which the context will not justify and which we struggle to secure a direct railroad connection with Baltimore, our citizens were urged to look westward rather than eastward, and build a road into the heart of Ohio, no one contemplated that the movement which then started the enterprise of building the Ohio and Pennsylvania Roads would eventuate in giving us, as it has done, a continuous road from here to Chicago, over 400 miles long, nor did any one dream, then, that while a furtive glance may snatch from the co-

But, while we derive this political satisfaction from the sale, we are convinced that the Penn read by all those whom it will interest. sylvania Road ought not to have been permitted sylvania Road ought not to have been permitted to buy it. That road is thereby left without a competitor in the carrying trade, and the people along the western end of the canal will be deprited all the advantages heretofore derived from it. A Corporation already too strong, becomes thereby an overahadowing power, such as no Commonwealth ought to permit itself to encourage; and the State surrenders, to be destroyed by it, those public convaniances the preservation of which public conveniences the preservation of which the people had a right to demand. We do not believe the results can be beneficial. The public good cannot be promoted by fostering and strengthening a mammoth corporation, by the side of which the United States Bank was a pigmy. Doings in Petersburg, Va.—Fatal Poisonino.

—Petersburg, June 22.—At an advanced hour last evening, three slaves, employed by Mr. Edward Gill, of Chesterfield, at his residence near Matocaca, were lodged in the jail of this city, under very important, and indeed, fearful circumstances. Their names are, respectively. Bebecoa, a cook, and Maria, (both owned by Mr. Gill.) and John, a slave of Sylvester Pearce, Esq.—For seyral weeks past the entire family of Mr. Gill. consisting of six children, himself and wife, have been slowly and gradually visited with mysterious diseases, producing internal inflammations, deathly paleness, and exceeding nervousness. In the course of time their youngest child fell a victim to its fatality; and on Saturday last, physicians were called to attend the family, every one of whom had become prostrated, and were laboring under intense pain. From the character of the symptons of the affliction, suspicions of poisoning were aroused, which were subsequently fully corroborated by investigation. On the premises of the cook, which were subsequently fully corroborated by investigation. On the premises of the cook, which were subsequently fully corroborated by investigation. On the premises of the cook, which were subsequently fully corroborated by investigation. On the premises of the cook, which were also occupied by the two other servants, were found pairests of lump and carbonate of lead, with a vicl containing the sugar of lead. These similar and deadly poisons, as every attendant circumstance warranted, had been introduced from time to time in the food and drink served in the family, sausing a slow process of death. So far as the interests of Pittsburgh are at the mercy of this road, our citizens have nothing to hope for. The little protection heretofore given by the competition of the public works is withdrawn. The Company is now at full liberty to discriminate against the city to the top of its bent, and it will do so whenever it thinks it can make a point in that way. Our business men must make up their minds to grih and bear it, until chance or better fortune opens up the way of deliverance.
