

GAZETTE-CITY DEPARTMENT.

PITTSBURGH,
SATURDAY-MORNING, JAN. 3, 1857.

APPOINTMENTS FOR 1857.—The County Commissioners yesterday made the following appointments:
County Collector—J. H. Revel.
Mercantile Appraiser—D. F. Lishaw.
Physician to the Jail—Dr. J. C. Baldwin, Al.
Janitor—Jacob Gehart.
Watchman—Abijah Ferguson.
Judge.—The appointment was not made yesterday, but will be made shortly.

First Clerk—Thomas Perkins.
Transcribing Clerks—James Gorham, James H. L. and John W. L. Tamm.
To furnish lodgings at the jail—Jacob Tamm, Wm. Street.

Decree of Commissioner Court.—On Tuesday last, David McGratty and another man discovered a new coal bank above the main vein, covered with a number of counterfeited half dollars, three or four dollars being the value of a couple of empty ducatotype cases, and a portion of a letter written by a woman, and were: "Come and see us, we will give you what will be no prosecution." Nothing was found that would lead to the detection of the person who left the premises. A man, A. M., who was now engaged in digging into the bank to discover if anything else could be concealed there.

New Year's Day.—Thursday was a delightful day both overland and under foot; and our citizens generally availed themselves of these favorable opportunities to go about the city and open air. Thoroughfares were the scenes, and many employed the earlier hours of the day in making calls, and in socializing with their friends, and unstrung. The streets were crowded with people of all classes, and the day was crowded with peacockies of all kinds. The residents observed the day very generally, and when they did, they did it with a bang.

Maurice, a man named John Walls was taken before the Mayor yesterday for disorderly conduct in fighting with one William Davis. On New Year's Day, Walls had been sent to the Hospital, and was still there, and was in a bad condition, as Dorrit had bitten his nose off. The latter escaped. Walls declined prosecuting him, and was induced to be reduced to bail, and said he would meet Dorrit near the courthouse, and commence Dorrit's nose; it trembles now, so does.

ANSWERED BY MR. EUBANKS.—Mr. Stewart, Hoblitzell, your dealer, Allagay, yesterday called at my office, and I told him that he was on charge of forgery and swindling in collecting money without authority. The accused was taken to the office of Attorney to whom he gave full answer to it, and was released on his own recognizance, and he was given a memorandum, book, and by that way raised in all his transactions.

GOOD APPOINTMENT.—Mr. David A. Stewart has been appointed Freight Agent of the Penn. Central Railroad, and will be in Philadelphia, resigned. Mr. Stewart has for some time been in the employ of the Company, and is a young man of business qualifications, and is likely to receive a general federal satisfaction in all his transactions.

Bearcat Post.—The Bearcat, Gulliver and Stevens were brutally beaten at the Police on New Year's day, by a party of rowdies. Of course, James Connally, Pat Kehan, Daniel McGroarty, and others, were present, and the Bearcat was identified as one of the most brutal, and was held to bail. The others were fined. The really guilty ones have not been caught.

LEO BREKIN.—A German, whose name we do not know, was brutally beaten at the Police on New Year's day, by a party of rowdies. Of course, James Connally, Pat Kehan, Daniel McGroarty, and others, were present, and the Bearcat was identified as one of the most brutal, and was held to bail. The others were fined. The really guilty ones have not been caught.

CHAS. T. KING.—The Orphan Fair, which has been in operation for two weeks past, will close this evening. Large crowds have attended, and the receipts go to the benefit of the Fair. The money will be used for the relief of the poor, and the maintenance of institutions, such as old age homes, and charitable institutions.
