before him for a crime upon whose cause or orlgin as yet not one ray of light has been thrown. to substantiate this theory, he has shaped all his inquiries, seeming to treat any testi-mony which is favorable to the character of Mrs. C. as "more gossip," while on the other side, gossip calculated to give an injurious impression is received ad libitum. In this way the public so deeply interested in bringing the perpetrators of the dead to the light have been led on a wrong scent and the real culprit has had ample opportunity in the meantime to destroy every vestige of a crime which must have been prompted by the most flendish malice.

All the testimony goes to show that Dr. Burof these had long ago sworn dire vengeance of these had long ago sworn are venguance claims upon this community and to the agranupon him as soon as an opportunity for its grail-faction should occur.
