THE STEAM-FIRE ENGINE "CITIZEN."—We were not on the ground on Sunday when the fire broke out, which laid in ruins the tenements near Boyd's Hill; but soon after the flames had commenced raging and when it seemed as if they would make a clean sweep and repeat the catastrophe of 1845, we were there, and can, as we believe, speak fairly in respect to the manner of proceedings in reference to the Steamfire Engine. There it stood, ready for action, the horses which drew it, forced up there through a blinding dust and flying fiery cinders; there it stood while the flames were roaring and leaping on to the work of destruction, absolutely idle. It had the force in it to throw and would have thrown more water, probably, than half the hand-engines in the city combined, but, even in prospect of an immense conflagration, it stood idle. Certain public-spirited citizens of Pittsburgh joined in a liberal contribution and purchased the machine for the good of all house-holders. The city took charge of the gift, appropriated money to keep the engine in order, to provide horses to draw it, and in general to pay all necessary expenses connected with operating it. The amount thus appropriated was, we think, $1500. Yet all this money is a dead loss.

On Sunday the Engine was first stationed near the head of Fourth street. Ordered away from there, it sought a new position which was in turn invaded by those who had control of hand-engines. Then driven about by the crowd, the horses restive, the directors somewhat confused, the heat and smoke almost intolerable, the engineer at last appealed to workers of the hand-machines for a chance to procure hose, but he appealed in vain. The "Citizen" was taken aside and the man-power usurped the field.

We wish to do injustice to no man and to no parties if such there are in this matter. We only ask whether or not the money invested in this engine is to be lost: whether or not that appropriated for keeping the machine in working order is to be a useless investment? Especially should our citizens know if it has come to this that, the city is at the mercy of a spirit of opposition to the introduction of this or similar machines which have proved so effective elsewhere. Must the Steam-fire Engine be crowded out of the field to make way for those which cannot begin to throw water in successful competition, at a moment when the flames, driven before a tempest of wind into a mass of houses as dry as tinder, are threatening to lay the city in ruins? Let us as citizens understand this question once for all.

CORRUPTION FUND.—We find in the New York papers a report of a meeting in that city of certain bankers and dry-goods jobbers in the Southern trade, to take measures to remedy, if possible, the present desperate condition, and brighten if possible the present gloomy prospects of the "Democracy." Pennsylvania was canvassed in their speeches and in sad tones, tearful orators reported the hand writing on the wall, telling of what will happen in November. The "sinews of war"! that was the cry: we must have the money. Long before this meeting was brought to a close the list of subscriptions footed up at not less than $20,000. At a former meeting of the same kind at the same place, it is understood that $50,000 was raised—all to carry the election in Pennsylvania.

These men believe that votes can be bought in Pennsylvania as slaves are bought at the south. We trust that the labor of these cotton-lords among the men of this State will be fruitless, and that the voice of Pennsylvania will be for Fremont and Freedom in spite of all efforts to force an opposite verdict. See to it honest men.

PREPARING FOR WAR.—The Norfolk Argus states that Gov. Wise has issued through the Adjutant General, orders to the commandants throughout the State to thoroughly organize the militia, that it may be qualified "to render effective service whenever Virginia may call for it." Is there any probability of war?

COAL LANDS.—The advance in the price of Coal Lands is apparently too common a matter here, even to attract the attention of the press. The fact that the best bituminous coal in this country can be obtained upon the high banks of the Monongahela, and dumped in many cases from the very mouths of the pits into the boats which convey it to market, is a sufficient guaranty against loss to those who might desire to invest money in such property. Look at it. Here we are at the head-waters of the Ohio, and for a good portion of the year enjoy free navigation to the mouths of the Mississippi as well as to its head-waters. The whole immense valleys to the South and West with their increasing population, the steam-ships that visit New Orleans, and all those fleets of boats which use coal for one purpose or another look to our lands for their supply. The annually increasing demand has, in several cases which have fallen under our notice, served to advance the prices of coal lands to an almost incredible extent. For example, a few days since, the Messrs. Watson, of New Orleans, formerly of this city, purchased 150 acres on the Monongahela about five miles above this city at $1000 per acre. A rail-road, for the conveyance of the coal a short distance, and some other improvements, passed with the land. We learn that the veins of coal have not as yet been worked to any great extent. The land was bought a few years since for a small sum of money, and has now sold for a price which is a fortune in itself. The Messrs. Watson supply steamships in New Orleans with vast quantities of coal yearly, and it is to these rich fields they look for their material.

The Pittsburgh article is so free from impurities, and so rich in all those elements which render it desirable for fuel for dwellings or for locomotive or other furnaces, that no other article of coal yet discovered, can compete with it. And as for the amount to be obtained, we suppose that not a fourth of the lands in a circle of twenty miles around us have ever been worked except perhaps to procure fuel for domestic use of persons in the immediate neighborhood. This vast mineral wealth waits to enrich men of capital and enterprise.

MELANCHOLY DEATH OF GEORGE STEERS THE SHIP BUILDER.—On Thursday afternoon, Mr. George Steere, the famous ship and yacht builder, proceeded in a buggy from New York city to Little Neck, L. I., to bring his family to the city. After proceeding some distance, his horse took fright, when he jumped out, but was unfortunately struck by the vehicle on the head, prostrated and rendered insensible. He was soon after discovered by several friends, and a physician obtained, but his skill proved of no avail. Mr. S. died at 10½ o'clock the same evening.—The Herald says:

Mr. Steers was, it is well known, the most successful ship-builder on this continent. In 1853 the celebrated yacht America, built by him, proceeded to England, and there won the prize awarded to the fastest yacht of all nations. Since then the yacht Julia was constructed under his supervision, and in every regatta where she entered she carried off the prize. A number of pilot boats and other fast sailing vessels were subsequently built for parties in this city and elsewhere with great success.

But the greatest triumph of Mr. Steers' life has yet to take place. The steamship Adriatic, of the Collins line, constructed by him and launched last summer, is now making preparations for her trial trip. In the construction of the Adriatic Mr. Steers expected to obtain the acme of his fame, but the insecurable ways of Providence forbade him witnessing that great triumph of genius and art. However, the Adriatic, his proudest piece of workmanship, will serve as a lasting monument to the fame of one who had no equal, either in America or Europe, in matters of ship building.

Mr. Steers was about thirty-five years of age. He was born in Washington city, but had lived in New York since his boyhood.

THE Squatter Sovereign, Mr. Buchanan's organ on the Missouri Border, in speaking of Lane and the settlers whom he has conducted to Kansas says:

"We must fight the devil with fire—encourage the country of Abolitionism, Free Soilism, and every other damnable ism that exists. DESTROY THEIR PROPERTY, CROPS AND EVERY OTHER ARTICLE THAT WOULD CONDUCE TO THE SUPPORT OF ANY OR EVERY PERSON WHO IS KNOWN OR SUSPECTED OF ACTING, CO-OPERATING OR SYMPATHIZING WITH ABOLITIONISM. This must be done, or the Territory will be one continual scene of strife for months to come. Do this, and peace will be restored and quiet prevail. It is not too late, the work should be carried on vigorously."

It is also peculiarly severe upon Gov. Geary, as may be seen in the following:

"The inaugural and proclamation of Gov. John W. Geary are published in another column. The proclamation give Lane and his scoundrels all the benefits of the 'law's delay,' and defer, if they do not prevent, justice being meted out to as graceless a set of land pirates as ever infested a civilized land. The whole tenor of the documents, to us breathe a desire to screen the fugitives from justice, rather than to afford them an impossible and tardy promise of punishment to the offenders. From Gov. Geary's experience in California, we might reasonably conclude he had learned the efficacy and vital importance of prompt and decisive action, and that in any emergency he would have accepted any available force to punish the audacious rebellion against the Government. But not so. A disbanding and disbanding must take place ere his Excellency can proceed to the protection of the laws and the lives and the property of hundreds of loyal-to-live persons. So far as our information extends ninety out of four thousand rebels have been arrested. What a prodigious labor for a governor and a general, with eight hundred or a thousand troops at their command, to perform in two weeks!"

RAIN.—What we have longed for many a day came yesterday. It rained freely nearly all day, and, although the contrast with the bright days we have been having for a month past made everything appear peculiarly sombre and gloomy, the prospect that the Ohio will soon again be navigable served to brighten every face. The earth was so thirsty that several days of such weather as yesterday's will be no more than enough to satisfy it, but now that the drought is broken we trust that a sufficient surplus of water will be granted to enliven our long-deserted wharf again. For weeks now, the only avenue of transportation westward, the Ft. Wayne and Chicago Railroad, has been literally blocked with freight. All the streets leading to the depot of that great thoroughfare have been crowded with vehicles and although every effort has been made by officers and employees on that road to perform the business and everything done that could be to facilitate shipments, they have sometimes been scarcely equal to the task. We think we may at length count confidently upon a navigable river again. When that is assured the fall business of the city will go forward with renewed life and the immense amounts of goods which we have heard await shipment hence from the east ward need no longer be delayed.

A "FREE SPEECH."—A reverend gentleman from Indiana tells us that an eminent Senator of that State in a speech before the "Democracy"—said that the regret which lingered with him in reference to the Brooks and Sumner affair was on account of the place in which the deed was perpetrated. If Brooks had only attacked Sumner any where else, twice as severe a beating would not have been too much.

As a result of this highly democratic sentiment a very large number of men who had theretofore acted with the party declared they would no longer give their votes in favor of such ruffianism. The number who bolted is said to have been about one hundred.

HON. L. C. LEVIN.—The Philadelphia Argus and Journal of Friday both say that Hon. Lewis C. Levin, formerly a member of Congress from the First Congressional District, has so far become deranged, that it was found necessary to send him to the Pennsylvania Hospital for the Insane, on the west side of the Schuylkill. This was done at 11 o'clock this morning, Sergeant Jarden being the officer, from the Eighth Ward, who conveyed the unfortunate man to the above named Institution.

For some time past, Mr. Levin has been laboring under mental aberration, and the worst fears of his friends have now been realized.

MR. HAMLIN.—The Bangor, Me., Jeffersonian says that the Republican Committee of Pennsylvania have requested Mr. Hamlin, Governor elect of Maine, to go to that State and enlist in the Republican cause there. Mr. Hamlin, the Jeffersonian learns, will leave for Pennsylvania in a few days. We hope that our friends may have the pleasure of hearing him in this city during the present week.

From Washington.

HOW FREMONT IS TO BE BEATEN.

CORRESPONDENCE OF THE N. Y. TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24, 1856.

There is a magnificent scheme of pipe-laying or log-rolling going on in Pennsylvania and New York. The plan is this: If the Pennsylvania State election goes unfavorably for the Buchaneers, then the State of New York is to be made the battle-ground, and a capture is to be attempted by a grand coup de main. All the fragments of the disorganized Know Nothing party are to be bought up—that is, the leaders—and thus throw the Fillmore strength into the Buchanan camp. I have this from an undoubted source. You see, here at Washington among the officeholders, they know not who to trust, and their secrets leak out. Yesterday, a "Democratic" office-holder offered to bet a friend of mine a large sum that, provided the Pennsylvania State election went against the Democrats, the State of New York would go for Buchanan by a large majority. Other bets of the same nature have been offered, and on the same (the Pennsylvania) contingency. Whether Rast. Brooks is to be made Secretary of State, or Fillmore sent Minister Plenipotentiary to the Cannibal Islands by this manœuver, has not yet transpired. Now, is not this a good plot as ever was laid? "a good plot, good friends, and full of expectation: an excellent plot, very good friends," as Hotspur says.

The indications of an arrangement between the Fillmore and Buchanan Slavery Extensionists multiply on every hand. A Washington correspondent of ours reports, in a letter which will be found in another part of this paper, that the proposed combination will be consummated in the event of the defeat of the Buchaneers at the approaching State election in Pennsylvania. Private advices from that State, however, inform us that the same Buchanaers have already concocted some scheme not yet publicly developed, securing the vote of the State in favor of Border-Ruffianism, and that their despair of the last few days has suddenly been changed to exultation. From New Jersey we also hear that Mr. Buchanan's recent visit to that State has resulted in an agreement to give the vote of the Buchanan men there to Fillmore in consideration of an equivalent in Pennsylvania. In this city we know that a meeting of the leaders of the two factions has just taken place, with a view to a combination on the basis of giving to Fillmore the Democratic Vote of New York, in return for which the Fillmore men of Pennsylvania are to be handed over to Buchanan. At the same time, we are assured that preparations have been made to repeat in Pennsylvania the notorious Plaquemines frauds of 1852, by which the vote of Louisiana was secured to Mr. Polk. The prolonged presence in this region of Mr. Senator Slidell, who is believed to have had so considerable a share in those nefarious transactions, is naturally regarded as having something to do with this part of the Border Ruffian strategy, without which it is felt Buchanan's election is impossible.

The proposition for trafficking off the votes of the Pennsylvania Fillmoreans for those of the Buchaneers of New York was first made by Mr. Fillmore and his advisers at Buffalo before the Maine Election had struck the Slavery Extensionists with astonishment and alarm. Then it was rejected by the unholy group of patriots who have Mr. Buchanan in charge. Now, it seems, they are ready to trade; and an additional evidence that a bargain has been arrived at may be found in the fact that Mr. Solomon G. Haven declines to be a candidate for re-election to Congress in the Buffalo district. Mr. Haven is by far the shrewdest and ablest member of that Buffalo law-firm into whose hands the disastrous death of Gen. Taylor committed the administration of the Government. He is Mr. Fillmore's nearest friend and adviser; and, unlikely as it is that he could be re-elected, his relation to that gentleman makes it indispensable that he should stand as a candidate. And yet we see that he has withdrawn from the canvass. This is either a confession that Fillmore has no chance in the State, which is perfectly true, but not at all natural on the part of Mr. Haven; or it indicates that the bargain with the Buchanan men has been concluded, and that it affords a satisfactory reason for his abandoning the field. The latter is probably the fact.

These intriguers evidently think that they can control the votes of their respective followers as they would lead so many sheep. They think that their bargains will be cordially adopted and executed by the rank and file of their forces. They imagine too, that by such tricks and contrivances as those we have exposed, they can put down the great popular revolution which is sweeping over the country. They fancy that by the system of "truck and dicker," they can obtain from the people a solemn indorsement and approval of the extension of Slavery by means of frauds, usurpations, civil war, murder, robbery and arson. We tell them it is in vain. The handwriting stands upon the wall, and all the conjuring of their soothsayers cannot avert their doom. Freedom at last is to have a victory.—N. Y. Trib.

OUR BOOK TABLE.

BLACKWOOD for September is before us with its usual amount of excellent readable matter. We have been particularly interested in an article entitled "The Poetry of Christian Art." A second article appears in this number on Macaulay, which will be read with interest by all. Blackwood is for sale at Miner's and at Gildenfenney's.

WALTER BENNING, THE ADOPTED SON; or Illustrations of The Lord's Prayer, by the Author of "Claremont Tales," etc. Philadelphia: Lippincott Bros. For sale by J. S. Davison, 60 Market-st.

A delightful little book is this. It consists of ten chapters, the caption of each, a paragraph from the Lord's Prayer, which gives tone to each portion as we pass along. Step by step with this plan a neat and delightful little Story is traced out which will cheer the fireside or grace the shelves of a Sabbath School or family library.

TALES OF SHERIFF AND THE NORSEMEN. For sale at Davison's.

The scenes of the tales which fill this neatly bound volume, are laid among the wild and gloomy hills of that Northern Land of Europe which is so rich in legends of Vikings and in wild systems of ancient mythology. They are adapted to the young, and we are sure the little folks will secure them, now that the Autumn evenings are pressing on with their pleasant hours. At Mr. Davison's.

STEAM SHIPS.—The trial-trip of the Adriatic will be made about the middle of October, and that of the Niagara in December. They are the monuments of Mr. Steers, built by himself.

FIGHTING FOR THE SOUTH.—A number of gentlemen called upon Mr. Buchanan, during his visit to this city. The call was made upon the evening after the Shamocracic fuss. Among these were a Virginian, a North Carolinian, a Tennesseean, and a Pennsylvanian. All of them were ardent admirers of the Shamocratic candidate. The Virginian promised him 15,000, the North Carolina 10,000; the Tennesseean 5000 majority in their respective States. Mr. Buchanan listened very complacently, and replied:

"The South is the land of sunshine and promise. She ought to do well for me, I am fighting her battles."

If there were no other evidence of the sectionality of Mr. Buchanan than this, it would alone be sufficient to convict him of the most intense devotion to the South. He is not fighting the battles of Pennsylvania, or the North, or the nation, but "of the South." It is well that this fact is known.

So disgusted was the Pennsylvanian, who had been a life-long Democrat, that he left the company with the determination of voting for Fremont and Dayton.—Phil. Times.

A NEW MOVEMENT.—Since the Know Nothings "Old line Whigs," met in Baltimore and re-nominated Mr. Fillmore, it has been suggested that a regular old-line Federal national convention be called, of those who stood by Mr. Buchanan in his federal glory, to adopt him as their candidate for the Presidency. Such a movement would amount to quite as much as the late bogus Whig Convention at Baltimore.—Let the convention be called!

Visitors to the State Fair will find everything they might desire in useful and fancy CHINA, GLASS and QUEENSWARE, for table use and Ornaments, at s30;2dtf'd HOLKINSONS, 65 Wood st.

DIED—On Sunday evening, at 7½ o'clock, Miss KATE, daughter of George Beale, Esq., aged 20 years.

Funeral at 10 o'clock, this (Tuesday) morning, from the residence of her father, Wylie street, near Fifth.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Medical Testimony Cannot be Controverted.—One of the most startling cases is narrated of Dr. McLane's Vermifuge by Dr. John Butler of Lowell, Trumbull Co., O. The case was that of a young lady who had been very sick for eight years; and had consulted a number of physicians, who had treated it as case of Prolapsus Uteri. Dr Butler was then called in, and for a time believed with his predecessors that it was a case of Prolapsia. He was however, soon forced to the conclusion that his patient was suffering from worms, and, after much persuasion prevailed upon her to take two doses of Dr M'Lane's Vermifuge, prepared by Fleming Bros., of Pittsburgh. This medicine had the effect of removing from her a countless number of the largest size. After she passed them, her health immediately returned. She is since married, and a mutiness to enjoy excellent health.

☞ Purchasers will be careful to ask for Dr. McLANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, and take none else. All other Vermifuges, in comparison, are worthless. Dr M'Lane's Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in the United States, and Canada. None genuine without the signature of FLEMING BROS, Pittsburgh, Pa., on the wrapper. For sale by s27;d&w1wd&tf

Dr. Keyser's Shoulder Braces—From Pittsburgh Dispatch, April 10th, 1856.—For more than 8 years past we have constantly sold the Washington Shoulder Brace, manufactured by Dr. Geo. H. Keyser, of No. 146 Wood st., in this city, and would heartily recommend it to all who are compelled to follow a sedentary occupation. As we have before remarked, in calling attention to its merits, it answers for a brace and suspenders, the weight of the pantaloons being so placed as to continually tend to bring the shoulders to their natural position and expand the chest. Women, hundreds of whom are annually injured by the weight of enormous "skirts," should also procure these braces. Be particular in procuring the kind mentioned, as many of the brace sold are humbug. Sold at Dr. GEO. H. KEYSER'S, Wholesale Druggist, 140 Wood st., sign of the Golden Mortar. ja16;d&wtf
