PITTSBURGE:

FRIDAY MORNING, SEPT. 11, 1857. READING MATTER ON EACH PAGE OF THIS PAPER.

Mr. Buchanai's Leiter.

We have not said anything hitherto about Mr. Buchanai's manifesto in answer to the letter of Prof. Silliman and a large number of other citizens of Connecticut, touching Kanasa sfairs, be cause we have thought that it might be a hoar at upon the President, and that very likely after all he had no hand in silher writing it or cause ing it to be written. Charity distated that view would be nothing. He has shown bimest in sil diffeult matter even now that paper. Yet it is a difficult matter even now to believe that a man who was only a platform and as dumb as the god Dagon last autuun, should fall to so lustily now when only a few privata citizens, who probably never looked for any direct nawer to their remenstrance, have addressed him.

For other reasons we for a good while doubted the suthenticity of the deciment in question. For example, who could have counted on such unter forgetfulness in Mr. B. of his old friends as to cell the Hartford Convention a treasonable gathering! The very old federalists with whom he holds a nobbod some forty-five years ago, have become to this leader of the modern Democrace, agang of traitors who owed it to the mercy. This conduct of the All is a surplay and the total of Licon or of that other ancient here who rolled up the stone that always rolled back his first and the letter safer all! It is difficult even now to believe in such a thing.
