Mr. Benton was most elequent when speaking of himself Yet we were rejoiced to hear from him most emphatic language the declaration that his desire would be, if he might ever be considered worthy of a monoment, to have engraves upon it, in letters which neither man's for time's hand should efface:

He veted against the Abrogation of the Missour; Comprenies.

We have sure that all that large audience at one saked themselves—Why then did Mr. Benton wise his time and talents to place in the Executive on Commercial Law.

Concer.—It was with great regret we were obliged to forego the pleasure of attending Mr. Appleose's Concert for the Orphans, on Friday aight. We feel sure, however, that the various remarks which we have heard in reference to it are true. We have had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Kieber sing his tarilling song, "Unfar! the Giorious Banner," written by him and sung on the cocasion of a banner presentation by the Greys, of this city, to a military company in Okleage a year since. We are informed that it was received with great appleause an Tuesday evenlag. M. sire.
