Second door above the Astor House.
WOULD suggest to the Trade that they will be prepared for Spring trade with their usual extensive stock of the finer qualities of READY MADE CLOTHING.
In reference to which they would suggest, that the facility with which their goods can be fitted, every garment being marked in length and breadth, the same size breast being varied to suit different proportions of the human nature should give them a preference over any clothing, the sizes of which are indefinitely marked. The difficulty of readily suiting patrons from that fact, it is presumed, has been very generally realized. to a word, street attention is directed to a determination to render such garments equal in every respect to the best custom work. fe6,3dmw
