A FEW FACTS DEDUCED from the Report of the Auditor General of the State of Pennsylvania will perhaps throw as much light upon the policy proper to be pursued in relation to the public works as any amount of chop-logic. The public works, including also the debt thereon, have cost the tax-payers within the last year the sum of $4,800,000 and have produced $2,008,000 to pay for it, leaving on the debit side of the account $2,294,000. The State debt has been diminished by the sum of $866,000. Let us suppose that this sum for the repairs and carrying on of these public works over and above what they earn which has under existing circumstances to be paid was devoted sacredly to the liquidation of the public debt! With proper economy in all branches of the administration of the affairs of the State, about twenty years or a little more would see us free from the incubus which now cramps the energies of the Commonwealth, gives an idea abroad that we are crushed with taxation and prevents many of the young and enterprising men who now go to the far West to make themselves a home from settling down in this State, rich as we yesterday remarked in all natural products beyond any other State in the Union.

Besides the expenditures upon the public works, the next item, and the one which is doubtless most cheerfully given, is $199,000 for the public schools. This does not include the expenses of the school system of Philadelphia, which is an independent affair. The real expenses connected with the government of the State of Pennsylvania is $817,969, which, when we consider its great extent, the various interests to be looked after, and the numerous officials through whose hands the funds are to be passed is really reasonable enough. Considered by the side of the salaries of some duke, or prince, or marquis, or other ruler of some comparative patch of ground in the old world, the sum is really parsimonious, though doubtless enough.

OUR CITY SCHOOLS.—Although the academic year in this city really ends on the first day of June, yet as this is about the beginning of the new year, when the minds of our citizens are naturally bent towards an examination and settlement of accounts, it may not be uninteresting to give a few figures pertaining to our Common Schools at this time.

Whole number of pupils in the First Ward is	421
Average number in attendance at school	350
Whole number in Second Ward	558
" " " Attendance	462
" " 3d Ward	1469
" " Attendance	670
" " 4th Ward	587
" " Attendance	318
" " 5th Ward	1157
" " Attendance	1157
" " Sixth Ward	900
" " Attendance	425
" " 7th Ward	368
" " Attendance	228
" " 8th Ward	605
" " Attendance	490
" " 9th Ward	677
" " Attendance	548

There are two public schools in the 6th Ward and two in the 8th Ward. Each other Ward has but one, giving us thus, exclusive of the school for colored children and the High School, eleven schools in the city. Except the 5th Ward, where the whole number of pupils in the Ward and the number in attendance are reported as equal, the number of pupils who absent themselves from school is very large. The reason for the great discrepancy observable in the 3d Ward, is that during the extreme cold of last winter, as it is reported, the house could not be made comfortable owing to some defects in the stoves or furnaces. We may add that we suspect there must be some grave mistake in the report of the 5th Ward.

To the above detailed facts and general remarks, we may add a summary statement of facts touching the condition of schools in the whole city.

The whole number of schools is eleven, and the average number of months teaching in the year, ten. The number of men teaching in the same, fourteen, and the number of women, eighty-four. The average salaries of the former are $76 per month, and of the latter $28 40. The whole number of pupils in the city, 6724, of which, 3319 are boys, and 3405 girls. Of this last the average number attending, counting the 5th Ward as in the table above, was 4854, and the cost of teaching each pupil per month, 49 cents.

Five mills on the dollar were levied in the city for school purposes; and the average levied in the wards for school building purposes, 3 mills, giving an amount for the former (school purposes) $62,428,01, and for building, $28,040,00. Making a total of $80,468,01. There were received from the State appropriation, $2,957,85, collector of school taxes, $44,915,15, and by the Ward boards from the collectors of School tax for building purposes, $25,776.00.

Teachers' wages	$83,679,25
Fuel and contingent expenses for Ward Schools	5,351,00
Cost of Ward School Houses, purchasing, building, repairs, &c.	22,821.00
Night Schools	1,000,00
Cost of teaching music	1,118,67

There are many remarks which we had designed to make in connection with these figures, and some further detail to give in reference to the schools in each Ward which, for want of space, we are obliged to withhold till another and more favorable opportunity.

THE PACIFIC RAILWAY.—It is a fact indicated by the late Presidential election, that California has 600,000 inhabitants; it is a fact that the annual import and export trade between the Atlantic coast and that State is equal now to $100,000,000. Suppose a railway be built across the continent, to what extent might not that already princely commerce be increased? In fact every mile of railway built would develop a commerce of its own; towns and villages would spring up in places which are now inaccessible, and California would soon become to the Pacific what New York is to the Atlantic coast. Considerations of political necessity moreover, demand such a great highway not less than those of commerce. The members of the confederacy need to feel the attractive power of the central government; they ought to feel that the country to which they belong has a regard for their interests and is willing to do all it can to forward them. We hope that such means will be used to set on foot to complete this great work as shall make it a monument of the wisdom and perseverence of the government.

COAL FAMINE.—The Cincinnati papers have scarcely anything in them but suggestions in respect to the best methods to procure fuel, and appeals to the benevolent and the wealthy to come to the aid of those suffering from want of it. The Hamilton and Dayton railroad has offered to transport fuel from Dayton to Cincinnati free of charge until the opening of navigation.

A large meeting was held on Monday night at the Merchants' Exchange, to devise some plan to relieve the needy, which would seem to include nearly all. Louisville is also complaining bitterly of a scarcity of fuel.

We noticed again yesterday large numbers of capacious cars loading at the depot in Allegheny with coal, which we are informed is destined for the Cincinnati market. Send it along.

Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.
HARRISBURG, Jan. 14, 1857.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—This day has been one of unusual excitement in a political point of view. You will have it announced to you by telegraph that Gen. Simon Cameron was this day elected United States Senator for the next six years from this State. His election was effected under very peculiar and, indeed, trying circumstances & circumstances which were trying at least to the candidate of the Republican party. There was a Democratic majority of five upon joint ballot, and the mode of overcoming this was the problem to be solved. It is the first time in the history of this State, that a man has overcome a regular majority of the party opposed to him in politics, for this office. It certainly requires great skill and tact to do it at any time; but it required more at this time than at any within recollection.

Mr. Buchanan was in the field, fairly and fully enlisted for Forney, with the whole weight of the government patronage and his personal influence to aid him in his operations. And yet, upon the heels of the October and November elections, Mr. Buchanan is thwarted, crossed, defeated by an old and bitter enemy. This is a great triumph for Cameron, not only a political but personal triumph. In this light alone it is important to the Republican party, and, perhaps, it may give the opposition—if Smith of Philadelphia, obtains the seat to which he is justly entitled—an even vote in the House of Representatives.

Should the Democratic party persecute and denounce these men, it will naturally drive them into the opposition. In fact it may have another important result—that of giving us a Republican State Treasurer, for the election of that officer comes on next Monday. Concerning that officer there will be a party caucus on either hand during the week. The present incumbent, Col. Magraw, and Mr. Leech of Philadelphia, are the prominent Democratic candidates, and the only one spoken of by the opposition as yet, is Gen. Powers, of Beaver. I do not pretend to say what the result may be, but if the Republicans are united, another great victory may be the result,—a victory over which we may have occasion to rejoice.

The Democrats who voted for General Cameron were Messrs. Lebo and Wagenseller, of Schuylkill, and Monear, of York. They were formerly when Cass and Buchanan were rivals for the Democratic nomination for the Presidency, advocates for the claims of the former, hence they have been proscribed and stricken down in more than one instance, both in their persons and those of their friends by the Buchanan interest. An opportunity to avenge their wrongs upon the leader occurred, and they availed themselves of it. Their revenge has been as signal and effective as the cause of its provocation was great.

I have no doubt that charges of bribery and corruption, of bargain and sale, will be hurled indiscriminately against them, but the explanation I have appended is an easy and natural solution of their action.

The question naturally arises among the Republican members here how will their votes be received by the anti-slavery men of the West, who in past years doubted the honesty and reliability of Gen. Cameron in the cause of freedom. I can say that they acted under all the circumstances for the best. Gen. Cameron proved himself in the late campaign, an active and ardent advocate of the claims of Fremont. He has ever since 1854 been true in opposition to the extension of slavery, and will be so found forever hereafter in his Congressional record. This is what the people of the West want, and having secured that, they have secured through him, what they could have gotten through no other man—for no other anti-slavery man in the State could have gotten democratic votes enough to have elected him. Did your republican friends from Washington, Beaver, Lawrence, Butler, Crawford, Erie, Mercer, Indiana, &c., not do right in thus contributing their assistance to promote the spread and diffusion of human liberty? I think no wise and honest man in the West, will doubt the accuracy of their judgment, or the honesty of their purpose.

Senator Brodhead has been here contributing all he could to the defeat of Forney. He has this made some amends for the infamous doctrines of his Eastern speech two years ago. As soon as the result was announced, he telegraphed Mr. Buchanan with whom he has been upon unfriendly terms for years, the fact that Simon Cameron was elected. It was an exquisite, refined specimen of personal malice, equal in its malignity to the administration of the subtle poisons of the Middle Ages by the Italians.

Now that the election of Senator is over, I suppose both branches will proceed to business. In my next, I will probably be able to give you some account of the legislation which will have reference to your locality. R.

P. S. There was a salute fired here to-day of 67 guns in honor of the victory—a number of guns equal to the number of votes Cameron received. During its progress, a man by the name of Lawyer was injured by the explosion of a cartridge as it was rammed home. He, is not, however, severely injured.

Special Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette.
HARRISBURGH, Jan. 15.

Ed. Gazette:—The battle is fought and won. While I am writing this, cannons are firing on the Capitol grounds in honor of our victory over the "Buchaneers." One United States Senator for six years, pledged for "Free Kansas" is glory enough for one day. Our men, Americans, Republicans, and all performed their duty without ever flinching. Two of our men were sick and scarcely able to be in their seats, but they came, their physicians with them, and gave their votes for freedom.

The preliminary arrangements among our friends were marked with uncommon shrewdness of this you may be satisfied when you reflect that, the man we had to contend with was John W. Forney, everywhere considered to be one of the most unscrupulous and cunning politicians in the whole country. Yet neither he nor any of his friends, although they used every effort, could even guess at our plan of operations, yet our course was honorable all through.

The Forneyites swear most furiously. A few more victories and "Border Ruffianism" will be a "dead cock in the pit" Simon Cameron has one majority over all the votes cast. KANSAS.

The following are the names of those voting, and for whom they voted:

FOR WILKINS—Mr. Foster—1.

AMONG other articles of interest on our first page this morning, will be found one in relation to the difficulty between Switzerland and Prussia which will richly repay perusal.

A few weeks ago a poor man in New York, to procure flour and a few groceries to keep his family from starvation, forged an order and was sentenced to six years in the the penitentiary. More recently, Huntington, for forging to the amount of millions, has been sentenced for less than five years.

FACTS IN CHEMISTRY APPLIED TO AGRICULTURE.—We take the following paragraphs from that valuable work "Principles of Chemistry," by Prof. J. A. Porter, of Yale College, especially noticed a few weeks since, and we are now constrained to add that the more thorough our perusal of it "the richer it opens."

Artificial Ammonia.—The constituents of the ammonia which we purchase in the form of guano, at so great expense and bring from distant regions of the earth, exist in unlimited quantity at our very doors. Four-fifths of the atmosphere are nitrogen gas, and the ocean is an exhaustless reservoir of hydrogen. But, strange to say, the chemist with all his skill, cannot, except by circuitous and expensive methods, effect their combination. The discovery of some cheap and ready means of accomplishing this object, would transform the face of the earth, by the unlimited quantity of fertilizing material which it would supply. This result may, perhaps, be reached by patient investigation. But no sudden triumph over nature need be anticipated. Improvements in Agriculture will, as a general thing, be only realized by the earnest co-operation of scientific and practical men, in laborious and oft-repeated experiment.

Exhaustion of Soils.—When soils become exhausted of those substances which form the mineral food of plants, the growth of vegitation ceases. It is never absolute, but consists in a great reduction of that portion of their material which is in a condition to be appropriated by the growing plant. Such soils are gradually restored by rest. A gradual decomposition of their insoluble material occurs by means of agencies which have before mentioned, and the soil is thus restored to its original condition.—These effects are very much hastened by plowing in such a growth as can be obtained. Rye, buckwheat, and clover are among the plants best adapted to the purpose. Vegetable matter is thus added to the soil, which, in its decay, hastens the decomposition of the soil itself.

Maintenance of Fertility.—The effect of decomposing animal matters on the soil, has been already considered. They return the very material which was abstracted from the soil, with the addition of nitrogenous matter, originally derived from the air by the growing plant. In an enlightened system of rural economy, the production of these material in large quantity and their careful preservation, is therefore an object of paramount importance. The addition of gypsum or dilute sulphuric acid to fermenting manures, is of great advantage in retaining their ammonia in the form of sulphate, and preventing its escape into the air. When additional ammonia is required, it is most simply obtained in the form of guano. This phosphates, whose quantity may be often increased with advantage, are best supplied in the form of "superphosphate of lime." Other materials are less frequently required. For further information on the subject of the present section, the student is referred to works which treat especially of Agricultural Chemistry.

"GREASY MECHANICS".—From the Message of Gov. Gardner of the State of Massachusetts, and from other official documents, we learn what the "Greasy Mechanic's" of the Bay State have been doing during the past year. We take the statistics of one article and leave the remainder to be judged therefrom. Look at the—

BOOT AND SHOE TRADE.—The annual value of Boots and Shoes manufactured in Massachusetts, is estimated at $87,000,000, exceeding any other branch of manufacture. The demand for Boots and Shoes the past year has been fully equal to the production, and the trade generally, of Boston, has been quite up to expectation. The high prices of Leather and all kinds of stock have induced manufacturers to work very cautiously, and they have turned out no more goods than were actually wanted. The trade opened in January last with a good demand and a firm market, and the purchases generally were at an advance of about 5 per cent. Early in February the trade was materially checked by the ice embargo South and West, which completely closed river and harbor navigation, and prevented the forwarding of goods. The opening of navigation in March led to an active demand, and throughout March and April the business was quite active.

In one county alone of Massachusetts (Essex) the annual product of Boots and Shoes in 1855, according to the Census, was over $12,000,000.

In the immediate vicinity of Boston, there are manufactures to the extent of at least $160,000,000 annually, and of this the value added to the raw material by labor, cannot be less than $75,000,000. In addition, the foreign dry goods groceries, drugs, hardware, and a multiplicity of other articles sold there, swell the trade of Boston to nearly or quite a hundred millions more. Of manufactures, the first in importance are domestic cottons, and of about fifty millions manufactured annually, they send to foreign countries less than two millions—or 4 per cent. One half of these go to the West coast of South America, and the Central American States, while the West Indies receive less than $220,000 worth of cotton manufactures from Boston in a year. The trade of Boston with Cuba during the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1856, stood as follows:—Value of imports, $3,632,220; exports, $1,041,859.

The amount of capital invested in manufactures and other productions in Massachusetts is shown to be $120,000,000, and the gross value of products $295,000,000 annually.

GRAY VERSUS GREELEY.—The editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer carries it quite high in view of the pending law-suit, as may be seen by the following:

The gist of the charge of Greeley against Gray, is, for supposing a case of "Consideration" for advocating Fremont's claims to the Presidency, and also supposing the amount of that consideration "bleeding the truth" in evidence for our justification, as we always do in libellous or libellious cases like this, it will be necessary to take the depositions of both the Fremonts, Bennett, Banks, Webb, Ford, and all the "high contracting parties."

We shall also take depositions at Washington on or about the 4th of March, or before the breaking up of this fusion Congress, the first as well as the last of the kind, in order to secure the evidence offered by confidential committees, caucus consultations, and other Mariposa doings about the time of the Pittsburgh and Philadelphia Conventions. There is a world of fun lurking in this point looked up in secret political conclaves and Know Nothing Lodges, which it is important to have and without which it will not be safe to proceed to trial. The whole Fusion Party are to be put under oath, and we, (Gracley & Co.) are to fight the late campaign over again in a legal way. "There is nothing hidden that shall not be revealed" says the good Book, and it seems we are to be the humble instrument under Providence to make this Fusion Party reveal. We hope Greeley will not manufacture any more Fremonts until we get through with what is on hand.

There is a good time coming.

PERIODICALS.—We called attention the other morning to "The New England Historical and Genealogical Register," and to "The North American Medico-Chirurgical Review," but we at that time inadvertently omitted to mention the names of the publishers. The former is published in Boston, by C. B. Richardson, and in New York, by A. M. Phippen; the other in Philadelphia by J. B. Lippincott & Co. We state the above for the convenience of purchasers.

THE AMERICAN ALMANAC AND REPOSITORY OF USEFUL KNOWLEDGE FOR THE YEAR 1857. Boston: Crosby, Nichols & Co. For sale in this city by Ray & Co.

This excellent hand book for the year is a volume of 376 pages. It consists of two parts, the former part being the record of the Astronomical calculations for the year, and the latter a grand summary of statistical information upon every subject of interest to every citizen of every State in the Union. Then follows a table showing the population of every country on the globe, the rulers, forms of government, &c. In conclusion, we have a chronicle of events for 1856. The American Almanac has long been one of the necessities of the business man. The counting room, the work shop, the school house, or the dwelling, would be alike at a loss without it. The work has reached its 38th volume.

WHAT'S IN A NAME.—The clever correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger gives the following report of a conversation between "husband" and his wife, while looking upon the "assembled wisdom" from the gallery of the House of Representatives at Washington:

"Who is the gentleman yonder, my dear, with the fresh and pleasant countenance?" "That, my love, is a gentleman from Virginia—a very clever, affable and intelligent member: he is designated Extra Billy Smith." "Extra—Billy —Smith! what an extra-ordinary name,—who gave it to him?" "Why, Ma, of course, his sponsors in baptism; it is a shame to call us poor little innocents names when we cannot help ourselves." "You forget, Julia, the language of poesy—

"What's in a name!
A rose by any other name would smell as sweet."

"True, Pa—but still I cannot but think your Julia would not be what she is had she any other name than Julia." "Right, Julia; character comes by name. We cannot fancy Napoleon would have been Napoleon under any other name than that of Napoleon. But, my dear, how came Extra Billy Smith to have such a Know Nothing of a name?" "Well, my love, his mother had resolved she would have a son, and that he should be called Billy: instead of one son she had two—that is the twin, and she called him—Extra Billy." SANATUS.

What the New York City Folks say of Dr. HOLLOWAY'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, Manufactured by Fleming Bros.:

NEW YORK, August 25, 1852.
This is to certify that I am well acquainted with a man of 60 years of age, for many years a resident of this city, who has been at times extremely ill, but on all not all from one cause, unless it was worms. He told his attending Physician his complaints, but the physician at one time ceased the 16th, and refused to attend him any longer.—He then mentioned Dr. McLane's Vermifuge, and asked him if he would take it; his reply was—I must take something to get relief, or die.

They at once procured a bottle of Dr. Mc. McLane's Celebrated Vermifuge, and he took one half at one dose.—The result was, he passed upwards of three quarts of worms, coming to every form. He got well immediately, and is now enjoying most excellent health; and like the good Samaritan of old, is endeavoring to relieve his unfortunate neighbors. For further particulars enquire of Mrs. Hardie, 124½ Cannon st; New York city.

☞ Be particular to ask for and see that McLANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE and take none else. All other Vermifuges, in comparison, are worthless. Dr. McLane's Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable Drug Stores in the United States, and Canada. The Eyes of the Blind are Opened.—How often do we see and hear of instances where persons whose eyesight had formerly been good, have suddenly been deprived of this greatest of earthly blessings, and remain so, ignorant of the same cause, and their medical advisers perhaps not better informed than their patient. Important Notice to those Afflicted WITH HERMOROIDS&ES. by Dr. A. S. HEATH, New York City. Finding it impossible to attend personally to all my patients, and being unwilling to trust such responsible duties to assistants or students, and for the purpose of suppressing the sale of worthless and injurious quack medicines, as well as the impositions advertised under fictitious names, offering to send recipes gratis, or on receipt of letter stamps or one dollar, &c.—to obviate the above, and to accommodate patients in all parts of the country, I send medicine, with full directions, to cure any disease, for $5, unless treatment is required for a longer period than one month, when the fee is the same for each month. The fee for all surgical operations, including that for the radical cure of hernia; will depend upon the peculiarity of the case. Patients will give a full statement of all their symptoms, as the remedies are prepared with an especial reference to each case. All money letters should be registered. The first part of my illustrated work will be sent to any address on the receipt of 10 cents.

The only Medal Awarded by the New York Exhibition to the English or foreign Sauce Manufacturers has been obtained; amongst numerous competitors, by LEA & PERRINS, or their whereby further testimony is afforded of its being the best sauce extant.

The quality of this Sauce has extended to every quarter of the globe, and its efficacy in promoting the general health is becoming daily more observed and acknowledged.

In the United States it is held to be the most agreeable condiment, and if esteemed for its tonic and invigorating properties, its balsamic quality in relaxing the stomach to digest the food.

On the Continent of Europe, these qualities have been testified to by a gentleman, who writes to LEA & PERRINS thus: "I have carried a bottle of your Worcestershire Sauce in a case I have just completed through Spain and Portugal, and believe I owe my present state of health in this case, your Sauce is stomachic, and I think medicinal, can with truth say there is nothing in a traveler's baggage so essential to his comfort, at least in these countries, as your Sauce.

In India, also, where it is found at the mess of every regiment, a medical gentleman writes from Madras to his brother in the same profession at Worcester, in the following terms: "Tell Lea & Perrins that their sauce is highly approved in India, and that it is, in my opinion, the most Palatable as well as the most wholesome sauce made."

This sauce is suitable for every variety of dish, and its universal demand which its excellence has created has led to many imitations being offered to the public, under a variety of names, but the genuine may be known by the names of "LEA & PERRINS" being impressed upon the patent metallic capsules, or patent glass stopper of the bottle, as well as the labels and wrapper.

Age and Debility—As old age comes creeping on us, it brings many attendant infirmities.—Loss of appetite and weakness impair the health, and want of activity makes the mind discontented and unhappy. In cases where old age adds its influence, it is almost impossible to add vigor and health, and although many remedies have been tried, all have failed, until BERRIAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS were known and used. In every case where they have been employed they have invariably given strength and restored the appetite. They have become a great agent for this alone, and are used by many people who are suffering from loss of appetite and general debility. In cases of long standing chronic diseases, they act as a charm. Invigorating the system, thus giving nature another opportunity to repair physical injuries.

Caution.—Guard against purchasing an imitation. To prevent imposition, be careful to ask for Boerhaave's Holland Bitters.

☞ Sold at $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, by the proprietors, BENJAMIN PAUL & CO., Manufacturing Pharmaceutists and Chemists, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Wholesale Druggists generally.

Dr. Keyser's Shoulder Braces—From Pittsburgh Dispatch, April 10th, 1856.—For more than 3 years past we have consistently worn the Washington Shoulder Brace, manufactured by Dr. Geo. H. Keyser, of No. 140 Wood st., in this city, and we unhesitatingly recommend it to all who are compelled to follow a sedentary occupation. As we have before remarked, in calling attention to its merits, it answers for a brace and suspenders, the weight of the pantaloons being so placed as to continually tend to bring the shoulders to their natural position and expand the chest. Women, hundreds of whom are annually injured by the weight of enormous "skirts," should also procure these braces. Be particular in procuring the kind mentioned, as many of the braces sold are humbug. Sold at Dr. GEO. H. KEYSER'S, Wholesale Druggist, 140 Wood st., sign of the Golden Mortar. ja8:daw
