PITTSBURGH GAZETTE

A LIVING MOP.—A little white, woolly poodle dog disappeared from a family in this city, recently, rendering its distressed human mammy inconsolable at its loss. She had her servants out in every direction searching for it, and called upon the 'police to help her in finding her wooly favorite.' Their search was for a long time in vain. At last a policeman found it, and brought it back to its owner, who was delighted to receive her pet in her arms again. She was profuse with her thanks, and asked the officer where he had found the little dear. 'Why,' said he, 'a big nigger up here a bit, had him, who had him tied to a pole and was washing windows with him.' The lady immediately had him washed with cologne to remove the 'goominy.'

ONE OF 'EM.—The other day a gentleman gave a couple of cents to a woman who asked charity of him.

'Two cents!' she exclaimed, 'take them back sir; I asked for charity; I can't do any thing with two cents.'

'My dear madam,' said the gentleman, 'I beg you'll keep the cents and give them to some poor person.'

UNCLE TOBY AT A DISCOUNT.—A lady, whose kindness to animals amounts almost to a mania, was one day sadly annoyed by a blue-bottle fly. Calling her maid, she bade her catch the fly, and without hurting it, put it out of the window.—Seeing the girl 'doubting' to raise the sash, she inquired the cause. 'Why, madam, it rains so very hard,' answered the mischievous creature. 'True,' replied the mistress, 'put the poor thing in the other room.'
