Republican State Convention.

The Republican State Convention, for the nomination of candidates for Governor and other State officers, will be held at Harrisburg, on Wednesday, the 25th day of March, 1857. Each District will elect Delegates in the usual manner, equal in number to its representatives in the two Houses of the State Legislature; and no person will be entitled, by substitution, to represent a district in which he does not reside.

CHARLES GIBBONS,
Chairman of State Executive Committee.

THE DUTY ON RAILROAD IRON.—A correspondent of the Philadelphia North American says that there is a combination among a certain class of railroad men, by which a huge corruption fund has been subscribed to effect the repeal, by Congress, of the duty upon railroad iron.—The amount subscribed is said to be 10 per cent. on the capital of the roads interested, and the uses to which this immense fund are to be applied show the estimation in which Congress is held by these operators. The existence of such a combination imperils the iron interests of Pennsylvania, and it is time that the alarm was raised, and that the friends of American industry, and the friends of the rights and interests of Pennsylvania, were upon their guard to prevent a calamity so deep and far reaching in its consequences.

One fact which is stated by the author of the communication deserves especial notice, as a complete answer to the charge frequently made against the iron interest, that it is so feeble as to require the constant bolstering up by the government—the fact that the United States Government has granted more acres of the choicest public lands to railroad companies than there have been dollars paid into the Treasury from the first invention of railroads up to the present time. The writer states a yet more pertinent fact—namely, that the governmenthas granted to a single railroad company in Illinois public lands that will yield to that company, by their sales, the sum of thirty millions of dollars—more than the government has ever received from the duty paid on railroad iron, and, which is more than sufficient of itself to build and equip that road without requiring a dollar from its projectors and nominal builders. Thus it is demonstrated that, not the iron interest, but the railroad interest has been the special object of government care and bounty, upon which has been lavished public gifts and largesses to an incredible extent. We do not complain of this. These roads are for the common interest, the general welfare, and the means of the government could not be more wisely expended than in their construction. But when the railroad interest comes fresh from these bountiful supplies, and asks that one great department of our industry, which is necessary to our practical independence of foreign power, shall be wholly sacrificed to its inordinate appetite, the public, with one accord, will say, and we trust Congress will say, that the bold demand cannot be granted. The country will be astonished to learn that these companies expect Congress to refund the duties which have been paid on railroad iron during the past six years, and to remit such duties for all future time.

IMPROVEMENT OF WESTERN RIVERS.—On the 14th inst, Mr. Benjamin of Louisiana, reported from the Committee on Commerce, a bill for the Improvement of Western Rivers which was once read and passed to a second reading. The bill contemplates only the removal of obstructions. Grateful for small favors we are nevertheless certain in our mind that any measures either public or private, which shall stopshort of of making or endeavoring to make the Ohio river navigable by some scheme which shall give it a greater depth of water, will fall short of the expectations and desires of the people most immediately interested in it. The Ohio, for example, may be dredged and scraped at the bottom to any extent without rendering it navigable in times of drought. The bill in question refers to the Ohio as follows:—

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That for the purpose of removing dangerous obstructions in the channel of the Ohio river between Pittsburgh and its mouth, the said river shall be divided into two sections, as follows, viz: Number one being that part of the river above the Falls of the Ohio, Number two being that part of the river below the said Falls: And the Secretary of War is hereby directed to make similar advertisements, and to contract for the removal of of said obstructions upon the same terms, conditions, restrictions, limitations, obligations and penalties, and for the same number of years as are herein before provided in the first section of this act for the Mississippi river: Provided, That the total amount of the contract or contracts so made, shall not exceed the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars per annum: And provided, further, That the channel width required shall be two hundred feet for both sections of river; and that no work shall be required to be done on the Falls of the Ohio river.

The St. Louis Republican in some remarks upon this bill says:—

We have no doubt however, that if Mr. Benjamin's bill shall become a law, the contracts can be taken by parties who will stand up to their requirements. Already men of capital, enterprise and energy, are prepared with most of the boats and other machinery necessary to an immediate commencement of the work: and whatever security may be required, (and it will not be much short of half a million) can be given. So far as we have been able to ascertain, the opinions of boatmen and underwriters, we hear of no doubts that the work may be efficiently performed.

This bill, or something to the same purpose, is due as an act of justice to the West. The opinions of Mr. Calhoun, Gen. Cass, Judge Douglas and other distinguished statesmen, have so often been given in favor of the constitutionality of this class of appropriations, that the question is only one of expediency, and on this point, the opinions of our merchants, boatmen and underwriters, are, we believe unanimous.—Our Chamber of Commerce has frequently presented memorials on the subject, and certainly the interests involved are great enough to justify serious attention to them.

SOMETHING SEDUCTIVE.—We suppose it must be Park Godwin who writes the article in Putnam for February entitled "Southern Literature."—The late Savannah convention, its sayings and doings form the text. The convention is spoken of as the Pickwickian Club, and the principal speakers are MESSRS. Tupman, Winkle, etc., whom Dickens has caused to figure for the world's amusement in his inimitable "Pickwick Papers." The article in question concludes as follows to one of the Savannah orators:

"Go to! Tupman! you are speaking in a purely Pickwickian sense when you say "we traduce the South." Is "the South" slavery? We do speak ill of Slavery and we shall often do so.—We shoot folly as it flies, and wherever it flies, and whenever it perches. And if folly bloats into crime or fuddles into fury we shall still shoot away."

[COMMERCIALEN.]
CORNER OF WOOD AND 3D STS., Jan. 29, 1857.

To the Editors of the Gazette:

GENTS:—In observing in your paper of this morning under the head of information respecting the fire yesterday, at the corner of Wood and Fifth sts., that "the books of the Mercantile Agency were removed before much damage was done to them either by fire or water, but it is thought some of them have been lost or destroyed in the hurry of removal." We take leave to say, that we do not know of any damage whatever being done to them—neither can we discover that we have lost any, nor, we may add, a single document. Owing to the kind, prompt and efficient assistance rendered us by a number of Merchants and others personally, and to whom we feel greatly indebted.

S. DOUGLASS & CO.

Our Harrisburg correspondent, on Tuesday, called attention to a bill now pending in the Legislature by which the limitation in the 25th section of the act incorporating the Pennsylvania R. R. Co. is extended to ten years more, so far as it appears to the 11th section of that act. We give both sections below:

SECT. XXV. That if the said company shall not commence the construction of said railroad within two years, and complete and open the same for use, with one or more tracks, within the term of ten years; or if, after the completion, the said railroad shall be suffered to go into decay, and be impassable for the term of two years, then this charter shall be null and void, except so far as relates to the payment of damages.

SECT. XL. That the president and directors of said company shall have power and authority by themselves, their engineers, superintendents, agents, artizans, and workmen, to survey, ascertain, locate, fix, mark and determine such route for a railroad as they may deem expedient, viot, however, passing through any burying ground, or place of public worship, or any dwelling house, without the consent of the owner or owners thereof; and not except in the neighborhood of deep cuttings or high embankments, or places selected for sidings turn-outs, depots, engine or water stations, to exceed four rods in width; and thereon to lay down, erect, construct and establish a railroad, with one or more tracks, with such branches or lateral roads as are hereinafter mentioned; and with such bridges, viaducts, turn-outs, sidings or other devices, as they may deem necessary or useful, beginning at, and uniting with the western terminus of the Harrisburg, Portsmouth, Mount Joy and Lancaster railroad, in the borough of Harrisburg: Provided, Said Harrisburg, Portsmouth, Mount Joy and Lancaster railroad company shall be subject to, and consent to the same rate of tax on tonnage, for the use of the state, as is provided to be paid in this act, by the Pennsylvania railroad company; and in case the Harrisburg, Portsmouth, Mount Joy and Lancaster railroad company should not agree to comply with these conditions, within three months after the distance of fifteen miles from Harrisburg, westward, shall, bona fide be put under contract, the said Pennsylvania railroad company are authorized to connect their road with the Columbia railroad, at or near the borough of Columbia, in Lancaster county; and thence, by such direct practicable route, with moderate gradients, as will, in the opinion of the president and directors, most conduce to the public interest and the interests of said company, having due regard to economy in the construction, maintainance and management thereof, and terminating at such point or points, in, at or near the city of Pittsburgh, or other place in the county of Allegheny, with authority to extend said road, or a branch thereof, to the town or harbor of Erie, in the county of Erie, as to the said president and directors may seem most advantageous and expedient; and in like manner by intermediate, or other persons or them appointed or employed, as aforesaid, to enter into and upon, and occupy all land on which the said railroad or depots, warehouses, offices, toll houses, engine and water stations, or other buildings or appurtenances hereinbefore mentioned, may be located, or which may be necessary or convenient for the erection of the same, or for any other purpose necessary or useful in the construction, maintenance or repair of said railroad; and therein and thereon to dig, excavate and embank, make, grade, lay down, and construct the same; and it shall, in like manner, be lawful for the said company, their officers, agents, engineers, contractors or workmen, with their implements, and beasts of draft or burden, to enter upon any lands adjoining, or in the neighborhood of said railroad so to be constructed, and to quarry, dig, cut, take and carry away therefrom, any stone, gravel, clay, sand, earth, wood, or other suitable materials necessary or proper for the construction, maintenance or repairing of said railroad, or for the construction of any bridges, viaducts, or other buildings which may be required for the use, maintenance or repairs of said railroad: Provided, That such compensation shall be made, secured or tendered to the owner or owners of any such lands or materials, as shall be agreed upon between the parties, or in such manner as is hereinafter mentioned: Provided, further, That the timber used in the construction or repair of said railroad, shall be obtained from the owners thereof only by agreement or purchase.

Under the act of incorporation as it now stands, the principles granted in the 11th section, would expire with the limitation contained in the 25th section; the pending bill extends the limitation for a further period of ten years.

A REPORT.—The report of proceedings in our Legislature on Wednesday gives the speech of Wagonseller, one of the "traitors," in full. This speech it will be remembered, was alluded to in the letter of our correspondent a day or two since. Mr. W. spoke under high pressure and without great regard for the wounded feelings of the dear Democracy. He reviewed the character of Forney, read in place his Forrest letter, also a letter from Mr. Buchanan when a member of Polk's Cabinet condemning executive interference in State matters and then gave Mr. Buchanan's letter in behalf of Forney as follows:

WHEATLAND, Jan. 7, 1857.

My Dear Sir:—Although I have always refrained from interfering in the choice of Senators by the Legislature, yet the highly confidential relations which a Pennsylvania President ought to sustain toward a Pennsylvania Senator, at the present moment, induces me to say a few words to you, as a valued friend, on the pending Senatorial election.

I learn that doubts have been expressed as to my preference among the candidates, and, although my opinion may be entitled to little weight, I do not desire to be placed in an equivocal position on this or any other subject.

When asked, I have always said that I preferred Col. Forney, and I should esteem it a friendly act towards myself for any person, in or out of the Legislature, to support him.

At the same time, I desire to express my warm personal and political regard for Messrs. Robbins, Foster, Buckalew and Wright.

From the course pursued by Mr. Brodhead, for some years past, confidential relations between him and myself have ceased.

I have thus presented you my views, so that, if you should deem it necessary, you may speak my sentiments to such persons as may consider them of any value.

From your friend, very respectfully,
JAMES BUCHANAN.

HENRY S. MOTT, ESQ.

THE St. Louis Republican of Saturday says that passengers taking the Chicago, Alton and St. Louis road can go through now without any change of cars at Alton. The gap between the Illinoistown and Alton, and the Chicago and Alton roads was closed last week. Travellers are now spared the necessity of a walk of half a mile in inclement weather, and may stick to their comfortable seats until their arrival at St. Louis, coming south, or at other points going north. The almost unavoidable delays attending the re-ebipment of goods heretofore at Alton will be no longer necessary.

THE SPANISH FLEET AGAIN ORDERED TO MEXICO.—A letter from Havanna, under date of January 13th, states that the Spanish Squadron has again been ordered to Vera Cruz. The vessels have taken in provisions for a four months' cruise. They will not all go to Vera Cruz, but divide themselves among the towns on the Gulf.

THEscoundrels who have been prowling in the streets of New York, "garotting" and bagging strangers or citizens, are getting summarily disposed of. Judge Russell sentenced one on Friday, to the State prison for life, and another to two years imprisonment.

THE New York Mirror cannot understand why it is that men whose pockets are so full of money that they can hardly get their hands into them, will compel a poor newspaper carrier to call a dozen times for a little bill, thus earning it twice over.

THE Cincinnati gas works have recently raised the price of gas one hundred per cent. giving as a reason for the advance, the scarcity of coal.

MR. P. T. BARNUM, of New York, is reported to be dangerously ill in London, from a severe attack of pleurisy.

THE number of failures in the United States in 1856, was 2705. The average of liabilities is estimated $20,000, which would give an aggregate of $54,100,000. The probability is, creditors have received about 25 per cent of their claims, leaving a clear loss of near $40,000,000. The great majority of failures occur in the dry goods trade, owing to the fact that this business is transacted almost wholly on credit.

ONE HUNDRED CAR LOADS OF COAL!—Yesterday and last night, one hundred car loads of coal arrived in the city by the Little Miami Railroad. The worst of the Fuel Famine, which will fill a memorable chapter in the history of our city is certainly over.—Cin. Com. Wednesday.

The public schools of New Jersey contain 176,350 pupils, the cost of whose education, including expenses of school houses, was, last year, $514,248. There are nearly two thousand teachers in the State.

DOINGS OF A IRON HEIRESS.—The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger writes:

"The Express tells of a great excitement on Saturday in the Convent of the Sisters of Mercy, corner of Houston and Mulberry streets, in consequence of the flight from there of a young lady who had, in a fit of disappointed love, turned nun some two years since. The time was approaching when she was expected to take the black veil, in which case some $70,000 to which she is heiress would go into the treasury of the church. Some of the relatives of the young lady, however, persuaded her to abandon her intention of taking the veil, and at the eleventh hour, as it were, she consented, and made tracks from the institution as above described. This is the substance of the story. The Express gave the initials of the dramatis personæ, but now that the cat is out of the bag, your correspondent might as well give names in full.

"The young lady is Miss Pauline Costar, a grand daughter of the celebrated Madame de Pau, daughter of the late Count de Grasse.—The young gentleman who refused to reciprocate her affection is Walter Livingston, Esq.—The parties are all occupants of the highest niche in the temple of fashion here, and as you may guess, this bit of romance in real life has created no little excitement 'above Bleecker street.'"

AN EXAMPLES WORTHY OF IMITATION.—The police of the city of Breslau, in Silesia, have been instructed to see to the tuning of hand-organs which are allowad to be played in the streets, and to take care that they do not offend by unpleasing discords, to prevent which they are subjected to a monthly inspection and trial by authorized officers of the municipality.

MISSIONARY TO JAPAN.—The Baptists of this county propose a mission to Japan. J. Goble, who visited that country with Com. Perry, brought home a native Japanese, with whom he has been studying at Madison University, to fit him to preach the gospel in Japan.

MARRIED—On Thursday, January 29th, 1857, by Rev. W. A. Passavant, Mr. H. N. OGDEN and Miss ANNIE G. ATTERBURY, all of this city.

DIED—On Thursday morning, the 29th inst., in the 15th year of his age, JAMES H., son of the late Jonathan Kidd.

The funeral will leave his mothers' residence, No. 302 Penn street, on Saturday next at one o'clock P. M. The friends of the family are invited to attend. 2td

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Age and Debility—As old age comes creeping on us, it brings many attendant infirmities.—Loss of appetite and weakness impair the health, and want of activity makes the mind discontented and unhappy. In cases where old age adds its infirmities, it is almost impossible to add vigor and health, although many remedies have been tried, all have failed, until BERHAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS were known and used. In every case where they have been employed they have invariably given strength and restored the appetite. They have become a great agent for this alone, and are used by many people who are suffering from loss of appetite and general debility. In cases of long standing chronic illnesses, they act as a charm, invigorating the system, thus giving nature another opportunity to expel physical injuries.

CAUTION.—Guard against purchasing an imitation. To prevent imposition, be careful to ask for Boerhave's Holland Bitters.

Prof. Wood's Hair Restorer.—A Real Hair Restorer.

Mr. Samuel Jones, a Methodist clergyman, residing in Murraysville, Westmoreland county, says that his hair had been getting gray for the last twenty years, and was disposed to fall out. He used two bottles of Prof. Wood's Hair Restorer, which entirely stopped the falling out of the hair all the hair resumed its original color, and has kept the color now for nine months. This is a common case, but we publish it because it is near home, so that the public may be convinced that Wood's Hair Restorer is what it purports to be. Highly Important to Invalids!

Cod Liver Oil.

PREPARED BY J. C. SATCHELL & CO.

Has, as one of its distinguished marks of superiority over other brands of Oils, entire absence of that peculiar nauseous and disagreeable flavor, and offensive odor inseparable from oil crudely and imperfectly prepared.

It may be taken without disrelish by the most delicate patient, and retained without effort on the most sensitive stomach.

The superiority in this and other important characteristics of genuineness, has guaranteed for it the commendation of the most eminent of the Medical Faculty through out the states.

It is the most effectual remedy for consumption, bronchitis, rheumatism, scrofula, &c., and may be had in bottles of the druggists in this city or of the manufacturers,

The only Medal Awarded by the New York Exhibition to the English or foreign Sauce Manufacturers has been obtained, amongst numerous competitors, by LEA & PERRINS, or their whereby further testimony is afforded of its being the best Sauce extant.

The celebrity of this Sauce has extended to every quarter of the globe, and its efficacy in promoting the genera health is becoming daily more observed and acknowledged.

In the United States it is held to be the most agreeable condiment, and i esteemed for its tonic and invigorating properties, its habitual use enabling the stomach to digest the food.

On the Continent of Europe, these qualities have been testified to by a gentleman, who writes to LEA & PERRINS thus: "I have carried a bottle of your Worcestershire Sauce in a tour I have just completed through Spain and Portugal, and believe I owe my present state of health t its use; your Sauce is stomachic, and I think medicinal.

On earth with truth say there is nothing in a traveler's baggage so essential to his comfort, at least in these countries, as your Sauce.

In India, also, where it is found at the mess of every regiment, a medical gentleman writes from Madras to his brother in the same profession at Worcester, in the following terms: "Tell Lea & Perrins that their sauce is highly approved in India, and that it is, in my opinion, the most Palatable as well as the most wholesome sauce made."

This sauce is suitable for every variety of dish, and t universal demand which its excellence has created has led to many imitations being offered to the public, under a variety of names, but the genuine may be known by the names of "LEA & PERRINS" being impressed upon the patent metallic capenles, or patent glass stopper of the bottle, as well as the labels and wrapper.

Fire Proof Safes,

A Safe that will be safe against the ravages of fire can be had at BURKE & BARNES' in this city. The following testimonial, which appears in the St. Louis Republican, of the 10th, speaks volumes in their favor. The builders of these Fire Proofs have established an amiable reputation through the excellence of their manufactures:

To the Merchants of St. Louis and the Public Generally:—In justice to Messrs. S. B. Valeit & Co., and their success sale of Burke & Barnes' fire proof Safes, we hereby certify that upon opening our safe that was in the great fire of the 18th of November, 1856, that our books and papers have come out almost as perfect as new after being in the ruins fifty-two days, and we can cheerfully recommend their Safes to the public.

The above mentioned safe was this day opened in my presence, and I herewith certify that the large amount of books and papers therein contained were in good order and the writing perfectly legible.

A trial of Hopland's German Bitters will convince the most skeptical of their great virtues.—Read the following:

JULIUS A. JUGER, said:—New Elizabeth, Hendricks Co., Ind., June 24, 1854.—"I should like you to send me a lot of your German Bitters. I know them to be a valuable medicine, deserving all the reputation they have acquired. I have used them in my own family, and they have proved a certain remedy for scarlet fever and ague.—I have used them successfully for two years."

Time Past and Present.—We well remember in the days of our childhood of witnessing the sufferings of a beloved parent as he grasped in agony the side of his chair while enduring the torturing pains of the Tic Douloureux, and seeing the moistened cloth spread over his face to give momentary relief, and feel the fiery burning of the Erysipelas. But then no remedy was at hand, Kennedy had not made his "Medical Discovery." At the present day, through the powerful agency of this medicine, these diseases are comparatively but in name where it is used. One, two, or three bottles, according to the severity of the case, will cure as surely as the earth revolves, or night succeeds the day. For all humors, it has proved itself a master remedy, and we bid Mr. Kennedy God speed in his efforts to relieve the sick.
