PITTSBURGH:

FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 19, 1857.

READING MATTER ON EACH PAGE OF THIS PAPER.

Democracy in New York.

We have placed upon our first page an account of the recent fight, it might almost be called a battle, in the streets of New York City. New York Democracy, i. e. Tammany Hall Jacobinism, Five Points Squatter Sovereignty, pirates just from the sloughs of Nicaragua, and cut-throats from the purlieus of Cow-bay, all united and their watchword was—"Down with the Black Republicans." What, in one word, was all this about?

In accordance with petition upon petition, signed by thousands of the citizens of New York, a bill was passed in the Legislature at Albany last winter taking the power of police appointments out of the hands of the Mayor of New York, and vesting it in a board of Police Commissioners appointed by the Governor. In accordance with this law the new police have been appointed, and Mayor Wood, affecting to believe the law unconstitutional, at the same time has been making other appointments. Thus, there are two bodies trying to occupy the same position, which in politics as in physics is impossible.

The motive of Wood and the pro-slavery party for bringing on a state of anarchy in the heart of a mighty city like New York is perfectly patent. Through this police, creatures of his own appointment, fitly described in a letter by an eye-witness as "a mixture of pickpockets, shoulder-hitters, brothel-pimps, highway robbers and garroters," Wood and Tammany Hall have controlled the elections in the City of New York. Bullies from the Five Points, backed by some scores of cock-fighters, or "heroes of the ring," fresh and eager for murder from some scene of brutality, rank with rum, and breathing forth Democracy, hold charge and control of the voting precincts, give countenance to their men and their horrid clique at the polls and with oaths, curses, elbowings and crowdings, or, if necessary, with bludgeon, pistol or knife, exclude from the polls everybody and anybody whom they have marked as "not sound on national questions," to use a favorite phrase of Gen. Pierce. Thus is explained the fact that in the Five Points' precinct in New York "the Black Republicans" had last fall but some 14 votes to Buchanan's 700 and odd, and in the ward of which that precinct is a part, Fremont 294 to Buchanan 2357. In a word, the present struggle in New York is between the law and the lawless, between the scum and scourings, the corruption and vice of our national metropolis and a power representing the peaceful, orderly and upright citizens of that great emporium, who stand ready by the thousand and ten thousand to support the present law until such time as the question now pending, of its constitutionality, shall have been passed upon by the Courts.

MINNESOTA ELECTION.—The Union of yesterday morning quotes from a Minnesota paper of a not very recent date the exploded boast of a democratic majority in the Constitutional Convention. We have St. Paul papers of the 13th, and the Times of that date:

"We think we may now safely assure our Republican friends in the States that the Constitutional Convention is ours. We learned yesterday that Foster (Rep.) was elected by a majority of 22 over McVey (Dem.) in Dakota county, and we have had a further accession of four in St. Anthony which we had counted in the Democratic column—making a difference of ten in favor of the Republican vote!

We learn since the above was written, that two Republicans, instead of one, have probably been elected from Dakota county; Dr. Foster and T. M. Smith, Esq.

The fourth District, which, it was reported, had gone Democratic, is all right. This district sends five Republicans and one Democrat, to the Convention.

The relative strength of the parties can be gleaned from the following:

WHAT EX-PRESIDENT TYLER SAID.—It will be remembered that ex-President Tyler, in his recent Jamestown oration, was reported to have said that Stewart's marble palace in New York was built out of the profits of three thousand free negroes who were sent to New York to be sold. This, it appears, was a blunder made by the reporter. Mr. Tyler, in alluding to the operations of Dunmore in Virginia, just previous to the war of independence, said:

"He proclaimed emancipation to the negroes and invited them to join his standard. They did so in large numbers; and humanity, at this day, weeps over their cruel sufferings. Many were sent to the West Indies, while others were sent to New York to be forwarded elsewhere. From an aged citizen of Staten Island, (Mr. Isaac Bell,) I learned a few years ago that the marble mercantile palace of A. T. Stewart is built upon the burial place of 5,000 of those unfortunates."

DOUGLAS ON THE STUMP.—Stephen A. Douglas addressed the grand jury and his constituents at Springfield, Illinois, on Friday last. He defended the bogus laws of Kansas and the constitutional convention about to assemble, but repudiated Squatter Sovereignty in Utah. Of that territory he said:

"If the state of that territory be as is represented, then Utah stands out an alien enemy and outlawed, seeking admission for the sole purpose of subverting the authority of the United States. If such is the case he would favor the repeal of the organic law of the Territory, enact it a district under the sole and exclusive jurisdiction of the United States, and then bring in the criminals under the criminal code of 1790, try them and punish the guilty, completely blotting from the earth the existence of the Territory."

We would like to know, after the ground taken on the Kansas bill, where the constitutional power for this will be found?

FREEDOM OF SPEECH seems to be exercised to the fullest extent by some of the leading Democratic politicians, in relation to the former great lights of the party. At the intemeeting in New York, to make arrangements for the reception of Walker, Elijah F. Purdy, an old Tammany Sachem, presiding, the principal speaker let on as follows:

"Where now is Wm. L. Marcy? A stranger in his old home, preparing, as the newspapers tell us, to go abroad to inspect probably the practical working of that delectable black-cont-and-blue-stocking diplomacy, which is the only really American line of policy which he has inaugurated in our foreign affairs. Where is Caleb Cushing? Glorifying himself in magniloquent speeches, as usual—blowing his own trumpet through the land—parading his infamy before his old fellow townsmen of Newburyport—as did Hester Prynne, the unhappy adulteress of Hawthorne's tale, the Scarlet Letter on her breast. As for poor Frank Pierce nobody knows and nobody cares what has become of him. He has disappeared mysteriously—but neither the Times nor the Herald have thought it worth their while to offer a reward for the discovery of his whereabouts."

THE Richmond South has a letter from Washington, descriptive of the appliances brought to bear at the White House and the Departments in Washington to secure official favors, which gives additional insight into the incidents of Democratic ascendancy in the country. Female office-beggars beset the President and other officers, dispensing patronage in and out of season, their importunate whinings reminding one of the times of Charles II., when kingly favors were dispensed through the intrigues of female courtiers.

GREAT MOVEMENT OF EMIGRANTS.—The Rochester Union says the steamer Northerner arrived at Charlotte on Wednesday morning from Ogdensburg with over one thousand passengers. About one hundred were cabin passengers; the remainder were Norwegian emigrants bound for Milwaukie. These emigrants came by the way of Quebec and Montreal. Among these persons were 350 who left a single village in Norway. They appeared to a healthy and hardy race of people.

A slave woman is advertised to be sold at auction at St. Louis, so beautiful that five thousand dollars has been offered for her and refused at private sale.

For the Daily Pittsburgh Gazette.

Emigration from the Slave States.

The following article is another evidence of the evil influences of slavery:

"Emigration still Continues.—The Kanawha Republican says: We were the other day informed by Mr. Malone, who does a receiving and forwarding business at the steamboat landing ten miles above this place, on the Kanawha, that about one hundred emigrants per week take passage at that point. They are from the counties in Virginia east of this, and from North Carolina. In returning last Friday from a short ride down the turnpike, we met a company of movers encamped for dinner—eight wagons, forty-eight men, women, and children, from Davidson county, N. C. They were bound for Iowa. We learn by intelligent gentlemen of North Carolina, that we may expect, next fall, an unusual number of emigrants from that state to pass over this route to the 'far West.'"

This is the statement of the editor of the Republican, a newspaper published at Charleston, Kenhawa county, Virginia, on the great Kenhawa river about sixty miles up from the Ohio. James B. Malone who is mentioned in the article has his warehouse ten miles above Charleston at the head of steam-boat navigation.

The emigrants who come there on their way west have no rail roads to facilitate their movement, nor even good-stoned turnpikes. The very best road in the region they pass through on their why, is a clay-pike, as it is called, that is a road graded to 5 or 7 degrees, and the earth thrown up in the middle so as to carry off the water. These roads are very pleasant to travel on in the summer during dry weather, but during the last two or three months, the poor emigrants and their horses must have had a weary time on the road. And yet even in defiance of bad roads and equally bad weather, the people of North Carolina are making their painful way from the slave region to the free states and territories of the North. North Carolina from whence this emigration flows, had in 1850, as appears by the U. S. States census but seventeen persons to the square mile, while Massachusetts had one hundred and twenty-eight, and even Ohio the first born of the glorious ordinance of 1787, had fifty.

Seventy-one years ago while Ohio was but the hunting ground of the Shawanese and Mingoes, the high-spirited citizens of Mecklenburgh county, in North Carolina, assembled together and made the first declaration in favor of Independence. The spirit of Liberty and the belief of equal rights was then strong in that region and stimulated the yeomanry to cast off the British yoke; and now that same spirit drives the neighbors and descendants of that same yeomanry to abandon their native soil and seek, by long, wearisome and expensive journies, houses where they can cultivate a free-soil and breathe air uncursed and unpolluted by slavery.

The distance James B. Malone's warehouse to the nearest point on the line of North Carolina as the bee flies, cannot be less than one hundred and fifty miles, all the intermediate country being mountainous, very sparsely settled, with no roads but those miserable chuck-holes, which must have been almost impassable during the past wet weather, and yet over such roads, through such a country and during such weather do the emigrants make their way to free territory.

Probably there is not within the bounds of our Union a more desirable latitude than that of North Carolina, and the region of country between that State and Malone's landing, though not first rate soil, is a good agricultural region and of unsurpassed salubrity; and yet the North Carolinians are, it seems, in great numbers, abandoning their native State, passing through Virginia and seeking homes in the cold latitudes of Iowa.

On the old continent, migrations have been almost uniformly from the North to the more luxurious Southern regions; but here in America the love of free soil leads inhabitants of the South to migrate to the colder North.

It is a remarkable fact, too, that while the non-slaveholding classare by hundreds and thousands quitting these States to get to free soil, the slave-holders are also abandoning the old North State with their slaves to seek a land of deeper darkness where the fetters of their unhappy bondsmen may be heavier and more secure.

Thus this noble State is likely to be most effectually deprived of her best and most valuable yeomanry and of her wealthiest slaveholders with their chattels. It is not difficult to forsee that this double process of depletion, if not arrested, must greatly exhaust that commonwealth.

How greatly wiser and happier in their policy are the bold and sagacious leaders of the free soil party in Missouri. There it is openly proclaimed that Missouri must and will be a free State. The consequence is that the slaveholders are moving Southward with their human chattels. while the friends of free soil are crowding in.

The Census of 1860 will exhibit in sad and sickening contrast the progress of these two States, under their different policies. The North State may, if she will, profit by the lesson. Experience is a severe school, but some persons learn in no other.

A FRIEND asks us to give place to the following communication, and we comply with his request, although we feel that he has been too lavish of his commendations:

For the Daily Pittsburgh Gazette.

MESSRS. EDITORS.—I have to thank you most sincerely for the care you evince in excluding from your columns the details of those gross crimes which so often occur in this community, and especially that you have only made mention of the recent adultery case, the particulars of which have been the staple of the local columns of all the other papers for the past day or so. In this respect the Gazette has always maintained a superiority which has rendered it invaluable to every father who wishes that his family may be improved by the perusal of a good newspaper, without being contaminated by the recital of gross details of crime. I defy any person to produce articles in any of the profession sedly obscene papers which scourge the community occasionally, calculated to do more moral injury than the reports of this adultery case, as given in several papers of this city. The testimony of the witnesses drawn out so particularly by the counsel in the case, is transferred to the columns of these papers with minuteness, with such bare regard to delicacy, that but very little is left to the imagination. An afternoon paper heightens the effect most grossly by a significant use of ^^^^ at the point where the writer was ashamed to clothe the idea in words. The course of the Gazette is respected even by those who derive a gratification from the perusal of these obscene reports, but how much more by the refined and virtuous of the community, whose esteem is more worth striving for.

Yours with Respect.

FREE STATE CONVENTION HELD AT TOPEKA.

At three o'clock the convention met, and the committee on business made the following report, which was adopted:

Resolved 1. That the people of Kansas now as ever, disown as invalid and of no force or effect, the authority of the territorial government as embodied in the enactments of the so-called legislature of Kansas,

2. That it is made incumbent on the people of Kansas, by the highest considerations of justice and expediency to look forward now as ever, to their admission into the Union under the constitution which they have already formed, as the only method of adjusting existing difficulties, to which they will assent.

3. That the people of Kansas will pursue with unfaltering steadiness of purpose, the appliances now pending before the congress of the United States, for their admission into the Union under their own constitution, and with their government, resting their hopes for the success thereof upon the profound confidence they feel, that a measure so eminently just, and so accordant to the principles of past legislation in our country, will eventually be conceded and sanctioned to them by the representatives of the American people.

4. That the constitution framed and adopted at Topeka, had its origin in a public necessity, was the offspring of the popular will, and experience has proved the wisdom of those who framed it, and it is the duty of the legislative officers elected under it, to complete the state organization, and keep its machinery in readiness for use so soon as we are admitted into the Union; or the necessities of the people shall require.

The committee reported the following, which was also adopted:

Whereas, By unfair legislation by the Lecompton "legislative assembly," and the manner of registration under the act providing for the call of a convention to form a constitution has excluded a large majority of the voters of Kansas from the participation in the election of delegates to the said convention; therefore

Resolved, That this convention respectfully and earnestly recommend to the free state party of Kansas, that the election for delegates, in pursuance of the law enacted by the Lecompton bogus legislature, be disregarded and permitted to pass without and participation therein by the free state party in Kansas.

Resolved, That since the issues of the past have been sufficient to develop the political principles of every man in Kansas. Therefore we regard any man who sympathizes with our oppressors to the extent that he consents to become a delegate to the Lecompton convention, or a candidate to the same, is unworthy the fellowship or confidence of the free state men, and should be regarded with suspicion everywhere.

THE crop of strawberries in New Jersey this year is unusually large.—The steamboat Keyport took to New York on Saturday 923 baskets, each barrel containing about 200 baskets, making 186,600 baskets, which sold on an average 3½c. per basket, making $6,531 for a single trip.

One basket contained only three berries, that measured 3 inches each in circumference. The season has only just commenced.

ELECTION IN KANSAS.—Yesterday was the day set for the election in Kansas of delegates to a Convention to form a State Constitution. The Free State men, so the last, we understand, maintained their position of non-action; so a pro-Slavery Convention will of course be chosen. Whether this body will submit their Constitution to a vote of the people is doubtful. ROBT. J. WALKER has promised the people that this shall be done; but ROBT. WALKER will probably find himself slightly disappointed of his power to effect the result.—St. Louis Intel.

A SWEET ITEM.—We learn that at the present time 17,000 hhds. of molasses are stored on Boston wharf, and five vessels laden with molasses are waiting at the same wharf to be discharged. Some of the principal consumers of the sweet article in this city contemplate discontinuing its use until the price is reduced to a somewhat reasonable rate.—Boston Trav.

EFFECTS OF THE CORN.—The savings banks which receive deposits on Fridays were almost entirely deserted last week. The Greenwich Savings Bank did not have a depositor, while heretofore the average on Friday was from thirty to sixty.—N. Y. Tribune.

AT St Louis on Thursday, a man named Peter Fitzsimmons was engaged in removing metal from under a ponderous trip-hammer, when the trigger was accidentally sprung, and the hammer descended upon him from a height of 60 feet, striking him upon the head, and crushing him horribly.

STILL ANOTHER VICTIM.—Major George McNair, who was attacked on the 8th of January last with the National Hotel disease, died this morning without a struggle. His death will cast a gloom upon his old associates of the war of 1812. He was 63 years of age.—Washington Star, 12th.

THE Hollidaysburg Register, says that on Sunday night Mellim had a slight attack of cholera morbus, which gave rise to a report that he had attempted to commit suicide by poison. No such attempt was made. He is now restored to his ordinary good health.

THE Grand Jury of a town in Ohio have presented the "SEWING SOCIETY" of the place as a nuisance.

A complete train of large, handsome and comfortable new cars has been put on the Branch road between Hollidaysburg and Altoona.

MARRIED on Thursday, 18th inst. by the Rev. J. M. Reed, Mr. DAVID MACKEY to Miss ANNA M. DEAN, all of this city.

We communicate the happy couple on the issue of the event and wish for them a happy delivery as from all the hard knocks of the changeful life.

Special Notices.

A Great Medicine for Females.

Hundreds of remedies have been invented and used, purporting to be specific medicines to cure the many derangements to which the female constitution is subject, but we believe that the proprietor of all these stimulants has been to expert in concocting the most delusive syrups, and has resort to the most artful and insidious means to have recommended to a deluded people, a compound, that is more than humbug, and the repeated attempts of imposition to build the medicine up by those who have been fatally misled in destroying what little vital organization was left. But in using Brown's Hoband Bitters, you will find such astonishing results. It is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Hoband Professor Berthier. You'll see its influence every nerve and muscle receives new strength and vigor, appetite and deep repose, and finally, perfect health. See advertisement in another column.

The Best Cough Medicine.

A man so severe afflicted with a cough some time ago as to be unable to attend to business with his usual success, which every one knows is a pretty severe cough to be afflicted with, has informed us that he had every remedy that he heard of without any benefit, but by the use of one bottle of Dr. Wistar's Balsam, he was entirely relieved, and is now in the enjoyment of his usual health. Such a cure as this is sufficient to call the attention of every afflicted sufferer to the establishment of all. What makes the case more remarkable is the extreme old age of the patient, he being eighty years old. Sold by all the Druggists and Dealers in Medicines. Price 50 cents and $1 per bottle.
