FILIDS AND AND with respect to the first and last of the questions above enumerated, his declarations were consonant with those of the Republican party again and again and everywhere reiterated. As a necessary deduction from the great principles we have espoused, handed down to us by the Fathers of the Constitution and embodied in the first passements of the Congress of the United States, there can be no hesitation as to the course of the Republican party in this other question now becoming prominent, to wit: the Uthi imbroglio. Not so with the pro-slavery Democratic party, so-called. They are in the most unhappy condition of persons who have mixed grievous does for others, which they themselves are at length obliged to swallow at any cost of pain and disgust.

On this point Mr. Trumbuli made the following remarks:

"To show the working of this great principle of the Mormon Church, in which, after finding family. Mr. Brockerd, That Congress has no power, under the Constitution, in the phrase of "the twin relies of barriage and the following resolution:

The Demerratic party is the instrument, in God's hand, by which is to be effected our recognition as a sovereign State, with the demestic institutions of Slavery and Polygamy, as established by the patriarch and renowed to the saints of latter days, through the same effect. It says:

"We have personal knowledge of many young proslavery Kentuckians who have invested hundreds of thousands of dollars in Chicago and the northwestern states and territories. These young pro-slavery democrats and whigs, under the lead of John C.
Breckinridge, having scrowed down the lid of the coffin upon their own state, by fastening upon it a constitution making the emancipation of slaves impossible, are now running away from their state, which they have tied to a dead corpse, and are laying out their money in the free states." God's chosen rulers and propheta."
How unkind, after the Mormons have taken shelter in the bosom of the self-styled Democracy, and embraced its "great principle of popular sovereignty and self-government," that this self-same Democrathen in the bosom of the self-styled Democracy, and embraced its "great principle of popular sovereignty and self-government," that this self-same Democracy, in speaking of them, should declare. Itself not satisfied with any half-uncaures, but to be "the dety of Congress to apply the knife, and cut out the loathsome, disgusting ulcer." But if the self-styled Democracy, by their false impressions, have misled the Mormons, it is some satisfaction to know that they are subscribing to the Republican creed, by recognizing the power of Congress over the Territories. According to that creed, there never was any difficulty in dealing with the Mormons. Republicans have believed the authority of Congress over the Mormons in Utah, for the purpose of depressing crime and licenticousness, as complete as is that of the State of Illinois over its inhabitants, and think Congress justs a culpable in tolerating polygamy in Utah, as the Legislature of Illinois would be in tolerating it in this State.

"It has not been so clear to our minds that there has been any unconstitutional act of "asurped power" on the part of the majority—though we fully admit that it affixed a stigms upon the South and its institutions which was uncalled for and intolerable. The action of the late Assembly does not differ from that of proceeding Assemblies, except in a more express condemnation of a particular Presbytery as maintaining it. It was not properly an act of discipline, but simply of testimony, and why those as mantaning it. It was not properly an act of discipline, but simply of testimony, and why those who have endured similar obnoxious testimonies from 1550 until now, should so suddenly awake to its unrighteous, oppressive, destructive character, it is for them, not for us, to say. It adds:

"While, too, the whole responsibility of the past agitation rests upon the North, and twenty-seven memorials, from as many-different Presbyteries, brought the subject before the Assembly, there still seems to us something obtrusive in the manner in which the Presbytery of Lexington South urged the issue, and something unquarded and needlessly harsh in their language on the subject. There is just the difference between saying "Slaveholding is right," and "Slaveholding is not urrong," that there is between severy positive and the corresponding negative. The one-seems to imply a positive approbation and complications which the other does not, and hence is more likely to be misunderstood. Nor can we say that Dr. F. A. Boss, with althis acknowledged ability and boldness, is precisely the champion of our choice, either in language or sentiment."

In this the assertion of a knave or a fool?—Pensulcaninu.

Of neither. Judge Taney decided in the Dred Scott case that none but those who were citizens of the United States when the Constitution was adopted and their descendants could now be regarded as citizens under it. He said:

"Every person and, every class and description of persons who were at the time of the adoption of the Constitution recognized as citizens of the several States, became also citizens of the new political body; but none other; it was formed by them, and for them and their posterity, but for no one clae."
