HEALTH DEPENDS UPON PURE BLOOD—This and acrid blood, cannot secrete healthy bile, and therefore the first thing for those who are dyspeptic should be to encourage the purification of their blood.

BRANDRETH'S PILLS,

Not only purify, but they make the blood richer, and add those principles upon which life, health and vigor depends.

Mild operation with increased effect are the peculiarity of Brandreth's Pills. Now that we may know correct general Spring, it is of great importance that a fair course be used by the sick. Our race are subject to a redundancy of vitiated bile at this season, and it is as dangerous as it is prevalent; but Brandreth's Pills are then invaluable and efficient protection. By their occasional use, we prevent the collection of those impurities, which, when in sufficient quantities, cause so much danger to the fine organs of the stomach and bowels. They soon cure liver complaint, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, pain in the head, heartburn, pain in the breast-bone, sudden faintness, and sore throats. In brief, Brandreth's Pills work their way to the very seats of the disease, assisting in their passage removing every unhealthy accumulation, till the blood is purified, the whole system nourished, and the functions and duties of life become a pleasure, where before they had been sad and weary burdens.

We have thousands of similar testimonials to the follows owing, and such evidence can be had from living witnesses all over the country. It is from a gentleman of high respectability, whose letter can be seen at the Principal office, he writes:

"He has now fifty two years of age.

For twenty years I have used your Pills as my family medicine, and I wish to either I and have never had any occasion to call a physician in my family, (save in the sickness of my wife with children) during the twenty years."

TRUE MEDICINAL PRINCIPLES.

Never extract blood. Blood is the life. By abstracting it in painful disease you may occasion the patient ease but remember the cure is only his relief at the lessening of the power in fact. And by thus taking away nature's tools, you may prevent her from fully repairing the ravages of disease, and convert what might only have been the sickness of a few days or weeks into a chronic affection of years.

PURGING BY MEANS OF BRANDRETH'S PILLS.

This is the means which accords with nature—nature's remedy in fact. When sudden, acute or continued pain occurs, then to insure security you must take a medicine at will surely purge. There must be no shilly shallying unless every minute lost may be fatal.

Principal office, 43 Brandreth Building, 418 and 417 Broadway.

All Pills with 'Bill Broadway on the box, are counterfeit. The genuine are sold by respectable dealers everywhere

One Bottle Cleans Fifty Pairs of Gloves!

JOUVEN'S INODOROUS KID GLOVE CLEANER is the article used by the Kid Gloves manufacturers of France to impart that purity and softness to the kid for which their gloves are so justly celebrated. In repairing the Allegheny Portage Rail Road. He believed that these expenses were enormous—he knew that the expenditures had been greater than the income. He held that under private management the expenses might be reduced The Pennsylvania Railroad then, in his opinion, would receive an equivalent for the $9,000,000 it would agree to pay under the terms of this bill if it becomes the purchaser.

He thought that the power of that road was now very great. He was opposed to conferring upon it any extraordinary additional immunities. He denied the right of the legislature to agree to relieve the road from taxation. He was in favor, therefore, very decidedly in favor of the motion to strike out that portion of the third section which exempted it from taxation

The speech was listened to with great attention. The Senate chamber was crowded to excess evincing that greater interest is felt in it than in any other measure.

Dr. Graham made two very vigorous speeches to day in opposition to the bill.

Messrs. Sheffield, Jordon, Crabb and Coffey, made able speeches in favor of it.

The Senate has held three sessions to day for the purpose of discussing this bill. They are going on now whilst I write.

Mr Ingram, democratic Senator from the county of Philadelphia has just concluded a speech in its favor.

Mr. Brewer followed him in a very strong speech in favor of the bill.

At length a vote was reached upon the amendment of Browne to strike out the section exempting the railroad from the payment of the State tax It stood as follows:

Yeas—Messrs. Brower, Browne, Cresswell, Ely, Evans, Fattier, Gazzam, Knox, Lanbach, Steele, Watten, Welsh, Wilkins, Wright—14.

Nays—Messrs. Coffee, Crabbs, Finney, Fleminken, Frazer, Gregg, Harris, Ingram, Jordan, Killinger, Lewis, Myer, Scofield, Sellers, Shuman, Souther, Straub, Taggart, Speaker—18.

Mr. Evans, of Berks, offered an amendment subjecting the Penns' Railroad to taxes for city, county and township purposes," which was adopted nemine dissentiente.

An amendment exonerating the road from State tax for only twenty years was rejected; yeas 13; nays 17.

CHINESE BRUTALITY.—The following are stated by an English paper to be the modes of execution and punishment in China. What can be more ferocious and inhuman? First, there is the wooden cage, which consists of two large pieces of wood fitting into one at other, and having three openings, into which the head, or the head and a hand, or the head and both hands, according to the severity of the sentence, are put. This punishment is so severe—for the wretch condemned to it has to sustain on his shoulders a weight of two hundred pounds, without any possibility of relief—that it is certain death, if inflicted for more than a very few days. Next comes beating with bamboo canes—a process which sometimes kills after fifteen blows. Then flaying, crushing limbs and tearing out the tendons of the feet. Strangling and beheading are the capital punishments, to which may be added—though it is said, not often practised—the penalty by which a criminal is placed between two boards, and sawed in two from head to foot. Starving to death is sometimes practised, the culprit being buried in the earth up to the neck and there left to die; or he is fixed in the wooden cage, and fed with daily diminishing rations of rice, till he dies on the last grain as the horse on his last straw. In 1840, four thousand persons were beheaded in the province of Canton, out of a population of nine hundred thousand.

Mr. Meadows, the interpreter of the English embassy in China in 1852, saw at Canton an execution which he afterwards described. The crowds were insurgents who had fallen into the hands of the Tartar officials. The place of execution was a low room, from which the heads of persons previously executed had not been removed. A fire of sandal wood burnt before the shed where sat the mandarins, who were to superintend the execution, and interposed its fragrancy between their nobility and the stench of the decomposing heads. The criminals were brought in, some bound in baskets, and tumbled out on the ground, where they lay paralyzed with fear or from the effects of torture inflicted during their trial and imprisonment. They were then placed in order, in a kneeling position, with their faces towards the ground, a man standing behind each and grasping him tightly by his bound hands. Another, in case of resistance, seized the queue, and pulled in the opposite direction, to keep the neck extended. All being thus prepared, the executioner came forward; a sabre his weapon, which he held with two hands, standing with his legs somewhat apart, ready for the work. In three minutes, thirty three bodies were headless, all but the first completely severed with one blow. From one to another the executioner leaped, body and sword acting with the precision of a machine, and dealing a death blow at every jump. One criminal remained; and for him a more awful death was appointed. He was a man of powerful frame, in the prime of life, and had surrendered himself to the officials to save his wife and family, who were in their hands, from the torture. They took and bound him to a wooden cross fixed against the wall. The flesh was then cut from his forehead, breast and extremities—the process, which occupied five minutes, and was yet rapidly performed. The unhappy man was then taken from the cross and beheaded.

A year or two since the hemp market of this country, in consequence of the Russian war, was considerably excited, and a speculative movement was the consequence. One merchant in Boston who operated rather extensively, found himself at the close a loser of fifty thousand dollars. The same merchant has recently, however, embarked in the sugar business, the price of which, in consequence of short crops, combinations, &c., has nearly doubled in price, and he now finds himself a gainer of fifty thousand dollars—exactly the sum he lost by the hemp speculation. So says the Boston Traveller.
