Does not this well-deserved compliment to the Republican party suggest the shameful and revolutionary speeches which rung through the land last suiumn from the mouths of Mr. Buchanan's own partisans, that they would not sub-mit to the election of Mr. Frement! Was that all done for buncombe? At the time when is seemed highly probable that J. C. Frement would be elected, all the old ladies in the Demcoraffo party were shivering with terror, lest Mr. M'Mullin, of Virginia, and the late valiant Preston S. Brooks should appear in dire array to forbid the inaugural caremonies. And so indeed they had promised to do and the doughfaces of the North took up their words and magnified and multiplied and painted them until this great minority-not "majority." as Mr. Buchgreat minority—not, "majority," as Mr. Buch-anan suggests, seemed like an army of fiery der Raffianism has unlimited sway. dragons ready to devour the black republicans in

A different opicios has arisen in regard to the point of time when the people of a Territory shall dedde the question of slavery for themselves. This is bappily a matter of but little practical importance, besides it is judicial question which legitimately belongs to the Eupreme Court of the United States. To their decision, in common with all good citizens, I shall cheerfully submit, whatever this may be, though it has ever been my individual opinion that ander the Nebraska-Kassas act, the appropriate period will be when the number of actual residents in the torritory shall justify the formation of a Canstitution with a view to its admission as a State into the Union.

Mr. Buchanan sets cut with denying, or course, what the Democratic party of this State cular have again and again affirmed, to wit: that Congress has power over the matter of slavery in the Territories. Mr. Buchanau declared in 1819 that Congress had this authority. He approved it again and again in 1847-'48, when the Californ's question was pending, and he never denied it until he became the prominent can-date for President. Washington, Jefferson, Gerry, Sherman, Rufus King, Mr. Monroe, neve denied it. But Mr. Buchanau, not content with denying the faith in which he lived so many years and which had so many defenders, declares also that he does not believe in "popular sov-reignty!" Of this doctrine Mr. Cass is the exthat he does not believe in "popular sowy!" Of this doctrine Mr. Case is the exler, and he has declared it to mean that any

And now, upon the top of that, comes the Inaugural, giving the lie direct to all the promises held out as to the moderate and conservative tone of the Buchanan administration and dashing to the ground all the hopes that had been raised as to its interpretation of the doctrine of Squatter Sovereignty. It is a document ultra southern in its tone, taking the broad ground first laid down by Calhoun, that neither Congress nor the people have any power to pre-vent the existence of Slavery in the Territories, and surrendering everything in advance to the fire caters of the South.
