GOODYEAR'S RUBBER CLOTHING.
HARDY, DAVIS & CO.,
No. 84 Wood street, Pittsburgh.
THE BEAVER VALLEY RAILROAD has been completed to Beaver, and cars will run regularly on and after Monday, the 20th inst. Without them it could not have been commenced or prosecuted. This work, designed to connect the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad with the northern portion of our own State, and with the great metropolis of our country, has claim upon the favorable consideration of the public, second to no other enterprise. The country it traverses is filled with mineral and agricultural wealth—it is, in fact, a great interior, diverted from us, and belonged exclusively to our healthy, but which is sufficient to sustain it. To reach it directly, by a line of railroad, is to make it tributary to Pittsburgh, and to secure to us the trade of the whole interior, which, otherwise, must eventually, with others be rendered tributary to New York.
Besides its claims upon the public, as a great METALLIC HIGHWAY, it has claims upon the stockholders of the Ohio and Pennsylvania Railroad, that cannot be overlooked. Without it, the connection of DARTMOUTH and its vicinity, with which OHIO and PENNSYLVANIA are so much interested, is incomplete, and a most valuable portion of the trade of the latter will be diverted, eventually, with others no less valuable.
Believing that the public will sustain the right and the right will sustain the public, the undersigned have undertaken the work, and will push it to completion with all practicable dispatch.
