Ye Great Isothermal War.

YE LAWRENCE FANATICS SUBDUED!

When, from our office window, on blessed Friday of last week, we saw distant companies of dragoons prancing towards Lawrence, headed by his excellency, Major General Robert J. Walker, we instinctively felt a glow of generous pride, and immediately dispatched a corps of prying and inquisitive reporters to note down everything of interest or importance that transpired. In this way we are enabled to present a full account of our Governor's patriotic doings. Before giving our reports, however, it may be well to state that the Union is all O. K., and the dignity of the laws vindicated. It is also generally surmised that the comet was just about to smash us into chaos when His Erratic Highness heard of Walker, and plunged off into space at a most astonishing rate of speed. What do we not owe His Excellency?

LAWRENCE, SATURDAY NIGHT.

Walker pale and thoughtful—perspired freely all night—said "d—n" once in my hearing. It created fearful excitement. Troops full of enthusiasm—Walker read his proclamation to them, and then got under the influence of beverages.

SUNDAY MORNING.

The Governor had a restless night. Troubled with bad dreams. Lawrence quiet. Troops expect an attack from the citizens.

10 O'CLOCK, A. M.

No attack been made—Walker rode into the city—took a sorry cobbler and called for a straw—took a little water and sugar with some whisky in it—muttered something—went out to the troops. Terrific excitement in camp.

NOON.

Walker indulges in beverages frequently. Crowd seen in the streets. Troops ordered to form. Crowd discovered to be persons coming from church. His Excellency takes a little gin.

NIGHT.

Whisky been working. Governor tight. Troops assemble. Walker wants to raze Lawrence. All go to sleep.

MONDAY EVENING.

Walker dispatched 792 dragoons this morning to arrest an audacious youngster who was selling pen-nuts in violation of the organic act, and our beloved Constitution. Boy to be tried by Court Martial for high treason. Governor somewhat boozy.

TUESDAY EVENING.

Walker said he'd be gol-darned if he ever sweat so in his life. Says he has put on a clean shirt every day—willing to make such sacrifices for the peace of the country and the Union. Little boy discharged. Walker imbibes too much.

WEDNESDAY EVENING.

Troops damn Walker and Walker damns the troops. Both want to know what the devil to do. Weather awful. Governor thinks he wouldn't like the army. Dog heard growling and company sent to arrest him. Dog escapes. The Governor three sheets in the wind.

THURSDAY EVENING.

His Excellency has the bowel complaint. Takes paregoric. Troops growl and Walker swears like a trooper. The citizens don't seem to mind the presence of the army. Governor says he feels blamed mean and danged small.—Gets tight and oblivious.

FRIDAY EVENING.

Walker's got the headache—says he's been sold—thinks he won't be the next President. Damns Republics and Kansas. Troops laugh and snicker—whisky shops do a staving business. The Governor says he's going home—don't think his mother knows he's out. All quiet in the City. Walker inebriated.

This last dispatch was received just before going to press, and convinces us that the Governor has had a glorious and most successful campaign. The arrest of that pea-nut boy was a masterstroke, and every act of the Governor during the momentous crisis, was worthy of the hero and the man.

RESOLUTION

Proposing Amendments to the Constitution of the Commonwealth.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendments are proposed to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, in accordance with the provisions of the tenth article thereof.

FIRST AMENDMENT.

There shall be an additional article to said Constitution to be designated as article eleventh, as follows:—

ARTICLE XI.

OF PUBLIC DEBTS.

SECTION 1. The State may contract debts, to supply casual deficits or failures in revenues, or to meet expenses not otherwise provided for: but the aggregate amount of such debts direct and contingent, whether contracted by virtue of one or more acts of the general assembly, or at different periods of time, shall never exceed seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars, and the money arising from the creation of such debts, shall be applied to the purpose for which it was obtained, or to repay the debts so contracted, and to no other purpose whatever.

SECTION 2. In addition to the above limited power the State may contract debts to repel invasion, suppress insurrection, defend the State in war, or to redeem the present outstanding indebtedness of the State: but the moneys arising from the contracting of such debts, shall be applied to the purpose for which it was raised, or to repay such debts, and to no other purpose whatever.

SECTION 3. Except the debts above specified, in sections one and two of this article, no debt whatever shall be created by, or on behalf of the State.

SECTION 4. To provide for the payment of the present debt, and any additional debt contracted as aforesaid, the legislature shall, at its first session, after the adoption of this amendment, create a sinking fund, which shall be sufficient to pay the accruing interest on such debt, and annually to reduce the principal thereof by a sum not less than two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, which sinking fund shall consist of the net annual income of the public works, from time to time owned by the State, or the proceeds of the sale of the same, or any part thereof, and of the income or proceeds of sale of such stocks owned by the State, together with other funds, or resources, that may be designated by law. The said sinking fund may be increased, from time to time by assigning to it any part of the taxes, or other revenues of the state, not required for the ordinary and current expenses of government, and unless in case of war, invasion or insurrection, no part of the said sinking fund shall be used or applied otherwise than in extinguishment of the public debt, until the amount of such debt is reduced below the sum of five millions of dollars.

SECTION 5. The credit of the commonwealth shall not in any manner, or event, be lodged, or loaned to, any individual, company, corporation, or association; nor shall the commonwealth hereafter become a joint owner, or stockholder, in any company, association, or corporation.

SECTION 6. The commonwealth shall not assume the debt, or any part thereof, of any county, city, borough or township; or of any corporation, or association; unless such debt shall have been contracted to enable the state to repel invasion, suppress domestic insurrection, defend itself in time of war, or to assist the state in the discharge of any portion of its present indebtedness.

SECTION 7. The legislature shall not authorize any county, city, borough, township, or incorporated district, by virtue of a vote of its citizens, or otherwise, to become a stockholder in any company, association, or corporation; or to obtain money for, or loan its credit to, any corporation, association, institution or party.

SECOND AMENDMENT.

There shall be an additional article to said constitution, to be designated as article XII, as follows:

ARTICLE XII.

OF NEW COUNTIES.

No county shall be divided by the cutting off over one tenth of its population, (either to form a new county or otherwise,) without the express assent of such county, by a vote of the electors thereof; nor shall any new county be established, containing less than four hundred square miles.

THIRD AMENDMENT.

From section two of the first article of the Constitution, strike out the words, "of the city of Philadelphia, and of each county respectively;" from section five, same article, strike out the words, "of Philadelphia and of each county;" from section seven, same article, strike out the words, "neither the city of Philadelphia nor any," and insert in lieu thereof the words, "and no;" and strike out "seven four, same article," and in lieu thereof insert the following:

SECTION 4. In the apportionment of representation, one sixty-four, and in every seventh year thereafter, representative district shall be composed of contiguous territory, as nearly equal in the number of taxable inhabitants in the several districts as may be without dividing any county, except only such as may be entitled to more than one representative; but no county shall be divided in the formation of districts. Any city containing a sufficient number of taxables to entitle it to at least two representatives, shall have a separate representation assigned it, and shall be divided into convenient districts of contiguous territory, of equal taxable population as near as may be, each of which districts shall elect one representative.

FOURTH AMENDMENT.

There shall be additional section to the first article of said Constitution, which shall be numbered and read as follows:

Section 26. The legislature shall have the power to alter, revoke, or annul, any charter of incorporation hereafter conferred by, or under, any special or general law, whenever in their opinion it may be injurious to the citizens of the Commonwealth, in such manner, however, that no injustice shall be done to the corporators

IN SENATE, March 27, 1857.
