PITTSBURGH:

WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUG. 26, 1857.

READING MATTER ON EACH PAGE OF THIS PAPER.

THE democratic county convention meets today, to nominate a county ticket. We learn that the primary meetings were very slimly attended, showing a tremendous lack of interest. The list of delegates from the city and neighborhood shows a plentiful admixture of Catholics and Know Nothings. To-day the lion and the lamb are to lie down together.

In looking over this list we note the absence from the convention of the leaders and prominent men of the party. They have given the convention up to those who usually stand in the background, preferring not to take the responsibility of any silly action that may be resolved on.

The great difficulty of the convention will be how to get over the Repudiation question. The members have got hold of an idea that Repudiation is popular, and that their party may ride into office on it, but they fear to take ground openly for it, lest it should work injury elsewhere. They will probably adopt a sot of resolutions worded so jesuitically as to seem to mean what the party is afraid to say.

But whatever course the convention takes on this question, it will be but a party trick, to attain success where success otherwise is impossible. The party cares nothing about the matter, either way, and would take either side, as it might happen to promise best for them. No man of any political experience in this county believes it sincere in any thing, or capable of anything like political honesty. The end, with it, justifies the means.

There is one stumbling-block, however, in the way, which we do not see how it is to get over. The party, in the State and in the nation, in endorsing the Dred Scott decision, has taken the broad ground that judicial decisions are to be respected and observed, whether right or wrong, and that resistance or opposition to them is either rebellion or nullification. Now, the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, consisting entirely of democrats, has decided that municipal subscriptions are valid and constitutional. Hence, if the Convention to-day should resolve that they are un-constitutional, the party will set itself in direct opposition to this decision, and so trample on the platform by which it seeks to uphold the Dred Scott decision. Can it afford, as a "national" party, to do so? We shall see.

The Expected Crisis.

The exports of specie from New York last week run up to nearly three millions! The New York Times thinks "the movement was caused mainly by the recent check to the improvement of the London Discount market, which made the prompt remittance of Bullion preferable," going abroad for a reason rather than look for one at home. Why may not our immense importations and our very light exportations of produce be regarded as the cause, in preference to the state of the money market in London? To our mind the reason is too plain to admit of any such substitution, as this: We are simply buying more from Europe than Europe is willing to take payment for in produce, and we are making up the difference in specie.

Our receipts of gold from California amount to $2,500,000 a month; our exports last week were over $2,600,000. When we ship in a week more than California supplies in a month, the vaults of the Banks must supply the odds.—Hence we see the New York banks taking the alarm, and contracting their line of loans with a violent haste that makes the money market "tight" at once, although it has been quite "easy" all summer.

The first effect is notable. The Ohio Life & Trust Co., a huge affair and hitherto considered impregnable, fails. Its agency in New York was the depository of very many Western banks; and these banks having been closely run for specie to pay the balance of trade against the west, they have drawn upon the full amount of their deposits, and the Life & Trust Co. being thus found short, (probably from having loaned too freely "on call,") suspends. The parent bank at Cincinnati will probably follow suit, and the result must be unpleasant embarrassment in many quarters.

This is only the beginning. We are not predicting a "crisis," or a "crash:" but we tell our readers that it is time to be looking seriously at the state of the country. Things may not get any worse; but it will do no harm to be prepared even for worse tidings than have yet been heard.

Look at the figures of the N. Y. Custom House report for last week. The imports were $4,945,862, (they have been as high as ten millions a few weeks previous,) while the exports of produce were only $987,512, against $2,374,678 during the same week last year. No wonder we have to export specie: but how long can we stand it at the rate of last week?

The present abundant harvest might afford us a fair prospect of relief, if Europe wanted our breadstuffs; but she does not. She is ready to sell to us; but not to buy from us.

Even the Pennsylvanian, that organ of the Free Traders, shows trepidation at the prospect of the future. It says:

"There exist powerful reasons urging the press to raise its warning voice. For a series of years, we have recklessly indulged in habits of wastefulness, and loose speculations of every description; we have stretched our credit, at home and abroad, to the utmost limits of its strength, and now, when the consequences of this thoughtless course are brought home to us; when it is felt by almost everybody, that the monetary resources are greatly inadequate to the business requirements of the country, we see the drain of precious metals continue without interruption, and even exceed that of former years.

Period prior to 1851 we never in any one year exported above $9,500,000 of specie and bullion, as an excess of exportation over importation; but since 1851 that sum ranged between $24,000,000 as a minimum, and $42,000,000 as a maximum. In 1856 it amounted to $41,500,000; and now it is reported, that in the first seven months of this year we have already shipped $7,000,000 more than for the same period of last year. These shipments are the main and immediate cause of our troubles, and it is high time that Congress should direct its attention to the subject, since the last tariff act has evidently failed to accomplish its purpose.

It is by a speedy and prompt application of legislative remedies only, that the gloomy apprehensions entertained in some quarters can be prevented from becoming a sad reality."

We know of no legislative remedy but a return to the policy of a protective tariff. The Pennsylvanian admits that the last tariff act is a failure, and the only real hope of the country is a return to the old policy of Protection. The country may not learn this fact without a lesson of sad experience, but it will learn it, sooner or later.

P. S.—The telegraphic dispatches from New York received yesterday would seem to indicate that the "crisis" and the "crash" have come already. There is evidently a big smash-up in Wall street, and there is more ahead.

THE New York News, a democratic and Buchanan sheet of New York city, invites the Know Nothings into the Democratic ranks, and holds out to them the following inducements:

"In this very matter of the advancement of foreigners, the democracy is both cautious and conservative, and though they do not exclude or proscribe foreigners from office, by far the largest and best share of the emoluments and honors of public business and public offices is enjoyed by the natives of this country. Is not this caution all that any American can properly require."

It was for saying no more than this that the whole democratic press throughout Pennsylvania assailed WILMOT as a Know Nothing. The fact is just as stated by the News and by MR. WILMOT in his letter. The natives of the country have enjoyed almost a monopoly of the desirable offices, and no party has ever thought of departing from that policy. What did the democratic party of Pennsylvania elect a foreigner to any office beyond a few merely local ones?

WE see portraits of Gen. BACHER in the print-shop windows. There is no padlock on his mouth. This can be accounted for only on the ground that it was engraved before the Committee got hold of him.

BEGONE OFF. The Philadelphia Press is disgusted at the friends of WILMOT now to abuse PACKER too much! What is the case? Wasn't Packer will be elected, and therefore it is labor thrown away to attack him so severely, and we will be the more sorry for it after the election. The democrats, now, the Press says, do not abuse WILMOT, being content to defeat him, and why will we be so silly as to throw our ammunition away?

We are glad to see that even the Press is sensitive under the castigation administering to its candidate. No body has "abused" PACKER that we know of: he has merely been held up as an old office-holder who helped to cheat the State, a trimming demagogue and cowardly blusterer, who gave out that he was ready to meet his opponent on the stump and then backed out when challenged. These are facts and not "abuse" and it is rather a good sign to see that the activity with which he is hunted by the opposition press is compelling his friends to cry for quarter.

As to the certainty of his election, the Press should remember there is no telling who will be Governor until after election. We are going to try to elect WILMOT, any how; and if the locofoco press does not abuse him, it is because his character is so high and his record so clear that they cannot. They would if they could.

The Press, in this begging appeal to be left alone, betrays the policy that has been adopted by the Buchanan party. They want to conduct the election quietly, without excitement or discussion of any kind—to let it slip over in a dull, sleepy kind of way, in the hope that our men may thus be kept at home. The Packer men have every thing to fear from discussion and excitement; therefore they beg to be left alone and decline to show fight. Better, they think, to earn the reputation of cowardice, if they can succeed, than to be brave and manly and be defeated. There must be something inherently weak in the party when it declines to take the field, parades the white flag and parleys for a truce.

"PEASANTRY."—The word "peasantry" means, in Europe, the rough, rude, clownish people of the country, who have no political influence and no right to meddle in political affairs. It has never, until lately, been applied to the intelligent country people of this nation, and it remained for a "democrat" to apply to them the epithet in an insulting way. T. F. Meagher, an Irishman, in a letter written to a recent democratic meeting in the city of New York, says:

"New York, with her ships, her colleges, her splendid marts, her vast population and incalculable interests must not be surrendered by her citizens to the peasantry of the State."

This is the way the intelligent, well-educated people of the state of New York, outside of the city, are spoken of by an imported aristocrat, who finds a natural home in the democratic party. The people of the country—the peasantry, forsooth, are not equal to the rabble of the Five Points, and must not presume to interfere with them! Nothing could illustrate better than this the contempt which the democratic leaders have for the people.

Suspension of the Ohio Life Insurance and Trust Company Bank.

About three o'clock yesterday afternoon, private dispatches were received in this city, announcing the suspension of the New York Branch of the Ohio Life Insurance and Trust Company Bank. This news took everybody by surprise. It acted as a clap of thunder in a clear sky. The Trust Company had been regarded as among the safest and most substantial banking institutions in the country. Its business has been carefully managed, and yielded a fair profit. What then, could have caused an occurrence so disastrous in the operations of this institution? Upon this point we are utterly in the dark. Through public or private channels we have no advices from the Cincinnati office of the announcement of the suspension. The doors were closed yesterday about 2 o'clock, and the fact was officially announced to the Directors here, by dispatch from Mr. Stetson, President of the Bank, who left this city on Saturday morning in a dilligence to urgent dispatch from New York, and reached the latter city on Sunday evening or yesterday morning. This is all that is positively known. But we may, we think, safely venture the opinion that the difficulty has not resulted from any legitimate business transactions here or at New York. Suspicions are numerous, as to the true cause, and we have our fears that parties who controlled the bank in New York have been tempted to engage in stock speculations, on their own account, or to loan money on stock securities, thus diverting the means of the institution from their legitimate channel; and finding their operations growing worse daily, instead of improving, finally yielded to the pressure, and confessed their error or crime. That this calamity has resulted from mismanagement, or, what is worse, a breach of faith, of which the Directors here knew nothing, can hardly be doubted.

The Board of Directors of the Trust Co. held a meeting last evening, and a late hour we received the following card, from which it will be seen the Bank will not be opened this morning:

THE OHIO LIFE INSURANCE AND TRUST CO.

Having very unexpectedly received advices from New York that the office of this Company in that city had suspended this day, the Board of Trustees deem it expedient to close its doors and suspend payment until they can be fully advised of the true situation and condition of that office. The Board of Trustees also deem it proper to say to the public that they regard the means of the Company ample to meet all its engagements, and that early steps will be taken to resume business. By order of the Board.

Aug. 24, 1857. S. P. BISHOP, Ass't Cas.

—[Cin. Gaz., Tuesday

The Money market was greatly disturbed today by the announcement of the suspension of the Ohio Life Insurance and Trust Company's House in New York. The officers here say that the suspension is but temporary, and but for a few days; but it can hardly be supposed that any difficulty which could be arranged in so short a time, could have led to a suspension. Certainly it must be a serious cause which led to a step fraught with such serious and important consequences. This difficulty will lead to a depreciation of the paper of the Kanawha Bank.—Cin. Com., Tuesday.

The Cunningham Marriage.

THE SURROGATE'S DECISION.—To half a dozen reporters and clerks, and two or three lawyers, only one of those engaged in the cause, Mr. Chas. Edwards being present, the Surrogate announced a decision in the case of Mrs. Cunningham, adverse to her claim to letters of administration as the widow of Dr. Harvey Burdell.—The excitement which this woman has created in the city and country since the 31st of last December was in striking contrast with the calm and composed manner in which the decision upon this important branch of the case was made known, the announcement being made by the Surrogate's quietly reading the following:

"In the matter of the Estate of Harvey Burdell, deceased.

"Arbter 24, 1857.—Let an order be entered, declaring that the claimant, Emma Augusta Cunningham, is not the widow of the decedent, and directing letters of administration to be issued to the decedent's next of kin on giving the proper security.

"New York, August 24, 1857. W. Barclay."

The Surrogate's decision fills sixty-five foolscap pages. After preliminary legal observations reviewing the testimony in relation to the Herkimer alibi, he arrives at the conclusion that Dr. Burdell was in Herkimer on the 26th, 26th and 27th days of October last, at the time Augusta Cunningham swears he was in New York making preparations for the marriage.

He then goes over the evidence of Helen and Augusta, concluding that Augusta stands contradicted in many important facts, and is in direct collision with the evidence showing that he was at Herkimer

He concludes, with regard to the testimony of the Rev. Mr. Marvin, that it shows some resemblance between the person married and Dr. Burdell, but no more than might be expected in an attempt to simulate a marriage, and that there is no recognition or identification.

He traces the intercourse and intimacy of the parties, and shows that they were on good terms until July, 1856, when serious difficulties arose, and especially that from 23d of October, the date of the settlement of the suit for slander, down to the time of his death, they continued upon bad terms; that from the terms of the settlement and various documents, and there being no co-habitation, and constantly treating each other as single; from her signing, endorsing, and executing papers by her own name; from affidavits in which she is described by her own name; from the circumstance that she had a lease of the house; from his continued effort to compel her to leave the premises, up to the day of his death, from her never asserting during all these controversies, that she was his wife, and making that claim for the first time after he was dead; from all these circumstances he concluded that they were not husband and wife, and that it was a pretended, and not a real marriage.—N. Y. Trybune, Monday ev.

OUR BOOKTABLE.

A SUPPLEMENT OF THE DEBATES OF CONGRESS FROM 1789 TO 1856. By T. H. Benton. Vol. XVI.

We have received the third volume of this interesting and standard work. It commences with 1808 and extends to 1808, covering a very interesting period of American history, including the treaty for the purchase of Louisiana, the trial of Judge Chase, the purchase of Florida, the close of the Slave Trade, &c. This is already established as a standard book of reference, and should be in the library of every public man. For sale by J. B. D. Clark, St. Clair st., near the bridge.

Cyclopedia of Wit and Humor. By Wm. E. Burton. New York: Appleton & Co.

We have received parts 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8 of this excellent work. It is very handsomely got up, the engravings and illustrations being of the first order, and it is what it professes to be, a Cyclopedia of Wit and Humor. It is far superior to any other humorous work ever got up in this country, and contains, in fact, the cream of all previous works. It will form, when completed, a large and handsome work, consisting of 24 parts, and will contain over 600 engravings. The lovers of pleasant reading, who wish to have something wherewith to enliven a spare hour, cannot do better than obtain it. For sale by J. B. D. Clark, St. Clair street, near the Bridge.

Special Notices.

Hot Hollandsch Bitter.—We have received another certificate out of Grand Rapids, Michigan, dated 19th June, 1856.

Peter Dane, a Hollander, desires us to publish in the Nieuwsbode, that the Holland Bitters entirely cured him of indigestion, fever and debility, with which he suffered all the spring. Peter Dane is grateful to the proprietors of this great remedy, and takes this way of recommending it to his countrymen.

A RETIRED PHYSICIAN

While residing as a Missionary in the East Indies, was called upon to prescribe for a most distressing case of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and General Debility. The remedy was discovered by him while in that country, and proved the means of saving the life of the afflicted. He had heard much of the wonderful restorative and healing qualities of preparations made from the Gum Tribe Resins, and the thought occurred to him that they might make a remedy for his child. He studied hard and compounded a prescription for his children cured them, and is now alive and well. He has since administered the wonderful remedy to thousands of sufferers in all parts of the world, and he has never failed in making them completely healthy. Wishing to do as much good as possible, he will send (free of charge) to all who have the consumption, a copy of the prescription, with full directions for making it up, and successfully using it. DR. KEYSER'S SHOULDER BRACES.—From Pittsburgh Dispatch, April 21st, 1856.—For more than 2 years past we have constantly worn the Washington Suspender Brace, manufactured by Dr. Geo. H. Keyser, of No. 140 Wood street, in this city, and would heartily recommend to all those who are compelled to follow a sedentary occupation. As we have before remarked, in calling attention to Dr. Keyser's, it answers for a brace and suspenders, the weight of the pantaloons being no longer allowed to be continually tending to bring the shoulders to their natural position and exercising a direct influence, which, in many instances, would be productive of enormous weakness and injury, if not prevented by these braces. In particular in procuring the kind mentioned, as many of the braces sold are humbug. Sold at the OFFICE OF KEYSER'S, Wholesale Druggist, 140 Wood street, sign of the Golden Mortar. jy26-dawly

Hotels.

AMERICAN HOUSE, BOSTON.

Conducted on the European Plan.

LEWIS PRINCE, PROPRIETOR, respectfully announces that in compliance with the very general preference expressed for the European system of hotel management, that the American House will hereafter be conducted solely on that plan. Well furnished parlor and sleeping apartments will be let by the day, or for longer periods. Meals served in the gentlemen's hall at all hours of the day and evening. The ladies' dining hall will be opened in like manner for ladies, and gentlemen accompanied by ladies. The accommodations and conveniences of the house are unsurpassed, and the recent improvements and alterations leave nothing to be desired. Suburban residents will find the arrangements specially convenient. Large or small parties provided with dinners, suppers, &c., at short notice. jy17-mo3m

Notice.—We have been informed that several unprincipled parties have, for some time past, been refilling our empty bottles with a spurious article, and retailing it to their customers as the genuine Hostetter Bitters. All such engaged, should be shunned by all that value their health, for it is evident that those who would prostitute themselves to one business, would not hesitate in others. We would also carnestly caution you to examine well the bottle before purchasing as in different parts of the Union several worthless preparations are gotten up with the evident design of being palmed off as our Bitters, having a similar bottle and label, and the directions, etc., taken off verbatim, save the omittance of Dr. J. Hostetter's name.
