Dr. Marvin, who performed the marriage cere mosy. The theory of the Coroner was, that Eokel personated Burdell in the marriage. Dr. Marvin's testimony on Tuesday, is entirely positive as may be gathered from the tone of the following concluding portion of it:

Q.—What reason had, you for thinking that Eokel was not the man I. A.—I don't remember what reasons I gave theo, but I can give you the reasons now; I said then 'comething equivalent to this, that the body of Dr. Burdell resembled more the man I married than the man shown to me as Eokel did, I was examined only twice; I don't remember saying anything more positive than what I have now staked; the moment I left the Tombs. After visiting Eokel I knaw in my own mind that he was not the man; my theory was all gone from that moment; I was a confident he was not the man; my theory was all gone from that moment of my own existence, and I am confident of it now.

Q.—Hyou found Eckel more like the man war of my, own existence, and I am confident of it constitution. Among these I map be found in the cating distinction and the cating distinction and the cating distinction.
