Persident in this affair:

"The embarrassment of the President arising in the refusal of our diplomatities to seek that felicity which-can only be found in the shadows of private if and in these soft delights which the domestic circle alone can furnish, continues. Why don't the men propose?" was the despairing cry of the unfortunate Miss Bailey Mr. Buchanan groans in like disconsolatenes, why don't the men resign? But it is plan that they will not gracefully bring their own beads in a charger; the time has come when mere regiment be applied. The President has been heard to threaten that this week shall not pass without execution being done. Our Executive has the kindest heart in the world, and the duty imposed upon him of carrying out the great principle of his inaugural is no doubt the most painful which he has yet been called upon to perform.

"The first case presented is the most delicate.—The relations between the President and Mr. Dallas, growing out of long standing political rival's, a round of the cordial and amicable kind which should exist between the chief magistrates and the first member of the diplomatic corps. Of course, Mr. Dallas, growing out to fing standing political rival's, a round of the cordial and amicable kind which should exist between the chief magistrate and the first member of the diplomatic corps. Of course, Mr. Dallas, growing out to fing standing political rival's, a round of the cordial and amicable kind which should exist between the chief magistrate and the first member of the diplomatic corps. Of course, Mr. Dallas, growing out to find the private personal intercourse, which their relations forbid. There is, diverted the case of Durrett. "With bated breath and whise ring humblemen." and claim the merest pittance as a reward for their obsequious loyalty. Such was the social degra-dation to-which genius was subjected, that intellects, which even shed their glorious effulgence on this distant period, were scorned and slighted by an ignorant and inflated Privileged Class. Dryden, for a paltry subsistence, was compelled to sacrifice his independence and dignity in his servitude to a cruel and iron-hearted age, that now derives all its glory from the men whom it permitted to suffer and starve. We honor Dickens for the manly stand he-has taken. It is time uld assert its high position among men, even in the face of kings and prelates, wh

Gov. WALKER .- The Washington correspon dent of the N. Y. Tribune telegraphs as follows "Gov. Walker's foray on Lawrence has had marked effect at the South, and the fire-enters ar loud in his praise."

Of course. That was his object. The August elections are at hand, and the fire-enters st be conciliated. After they are over, and as the Pennsylvania election approaches, the ground will be changed to suit the change in

Pray, what are "the Territorial laws" but usurped authority "! Have not the people of Lawrence as good a right to make a charter for themselves, as the people of Missouri had, through the bogus legislature, to make one for them? A Kansas correspondent of the Cincinnati Ga cette says:

"On Friday, Gov. Robiuson, tien. Lanc. Mayor Blood, the Aldermen, and others arrived from Top ka. A public meeting was called, speeches made, and a resolution adopted that if Gov. Walker dedesired any conference with the people of Lawrence, he must communicate through the Mayor, Mr. Blood.

Ex-Gov. Shannon is very much elated in view of the fact that his distinguished successor in office, has made a worse mistake than ever he did, a greater blunder in Kansas affair."

DEATH OF RICHAED SOUTHOATE.—Richard Southgate, one of the oldest settlers of our sister city of Newport, (Ky.,) died at his residence in that city yesterday afternoon at four o'clock, after, a lingering illness. He was 83 years of age, having been born on the 23d of January, 1774. He read law at Albany, N. Y., and while pursuing his studies had frequent opportunities of seeing Alexander Hamilton, Aaron Burr and the control of that day, whose histories many of the men of that day, whos

THE LOUISVILLE FIGHT. -The truly talented and powerful editor of the Louisville Journal has added notoriety to his fame by engaging in a street fight with Mr. Durrett, a contributor to ; the columns of The Courier. would be an act of private personal intercourse, which their relations forbid. There is, therefore, no way in which Mr. Dallas can resign consistent with that finished decorum which he makes it a rule to observe the state of t beerve.
"The situation of Mr. Mason is somewhat differat, but his immobility is the same. He and the or limb. This challenge, Prentice declined, with ont, but his immobility is the same. He and the President are personal friends, and the minister might take the liberty with his friend, of forwarding a p. p. c. But he has not done so, and his personal friend begins to suspect the the does not intend to do it. His Virguet: friends have declared from the beginning or other democrats' expectations that he shall not resign.

With two such prominent examples of adhesiveness to office, what can be done in the minor cases? There is Major Cass at Rome, a shining mark for rotary Democrats to hawk. He ought to be able to water for with his owner for the same to the same to the control of the same to have the formal product of the same to have the formal product of the same to have the formal product of the same to him, nor sends one that is accepted.

CASSIUS M. CLAY .- In a county in Kentuck near Madison, in which latter Cassius M. Clay resides, the 4th of July has been celebrated in an appropriate manner for three years past. The Democracy have gone so far as to permit Clay, with a pistol lying on the table beside which he speaks, to call Slavery by its right name, a thing o be eternally hated, a loathsome ulcer on the body politic, the prolific parent of vice and crime, the leaden drag upon all true progress and the worst enemy to the white man that car e introduced or established in any State. Even on last 4th of July, Cassius M. Clay as ressed 3000 persons in one body, in a grove in the vicinity of his residence, and gave the "miserable doughfaces," as he most justly terms the "Democrats," just such a course of analysis as their history warrants. When he had concluded his speech, he read a couple of resolutions characterizing the Dred Scott decision as a disgrace or two ago. We are gratified to learn by the last to the age and an insult to the Creator, a base lie in our judicial history and a blot upon th unless the Queen's invitation places him on the records of the Supreme Court. What a pity that some Pennsylvania democrats had not been pre sent to cry treason and let slip the "Dead Rabbits" upon him! Wondrous to relate, however, in the very heart of slaveholding Kentucky, resolutions of the above tenor were cordially adopt ed, with but two dissenting voices, as we learn from the published letter of one who was present Locoroco Speculators .--- There is no longe Locoroco Speculators...-There is no longer any doubt that Walkeriz a party to a great land speculation in Kansas. But he is not alone in speculation in Kansas. But he is no such undertakings. Gov. Medary, of Minneso ta, has his hand in the same business. The las locofoco territorial Legislature of Minnesota chartered a mammoth land company with jusuch powers and privileges as the grasping monopolists desired. Gov. Medary appro the charter, and is said To be one of the stockiolders. Breslin, the Ohio embezzling Stat Treasurer, it is reported, had some sixty shares f the stock. The chartered organization styled the Dakota Land Company, and is doing land office business in making towns and cities on paper.

KEYSER'S SHOULDER BRACES—From Pittsburgh Dispatch, April 10th, 1550.—For more than 3 years peak we have constantly when the Washington Suspender Rirace, manufactured by Dr. Geo. H. Keyser, of No 110 West street, in this city, and would heartily recommend it to all who are completed to follow a sed-intery occupation. As we have before remarked, in calling attention to its merits, it answers for a brace and suspenders, the weight of the pantaloons being so placed as to continuity tend to bring the shoulders to their natural position and expland the chest. Women, hundreds of whom are annually injured by the weight of enormous "skirts," should also procure these braces.
