The flowers that wreathed thy leantioushead Droop, pale and witherest, on thy brow— The light that made thy morning red Is dull and misty new; Saf volces pipe; as wood and dell To Summer and her Joya (arewell, tone is thy belt of ratiobor shem.
Starred with the descript of the showers,
And kirtle of enchanted green.
Embrookered over with flowers.
The golden wand of wondrow spell
Is dim and broken now—farewell.

There is a summer of the heart. That both its mornful ending here; belights that warmed its core depart, While grow dull and drear, While grow dull and drear, and sadder than the four-ral bell, those whispers to the soul—darwell.

ing Kansas" under the past and what is come of the present national administration has become "household words." The present administration is the second edition of the past, but "ten cent Jimmy" has improven in everything but one on his "illustrious predecessor." In the distribution of the "spoils" our northern doughfaced heroes that sacrificed their honor and conscience for his elevation have been in a great measure forgotion!

On the election of David Wilmot depends the political salvation of the State Citizens of Pennsylvania, permit an obscure individual that has long shared your joys and sorrows to enquire will you any longer permit this "ball and chain" democracy to ride over you? You revert the memory of our revolutionary patriots; revere their principles by making them your own. They left you an inheritance of freedom, shall you bequeath to your children the yoke of slavery? Shall you support for Governor aman that endorses the administration of James Buchanan and Franklin Pierce; that would give to such a murderer and ruffian as General Walker the right hand of friendahip and fellowship—that would take your children's bread and cast it to the dogs? We may well adopt the language of the Psalmist, "The wicked walk on every side when vile men are existed."

Adulterated Beverages, Drugged and ADULTERATED BEVERADES.—Drugged and adulterated liquors are producing their natural consequences in the increase and fatelity of diseases resulting from intemperance. Thirty-five years ago delirium tremens was a disease almost entirely unknown in this country, although wine and spirituous liquors were then to be found on the table and sideboard of nearly overy decent and comfortable house in the land. This terrible milady is not only becoming more frequent, but it is yearly assuming, as hospital physicians have shown by statistics, a far more incurable form. Indeed it has been suggested that delirium tremens is nothing more nor less than a specific disease caused by the habitual introduction of specific poison into the system, and that this poison is nothing but a drug, or drugs, surrepititously introduced into nearly The Montour Iron Company have determined to pay off, their laborers and close their rolling-mills at Danville.
