. Its devotion to the Union—which is a cardinal principle of the democratic party—may be seen from the sentiment of the toast.

THE PENNSYLVANIA ROAD.—The Baltimore Sun speaks of the late fearful accident near Philadelphia as having occurred on "the Pennsylvania Road." The designation was probably accidental, there being considerable similarity between the name of that road and that of "the North Pennsylvania road," on which the accident took place; but when the rivalry between the Pennsylvania road and the Baltimore and Ohio road is taken into account, such a designation in such a quarter is calculated to work mischief and create unjust prejudices. There is no road in the country freer from accidents than the Pennsylvania railroad.

PRESIDENT PIERCE A HERMIT.—The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger says that President Pierce has not left the Presidential mansion since the passage of the bills which he had vetoed. Other bills of the same sort are now maturing in Congress, with an evident view to pass them over his head, should he refuse to sign them. Doubtless this is galling enough; but it is difficult to see in it the absolute necessity of Mr. Pierce imitating Charles V, by locking himself up and turning the White House into a convent.

MR. FILLMORE AND THE MASSACHUSETTS WHIGS—The Boston Daily Advertiser, which may be regarded as the organ of the fossiliferous Whiggery in New England, and is known to speak the sentiments of Mr. Everett, has at last declared itself on the subject of the duty of the Whigs in the present contest for the Presidency. If any hopes had been entertained by the friends of Mr. Fillmore that this "respectable daily" would espouse his cause, they have been effectually disposed of by its leader of Friday, which concludes thus:

"It must be quite unnecessary to say anything further on this head, for so slight under present appearances is the prospect that Mr. Fillmore will receive a support from his own party which can be of any avail to him, that the Whigs might as well throw away their votes by settling up an electoral ticket of their own, as by borrowing for the same object that of the American party. We do not assume this as a certain result, but it seems so probable that we would not recommend to the Whigs the adoption of any system of action based on so uncertain an event as the success of the Fillmore ticket in any one State of the Union."

THE PARTY OF MURDER AND VIOLENCE—There is no place in the country where proslavery and democracy have such unlimited sway as at Washington; and it is just there, of all other places, that life and person are most insecure. A Senator is felled, like an ox, by a brutal blow from a cowardly Southern member of Congress, and beaten to insensibility; and for this, a democratic judge imported from Pennsylvania by a democratic President, fines him in the paltry sum of $300. Another Southern member gets into a quarrel with a servant at a hotel, strikes the first blow and finally kills him; and this same democratic judge, aided by a jury selected by a democratic marshal, acquits him and sets him at large to pursue his murderous career. Such is pro-slavery democracy at head quarters, and such also, is it in Kansas, where it has unlimited sway. It is a question for peaceable and christian men to ask whether a party which thus hugs murder, violence and oppression to its breast, is fit to rule the country. What sort of picture is the following from the Philadelphia Bulletin, to present of the seat of government of a republican nation?

"The criminal laws, as executed in Washington city, especially against criminals who are called 'Honorable,' are utterly worthless.—Brooks was fined $300 for an outrageous offence, which, if perpetrated by a hackman from the North, would have been punished with imprisonment. Herbert, who killed a waiter at breakfast, has just been acquitted, although every one knows that his conduct in the affair was that of a brute and a coward, and that even if he were not guilty of murder in the first degree, he should at least have been convicted of manslaughter. It seems idle to expect anything like justice in the District of Columbia. Members of Congress have henceforth the widest license to go about with bludgeons, knives and pistols, cudgelling, stabbing and shooting any who chance to stand in their way."

THE LATE RAILROAD DISASTER.—Sixty-six lives are now known to have been lost by the late calamity on the North Pennsylvania railroad. The wounded probably exceed one hundred. The list of the dead which we publish is the first complete and correct one that has been made, difficulties of all kinds having interfered to prevent the reporters from procuring accurate statements. Many bodies were burned almost to ashes; some were so mutilated as to be totally beyond recognition; others were unknown for some time, although not materially disfigured.—But the catalogue of the dead, which we give today, comprehends all, we trust, that perished by the disaster.

So fearful a destruction of human life has never before occurred on any railroad in the world; and the circumstances of the destruction were of so frightful a nature as to add materially to its horror. The public will now demand that some measures be taken to bring to justice those who may be proved to have, by their neglect or recklessness, brought on the catastrophe. The verdict of the Coroner's Jury in this city does not hesitate to charge the conductor of the excursion train with "criminal negligence." It also condemns the company for a want of proper regulations, especially on excursion trains. The offending conductor is under arrest in Montgomery county, where the disaster occurred, and where, no doubt, he will be tried. What measures will be adopted against the company we have not learned.—Phil. Bulletin.

GOOD WHEAT.—Never has there been such a yield of wheat in Northern Missouri, as the present year. The crop has now all been cut, and the question as to the yield is not a matter of doubt; from twenty-five to forty bushels per acre is perhaps a fair estimate of the crop. When we consider the large extent of ground which has been devoted to wheat this year, with this yield, we have a faint idea of the amount of raw material now in the country. So far as we can learn, the wheat is also of superior quality, as is usual when there is a large yield.—St. Joseph [Mo.] Gazette, July 17.

A HEN STORY.—The New York Clipper contains an account from a correspondent in Watertown, Conn., of a fight between a hawk and a hen. The hawk seized one of the hen's chicks and made off with it, upon which the parent hen immediately took flight after the thief, which she overtook about one hundred feet from terra firma, and gave him such a drubbing that he was glad to let fall the chick and escape with his life.

Temperanceville Meeting.

The following episode occurred on Saturday night at Temperanceville at the formation of a Fremont Club.

T. J. Bigham was addressing the Club on the claims of John C. Fremont to its support, when also a professed Catholic) inquired if it was not a fact that "John C. Fremont was a Catholic?"

Mr. B. replied, I thank you for the inquiry. I have carefully examined that matter, but without being thus called out should not have alluded to it. John C. Fremont's parents were married by a Catholic priest and he was born and baptised in that church. Losing his father at the age of five years his future education was entrusted to his mother, a woman of very decided protestant tendencies of mind. Her limited means would only afford him a good common school education.

For his classical and mathematical education he is indebted to J. W. Mitchell, Esq., who became interested in him as a boy of wonderful talents and industry. That education, however, was not only a Protestant one, but specially intended by his patron, mother and friends to fit him for the ministry in the Protestant Episcopal Church. He was confirmed in that church in his seventeenth year and has been ever since a member in full communion in that church.

Thus, my friends, John C. Fremont by birth—by education—by conviction and by choice is a member of a protestant church—the same church to which George Washington belonged to whom Fremont is actually connected on his mother's side.

This ridiculous charge I presume has originated from the fact of his marriage under the following circumstances by a Catholic Priest:

In his 29th year he had wooed and won Jessie, second daughter of Thomas H. Benton, Senator from Missouri. A second Lieutenant of Topographical Engineers, without wealth or powerful family connections did not meet the expectations of Col. Benton's family. The young folks had to make what is called a runaway match. The Presbyterian Clergy to which Col. Benton's family belonged—the Episcopal to which Fremont belonged did not dare to incur the displeasure of Col. Benton by marrying his daughter—(only in her 18th year) against the consent of her father. A Catholic priest—celebrated for his accomodating disposition in Orleans Green affairs—always willing when one or both the parties were not Catholics to omit so much of marriage service as recognises the marriage contract as a sacrament, was at hand "to unite two willing hearts in one."

Now, it is not for me, a parent myself, to encourage disobedience to parents.

And old bachelors, this I will say, if you can find a girl just suited to your mind, possessing only one half the mind, soul and heart that Jessie possesses, the world will not say you commit sin provided you should be spliced even by a Catholic priest if none other is at hand.

I have carefully examined this matter within a week. I pledge you my integrity for the facts above stated, my house is almost in sight of where we are now assembled, and if any man in this audience doubts my word and will call upon me I will provide him the evidence which has convinced me that the above facts are true.

And now my friends this furnishes one further point of contrast in which John C. Fremont has vastly the advantage of James Buchanan. I have no disposition to drag James Buchanan's domestic relations into this canvass—but if his friends will force us to these contrasts, I am willing to give them the hot end of the poker. I am therefore warranted in saying, that if James Buchanan, an old bachelor verging on three score and ten, had fulfilled the whole duty to his race, and had that additional interest in his country's future which every parent must feel, he would have much longer hesitated to lose himself and become a platform—the alpha and omega of which is the extension of human slavery over a virgin soil capable of sustaining in the future unnumbered millions of freemen.

One farther thought and I am done with this contest forced upon me. By general consent the politician encounters his full share of the temptations incident to this state of probation, and of all others, certainly a President, with his immense patronage to bestow, surrounded night and day by base, false friends, anxious to use him for their own sinister purposes, has most need of all safeguards to rectitude. Where, O where shall we look for an executive thus tried and tempted find a refuge so secure—a counsellor whose voice will never be heard but to win and woo him to virtue's side, equal to the instincts of a pure and loving wife. Human observation teaches us with poetry and sentiment in declaring the three sweetest words in the English language to be Wife, Home, Heaven. Elect JOHN C. FREMONT and you have in the all providing influence of Jessie the assurance that all that the most devoted of wives, the purest and most patriotic of matrons can effect to render his administration peaceful, pure and prosperous shall not be wanting.

The least that can be said, is that the country has no such security in an administration of which James Buchanan would be the head.

THE FREE DEMOCRATS OF NEW YORK.—The large and enthusiastic State Convention of Democrats, held at Syracuse, New York, last week, which repudiated Buchanan, adopted the following excellent resolutions:

Forasmuch as the last Convention of the Democratic party in this State, and the late Convention at Cincinnati have not only kept silence respecting the public disorders and violence which now unhappily prevail, but have adopted resolutions on the subject of slavery in the territories which are at variance with the traditions and principles of Democracy, are anarchical in their tendency, and immoral in their character, and forasmuch, also, as the question of slavery extension has been forced by the administration and the Cincinnati Convention into paramount importance, and is made by politicians the hinge on which all other questions turn—therefore

Resolved, by the Democrats here assembled, representing the Democracy of the State, that we repudiate these Conventions and all their proceedings, and will act as independently of them as if they had never assembled.

Resolved, That as Democrats we stand upon the platforms of Jefferson and Jackson, Tompkins and Wright—on principles which do not change with the clamor of packed conventions or schemes of seekers after nomination, and because the extension of slavery has never been and can never be the purpose or result, immediate or remote of the true democracy. We hereby declare our uncompromising hostility to it and our firm resolution to resist it by every lawful means. We will vote for no man who contributes to it directly or indirectly, and we will oppose the election of any person who does not oppose it as we do.

Resolved, That because the nominees of the Cincinnati Convention are pledged to make the resolutions of that Convention their guide and rule of conduct, and because their election would prolong and tend to perpetuate the deplorable misrule of the present administration, and because the exigencies of the times demand the union of all who oppose the extension of slavery and the waiver, for the present, of other questions of subordinate importance, and because the opinions of John C. Fremont and William L. Dayton on this subject agree with our own, and there is much in their history and character to commend them to our regard, we hereby nominate them for the offices respectively of President and Vice President of the United States, and will use every honorable effort to secure their election, that we may rescue the Presidential office from the degradation into which it has fallen, and the politics of the country from the corruption which is fast undermining our best institutions.

Resolved, That the chief practical question in the Presidential election is the question of freedom or slavery in Kansas. The election of Mr. Buchanan would make Kansas a slave State, and give courage to the slave element in our National government, while the election of Mr. Fremont will make Kansas a free State, and reduce slavery to what it was in better days of the republic, and ought ever to have been—a purely State institution, determinable by the States each for itself, over which the other States have no control, and for it no responsibility.

THE Cologne Gazette is responsible for the following story:

"When Palmer was condemned, the Sardinian Ambassador telegraphed to Turin—Palmer, condemned to death, will be hanged at Rugeley.'—The official at Turin wrote for 'Palm,' (abridged for Palmer) 'Palmerston,' and sent it as an official despatch to the Minister Cavour. The latter, having smiled on reading it, left it open on his desk, and in a few minutes the report went like wildfire through Turin, that the English had hanged their prime minister."

PENAL MANUFACTURES.—Professor Mapes says that nine-tenths of the olive oil in this country is manufactured in France from American lard oil. It is purified by sal soda, and is about equal to olive oil for the table or for other purposes. The French seem to be a good length ahead of us in all that relates to delicacies for the table. We have plenty of sardines on our coasts, but it requires French hands to put them in boxes.

CAN'T GO THE PLATFORM.—The Dubuque papers publish a card from D. N. Cooley, one of the Executive Committee of the Buchanan Club in that city, saying that, though he can swallow a good many things; he cannot get down that Cincinnati Platform. Mr. Cooley will go for Fremont and Freedom. Tally!

A THEASONABLE HEN.—The State of Maine says: "Our old hen was put to set on thirty-one eggs, and only sixteen chickens were hatched. We therefore have given orders to have her hung for treason, on account of this 'significant sign of her hostility to the Union.'"

JUDGE FINNACK of Clermont county, Ohio, who was an active supporter of Trimble last year for Governor, is now in favor of Fremont this year for Governor, and is now stumping that county and Dayton. He made a speech in favor of the Republican candidates at Ripley on Saturday.

FRANKLIN COUNTY.—Franklin is the native county of Buchanan, and active efforts are making to carry it, but so far, it would seem, in vain. The following is from the correspondence of the Philadelphia Bulletin:—

"The Fremont men issued a call on Monday last for the organization of a Club, and out of some two hundred signers, twenty formerly acted with the Democratic party. The first meeting was held last night, and was largely attended. I never witnessed so much enthusiasm at this stage of any previous campaign. Speeches were made by Messrs. McLellan, Campbell, McClure and Crooks. Prof. Campbell has hitherto acted with the Democratic party, and so confident were they of his firmness in the faith, that they called upon him to address the Buchanan Club here a few evenings ago. Of course he declined doing so; but he made an eloquent appeal for Fremont last night, discussing the great issue before the people in a masterly style.

This being Mr. Buchanan's native county, the contest promises to be much more spirited here than in most sections of the State. You are aware that the Democratic State Convention will meet here on the 6th of August, and on the following day a great mass meeting is to come off with Douglas, Wise, Chandler, Randall, Reed and others, advertised to speak. Every effort is now being made to make this mass meeting as imposing as possible. Maj. Rowe of this county is to be nominated for Surveyor General, according to Forney's programme, so as to strengthen the efforts of the Democracy to carry Mr. Buchanan's county. Mr. Reilly will be on the ticket for Congress, and probably Mr. Broner for Senator, so that if there is anything in pilling men on a ticket, the fight must be desperate."

But all this effort of the Democracy will fail. At first the Democracy was hopeful of carrying the county. It was believed that many old line Whigs would support him, but as the obnoxious Cincinnati platform was read and digested, they have fallen from him one by one, and scores of Democrats with them. We have a genuine edition of the Kansas laws here, printed by the State Printer of the Border Ruffian Legislature, and it is worse than a steady fire of grape into a compact army. It is arousing our farmers, mechanics and laborers to maintain freedom of opinion, freedom of speech, freedom of suffrage and free labor, and no human efforts can carry them back for Buchanan, with the damning evidence before their eyes.

There are a few Fillmore men in this county, but they will all co-operate with the Fremont men on State and local tickets, and I believe will carry nearly all yet vote for Fremont. You can rest assured that Franklin county, so far from giving Mr. Buchanan a majority, as was confidently predicted by his friends a few days ago, will give more than the old Whig majority for Col. Fremont.

THERE is a strong feeling of opposition to Breckenridge in Kentucky, growing out of the Trial of Matt Ward, the murderer of the schoolmaster at Louisville. It will be remembered that Breckenridge was one of the distinguished counsel who volunteered to quit his post at Washington to go and screen the rich and guilty assassin from punishment.

IN a speech the other day, Hon. Humphrey Marshall declared he would "stake his reputation upon the assertion that Fillmore would carry seven, if not eight, of the Southern States." Forsooth, for the Colonel, if his assertion should prove untrue, as it unquestionably will, he will not sustain a very heavy loss.—Lou. Courier.

THE Hocking Valley (Ohio) Republican and Meigs County (Ohio) Telegraph have both hoisted the Fremont flag, and put down their names as five counties at 1000 majority for Fremont and Dayton. This leaves but one press in the 11th Congressional district in support of Fillmore, and we believe but 3 or 4 in the State.

DURING the last seven years, fourteen hundred murders, in all, have been perpetrated in and about San Francisco, and the city itself has been burned down seven times.

Some of the doctors tried bleeding, and various other remedies were tried, but all to no use, for the deep rooted disease still stuck fast. At last I procured a box of your valuable Liver Pills, and after a few days' use, I found a great relief. After taking a portion of them I was free from disease and painful sensation over the eyes has almost entirely left me. A Great Medicine for Females.—Hundreds of establishments have been invented and sold, purporting to be specific in the various diseases and derangements to which the delicate form of woman sender her subject. The result of all these stimulants has been to impart more nervous excitability to the nervous system, and raise vigor to the standard; but this relief has been succeeded by a depression and prostration greater than before; and the repeated attempts of invalids to build themselves up by these false remedies, have finally ended in destroying what little vital organization was left. But in using Boerhave's Holland Bitters" you will find no such disastrous results. It is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated, Holland Professor, Boerhave. Under its influence every nerve and muscle receives new strength and vigor, appetite and sleep return, and finally, perfect health. See advertisement in another column. jn23:d&wt

Frostwort or Rock Rose.—For the cure of Scrofulous Diseases.

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 1, 1852

My son Charles has been afflicted with inflammation of the hip joint. At the age of 5 he was first attacked; inflammation increased until the hip was very diseased, and the joint severely affected his leg. Growing it up so that the joint severely affected his leg. Growing it up so that the joint severely affected his leg. Growing it up so that it was impossible to straighten it; a professor of surgery in this city recommended his leg should never be straightened; he was confined to his bed eighteen months; I did not have the full advice of physicians, by leech-treated by distinguished medical practitioners, by leeching, blistering, &c., he had also been before the Medical Clinique of Yale College. The remedies they recommended were most faithfully tried, but without avail. The disease increased rapidly that for two and a half years he only walked with a crutch, and the effects to arrest the limb were attended with great pain, so that he could not sleep. I watched him so attentively, that for 5 months I did not have the full night's rest. He had been
