'General Neill, who was in command at Cawn-HABRISBURG, Oct. 6, 1857.

HARRISHTRO, Oct O. 1857. SENATE-The Senate was called to order at noon by the Speaker, Mr. Finney The roll was called, and all the members an-swered to their names except Mr. Crabb. The meclamation of the Organization and and pore, was compelling the high caste of Brahmins to wash blood from the floors of European solliers, accelerating their movements with the "cat," and then hanging them."

The item by mail, reads as follows: "Gen Neill at Cawnpore was compelling all the high caste Brahmins whom he could capture of the victims and wash the the blood from the floors, a European soldier accelerating themore. The item by mail, reads as follows: "Gen Neill at Cawnpore was compelling all the high caste Brahmins whom he could capture of the victims and wash the the blood from the floors, a European soldier accelerating themore. "Ment Sold was referred to a special committee of seven. Mr. Browne read the sevent seven among the Sepoys to collect he bloody clothes of the victims and wash the the blood from the floors, a European soldier accelerating the move-ments of each man with a "cat." After this degradation the Sepoys were hanged one after to the act of April 16th, 1850, regulating the banks; another entitled an act relating to the floating deot of railroads, and concerning navi-

Ar. Guides a tosint resolution, was put upon ing changed to a joint resolution, was put upon its final passage. Mr. Jenkins opposed the resolution, declaring it impossible to obtain such information as the resolution required within six days; pronounced such delay folly. Mr. Gildea announced that the Legislature cannot act intelligently withoutinformation, and for the want of i might possibly effect injuri-ously many business interests. Mr. Jenkins responded—Ho did not know that the banks required legislation. The only offi-cial information came from the Governor, saying that there is financial distress, and legislation is asked for the people. He suggested that the resolution should ask for information to be sub-mitted to the next Legislature.
